6. The marks assigned to Candidates in each branch will be subject to such deduction as the Civil Service Commissioners may deem necessary (g) in order to secure that "a Candidate be allowed no credit at all for taking up a subject in which he is a mere smatterer."

7. The Examination will be conducted on paper and visà voce, as may be deemed necessary.

8. The marks obtained by each Candidate in respect of each of the subjects in which he shall have been examined will be added up, and the names of the several Candidates who shall have obtained after the deduction above-mentioned a greater aggregate number of marks than any of the remaining Candidates will be set forth in order of merit, and such Candidates shall be deemed to be selected Candidates for the Civil Service of India, provided they appear to be in other respects duly qualified. A Candidate entitled to be deemed a selected Candidate, but declining to accept the nomination as such, which may be offered to him, will be disqualified for any consequent competition.

In this Examination, as in the open competition, the merit of the Candidates examined will be estimated by marks (which will be subject to deductions in the same way as the marks assigned at the open competition), and the number set opposite to each subject denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it at any one Examination. The Examination will be conducted on paper and visà voce, as may be deemed necessary. This Examination will be held at the close of the year of probation, and will be called the "Final Examination."

10. Candidates will be tested during their probation as to their ability to perform journeys on horseback; and no Candidate will be deemed qualified for the Civil Service of India who fails to satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners of his competence in this respect.

(e) See Note (f)

(f) A syllabus defining in general terms the character of the Examination in the various subjects may be obtained on application to the Secretary, Civil Service Commission.

(h) A syllabus showing the extent of the examination will be issued to the successful Candidates as soon as possible after the result of the Open competition is declared.

11. The selected Candidates who at the Final Examination shall be found to have a competent knowledge of the subjects specified in Regulation 9, and who shall have satisfied the Civil Service Commissioners of their eligibility in respect of nationality, age, health, character, and ability to ride, shall be certified by the said Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India, provided they shall comply with the regulations in force at the time for that Service.

12. Persons desirous to be admitted as Candidates must apply on Forms which may be obtained from "The Secretary, Civil Service Commission, London, S. W.," at any time after the 1st December 1891. The Forms must be returned so as to be received at the office of the Civil Service Commissioners on or before 31st May 1892 (i).

The Civil Service Commissioners are authorized by the Secretary of State for India in Council to make the following announcements:

(i) As regards the distribution of the selected Candidates to the several Presidencies and Provinces mentioned in Regulation 1, the selected Candidates will be divided into four groups, each containing 8 Candidates, according to the order in which they stand on the list resulting from the Open Competition (the first 8 in order of merit composing Group No. 1, the next 8 in order of merit composing Group No. 2, and so on), and the members of each group will be allowed in the order in which they stand, each to choose, so long as a choice remains, one of the appointments allotted to that group, as indicated in the following table:

	Appointments allotted to—				Total.
	1st Group, 1—8.	2nd Group, 9—16.	3rd Group, 17—24.	4th Group, 25—32.
Upper Provinces, &c.	3	4	3	4	14
Lower Provinces and Assam	2	2	2	1	7
Madras	1	1	1	2	5
Bombay	1	1	1	1	4
Burma	1	...	1	...	2
	8	8	8	8	32

The choice thus given, however, will be subject to any other arrangement which the Secretary of State or the Government of India may deem necessary.

(ii) Should any appointments have to be made in excess of the 32 notified in the Regulations, they will be added to such group or groups as to the Secretary of State may seem proper.

(iii) No exchange of appointments will be permitted between selected Candidates who under para. I have made their choice of Presidency or Province, except between those who are members of the same group or of two adjoining groups, or who are separated by not more than 14 others in the order of merit on the result of the Open Competition. Application for permission to exchange appointments must be made to the Secretary of State within one month after the date of choice made under para. I, and in no case will an exchange be permitted unless it is, in the opinion of the Secretary of State, desirable in the public interest that it should be made.

(iv) The giving or receiving directly or indirectly any money or other valuable consideration for an exchange will be deemed to vacate the selection and appointment of the Candidates interested.

(v) Selected Candidates will be required to report their arrival in India within such period after the grant of their Certificate of Qualification as the Secretary of State may in each case direct.

(vi) The seniority in the Civil Service of India of the Selected Candidates will be determined according to the order in which they stand on the list resulting from the combined marks of the Open Competition and Final Examinations. Candidates selected under these Regulations in 1892 will, in view of the alteration in the limits of age, have seniority over the Candidates selected under the previous Regulations in 1891.

(vii) An allowance amounting to £100 will be given to all Candidates who pass their probation at one of the Universities or Colleges which have been approved by the Secretary of State, viz., the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge, Dublin, Glasgow, Edinburgh, St. Andrews, and Aberdeen; University College, London; and King's College, London: provided such Candidates shall have passed the Final Examination to the satisfaction of the Civil Service Commissioners, and shall have complied with such rules as may be laid down for the guidance of Selected Candidates.

(viii) The allowance of £100 will not be paid to any Selected Candidate until he has been certified by the Civil Service Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India; and every Certificate Candidate must, before receiving his allowance, attend at the India Office and give a written undertaking to refund the amount in the event of his failing to proceed to India.

(ix) All Candidates obtaining Certificates will be also required to enter into covenants, by which, amongst other things, they will bind themselves to agree to such Regulations for the provision of pensions for their families as may be approved by the Secretary of State for India in Council. The stamps payable on these covenants amount to £1.

(x) Candidates rejected at the Final Examination of 1893 will in no case be allowed to present themselves for re-examination.

(i) These forms should be accompanied by evidence on the points mentioned in Regulation 2, and by a list of the subjects in which the Candidate desires to be examined. Evidence of health and character must bear date not earlier than 1st May 1892. Applications for leave to alter or add to the list of subjects named will not be entertained unless received on or before the 5th July 1892.

EXAMINATIONS FOR THE CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA.

SYLLABUS

Showing the extent of the Examination in certain subjects at the Open Competition for admission into the Indian Civil Service in 1892.

The Regulations governing the Open Competition for admission into the Indian Civil Service have been framed with a view to the principle regarded by Lord Macaulay's Committee in 1854 as essential, vis., that the object of the Competition should be to secure for the Indian Civil Service officers who "have received the best, the most liberal, the most finished education that their native country affords." The scheme of examination has accordingly been made to embrace most of the subjects of the Honour Schools in the Universities of Great Britain and Ireland. In administering the scheme, the Civil Service Commissioners, concurring with Lord Macaulay's Committee in the opinion "that no Candidate who may fail should, to whatever calling he may betake himself, have any reason to regret the time and labour which he has spent in preparing himself to be examined," desire to avoid all disturbance of the general course of University studies, and to render it possible, with due regard for the principle of Open Competition, for those who have graduated with honours at the Universities, to attend the examination for the Indian Civil Service with good prospects of success. The appended Syllabus shows in outline the intentions of the Commissioners with regard to the extent and character of the examination in those subjects which seem to require further definition. The scope of the examination in the subjects not mentioned in the Syllabus is sufficiently defined in the scheme published in the Regulations themselves. The Examiners will be instructed to keep the standard in each subject up to the level of the highest course of study pursued in the Universities.

English Composition.—An Essay to be written on one of several subjects specified by the Civil Service Commissioners on their Examination Paper.

English Language and Literature.—The Examination will be in two parts. In the one the Candidates will be expected to show a general acquaintance with the course of English Literature, as represented (mainly) by the following writers in verse and prose, between the reign of Edward III and the accession of Queen Victoria:

Verse—Chaucer, Langland, Spenser, Shakespeare, Milton, Dryden, Pope, Gray, Collins, Johnson, Goldsmith, Crabbe, Cowper, Campbell, Wordsworth, Scott, Byron, Coleridge, Shelley, Keats.

Prose—Bacon, Sir Thomas Browne, Milton, Swift, Defoe, Addison, Johnson, Burke, Scott, Southey.

A minute knowledge of the works of these authors will not be looked for in this part of the Examination, which will, however, test how far the Candidates have studied the chief productions of the greatest English writers in themselves, and are acquainted with the leading characteristics of their thought and style, and with the place which each of them occupies in the history of English literature. Candidates will also be expected to show that they have studied in these authors the history of the English language in respect of its vocabulary, syntax, and prosody.

The other part of the Examination will relate to one of the periods named below, which will follow each other year by year in the order indicated:

- |        |   |
|--------|---|
| 1.     | A.D. 1340 to A.D. 1600                              |
| (1892) | [Chaucer to Spenser]                                |
| 2.     | A.D. 1600 to A.D. 1700                              |
| (1893) | [Shakespeare to Dryden]                             |
| 3.     | A.D. 1700 to A.D. 1800                              |
| (1894) | [Pope to Cowper]                                    |
| 4.     | A.D. 1800 to A.D. 1832                              |
| (1895) | [Nineteenth Century writers to the death of Scott.] |

The examination in this part will require from Candidates a more minute acquaintance with the history of the English language and literature as illustrated in the chief works produced in each period, and will be based to a considerable extent, but by no means exclusively, on certain books specified each year by the Commissioners.* The names placed under the dates are intended to suggest the general character

* The books for 1892 are:—

Chaucer: Prologue to the Canterbury Tales; The Flower and the Leaf; The Assembly of Foules Minor Poems.
Langland: Vision of Piers Plowman.
Spenser: Faery Queen, Books I, II; Shepherd's Kalender.
Sir John Mandeville's Travels.
Sir Thomas More's Utopia.

of the literary development of the period, and consequently the natural limits of the Examination. All the works of Shakespeare, for example, will be regarded as falling within the second period; all the works of Swift within the third; all the works of Scott and Wordsworth within the last.

French Language and Literature.—Translation from French into English and from English into French; Critical questions on the French Language and Literature.

German Language and Literature.—As in French.

Latin Language and Literature.—Translation from Latin into English; Composition in Prose and Verse (in the place of the latter may be taken, by those who prefer it, a paper of critical questions on the style of the Latin orators and poets, based on Cicero, De Oratore, and Quintilian, Institutiones Oratoriæ Lib. x.); Critical Questions on the Latin Language and Literature.

Greek Language and Literature.—Translation from Greek into English. Composition in Prose and Verse (in the place of the latter may be taken, by those who prefer it, a paper of critical questions on the style of the Greek orators and poets, based on Aristotle's Rhetoric (Book iii) and Poetic). Critical Questions on the Greek Language and Literature.

Sanskrit Language and Literature.—Translation from Sanskrit into English and from English into Sanskrit. History of Sanskrit Literature (including knowledge of such Indian history as bears upon the subject); Sanskrit Grammar; Vedic Philology.

English History.—General questions on English History from A.D. 800 to A.D. 1848; questions on the Constitutional History of England from A.D. 800 to A.D. 1848.

Questions covering the whole period named will be set, but Candidates will be allowed to attempt only a limited number of them.

General Modern History.—Candidates may, at their choice, be examined in any one of the following periods:

1. From the accession of Charlemagne to the Third Crusade.
[A.D. 800 to A.D. 1193]
2. From the Third Crusade to the Diet of Worms.
[A.D. 1193 to A.D. 1521.]
3. From the Diet of Worms to the end of the reign of Louis XIV.
[A.D. 1521 to A.D. 1715.]
4. From the accession of Louis XV to the French Revolution of 1848.
[A.D. 1715 to A.D. 1848.]

Periods 3 and 4 will include Indian History.

Greek History.—Questions on the General History of Greece to the death of Alexander; questions on the Constitutional History of Greece during the same period.

Roman History.—Questions on the General History of Rome to the death of Vespasian; questions on the Constitutional History of Rome during the same period.

In Greek and Roman History candidates will be expected to show a knowledge of the original authorities. Questions covering the whole period named will be set, but candidates will be allowed to attempt only a limited number of them.

Mathematics.—Pure Mathematics:—Algebra, Geometry (Euclid and Geometrical Conic Sections), Plane Trigonometry, Plane Analytical Geometry (less advanced portions), Differential Calculus (Elementary), Integral Calculus (Elementary).

MIRANZAI.

No. 632.—The Most Hon'ble the Viceroy and Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following letters from the Adjutant-General in India, dated the 16th March and the 22nd June 1891, together with the despatches of Brigadier-General Sir William Lockhart, K.C.B., reporting the operations of the first and second Miranzai Expeditions.

The object of the first expedition was to inflict upon certain sections of the Orakzai tribe the punishment they justly deserved for raids into British territory and outrages upon British subjects; penalties were imposed upon the offenders in the shape of the destruction of fortified towers and the infliction of fines, but the expedition encountered practically no opposition. The march of the columns was made over a mountainous country presenting great physical obstacles, in the depth of winter, and in heavy rain or snow, and His Excellency in Council desires to express his opinion that these difficult operations were conducted with alacrity by the General Officer Commanding, and carried out by all ranks with endurance and soldier-like spirit.

The object of the second expedition was to punish the Orakzais for treacherously attacking, on the 4th April 1891, the guards of the 29th Bengal Infantry which were covering the working parties employed in making roads and posts within British territory on the Samana Range, and to take measures to ensure, as far as possible, the future peace of the border. The troops were quickly concentrated, and on the 17th April and following days the Samana Range was carried, the enemy, who occupied strong positions, being driven therefrom with great loss.

In the further operations the force was entirely successful; it marched through the countries of the offending tribes; terms of peace were imposed upon and accepted by them, and the previous rights of the British Government to occupy the crest of the Samana, for the purpose of affording protection to its subjects in the Miranzai Valley, were enforced.

The Governor General in Council heartily concurs with the Commander-in-Chief in India in his high appreciation of the vigour and ability with which Sir William Lockhart has conducted these operations, and of the gallantry of the troops under his command. In Sir William Lockhart's despatch the services of the Commanders of the columns, and of the staff and regimental officers, are brought to notice, and mention is also made of several warrant officers, native officers, non-commissioned officers and men. His Excellency in Council congratulates them on the honourable distinction they have thus received.

The Viceroy is glad to have an opportunity of expressing his sense of the valuable services rendered by Mr. R. Udny, Commissioner of the Peshawar Division, and by Major H. P. P. Leigh, Political Officer, assisted by the other officers, British and Native, alluded to by Sir William Lockhart.

His Excellency in Council is pleased to notice the efficiency of the Commissariat-Transport Department both in the field and in the preparation and concentration of the force, when many difficulties of time and distance had to be overcome in furnishing supplies and transport. That these difficulties were successfully surmounted is greatly due to the power of organization displayed by Lieutenant-Colonel R. Patch, Commissary-General of the Western Circle, and by the officers working under him. It is also a source of satisfaction to His Excellency to observe that Sir William Lockhart has commended in appreciative terms the services of the Public Works, Telegraph, and Postal Departments.

The Governor-General in Council desires, in conclusion of this General Order, to express his sincere acknowledgments to the head of the Government of the Punjab, the Honorable Sir James Lyall, K.C.S.I., and to the civil officers concerned for the assistance given by them, and for the readiness with which the resources of the Provincial administration were placed at the disposal of the military authorities, not only in this campaign, but in the other expeditions which have been undertaken within the last three years on the frontiers of that province.

No 1810-A—"Field Operations—Miranzai,"—dated Fort William, 16th March 1891.

From—MAJOR-GENERAL W. GALBRAITH, C.B.,
Adjutant-General in India,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department.

I have the honor to submit, for the consideration of the Government of India, a despatch from Brigadier-General Sir W. S. A. Lockhart, K.C.B., C.S.I., recently commanding the Miranzai Field Force.

2. The force was practically unopposed; but the country was extremely difficult, and the labours of the troops were much enhanced by the rigour of an unusually severe winter, many of the men being attacked by pneumonia and frost-bite, the result of toilsome marches in rain and heavy snow-storms.

3. The General Officer Commanding has brought to the favorable notice of the Commander-in-Chief the good services rendered by all staff and regimental officers, making special mention of the Assistant Adjutant-General, the three Commanders of columns, the Principal Medical Officer, and the Political Officer with the force.

4. I am desirous to add that His Excellency considers much credit due to Brigadier-General Sir William Lockhart for the skill and energy he displayed in the conduct of operations, and to all ranks under his command for the soldier-like spirit with which they encountered hardships of no ordinary kind.

No. 309-C-M—"Field Operations—Miranzai,"—dated Camp Kohat, 2nd March 1891.

From—BRIGADIER-GENERAL SIR W. S. A. LOCKHART,
K.C.B., C.S.I., Commanding the Punjab Frontier
Force, and the late Miranzai Field Force,

To—The Adjutant-General in India.

I have the honor to report on the late operations north of the Samana Range.

I.—The object of the expedition was to punish five sections of the Orakzai tribe for offences committed against British subjects, and to bring them to submission.

II.—The Miranzai Field Force was concentrated at Kohat by the 12th January, and its advance across the border was ordered for the 19th. Heavy rain, however, delayed the forward movement, which did not take place until the 26th.

A reconnaissance in force was made on the 24th January up the Khanki Valley as far as the villages of Gwada and Jandasam, the reconnoitring party being fired on from those villages, and from others east of them, without suffering loss.

III.—The field force consisted of three columns, viz.:

FIRST COLUMN.

Colonel A. McC. Bruce, 4th Punjab Infantry, Commanding.

Troops.

No. 1 (Hazara) Mountain Battery.
5th Punjab Cavalry, (head-quarters and three troops.)
Half of No. 5 Company, Bengal Sappers and Miners.
23rd Bengal Infantry (Pioneers),—head-quarters and half-battalion
29th (Punjab) Bengal Infantry.
1st Punjab Infantry.
4th Punjab Infantry.

SECOND COLUMN.

Lieutenant-Colonel A. H. Turner, 2nd Punjab Infantry, Commanding.

Troops.

No. 3 (Peshawar) Mountain Battery.
Half of No. 5 Company, Bengal Sappers and Miners.
2nd Punjab Infantry.

THIRD COLUMN.

Lieutenant-Colonel C. C. Brownlow, 4th Sikh Infantry, Commanding.

Troops.

23rd Bengal Infantry (Pioneers),—half battalion.
3rd Sikh Infantry.

IV.—The First Column advanced from Shahu Khel to Khaori, in the Khanki Valley, on the 26th January, with orders to reach Gwada on the following day.

The Second Column marched from Togh to Darband on the 25th January, with orders to cross the Samana on the 26th, and to reach Saifalmela, whence it was to cover the passage of the First Column through the defile east of that place on the 27th, and to go on to Gwada the same day.

The Third Column marched from Hangu to Darband on the 26th January, with orders to reach Gwada next day via Tsalai, and thence by any path found practicable, sending the baggage by the Saifaldarra route.

These movements were carried out as ordered, except in the case of the Third Column, whose baggage could not cross the Samana owing to the Saifaldarra route having become impassable from heavy rain.

The Third Column accordingly marched to Tsalai on the Samana crest on the 27th January; left in that place a garrison of Border Police; destroyed the towers and hamlet of Serimela in co-operation with the Second Column; and returned to Darband the same day, joining the remainder of the force at Gwada via the Saifaldarra route on the 29th January, after halting the night of the 28th at Santalmela.

V.—The next few days were devoted to reconnoitring to the north and west; to destroying towers and villages belonging to the principal Rabia Khel offenders, Makhmuddin and his associates; to improving the Saifaldarra road over the Samana, to sending away the sick under escort of such troops (5th Punjab Cavalry and 5th Punjab Infantry) as could now be spared, and whose removal from the Khanki Valley would make the strain on the Commissariat Department less severe; and, finally, to the laying in of supplies for a projected march into the Shekhan country, and for the garrison to be left at Gwada.

The weather hitherto had been as a rule bad. The field force had crossed the frontier in rain which soon turned into snow, the result being that frost-bite and chest complaints began to attack the troops.

VI.—On the 4th February the towers of Gwada were blown up, and the Second Column, under Colonel Turner, marched down the Khanki Valley for the Shekhan country. This column had been joined by the second half of No. 5 Company, Bengal Sappers and Miners, and a half battalion of the 23rd Pioneers, whilst the 3rd Sikh Infantry was added to replace the 5th Punjab Infantry.

The route followed was—4th February, Khaori; 5th, Mir Asghar Mela; 6th, Drand. Three miles short of Drand word was brought to the column that Makhmuddin's family and cattle had just left the village, going westwards. Parties were sent in pursuit by the two western routes (towards Torsamat and Daradar respectively), but returned without success in the evening. The people and cattle had in reality had many hours' start. An extra fine of Rs. 500 was placed on the village for having harboured them, and the inhabitants were told that their tower should be blown up if the fine were not paid by noon on the following day.

On the 7th February security for the amount of the fine was given before noon, when the return march of the column began. No Shekhan towers, therefore, were destroyed.

The Second Column reached Shahu Khel on the 8th, and Hangu on the following day.

VII.—On the 9th Colonel Brownlow marched from Shahu Khel to Barmarai with—

- Two guns of No. 3 (Peshawar) Mountain Battery.
- No. 5 Company, Bengal Sappers and Miners.
- 22nd (Punjab) Bengal Infantry (from Kohat).
- 23rd Bengal Infantry (Pioneers).
- 3rd Sikh Infantry.

On the 10th he crossed the Zara Pass (4,450 feet above the sea), and encamped in the Mastura Valley, near the village of Zara, whose inhabitants belong to the Sipah section, and were friendly. The sappers and pioneers worked hard at the road all day, but snow fell from noon until dark, and mules could with difficulty keep their footing on the north slope, where the path soon became a slide.

The march from Barmarai had begun at 11-30 A.M., and although the entire distance was but five miles, and although every available man was placed on baggage guard, the last of the baggage did not reach Zara until 5 A.M. next day (11th), the rear guard with commissariat stores arriving at 1-30 P.M.

Early in the morning of the 10th two reconnoitring parties, consisting of three and two companies of infantry, had been sent across the Zara Pass with orders to go as far as possible into the eastern and western defiles, respectively from Zara,—the first leading to the Bazoti settlements and the Ublan Pass, the latter to the Sturi Khel settlements.

The reconnoissance was in each case unopposed, and information of value was obtained.

The Sturi Khel had, just before the column crossed the pass into their country, given security for the payment of the fine imposed on them, so that no punitive measures were necessary in respect of that section. It was all the same necessary to visit their valley, and accordingly a detachment was marched as far as the western limit of Sturi Khel territory. The valley was all under snow, and the people were in their villages.

VIII.—Before leaving Gwada with the Second Column, I had ordered the First Column to march on the 5th February for Darband via Shahu Khel, leaving a garrison at Gwada of two guns of No. 4 (Hazara) Mountain Battery and the 1st Punjab Infantry, under Colonel Howell, in an entrenched camp. At Darband Colonel Bruce was to have the Samana Range between Tsalai and Mastan thoroughly examined and reported on. He was at the same time to furnish covering parties for road-makers employed by the Executive Engineer on the latter's requisition. Similarly, Colonel Turner on reaching Hangu from the Shekhan country was ordered to have the range from Lakka to Tsalai examined and reported on, and he also was to furnish covering parties on the Executive Engineer's requisition. All this was done. The Samana from Lakka to Mastan has been thoroughly examined, and the communications have already been improved by civil labour.

IX.—On the 16th February I moved field force head-quarters to Kohat.

X.—On the 18th the 29th Bengal Infantry was ordered to march across the Samana to Gwada, and, with the exception of the troops at that place, the field force was recalled to Kohat, and finally broken up on the 1st March.

XI.—I trust that the valuable work of Major Leigh, my political adviser, may be favorably regarded by the Government of India, and that the services of his assistants may also be recognised.

XII.—Commanders and staff officers did their work well in every respect, and I have the honor to commend to the favorable notice of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India the following officers:

1. Major C. C. Egerton, Bengal Staff Corps, Assistant-Adjutant-General.
2. Lieutenant-Colonel A. H. Turner, Bengal Staff Corps, commanding the Second Column.
3. Colonel A. McC. Bruce, Bengal Infantry, commanding the First Column.
4. Lieutenant-Colonel C. C. Brownlow, Bengal Staff Corps, commanding the Third Column.
5. Brigade-Surgeon R. Harvey, M.D., Indian Medical Service, Principal Medical Officer.

No. 132-M-M—"Field Operations—Miranzai,"—dated 22nd June 1891.

From—MAJOR-GENERAL W. GALBRAITH, C.B., Adjutant-General in India,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department.

I have the honor, by direction of the Commander-in-Chief, to submit, for the information of the Government of India, a despatch from Brigadier-General Sir W. S. A. Lockhart, K.C.B., C.S.I., describing the operations of the Miranzai Field Force under his command in April and May 1891.

2. As recently as last February the Orakzais had pledged themselves to maintain peace on the border, but on the 4th April they treacherously attacked some guards of the 29th Bengal Infantry employed in covering working parties.

3. Orders were at once issued for the concentration of a punitive force at Kohat, and General Lockhart, who was with the Reserve Brigade of the Hazara Field Force, was directed to assume command.

4. Arriving at Kohat on the 7th April, he completed his preparations with the greatest expedition, and on the 17th and 18th attacked and drove the enemy with loss from strongly held positions on the Samana Range, following up his advantage with a series of successful actions, which speedily reduced the hostile tribes to submission.

5. The Commander-in-Chief feels that he cannot speak too highly of the energy and skill displayed by General Lockhart and the endurance and gallantry of the troops under his command. Not only was immediate opposition crushed by the vigour and celerity of the movements of the force, but a formidable combination of the most powerful frontier tribes was effectually checked, and the conduct of operations has left an impression which His Excellency feels confident will tend to the establishment of security and friendly relations on the Miranzai border.

6. A list of officers recommended for special reward will be submitted separately.

Dated Camp Mastan, 8th June 1891.

From—BRIGADIER-GENERAL SIR W. S. A. LOCKHART, K.C.B., C.S.I.,

To—The Adjutant-General in India.

I have the honor to make the following report on the operations against the Orakzai tribes carried out by the force under my command for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India.

2. On the withdrawal of the troops at the termination of the previous expedition against the Orakzai Samil clans in February last, the 29th Bengal Infantry, subsequently reinforced by a wing of the 3rd Sikh Infantry, was left to cover the working parties making roads and posts on the Samana. On the 4th April a treacherous and unexpected attack was made on the guards furnished by the 29th Bengal Infantry. These were promptly reinforced from below, and fighting took place all along the Samana Range between Tsalai and Gulistan. Our losses during the day were 14 men killed and 7 wounded, all of the 29th Bengal Infantry. The enemy consisted of men of all the Orakzai tribes of the Khanki Valley, and were under the leadership of Zaman Shah, Rabia Khel. On the 5th April it was found necessary to evacuate Tsalai, the only post on the Samana still held by our troops, the enemy following up as far as the low hills near Darband.

3. On the morning of the 6th reinforcements began to arrive from Kohat, and on the evening of the following day I arrived myself at that station, and assumed command of the field force. Further reinforcements were meanwhile being pushed up from India as quickly as possible, the 6th Punjab Infantry marching from Bannu to Kohat, 80 miles, in as many hours, and No. 5 Company, Bengal Sappers and Miners, covering the 56 miles from Khushalgarh to Hangu in 40 hours. There was some delay, however, in pushing on the troops beyond Kohat, as transport and supplies had to be collected from a distance. On the 9th the detachment at Balamian was withdrawn to the camp near Darband, and an attack was made on that camp on the night of the 10th, but was beaten off without loss on our side, and the enemy did not subsequently venture down from the crest of the Samana.

also the 19th Bengal Lancers (471 of all ranks), two squadrons of the 5th Punjab Cavalry (311 of all ranks), and three guns of the Punjab Garrison Battery (47 of all ranks).

6. I advanced in the following manner on the morning of the 17th.

The First Column, accompanied by myself and the field force head-quarters, marched from Hangu at daybreak, and reached the foot of the range at 6 A.M. This column was accompanied by three guns of the Punjab Garrison Battery, which, with the guns of No. 3 Mountain Battery, Royal Artillery, took up a position to cover the advance on Lakka. The cavalry, under Colonel Biscoe, 19th Bengal Lancers, consisting of two squadrons of the 5th Punjab Cavalry and the 19th Bengal Lancers, acted as escort to the guns. The advance up to the crest was then carried out, and Lakka was reached at 8-30 A.M. without opposition. From here I heliographed to the Second Column to advance to the Darband Kotal. This column had been ordered to make a false attack to distract the enemy's attention should he have attempted to hold Lakka. At the same time that the Second Column advanced, I ordered the Third Column, which was also at Darband, to move rapidly to Pat Darband and ascend to the crest at Sangar.

7. These orders having been given, I continued my advance along the crest from Lakka, meeting the Second Column at Darband Kotal. This column I strengthened by the 27th Bengal Infantry, and Lieutenant-Colonel Turner was ordered to descend to Gwada by the Saifaldarra road. This road, as well as that on the crest near the Darband Kotal, was found to have been broken up by the enemy. From the kotal I continued the advance, at 11 A.M., along the crest, with the First Column, towards Tsalai. That place was found to be occupied by the enemy, who opened fire on the troops as they advanced. I accordingly ordered up the guns of No. 3 Mountain Battery, Royal Artillery, and under their fire the place was assaulted and captured at 12-30 P.M., the King's Royal Rifles leading the Samana Range of the enemy, put down the hostile coalition of the tribes, and protect the working parties making the proposed roads and posts."

5. By the 16th April the whole force as per margin, divided into three columns, had been concentrated at Hangu and Darband.

At the former place there were the attack. During this operation Colonel Cramer, commanding the King's Royal Rifles, and Major Egerton, Assistant-Adjutant-General, were both severely wounded. Besides these casualties, the King's Royal Rifles had one man dangerously, one severely, and two slightly wounded; and Major Egerton's orderly, a lance-duffadar of the 3rd Punjab Cavalry, was also severely wounded.

8. I next carried Gogra and Sangar without further loss, and reached the latter place at 2 P.M., simultaneously with the Third Column, advancing up the Pat Darband spur. This column was opposed during its advance, but succeeded in inflicting some loss on the enemy without any casualties to itself. On reaching Sangar, I decided to bivouac there for the night, as the enemy were reported to be holding Sartop in strength, and the men were completely knocked up by the intense heat and the want of water. They, however, behaved admirably, and only one man fell out during the day. In the meanwhile the Second Column had established itself at Gwada, which is immediately below Sangar and in sight of it. Lieutenant-Colonel Turner had, however, to fight his way, and lost one man killed and four wounded—one dangerously. The cavalry had also moved round by Shahu Khel after the First Column had gained the crest at Lakka, and had advanced up the Khanki Valley and joined hands with Lieutenant-Colonel Turner. On the Second Column reaching the Khanki at Saifaldarra, the cavalry returned to Hangu by the Darband Kotal. They were fired on during the day, but suffered no loss. The position of my force on the evening of the 17th was therefore as follows.—The First and Third Columns holding the crest at Sangar, and the Second Column in the Khanki Valley at Gwada.

9. At 7 o'clock on the morning of the 18th I advanced along the crest from Sangar towards Sartop, which was held by the enemy. The advance was covered by the fire of the guns of No. 3 Mountain Battery, Royal Artillery, and the three guns of No. 2 (Derajat) Mountain Battery. The Third Column advanced straight along the crest, the First Column moving round by the left, and attacking the enemy's position from that flank. The village was cleared of the enemy at 8 A.M. by the 1st and 6th Punjab Infantry, leading their respective columns. Our loss in the attack was one man killed and one officer (Lieutenant Patch, Royal Artillery) and seven men wounded. After the enemy had been driven off and the place occupied by our troops, I ordered a halt to be made at the spring below Sartop to enable the troops to get water, as some of them had been twenty-four hours without it, and they were exhausted by the heat of the sun.

10. At 11 A.M. I continued the advance, and occupied the Mastan plateau after slight opposition, entailing no loss. This plateau is the key of the Samana Range, and I left the Third Column to occupy it, the First Column returning to Sangar. I ordered the Second Column also to move to Sangar to take the place of the Third Column in order to simplify the question of supplies previous to a further advance. This column on the 18th had been employed in destroying the tower and defences of the Rabia Khel village of Dzond. During that day they lost one man killed and five men wounded,—four dangerously.

11. In carrying out the above operations, the troops underwent severe hardships and fatigue in a spirited and cheerful manner. The young soldiers of the King's Royal Rifles, fresh to this country, suffered especially from heat and thirst, but showed great endurance.

12. On the evening of the 19th Lieutenant-Colonel Brownlow reported that he was suffering annoyance from large bodies of the enemy who had collected in the neighbourhood of his camp, and during that day and the following night he lost one native officer and two men killed, and one officer, one native officer, and three men wounded. Early on the morning of the 20th I sent reinforcements from Sangar to Mastan, consisting of the Peshawar Mountain Battery, the King's Royal Rifles, the 2nd Punjab Infantry, and the 5th Gurkha Regiment, with orders to Lieutenant-Colonel Brownlow to attack and disperse the enemy. That officer, having made good dispositions, advanced against the enemy's position about 2 P.M. The main attack on the village of Saragarhi was carried out by the King's Royal Rifles and the 5th Gurkha Regiment, and the enemy was soon flying in all directions, the Gurkhas getting to close quarters with them as they made off. Simultaneously with this attack the 6th Punjab and the 19th Bengal Infantry, under cover of the guns of the Derajat Mountain Battery, carried the village of Ghuzlang, the enemy making no stand, but flying towards the Khanki. Some 60 dead bodies were left on the ground, and, from reports subsequently received, it appears that the enemy's losses amounted to nearly 300 killed and wounded. Our casualties were only one man of the King's Royal Rifles killed, and one officer and six men of other corps wounded. All sections of the Orakzai tribe were represented in this engagement, and the Akhel and Mamuzai were reported especially to have suffered.

13. On the 21st I advanced to Gulistan with the Second Column under Lieutenant-Colonel Turner, reinforced by the 1st Punjab and the 27th Bengal Infantry, and on the following day I advanced into the Akhel (or Chagru) Valley. Retaining the guns and the 27th Bengal Infantry on the crest of the high hill overlooking the Akhel settlements, I sent the 1st Punjab Infantry along the ridge to the Chagru Kotal with orders to work down the valley, while the 2nd Punjab Infantry, followed by the 3rd Sikh Infantry, descended towards the Khanki, with orders to work up and meet the 1st Punjab Infantry. The enemy opened fire on the 1st Punjab Infantry as it advanced, but that regiment, aided by the guns on the crest, soon cleared out the villages in their front. The 2nd Punjab Infantry reached the bed of the Chagru Nala under cover of a spur running down from the crest, and surprised the enemy before they were able to escape, inflicting heavy punishment. This regiment then moved up the nala, covered by the 3rd Sikh Infantry on the right bank, and cleared out the villages, destroying towers and defences. The enemy was prevented from following up by the fire of the guns, which I had moved to a point commanding the opposite side of the valley, and the troops returned to camp without molestation. Large bodies of tribesmen were seen about the hills and down in the valley, but these were dispersed by the fire of the guns and by infantry volleys. Our losses during the day were one man killed and 13 wounded. The enemy was reported to have lost between 50 and 60 killed.

14. On the morning of the 23rd a large gathering, with three standards, having collected near the village of Margharu, I moved out of camp to attack their position. Sangars had been erected at a point just beyond the village, and from here the enemy opened fire on the advancing troops, but after an engagement lasting half an hour the position was carried by the 15th (Sikh) Bengal Infantry, who led the attack, the enemy dispersing down the reverse slopes of the hill under a heavy artillery and infantry fire. I then ordered Lieutenant-Colonel Turner to move down the spur and destroy the tower and defences of the village of Talli, out of which the enemy had advanced with standards on the previous day. This was satisfactorily done, and the troops returned to camp without a shot being fired as they retired. Our losses during the day were one man killed and one native officer and five men wounded. A strong contingent of Afridis fought in the ranks of the enemy on this occasion, but after the action they, as well as the Akhel and Ali Khel, sent me a message asking if I would receive their deputations. Permission having been granted, jirgas arrived in camp on the 24th and were received by Major Leigh, who, however, reported that they were in no sense representative of their tribes.

15. Meanwhile the punishment of the Rabia Khel continued. On the 21st Lieutenant-Colonel Brownlow blew up the towers of the Ibrahim Khel hamlets, and on the 23rd a small column under Lieutenant-Colonel Reid, 29th Bengal Infantry, destroyed the defences of Bazai.

16. The post at Chilibagh was fired into on the night of the 22nd, and an attack was made on the morning of the 23rd upon a convoy near the Darband Kotal, in which we lost four men killed and three wounded, and at the same time a number of mules were killed, others being carried off. I therefore determined to move a column into the country of the Shekhan and Mamazai (Daradar), as those tribes were principally concerned in the above attacks. Accordingly, on the 27th, I marched to Hangu, where the First Column, troops as per margin, under Colonel Sym, C.B., was concentrated on the 28th. On the following day I advanced with this column to Mir Asghar Mela, and on the 30th I reached Dran, the head-quarters of the Shekhan tribe. This village was occupied after slight opposition, one sepoy being wounded. The towers of the villages of Laghardarra and Dran were all blown up, and the force advanced on the 1st May to the Kharai Kotal. On the way I was met by the jirgas of the Samil clans, but declined to receive them until all Government property in their possession should have been restored. On the 2nd May I advanced to Starkili (generally called Daradar), the principal village of the Mamazai (Daradar). From here I detached a column, consisting of the 1st Punjab and the 27th Bengal Infantry, to visit Torsmatz and Takhtak, belonging to the Shekhan tribe, the towers of which were blown up, as also the tower of the village of Nakatta on the pass between those places. On this day fourteen of the rifles taken from the 29th Bengal Infantry were brought in to me. On the 3rd May I returned to Sangar, destroying en route the towers of Daradar, Miru Khel, and Adu Garhi, belonging to the Mamazai (Daradar), and the towers of Inzaur, the property of Zaman Shah, Rabia Khel, the principal instigator of the recent outbreak.

17. On the 5th May a half-battalion of the Manchester Regiment, which I had ordered up from Kohat, arrived at Mastan. Mr. Udny, the Peshawar Commissioner, also arrived on the same date at my invitation. I advanced to Gulistan on the 6th, and on the following day the jirgas of all the Samil clans—Rabia Khel, Mishti, Shekhan, Malla Khel, and Mamazai (Daradar)—came into camp, bringing with them the Government property in their possession. Their attitude was thoroughly submissive, and they expressed their readiness to accept all my conditions relative to the Samana, acknowledging our right to build posts on the crest, and undertaking to pay revenue for all lands possessed by them on the southern side of the range.

18. As, however, the Mishti clan had not received any punishment for their share in the outbreak, the Samil jirgas were informed that I intended to destroy the towers of Kandi Mishti, and they were directed to accompany me to witness the punishment. I therefore advanced on the 10th May, taking with me the troops as per margin under Lieutenant-Colonel Turner, and following the route by the Akhel Valley to Karappa. The Akhel, who had previous to this made their submission, were all back in their villages. From Karappa I advanced the same day to Kandi Mishti and blew up its towers without opposition, thus clearing off all accounts with the Samil clans. On returning in the evening to Karappa, I found the jirgas of the Ali Khel, Mamuzai, and Alisherzai sections awaiting me. These Gar clans were informed that I intended to visit their country, and that if any opposition were offered they should receive severe punishment. I accordingly advanced to Sadarai, a Khadizai village, on the 12th, and the following day to Khanki Bazar, the head-quarters of the Mamuzai, passing en route Starkili, the principal village of the Alisherzai. From Khanki Bazar I ascended to the crest of the pass between the Khanki and Kurmana valleys. No opposition was offered throughout the day. The survey of the country being completed, I left Khanki Bazar on the 14th and returned to the Samana on the 15th May, and there received the Daulatzai and Sturi Khel jirgas, which had been summoned to meet me. Their attitude was satisfactory; and as there were no cases outstanding against them, their jirgas were dismissed.

19. I am thus in a position to report that the work entrusted to me is finished. The tribes who opposed us on the Samana have been punished, their countries have been visited, and they have all submitted and accepted the terms imposed upon them. The construction of roads and posts is now being rapidly pushed on, and, until these shall have been completed, a force consisting of one Native mountain battery and three native infantry battalions should, in my opinion, be kept on the Samana.

20. I forward herewith a map showing the routes followed by the force; also a detail of staff and troops,* and a return of casualties.

21. The conduct of all ranks of the field force under my command has been admirable as regards discipline, and also as regards the cheerful endurance of fatigue, exposure, and hardship generally.

22. I have the honor to bring to the special notice of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India the services of the following officers

Major C. C. Egerton, 3rd Punjab Cavalry, Assistant-Adjutant-General, was wounded on the 17th April, and I was thus deprived of a staff officer of exceptional ability, whose services during the Miranzai expedition of January and February last I have already brought to notice. He was invaluable to me during the concentration of the field force and its advance to the Samana. I have never known a better staff officer.

Major V. Jenkins, West Riding Regiment, succeeded Major Egerton as Assistant-Adjutant-General, and joined me at Sangar on the 20th April. During the subsequent operations I have found him all that a staff officer should be.

Captain D. W. Hickman, 34th Bengal Infantry (Pioneers), Deputy-Assistant-Adjutant-General, has been with me throughout. He is a most capable and energetic officer.

Captain A. H. Mason, Royal Engineers, has a second time this year been my Deputy-Assistant-Quartermaster-General for Intelligence in the Orakzai country. This talented officer is an expert as regards frontier tribes and topography, and I attribute a great deal of my success to the accurate information he has always been able to give me on those points. In any other field his clear head and sound judgment would make him conspicuously valuable.

Lieutenant-Colonel E. J. de Lautour, Royal Artillery, commanded the artillery of the field force to my complete satisfaction.

Major J. D. Cunningham was the senior Royal Artillery officer previous to Lieutenant-Colonel de Lautour's arrival at field force head-quarters on the 18th April, and commanded that arm during the capture of the Samana. The high opinion I have formed of this officer is endorsed by Lieutenant-Colonel de Lautour in his report submitted separately.

* Not published.

Major W. T. Shone, D.S.O., Commanding Royal Engineer, has for the second time this year admirably filled that post under my command in the Orakzai country. I could not wish for a more able Commanding Engineer in the field.

Lieutenant H. F. Kays, Highland Light Infantry, has superintended the signalling of the force since its concentration. The management of this important service has left nothing to be desired. I wish to record here my high appreciation of the work done by all ranks of signallers, who have been by far the hardest worked men in the field force.

Brigade-Surgeon R. Harvey, M.D., Indian Medical Service, has for the second time this year been my Principal Medical Officer in the field, and I again desire to express my indebtedness to him and to the other officers of the department which he has so ably conducted for the admirable state of efficiency in which it has been maintained, often under very unfavorable conditions.

Captain E. C. C. Sandys, Staff Corps, Chief Commissariat Officer, has, as on the occasion of the first Miranzai expedition this year, given me complete satisfaction. Thanks to him and his subordinate officers, the troops have wanted for nothing in spite of many difficulties.

Captain H. Wharry, Staff Corps, Divisional Transport Officer, has likewise for the second time this year proved himself a thoroughly efficient officer of his department.

Captain R. J. H. L. Mackenzie, Royal Engineers, has satisfactorily conducted the survey work of the expedition. He has been successful in extending the survey of the Orakzai country to the Tsappar Range, south of Tirah, and to the Marghan pass between the Khanki and Kurmana valleys, thus completing the excellent work of Captain Wahab, Royal Engineers, whose name I brought to notice at the end of the last expedition.

Lieutenant the Hon'ble C. G. Bruce, 5th Gurkha Regiment, my orderly officer in the Hazara Field Force, accompanied me in the same capacity to the Miranzai Valley, but I regret that ill-health prevented him taking part in the capture of the Samana. He rejoined his regiment at his own request, and was present with it in the subsequent operations.

Lieutenant G. P. Brasier Creagh, 9th Bengal Lancers, who began as extra orderly officer, succeeded Lieutenant the Hon'ble C. G. Bruce, and has been my very efficient orderly officer throughout. He was present at every engagement on the Samana.

Captain O. S. W. Nugent, King's Royal Rifles, succeeded Lieutenant Brasier Creagh as my extra orderly officer. A keen and excellent officer, he has been of much assistance to me.

Colonel J. M. Sym, C.B., 5th Gurkha Regiment, commanded the First Column, and maintained his reputation as a good soldier in the field. His ability and war experience have always made me feel that any work entrusted to him would be thoroughly and satisfactorily carried out.

Lieutenant-Colonel A. H. Turner, 2nd Punjab Infantry, who commanded the Second Column, I have already had the honor to bring to favorable notice for his services in January and February last. He is an officer of great resource and dash, and I am glad the Government of India has shown its confidence in him by nominating him to command the Samana posts until the final reduction of the garrison.

Lieutenant-Colonel C. C. Brownlow, 4th Sikh Infantry, I also mentioned favorably at the close of the last expedition. He has again done excellent service, and, by the good disposition of his troops at Mastan on the 20th April, he inflicted heavier loss on the enemy than the latter has sustained in any other engagement.

Colonel W. W. Biscoe, 19th Bengal Lancers, has commanded the cavalry of the field force throughout, rendering valuable service during the first advance, when he co-operated in the Khanki Valley, and since then on the communications along the southern base of the Samana.

I beg also to mention Lieutenant-Colonel W. J. Vousden, V.C., 5th Punjab Cavalry, who commanded the cavalry in January and February, and has again done good service in command of his regiment.

23. In a separate letter I shall have the honor to submit reports by column commanders and heads of departments. I endorse the favorable mention therein made of the following officers :

Captain F. H. J. Buch, Royal Artillery, commanding No. 3 (Peshawar) Mountain Battery.

Lieutenant L. W. P. East, Royal Artillery, No. 2 (Derajat) Mountain Battery.

Captain H. S. King, Royal Engineers, commanding No. 5 Company, Bengal Sappers and Miners.

Lieutenant S. H. Powell, Royal Engineers, Assistant Intelligence Officer.

Major B. J. C. Doran, Royal Irish Regiment, Brigade-Major, First Column.

Colonel C. P. Cramer, commanding the King's Royal Rifles.

Captain C. F. Gambier, 5th Punjab Cavalry, Brigade-Major, Third Column.

Major H. A. Abbott, commanding the 15th (Sikh) Bengal Infantry.

Lieutenant-Colonel W. O. Thompson, commanding the 3rd Sikh Infantry.

Captain E. J. N. Fasken, 3rd Sikh Infantry.

Lieutenant-Colonel H. Howell, commanding the 1st Punjab Infantry.

Captain A. Daniell, 1st Punjab Infantry.

Captain R. R. N. Sturt, commanding the 2nd Punjab Infantry.

Captain W. du G. Gray, 4th Punjab Infantry, Brigade-Major, Second Column.

Lieutenant-Colonel A. N. Sandilands, commanding the 6th Punjab Infantry.

Brevet-Lieutenant-Colonel R. A. Swetenham, commanding the 27th Bengal Infantry.

Brevet-Lieutenant-Colonel A. J. F. Reid, commanding the 29th Bengal Infantry.

Captain F. C. Maisey, 29th Bengal Infantry.
 Captain A. R. Martin, commanding the 1-5th Gurkha Regiment.
 Captain H. P. Picot, Staff Corps, Commissariat Department.
 Lieutenant G. H. Bretherton, Staff Corps, Commissariat Department.
 Surgeon-Major J. T. B. Bookey, Indian Medical Service.
 Surgeon L. T. M. Nash, Medical Staff.

Conductor W. Cliff, Commissariat Department.
 Conductor L. Manley, Commissariat Department.
 Sub-Conductor L. Walters, Transport Department.
 Sergeant H. Long, Military Works Department.
 Sergeant J. M'Niven, Highland Light Infantry, Army Signaller.
 Private W. Charlton, Wilts Regiment, Military Signaller, who distinguished himself during the attack on the convoy at the Darband Kotal on the 23rd April.
 Jemadar Sobha Singh, No. 3 (Peshawar) Mountain Battery.
 Havildar Ramzán Khan, 3rd Sikh Infantry.
 Sepoy Búr Sing, 1st Punjab Infantry.
 Sepoy Maha Singh, 1st Punjab Infantry.
 Sepoy Tajbir Gurúg, 1-4th Gurkha Regiment.
 Subadar Ohalám Kadir, 19th Bengal Infantry.
 Jemadar Amán Khan, 19th Bengal Infantry.
 Subadar-Major Bhagwán Singh, 29th Bengal Infantry.
 Subadar Harsa Singh, 29th Bengal Infantry.
 Havildar Akbar Khan, 29th Bengal Infantry.

24. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab had suggested to me that the presence of Mr. R. Udny, Commissioner and Superintendent, Peshawar Division, might be advantageous when discussing matters in which tribes other than Orakzai should be involved. I readily accepted the suggestion and invited Mr. Udny to join me, which he did at Mastan on the 5th May. His presence at once cleared away difficulties which had threatened to interrupt my programme, measures were adopted for allaying the suspicions of the Atridis as to our intentions with regard to Tirah, and I was enabled to visit the Mamuzai and Alisherzai countries without producing any external complications.

Mr. Udny accompanied me, and I wish to record my sense of the great public service he rendered in a difficult and delicate situation.

25. In March last I expressed the hope that Major H. P. P. Leigh's services during January and February might be favorably regarded by the Government of India, and that the services rendered by his assistants, Lieutenant C. M. Dallas and Messrs. F. B. R. Spencer and D. Donald, might also be recognised. Major Leigh has again been my political adviser throughout the recent operations, and again I desire to record my sense of the great value of his work. His intimate knowledge of border matters and his talent in dealing with the tribes seem to fit him pre-eminently for a responsible position on the frontier, and to point to his advancement being for the public good. Lieutenant Dallas has been selected to remain as civil officer on the Samana after the reduction of the garrison. He has again proved himself a most capable officer, and I am sure that his selection is a good one. Messrs. Spencer and Donald have also again assisted Major Leigh, and have in all respects upheld the good opinion I formed of them during the operations at the beginning of the present year. I trust that the native gentlemen mentioned by Major Leigh may receive the recognition of Government for the loyal assistance they have given him.

26. The Telegraph Department under Mr. O. Burne, Assistant Superintendent, was thoroughly efficient in the field, and I quite agree in the terms of commendation employed by him with regard to those working under him in the report which I submit separately.*

27. Mr. A. Bean, of the Postal Department, carried on his duties to my satisfaction.

28. The excellent work done by the Public Works Department under Mr. W. Macdonald, Executive Engineer, especially in the matter of road-making, merits my warm acknowledgments.

Weather Review of India for the week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, June 27th, 1891.

During the greater part of the week under review the weather conditions were as unfavourable to the proper advance of the monsoon over India as they were at the close of the previous week. From the 21st to the 24th the wind directions on the West Coast were exceedingly variable, and the force of the wind at almost every station was much below the normal June velocity. At the same time the distribution of pressure over the central parts of India and of the Peninsula was such as to produce gradients for north-westerly winds. The winds blew strongly over the Central Provinces and the Peninsula, and hence the whole of what monsoon current there was seemed to be directed to the southward instead of passing eastward across India. In the Bay similar conditions prevailed, the whole of the southern part of the Bay area being occupied by dry westerly winds from the Indian land region. At the head of the Bay southerly winds were reported, but these from the conditions described above were necessarily local, and they brought up hardly any moisture to Bengal. In the Gangetic plain dry hot westerly winds also prevailed. Burma was more favourably situated. A branch of the monsoon current passed northward up the east side of the Bay, and rain was general throughout Burma during the week. On the 25th a more favourable change took place. The wind shifted to the southward, on the West Coast, and a south-westerly wind bringing up some rain passed into the central parts of India. At the same time conditions began to improve over North-Eastern India. The southerly wind from the Bay increased and was drawn from a greater distance southward, and it also commenced to back round into south-east and east and travel up the Gangetic plain. Hence at the close of the week appearances had improved and seemed to promise a much more general rainfall. Hitherto the rain had been confined to a few districts in India; thus, on the 21st the only rainfall of importance was on the West Coast and in Lower Burma; on the 22nd the distribution was the same; on the 24th there were, besides the above, some showers in Bengal and the central parts of the Peninsula, and 3½ inches had fallen at Bombay; on the 24th there was no change, except that the rain was lighter on the West Coast. On the 25th rain commenced to extend into Khandeish and Berar, and was heavier again on the West Coast, and on the 26th and 27th there was a steady extension of rain both into the Central Provinces and into Bengal.

Temperature.—The principal feature in the weather of the past week has been the excessive heat which has prevailed due to the absence of rain. This excess has been greatest in the Central Provinces, but has been felt in all parts of India, and the mean temperature of the week for all the Provinces of India has been above the normal.

The following table shows the variation of temperature from the normal average on each day for the principal Provinces of India:

PROVINCE.	JUNE							Mean variation for week.

These figures show that for the whole of India there was an excess of 4°, and that the hottest day was the 26th, when the mean excess was 5°. In the Central Provinces the average daily excess between the 21st and 26th was between 10½° and 12°. The Punjab was the only Province where at any time during the week the mean temperature was below the normal

The highest temperatures were found in the early part of the week in the Gangetic plain, and in the latter part of the week in the extreme north-west. The highest day temperatures relatively to the average were, however, registered in the Central Provinces. The following figures give the average excess in the day temperatures in those Provinces for each day:

June.	Average max.	Average excess.

Rain.—As mentioned in the earlier part of this summary, rain during the present week was mainly confined to the West Coast of the Peninsula and to North-East India. Towards the close of the week a rush of monsoon winds passed across Khandeish into the Central Provinces, but this rush occurred too late to materially affect the rainfall of the present week. The table at the close of the summary shows that over the whole of the North-West Provinces and the Punjab, over Sind, and over Rajputana there was absolutely no rain during the week. In Orissa, Mysore, the centre and east of the Central Provinces, the east of Rajputana, and the south of Madras the average rainfall of the week was less than one-tenth of an inch; hence these divisions must be added to those given above in estimating the amount of the country which has received no effective rain. The heaviest average fall for the week was 8 inches in Assam (Surma), followed by 6½ inches in Malabar, 5 inches in Tenasserim and Central Burma, 3½ inches in Lower Burma and North Bengal, and 2½ inches in the Konkan. In the other divisions the amounts were small. The third column of the table shows that in only five divisions, vis., Central Burma, Assam (Surma), Madras (Central and South Central), and Khandeish, has there been any excess, and in these instances the excess was only small. The greatest deficiency was in Arakan, where one and-a-half inches fell instead of thirteen and-a-half. Tenasserim exhibits a deficiency of 4 inches, Orissa of 3 inches, the hill districts of the Punjab of 2½ inches, Coorg of 7 inches, the Konkan of 6½ inches, and the centre and east of the Central Provinces of 3 inches each.

The final column of the table shows that the seasonal rainfall is deficient in all divisions except Tenasserim, Lower Burma, and Madras (South Central). In Central Burma, Assam (Surma), Behar, and Madras (South) the deficiency is not large, but in all the other divisions it is very considerable, and in Rajputana (West) no rain whatever has fallen.

As might be anticipated, the record of heavy falls is not large. The principal amounts recorded are :

Slight rain in Kalahasti on 28th and 29th.

Bombay.—For week ending 1st July.—Rain throughout the Presidency. Good rain in Konkan and parts of the Deccan and Northern Gujarat; moderate or slight elsewhere. More rain wanted generally. Sowing operations resumed, except where rain is insufficient. Scarcity of fodder and water in parts of some districts. Prices of grain and fodder stationary, except in five districts. Crops injured by locusts in parts of Sind, and paddy withering in Dharwar.

Bengal.—For week ending 30th June.—Slight rain has fallen generally during the last three days of the week greatly improving the condition of all growing crops. Cultivation of winter rice and bhadai crops is going on, and sowings are in progress. More rain is still wanted in several parts. Early rice harvest has begun in parts of North and East Bengal. Repeated flights of locusts reported from several districts, but little injury has been done by them, except to indigo in parts of Monghyr, Bhagalpur, and Purneah. Prices continue stationary.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 1st July.—Heat oppressive and weather cloudy and unsettled. Thunderstorm with good rain at Benares, Fyzabad, Bareilly, and Moradabad, and showers also in Ballia, Fatehgarh, Kumaun, Aligarh, and Meerut. More rain much wanted. Irrigation of sugarcane and preparation for kharif sowings continue. Locusts passed over the Rai Bareli, Agra, Banda, and Meerut districts, and have slightly injured crops in Benares, Kumaun, and Meerut. Supplies are ample, but prices are rising in many districts. Export continues from Meerut.

Reporter on Economic Products.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses, both chemical and industrial; trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Weather Review of India for the week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, July 4th, 1891.

The weather of the past week has shown some improvement. The monsoon current was at first very unsteady on the West Coast, north-easterly and north-easterly winds prevailing at some stations and the general rainfall light, though some places reported local heavy falls. In the extreme north, i.e., over Katiawar and the Gulf of Cambay, normal south-westerly winds prevailed, and these winds passed north-eastward across Khandeish into the Central Provinces, and gave a fairly heavy rainfall to several places. On the 29th the wind shifted to south on the West Coast and on a subsequent date to south-west, and this direction it maintained till the close of the week. While blowing from this quarter, the rainfall was heavy all along the West Coast and light or moderate for some distance inland. The Central Provinces participated in this improved condition of affairs, and moderate to heavy rain was reported from most of the more central stations. In Madras also there was some improvement during the week. On the 28th the only Madras stations reporting any rain were Kurnool and Cocanada, which received respectively 0'34 inch and 0'05 inch. On the 29th six stations reported rain, the heaviest amount being  $\frac{1}{2}$  inch at Salem. On the 30th rain ceased practically in the South Carnatic, but the Deccan and the Circars received some showers. On the 1st July rain, though not heavy, was very general, the only stations which were without rain being Gopalpur, Bellary, Cuddapah, and Madura. On the 2nd a similar condition of affairs prevailed, but the rainfall in the Circars was heavier. On the 3rd and 4th rain began to fall off, and, except in the northern districts, very little rain fell. The Bay monsoon current was fairly steady during the week, but was at no time strong. On all the days of the week Burma has received general rain. In Bengal the amount and area of the rainfall have varied a good deal. At first rain was confined to Lower Bengal and was not heavy. Subsequently rain extended to all parts of Bengal and Behar and became heavier, but on the 2nd the rainfall area contracted and the amounts became smaller again. On the 3rd and 4th rain again became heavier. In North-West India (including the North-West Provinces, the Punjab, Rajputana, Sind, and Guzerat) any rainfall has been very slight. On the 29th a slight rush of monsoon winds north-westward from the Bay was shown, and rain fell at Gorakhpur and Roorkee as well as on the hills. On the 30th this rainfall was more extensive and heavier, but on the 1st the fall slackened considerably, and from this date till the close of the week only slight thundershowers were experienced in the north-west. The distribution of pressure and the direction of the winds at one time promised normal monsoon conditions, and it appeared likely that rain would extend to all parts of India. The trough of low pressure along the Gangetic plain, on which the proper extension of the Bay monsoon depends, seemed on several occasions on the point of becoming firmly established; but this distribution was never fully carried out, and North-Western India never had proper south-east winds.

Temperature.—The more general rain which has occurred during the past week has had an important effect on the temperature, which, though still high, is by no means so excessive as it was during the previous few weeks. In Burma and Madras, indeed, it was a trifle below the normal average.

The following table shows the variation of temperature from the normal average on each day for the principal Provinces of India :

PROVINCE.	JUNE			JULY				Mean variation for week.
	28th.	29th.	30th.	1st.	2nd.	3rd.	4th.
Burma	+ 0.6	— 0.1	— 0.8	— 0.6	— 0.5	— 0.6	+ 0.3	— 0.2
Bengal and Assam	+ 2.0	— 0.7	— 1.8	— 0.6	+ 0.9	+ 0.7	+ 0.1	+ 0.1
North-Western Provinces	+ 7.3	+ 2.4	— 0.2	+ 1.5	+ 3.5	+ 4.9	+ 5.5	+ 3.6
Punjab	+ 5.3	+ 5.5	+ 5.1	+ 3.5	+ 3.7	+ 6.8	+ 8.1	+ 5.4
Bombay	+ 1.9	+ 0.3	+ 0.5	— 0.5	— 1.2	+ 0.2	+ 1.3	+ 0.4
Berar and Central Provinces	+ 5.4	+ 0.8	+ 3.9	+ 4.4	+ 4.5	+ 4.1	+ 2.8	+ 3.7

Mean for whole India	+ 4.0	+ 1.7	+ 1.4	+ 1.5	+ 1.4	+ 2.1	+ 2.7	+ 2.1

The mean temperature of the whole of India for the week was 2° above the normal as compared with 4° last week. Each day was hotter than usual, the excess ranging from 4° on the 28th to 1½° on the 30th June and 1st and 2nd July. In Burma and Madras the mean temperature of the week was a trifle below and in Bengal and Bombay a trifle above the normal, but in all the other Provinces there was an excess, which ranged from 3° in Sind and Rajputana to 5° in the Punjab. The maximum temperatures, though higher than usual, were by no means so remarkable as those reported in previous weeks.

Rain.—As mentioned above, the rainfall of the past week has been more general than that of the preceding weeks. Only in the Punjab (South), Sind, and Rajputana (West) has there been absolutely no rain, though in the Punjab (Central, North-West, and West) the total fall was less than one-tenth of an inch. In all the other divisions effective rain fell. The heaviest fall was 13½ inches in the Konkan, followed by 12½ inches in Tenasserim, 10½ inches in Coorg, and 10 inches in Arakan. Malabar received 9 inches ; but after Malabar there occurs a large interval, the next largest amount being 5½ inches in Assam (Surma). The third column of the concluding table shows that Tenasserim, Central Burma, Arakan, Behar (South), Malabar, Madras (South Central), Coorg, Mysore, the Konkan, Khandeish, the Central Provinces (West), and the East Coast (North) all had more than the normal rainfall of the week. In the case of Coorg the excess was as much as 9½ inches, and in Tenasserim, Madras (South Central), and the Konkan the excess was between 2 inches and 3½ inches, but in the other Provinces the excess was small. The most marked deficiency was in Assam (Surma) and the Punjab hill districts, where it amounted to 4½ inches, but in no less than nineteen divisions the deficiency exceeded 1 inch.

The concluding column of the table giving the excess or defect of the seasonal rainfall—that is, the rainfall between May 31st and July 4th—shows very few cases of good rains. Tenasserim, Lower Burma, Madras (South Central), and Mysore are the only divisions reporting an excess. In all the other divisions the rains are short, the defect in the majority of cases being considerable. There are thus four cases of rainfall heavier than usual and forty-five cases of rainfall lighter than usual. In twenty-eight out of these forty-five divisions the deficiency equalled half, or more than half, the normal fall.

The record of maximum falls is larger than usual, but they occur principally in Burma and the West Coast districts. The following are the principal amounts :

REVENUE REPORT OF IRRIGATION WORKS IN THE NORTH-WESTERN PROVINCES FOR 1889-90.

No. 129-I., dated Simla, the 3rd July, 1891.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Public Works Department.

Read—

Letter No. C.-415-I., dated the 16th May 1891, from the Government of the North-Western Provinces, forwarding the Revenue Report of Irrigation Works in the North-Western Provinces for 1889-90, and the Resolution of that Government reviewing the Report.

OBSERVATIONS.—The number of works in operation dealt with in the Report is nine, the same as in the previous year. Of the Major Works, one—the Betwa Canal—is classed as a Protective work, and four—the Upper Ganges, the Lower Ganges, the Agra, and the Eastern Jumna Canals—are classed as Major Works, the capital outlay on which is not charged against Revenue. The remaining four works are classed as Minor Works. The direct and indirect capital outlay during and up to the end of the year under review is shown for each class of works in the following statement :

	Number of Works.	DURING THE YEAR 1889-90								Total direct and indirect to end of 1889-90.

2. The capital outlay on the Betwa Canal amounted to Rs. 28,155, principally on account of distributaries; the Kusmara and Baroli minor distributaries being opened.

On the Upper Ganges Canal the capital outlay amounted to Rs. 79,601. Good progress was made with the new corn-mills at Salawa, and with the excavation for the new tail falls of the Jani escape.

On the Lower Ganges Canal the capital outlay amounted to Rs. 6,34,462, which was principally incurred on the completion of the Nadrai aqueduct. Water was first passed over it on 20th October 1889. Some subsidiary works in connection with it remained to be completed at the close of the year.

On the Agra Canal the capital outlay was Rs. 37,647. The work of raising the right flank of the undersluices was nearly completed, and good progress was made on the Muttra escape.

On the Eastern Jumna Canal the capital outlay was Rs. 1,10,856. The Raipur torrent escape was completed and the new tail escape begun. Some additions were also made to the distributaries and drainage cuts.

3. The following statement shows the mileage of main canal and distributary sanctioned and in operation at the close of the year :

These figures are taken from statement I. A. The figures given in the statement do not agree, however, in all cases with those given in paragraph 7 of the Resolution of the Local Government prefacing the Report, and the discrepancy is not explained. The decrease in the sanctioned length of main canal, as compared with the figures for the previous year, is due to the sanctioned length of the Agra Canal being now taken at 109 miles instead of 149 miles. The decrease in the completed length of main canal is due to seven miles on the Lower Ganges Canal having been transferred to the head "Escapes."

5. The figures showing the gross revenue collected in the above statement are the actual receipts of the year, refunds of revenue being deducted. The figures showing the percentage of return on Capital outlay given in the table in paragraph 20 of the Resolution by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor reviewing the Report and in table III of the detailed Canal Reports exhibit a different result from that arrived at above ; but in these the assessment figures for the year have been taken. The assessment figures and those representing the actual receipts are not directly comparable, as the former include the rabi assessment of 1889-90, which is not collected till 1890-91. In the same way the actual receipts for 1889-90 include the rabi collections made in that year, but which were assessed in 1888-89. The figures of assessments are of interest as showing the work done by a canal during the year, but the returns on capital outlay should clearly be calculated on actual receipts and not on assessments.

6. The net revenue in the case of the Major Works shows an increase of nearly one lakh over the figures for the previous year.

The Betwa Canal remains about stationary both as regards revenue and working expenses.

The Upper Ganges Canal shows a slight falling off in receipts and an increase in working expenses, the result being a net revenue worse by Rs. 73,850 than during the previous year. The result differs from that given in the Chief Engineer's review for the reason stated in the last paragraph, the rabi assessment for 1889-90 included therein having been a very high one.

The Lower Ganges Canal shows an improvement of nearly a lakh in revenue, combined with a diminution in working expenses. Now that the Nadrai aqueduct has been completed, the receipts on this canal may be expected to improve. The working expenses should also diminish still further, as they have been abnormal during the past few years, partly on account of special expenditure on training works to the Ganges at Narora, and partly due to the write-back from Capital to Revenue account to cover the original cost (Rs. 5,70,000) of the old Nadrai aqueduct. This amount has now all been written back, the charge to revenue on this account during the year having been Rs. 23,713, exclusive of Establishment and Tools and Plant charges.

The Agra Canal shows an improvement in receipts, the working expenses remaining about the same.

The Eastern Jumna Canal shows a rather serious falling off in revenue attributable to the heavy rainfall during the rabi season of 1888-89. The expenditure was about the same as in 1888-89.

7. In paragraph 6 of the Review of the Irrigation Revenue Report for 1888-89 the Governor General in Council desired a special enquiry to be instituted into the causes which have reduced the returns from the Betwa and Agra Canals so far below the anticipations that were put forward when the schemes for these canals were sanctioned. The result of the enquiry is given in paragraphs 21 and 23 of the Resolution by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor on the current report and in paragraphs 85 to 87 and 119 of the Report itself. As regards the Betwa Canal, the following figures are given :

YEAR.	Rain-fall.	ACTUAL RESULTS.					FORECAST.				Difference between actual net revenue and the forecast.
		Area irrigated.	Gross revenue assessed.	Gross revenue realized.	Charges.	Net revenue realized.	Area.	Gross revenue.	Charges.	Net revenue.

The maintenance charges of each year have been less than the forecast, and it is noted with satisfaction that the establishment charges are being decreased by a reduction in the number of sub-divisions; but the areas irrigated, and consequently the revenue realized, have been largely deficient. The failure to develop irrigation to the extent anticipated is attributed to the favourable rainfall; the nature of the crops cultivated, the majority of which do not require irrigation in good years; and the ignorance and want of resource of the cultivators. In a country like Bundelkhand it was doubtless much more difficult than usual to forecast with accuracy the progress of irrigation, but the results show that the estimates of receipts were far too sanguine, and that the canal is likely to be worked at a loss for many years to come.

8. The following figures are given for the Agra Canal :

The explanation given as regards the increase in maintenance charges is that extensive outlay has had to be incurred on training the river at the head works, and in increasing the section of the banks of the distributaries: the same causes will be at work for a few years to come, after which a reduction to about the figures of the forecast may be looked for. As regards the falling off in receipts as compared with the forecast, the causes alleged are—(1) the fact that the forecast was based on the cultivation returns up to the year 1883-84, and that in subsequent years, owing to heavy rainfall, the demand for water was below the estimate; (2) the cultivation of poorly paying crops; (3) the uncertainty of the kharif supply; (4) the effect of the owner's rate in retarding the development of irrigation. The owner's rate has now been reduced by one-half, and it is hoped that this will encourage irrigation, while the uncertainty of the kharif supply is expected to disappear with the completion of the new Nadrai aqueduct and the tail falls of the Jani escape. In paragraph 21 of the Resolution a confident expectation is expressed that the improvement in the financial results which commenced in 1889-90 will be maintained. Though it may not be so rapid as was shown in the forecast, the Government of India trusts that this expectation may be realized; but, judging from the areas irrigated in past years, the returns are likely to be subject to considerable fluctuations. It would seem, however, that the water-supply on the Agra Canal is not utilised with nearly the same economy as on the other canals of the Province, the figures for 1889-90 showing an average area irrigated of only 149 acres per cubic foot per second of supply on the former against an average for the other canals of 209 acres. This is a matter to which the attention of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor is particularly invited.

9. On the Upper Ganges Canal the chief outlay under extensions and improvements (Rs. 49,292) was incurred on the new Myapur regulator.

On the Lower Ganges Canal the river training works were extended.

On the Agra Canal Rs. 30,417 were also spent on training works.

On the Eastern Jumna Canal the new aqueduct over the Kirsani Nadi at Bhojpur was completed.

10. In the following statement the assessments for the year under review and the previous year are compared with the areas irrigated :

Of the area irrigated, 649,737 acres were under kharif crop and 1,229,666 under rabi crop. The rabi season (October to March) was an exceedingly good one for irrigation, the rainfall being light. The increase in the aggregate area irrigated as compared with the previous year was 274,650 acres, or 17'1 per cent., and was 9'7 per cent. better than the average for the ten preceding years.

11. The areas under the principal crops were as follows .

	Acres.	Acres.
Sugarcane . . . . .	158,484	224,245
Rice . . . . .	132,554	110,137

Gram . . . . .	70,960	32,279
Poppy . . . . .	10,847	8,819

There was a very large decrease in the area under sugarcane due to a fall in prices. The falling off in the area under this crop on the Eastern Jumna Canal amounted to 20,000 acres, and this accounts for the reduction in the average assessment from Rs. 4'6 to Rs. 3'8 per acre, sugarcane being a crop that pays the highest assessment.

The estimated value of the irrigated crops was 653 lakhs, equivalent to nearly Rs. 35 an acre.

Of the total area, 280,611 acres, or 14'9 per cent., were double cropped. The proportion of flow to lift irrigation was 77 to 23.

The unrealised balance of demands which at the beginning of the year amounted to Rs. 1,20,843 had been reduced at its close to Rs. 85,153.

12. The following statement gives the details of the working expenses for the year under review, and compares the total with that of the previous year :

14. The division of cost of establishment between Maintenance of Works and Revenue Management, which had not previously been clearly shown, has now been explained in paragraph 6 of the Resolution of the Government of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh and in paragraph 17 of the Chief Engineer's report. The charge to Revenue Account for establishment is somewhat arbitrary, as it includes the whole cost of the establishment after deducting 23 per cent. on the capital outlay, which is the charge for establishment under that head. The division of cost of establishment on Revenue account between Maintenance and Revenue Management is also arbitrary, 30 per cent. on the expenditure on works being charged to the former and the balance to the latter. The charge for establishment on account of Revenue Management during the year under review thus calculated amounted to nearly 15 per cent. of the actual collections and to about 13 per cent. of the assessments for the year.

The total revenue outlay amounted to about 48 per cent. of the collections and to 45 per cent. of the assessments.

15. The length of canal open for navigation was 535 miles, of which 412 miles were on the Upper and Lower Ganges Canals and 123 miles on the Agra Canal. On the former the reach from Nadrai to Gopalpur was re-opened to traffic consequent on the completion of the Nadrai aqueduct. The number of boats plying on both canals was 289; the ton-mileage amounted to 7.73 million ton-miles; the aggregate estimated value of cargoes was 29 lakhs; and the number of passengers carried was 661. The receipts and charges on account of navigation were as follows:

	1888-89.	1889-90.	1888-89.	1889-90.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.

The principal items of expenditure were—

	Rs.
Works . . . . .	7,786
Maintenance . . . . .	14,817
Establishment . . . . .	11,824

The establishment charges on the Ganges Canal show a substantial reduction compared with the figures for the previous year.

Grain, building material, timber, and firewood were the principal articles carried.

16. The revenue realised from water-power during the year amounted to Rs. 78,451.

17. The following hydraulic details are given in the report :

CANAL.	Number of irrigating days.	Mean discharge at head cubic feet per second.	Discharge utilised cubic feet per second.	PERCENTAGE.
				Discharge utilised.	Discharge escaped.
Ganges . . . . .	316	(a) 3,685	3,453	93.7	6.3

Agra . . . . .	290	1,199	963	80.3	19.7
Eastern Jumna . . . . .	347	1,017	972	95.6	4.4

(a) Exclusive of the volume passed on to the Lower Ganges Canal.

The high percentage of discharge utilised on the Eastern Jumna Canal is due to there being no navigation on it. A new formula for the discharge over the Solani aqueduct, to which reference was made in paragraph 16 of last year's Review, has been brought into force from 1st April 1890. The table in use gave too low results.

18. The following figures relate to the water-duty obtained :

CANAL.	AREA IRRIGATED PER CUBIC FOOT

	Acres.	Acres.
Ganges . . . . .	219	234
Lower Ganges . . . . .	168	207
Agra . . . . .	149	185
Eastern Jumna . . . . .	239	251

The small duty obtained in the case of the Agra Canal has already been referred to in paragraph 8.

19. The following figures give some details regarding the distributaries :

CANAL.	Area irrigated per mile of distributary.	Number of outlets per mile.	Area irrigated per outlet.
	Acres.		Acres.
Ganges . . . . .	310	7.5	41
Lower Ganges . . . . .	232	5.6	41
Agra . . . . .	314	7.9	40

20. Some observations are recorded showing the normal level of the ground water. A fall in level, as compared with the previous year, was observed in most of the wells on the Upper and Lower Ganges Canals, amounting in one case to 3.09 feet. At the tail of the Bhognipur Branch, however, there was a rise of 3.45 feet. On the Agra and Betwa Canals all the observations showed a rise in the water level.

21. The following figures relate to the Tarai and Bhabar Canals, which are administered by the Superintendent of the Tarai and the Commissioner of Kumaon respectively, with assistance from Public Works officers; but the figures of area for the Bhabar Canals are said to be open to correction:

Canals.	Irrigated area.	REVENUE RECEIPTS.				REVENUE EXPENDITURE.

22. The Revenue Report was received by the Government of India on the 28th May, the due date of submission being the preceding 15th of November. The delay in submission was commented upon in paragraph 19 of last year's Review; but the present Report was received more than three weeks later than that for 1888-89, and the explanation of the delay given in paragraph 3 of letter No. C.-415-I. of 16th May 1891 forwarding the Report cannot be considered sufficient. It is hoped that the Report for 1890-91 may be submitted much earlier.

23. The Report has been admirably prepared, and contains a large amount of well-arranged information.

ORDER.—Ordered, that copy of this Review and of the Report be forwarded to the Revenue and Agricultural Department for information.

Ordered also, that copies of this Review be forwarded to the Government of the North-Western Provinces for information and guidance, and that copies of the Review be forwarded to the Local Governments and Administrations in the Public Works

The Capital expenditure was Rs. 3,26,011 less than in the previous year. There was a small increase in the outlay on the Ganges Canal and of Rs. 20,832 in that of the Eastern Jumna Canal. On most of the other works there was a decrease, that on the Lower Ganges Canal being Rs. 3,31,544, due to the cessation of expenditure on completion of the Nadrai aqueduct.

2. Details of the Capital outlay for the year will be found in table A of the Chief Engineer's summary and the statement which follows it; and further particulars regarding the works on which the expenditure was incurred are given in the remaining clauses of paragraph 1 of the review. The chief items are:—

On the Betwa Canal, 11 miles of distributaries and the Bahádurpur escape.

On the Upper Ganges, mills at Salawa, new tail falls to the Jani escape, and extension of the left Akbarpur distributary.

On the Lower Ganges, completion of the Nadrai aqueduct (over which the water was passed on the 20th October), silt-traps, additional cattle bridges, and, on the Etáwah Branch, three regulators. Twenty-eight miles of distributaries and 30 miles of drainage cuts were also completed.

On the Agra Canal good progress was made on the Muttra escape; three miles of distributaries and two miles of drainage cuts were added.

On the Eastern Jumna the Raipur torrent escape was completed, the remodelling of the Reri-Rámpur and Kishanpur Bural distributaries was nearly completed, and the Tatauli Jahánpur drainage cut and Salawar diversion of the Shamli Nadi were well in hand.

The Capital outlay on Minor Works was insignificant.

ASSESSMENTS.

3. The gross assessments amounted to Rs. 64,87,515, which sum is Rs. 28,332 more than the gross assessments of 1882-83, and second only to those of 1883-84. These latter are, however, still upwards of 7½ lakhs ahead. The amount for the year under review is Rs. 6,04,972 more than that of the previous year. The charges, direct and indirect, aggregate Rs. 27,81,832, being a slight increase of Rs. 3,691, although there were considerable fluctuations under some of the sub-heads.

The total net revenue was Rs. 37,05,633, or an increase over 1888-89 of Rs. 6,01,281, and is equivalent to 4.58 per cent. on the entire capital of Rs. 8,08,73,972 invested in all the Canal works in the Province, Major (Productive and Protective) and Minor.

The net revenue on the four Productive works alone (Upper and Lower Ganges, Agra, and Eastern Jumna Canals) was Rs. 36,57,143, or 4.95 per cent. on their Capital expenditure.

The interest charges on the total Capital outlay on Productive and Protective works (which alone bear interest) amount to Rs. 20,05,225; and, deducting this from the total net revenue, there is left a clear profit of Rs. 8,00,408, or an advance of Rs. 5,61,050 over the previous year.

REALIZATIONS.

4. The income actually realized from all sources amounted to Rs. 58,03,374. After deducting working expenses and interest charges, there is left a surplus of Rs. 1,16,267. This is an increase of Rs. 29,499 on last year's surplus, whilst in 1887-88 there was a deficit of Rs. 24,130. The profit on the Productive and Minor works amounts to Rs. 3,14,296. Against this there was a loss on the Protective work, the Betwa Canal, of Rs. 1,98,029. The loss on the Betwa Canal is larger than last year by Rs. 2,157.

TOTAL INTEREST CHARGES.

5. The total interest charges on the Capital invested in Productive and Protective works in these Provinces since 1830 amount to Rs. 5,89,33,489.

The total net revenue derived from all classes of canals from the same date aggregates Rs. 6,58,29,645, thus showing a clear profit of Rs. 68,96,156, or 8.53 per cent. on the total Capital outlay.

WORKING EXPENSES.

6. The working expenses both direct and indirect amounted to Rs. 27,81,882, a slight increase of Rs. 3,691 on last year's.

The percentage of working expenses to assessments on the four Productive works is shown in the following statement :

YEAR.	UPPER GANGES CANAL.		LOWER GANGES CANAL		AGRA CANAL.		EASTERN JUMRA CANAL.

The high percentage of working expenses to assessments on the Lower Ganges Canal during the past five years is owing, on the one hand, to a serious falling off in the revenue below the normal, due partly to the destruction of the Nadrai aqueduct and partly to the heavy rainfall, and, on the other hand, to the heavy expenditure on training works to the Ganges river at Narora, and to the large sums which have had to be written back from Capital to Revenue on account of the old Nadrai aqueduct. During the past five years Rs. 5,70,000 have been charged to revenue on the latter account and about five lakhs on the former, being an average of a lakh per annum against a normal of perhaps Rs. 40,000. Allowing for this abnormal expenditure and the consequent increase in Establishment charges, the average percentage would probably not exceed 60 even on the reduced average income of those years of Rs. 12,36,000; whilst if the assessments returned to their former figures, or say 16 lakhs, and there is no reason now why they should not do so, the percentage would fall to about 45. The charges for the Nadrai aqueduct have now ceased.

There is a decrease in the figures for all canals, especially in the percentage for the Agra Canal, it being the lowest since 1883-84. Since, however, the assessments vary with the seasons, any percentages based on them can only be accepted as an indication of the comparative ratios and not as a true index of the ratios.

Under the subhead of Establishment there was a total increase of Rs. 8,089. Of this sum Rs. 5,117 was under Revenue management and Rs. 2,972 under Maintenance of works.

In the Resolution on the Irrigation Revenue Report of these Provinces for 1888-89, the Government of India commented on the apparently high cost of the Revenue management. The detailed information called for by that Government is given in paragraph 17 of the Chief Engineer's Review, where it is fully explained how the establishment charges are distributed. The statement prepared by the Government of India was incorrect in certain particulars, but there appears to have been a misapprehension in considering that the major portion of the charge shown against "Revenue management" is based on any fixed conditions; or that the ratio it bears to the assessments or realizations is a true one, or anything more than an indication, for purposes of comparison. Certain items of the Establishment charges can, of course, be allocated to their proper sub-heads, and this is done as far as is practicable; but the main items, those for "Direction" and "Executive," which comprise nearly 73 per cent. of the whole, are distributed in a purely arbitrary manner under rules laid down or approved by the Government of India. Charges of 23 and 30 per cent. on the "Capital" outlay and expenditure on "Repairs and improvements" respectively present the shares shown against those heads, and the balance after deducting these is shown under "Revenue management."

It will be seen, therefore, that the share of the charge for establishment under Revenue management which appertains to "Direction" and "Executive" cannot be used for purposes of comparison. Increased expenditure on Capital Works or Repairs would reduce it, and vice versa. It could even be reduced by charging 35 per cent., as is permissible, on Repairs instead of 30 per cent., as has been done hitherto.

	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Expenditure on new works of all kinds, Maintenance and Repairs, excluding Establishment charges . . . . .	23,36,363	23,52,433	22,00,170
Total charges for establishment . . . . .	14,33,622	14,44,712	14,13,626
Establishment—Direction and accounts and Executive under Revenue management only.	6,88,464	6,75,911	6,93,653

It will be seen that with an increase in the total cost of establishment in 1888-89 as compared with 1887-88, there was a decrease in the cost under "Revenue management;" whilst with a decrease of Rs. 31,086 in the total cost in 1889-90 as compared with 1888-89, there was an increase of Rs. 17,742 in that for Revenue management.

The cost of measuring irrigated areas and preparing demand statements came to Rs. 37,373, or Rs. 1.99 per 100 acres, against 2.25 in 1888-89. There is but little difference in the total cost from year to year, the bulk of the work being performed by the permanent establishment; the rate consequently varies pretty nearly inversely as the area irrigated.

The cost incurred in the Civil Department on the collection of the water-rate was Rs. 1,20,097, equivalent to 2.72 per cent. on the gross collections against 2.67 per cent. in the previous year.

The total balances of the demands of the year unrealized at its close under occupier's and owner's rates respectively were Rs. 64,085 and Rs. 6,769. Of the former Rs. 281 and of the latter Rs. 93 were in the Delhi and Gurgaon districts. In addition to the above, there were balances outstanding of previous years under occupier's rate of Rs. 12,520 and under owner's rate of Rs. 1,319, all in these Provinces. The outstanding balances have increased largely, especially in respect of the demands of the year, owing to the losses caused by the abnormally heavy rainfall of the last five years. Of the total amount, Rs. 81,170 are in the districts of the Agra Division; it is chiefly due from attached estates and deteriorated villages, and it is probable that a large proportion of it will have to be remitted. The matter is under consideration in the Revenue Department.

MILEAGE OF CHANNELS.

7. The following statement shows by canals and classes the total mileage of all channels that were in use at the close of the year, and compares the totals with those of the previous year :

CANAL.	Main canal and branches.	Naviga- tion channels.	Escapes and mill channels.	Distributa- ries.	Drainage cuts.	Total, 1889-90.	Total, 1888-89.	Increase or Decrease + or - %

Increase or Decrease . .	-6	...	+4	+27	+31	+61	...	...

The decrease under Main Canal was in the Lower Ganges system, and was due to the transfer of the tail portion of the Bewar Branch to the head "Escapes." Under the latter head a new escape two miles in length was opened on the Rohilkhand Canals. Forty-five miles of new distributaries and minors were completed during the year, of which 28 miles were on the Lower Ganges Canal and 11 miles on the Betwa; but the total length was reduced by 18 miles, chiefly by the abandonment of 16 miles of minors in connection with remodelling in the Bulandshahar Division. Thirty miles of new drainage cuts were opened in the divisions of the Lower Ganges Canal and two miles on the Agra Canal.

IRRIGATED AREA.

8. The following table gives the area of "kharif" and "rabi" crops irrigated by canals under the direct control of the Irrigation Department for 1889-90 and the previous five years :

	Kharif.		Rabi.	TOTAL.	PERCENTAGE.
	April to Septem- ber.		October to March.		Kharif.	Rabi.
	Acres.		Acres.		Acres.
1884-85 . . . . .	773,603	843,701	1,617,304	47.83	52.17
1885-86 . . . . .	702,259	1,007,417	1,709,676	41.08	58.92
1886-87 . . . . .	541,821	821,994	1,363,815	39.73	60.27
1887-88 . . . . .	612,436	904,852	1,517,288	40.36	59.64
1888-89 . . . . .	653,443	951,310	1,604,753	40.72	59.28
1889-90 . . . . .	649,737	1,229,666	1,879,403	34.57	65.43

The average area irrigated during the ten years preceding 1889-90 was 1,713,374; the area for the year under review exceeded this by 166,029 acres, or 9.7 per cent.; as compared with 1888-89 the increase is 274,650 acres, or 17.1 per cent.

The area irrigated on all canals, including those of the Taráí and Bhábar, appears to be 1,994,083 acres, or an increase of 277,504 acres over that of the previous year; but it is known that there was an error in the figures for the Bhábar for the last year, and those of the year under review are seemingly incorrect also (see paragraphs 178 to 180 of the Chief Engineer's Report). The matter should be cleared up.

The early part of the "kharíf" season was normal. The monsoon set in over the greater part of the Provinces on the 9th and 10th June, and temporarily checked demand; but it was not till towards the end of that month that demand began to cease. Rain fell more or less generally during July and August, the falls being sometimes very heavy, though on the whole the fall was well-timed. The rainfall in September was considerably below the average in the western districts.

There was no rainfall to speak of during the "rabi" until March, and even then there were only a few light and scattered showers, although clouds and variable winds checked the demand in places.

There was a strong demand throughout the early part of the season, resulting in a large increase in the irrigated area.

PRINCIPAL CROPS IRRIGATED.

9. The statement below compares the acreage of the principal crops during the last six years:

Crops.		1884-85.	1885-86.	1886-87.	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.
		Acres.	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
Kharif	Sugarcane . . .	1,36,52	175,944	168,452	197,532	221,245	158,484
	Rice . . .	92,687	100,706	109,513	102,367	110,137	132,554
	Indigo . . .	392,302	297,314	164,013	212,756	224,177	223,633
	Cotton . . .	66,791	60,580	41,835	47,912	35,900	62,967
Rabi	Wheat . . .	512,324	550,991	495,370	508,263	545,153	713,199
	Barley . . .	108,267	118,561	70,881	79,937	92,142	113,505
	Gram . . .	16,954	42,087	27,793	33,091	32,279	70,960
	Poppy . . .	10,762	15,629	14,679	12,957	8,819	10,947

The area under sugarcane decreased by 65,761, or 29 per cent., and is 8.5 per cent. below the average of the decade. The falling off is ascribed almost entirely to the low price of "gur" in the beginning of 188, during the sowing season. Moreover, the area under this crop in 1888-89 was the highest recorded.

Rice again shows an increase, this time of 22,417 acres, or 20 per cent. over the previous year, and also 20 per cent. over the average of the decade. The increase was due to the early cessation of the rains. The area has only once been exceeded, viz., in 1880-81, when it was 138,224 acres.

Under indigo the area is nearly the same as last year, a falling off of some 35,000 acres on the Lower Ganges Canal being balanced by an increase of over 30,000 acres on the Upper Canal and small advances on the Agra and Eastern Jumna Canals. It continues still well below the average area.

There is a very marked increase of nearly 78 per cent. under cotton over the area of 1888-89. The area is above the average for the decade.

There is an increase under all kinds of crops in the "rabi" chiefly under gram, which has more than doubled, and wheat, which has increased by 31 per cent. The area under wheat, although exceeded thrice previously, has exceeded the average of the decade by nearly 16 per cent.

The double-cropped area was 280,611 acres, or 14.9 per cent. of the total and 43.2 per cent. of the "kharif" area.

Seventy-seven per cent. of the total irrigation was effected by "flow" and 23 by "lift," the former having slightly increased over the percentage of last year.

VALUE OF CROPS.

10. The total value of crops raised with canal water is estimated at Rs. 6,52,72,344, as shown in table below, which is prepared on data supplied by the Agricultural Department. The value is equal to 80.7 per cent. of the capital sum invested in all the canals of these Provinces:

YEAR.	Area irrigated	Value of crops.	Occupier's rate.	Value of crops per acre.	Occupier's rate per acre.	Percentage on value of crops.
	Acres.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1887-88 . . .	1,517,288	5,20,72,286	39,03,962	34 32	2 57	7.50
1888-89 . . .	1,604,753	5,31,04,539	41,80,276	33 10	2 60	7.87

VILLAGES AND OUTLETS.

11. During the year 10,288 villages received water from 36,548 outlets. The returns do not show the number of villages irrigated from the Tarāī or Bhābar Canals, nor the number of outlets used on these Canals, nor on the Bundelkhand Lakes.

IRRIGATING DUTY.

12. The irrigating duty and the value of each cubic foot of water on the four Productive works are shown in the following table:

CANAL.	Area irrigated per cubic foot of water at head.			Total water-rate per cubic foot of water at head.
	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.
	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Upper Ganges . . .	194	211	219	760	820	760
Lower Ganges . . .	166	187	168	491	537	474
Agra . . . . .	120	123	149	431	452	551
Eastern Jumna . . .	187	208	239	859	968	912

There is an increase in the area irrigated per cubic foot of water entering at head on all canals, except the Lower Ganges, where the larger volume available, owing to the completion of the new Nadrai aqueduct, no doubt affected the duty. The area was highest on the Eastern Jumna and lowest on the Agra Canal.

The water-rate per cubic foot of water at head has decreased on all canals except the Agra. The decrease is chiefly due to the falling off in sugarcane and increase in "rabi" and minor "kharif" crops, whilst the increase on the Agra Canal may be ascribed to the increase in area per cubic foot of supply owing to the heavy demand and short supply in the "rabi." The water-rate was highest on the Eastern Jumna and lowest on the Lower Ganges Canal.

MAINTENANCE CHARGES.

13. The maintenance charges per acre irrigated are given for five years in the following table :

	1885-86.	1886-87.	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.
Upper Ganges . . . . .	1'25	1'60	1 60	1'56	1'26
Lower Ganges . . . . .	1'89	2'34	2'00	1'96	1'92
Agra . . . . .	1'58	2'46	2'20	2'04	1'45

NAVIGATION OPERATIONS.

14. The results of the year's Navigation operations are given in the next table :

CANAL.	1887-88.			1888-89.			1889-90.
	Gross Revenue (Receipts).	Working Expenses.	Deficit.	Gross Revenue (Receipts).	Working Expenses.	Deficit.	Gross Revenue (Receipts).	Working Expenses.	Deficit.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Upper and Lower Ganges . . . . .	14,700	28,449	13,749	16,799	27,207	10,403	18,403	25,877	7,474
Agra . . . . .	10,535	7,440	+3,095	9,714	12,530	2,816	10,168	12,491	2,323
TOTAL . . . . .	25,235	35,889	10,654	26,513	39,737	13,224	28,571	38,368	9,797

In the figures for the Upper and Lower Ganges Canal for the year 1888-89 there was an error of Rs. 995 excess in the working expenses, so that the deficit was really less by that amount than was shown, and the decrease in the deficit as compared with 1887-88 was Rs. 3,341. There is a further decrease in the deficit of Rs. 2,934, due partly to increase of receipts and partly to reduction of expenditure.

As noted in previous years, no real improvement can be expected until continuous running is introduced on the Cawnpore Branch, which again is dependent on the execution of the Cawnpore Extension Project, the submission of which had been deferred for financial reasons. It has lately been forwarded for the orders of the Government of India.

On the Agra Canal there was still a deficit due to expenditure on the Okla dry dock, which was completed, and some heavy repairs to the Agra navigation channel and large iron barges. There was also an increase of Rs. 1,400 in refunds.

MINOR RECEIPTS.

15. The actual receipts realised from minor sources of income for the past five years are shown below :

	1885-86.	1886-87.	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Plantations . . . . .	1,60,657	1,75,542	1,79,754	1,93,724	1,89,376
Water-power . . . . .	73,761	89,361	69,362	72,697	76,548
Miscellaneous . . . . .	50,404	48,540	53,694	53,337	53,487

The total amount is nearly the same as last year, the small falling off under plantations being compensated by the increase under water-power. In addition to the above, the sum of Rs. 32,676 was realised on account of water-power during the revenue year ending 30th September 1890 on the Taráí and Bhábar Canals under the Commissioner of Kumaun.

RAINFALL.

16. The cycle of years of heavy rainfall appears to have terminated, for a time at least, in the greater portion of the country commanded by the canal systems. It extended for five years, during which the fall has been excessive everywhere, tending of course to raise the spring level generally in addition to causing local damage to crops.

During the year under review there was a defect from the normal on all canals, except the Dún and Rohilkhand, where the fall was much in excess. The defect was in every division of the two Ganges Canals, that of the mean for the whole Upper Ganges being 20·3 and for the Lower Canal 11·3 per cent. below the normal; for the Agra Canal it was 16·1 per cent. and for the Eastern Jumna 11·5 per cent.; on the Dún and Rohilkhand Canals, on the other hand, the excesses were 42·3 and 54·1 per cent. respectively; so that the cycle of heavy rainfall still continued here, and in an intensified degree moreover, the total falls for the year having been the highest for many years past. On all the other canals there was a defect varying from 23·4 per cent. on the Betwa to 41·2 per cent. in the Jhánsi Lakes area.

As compared with the annual average for the cycle of five years of heavy rainfall ending with 1888-89, the rainfall of 1889-90 was, as a rule, considerably in defect. The percentages are for the Upper Ganges 35·5, for the Lower Ganges Canal 32, and for both the Agra and Eastern Jumna Canals 27·9.

On the Dún and Rohilkhand Canals, however, it was in excess by 29·3 and 29·8 per cent. respectively. On the Betwa and minor canals it was again in defect by from 29·7 on the Bijnor Canals to 50·9 per cent. on the Jhānsi Lakes.

DRAINAGE WORKS.

17. The mileage of drainage cuts is now 1,712 miles, 31 miles having been added during the year; and further extensions are in progress and under contemplation. They are reported to have worked well, but owing to the light rainfall they were not much tried.

Notwithstanding the diminution in the rainfall, complaints of waterlogging and damage from floods, due in some measure to such supersaturation, continue to be received. More especially is this the case in the southern portion of the Meerut and more or less over the greater portion of the Agra Revenue Division. It is quite possible that if a series of years of light rainfall occurs, not only will these complaints cease, but, as in 1882, complaints of overdrainage will arise. Projects are, however, being prepared with the same object as heretofore in view, viz., to prevent the rain water being entirely absorbed into the ground and thus raising the spring level.

SPRING LEVEL OBSERVATIONS.

18. The observations of spring level have been continued on the same lines as in the preceding year. Owing, no doubt, to the lighter rainfall, they show generally a fall in the level of the ground-water varying on the Upper Ganges Canal from 0·20 to 2·04, and on the Lower Ganges from 0·61 feet to 3·09 feet. A slight rise, not exceeding 0·23, is shown on three lines of the Upper Canal, but on one line of the Lower Canal there is a rise of 1·11 feet. The two lines in the Bhōgnipur Branch show a distinct rise. The matter is receiving, and should continue to receive, the careful attention of the officers on that branch.

Observations on the Agra Canal continue to show a rise, and the 15 wells in the Western Depression showed an average rise of 3·22 feet. The question of opening it up is now under consideration.

On the Betwa Canal also the ground-water had risen from an average of 0·87 feet on the Hamīrpur Branch to an average of 2·16 on the Kathaund Branch.

RIVER SUPPLIES.

19. The supply in the Ganges was ample throughout the "kharif" and up to January in the "rabi." During this month and, with a slight temporary rise in February, up to the end of March the river fell steadily. It is believed that only once before has the supply been so low, viz., in 1884, and the strain on the canals was much greater in the year under review than in 1884. On the 31st March the total supply obtained from the river by both the Upper and Lower Canals was only 5,805 cubic feet.

The supply in the Jumna was ample for the requirements of the Eastern Jumna and Agra Canals, except in February and March. As regards the latter canal, the Ganges Canal could not supplement the Hindan supply (even if it could have spared the water, which is doubtful) owing to new tail falls for the Jani escape being under construction. Nevertheless, on the last day of the latter month 47 per cent. of the Agra Canal supply was obtained from the Hindan.

The supplies for the other canals were on the whole sufficient, though there was a difficulty in meeting the demand for sugarcane irrigation on the Rohilkhand Canals before the setting in of the monsoon, and there was also a tightness generally in February and March.

PROFITS OF PRODUCTIVE WORKS.

20. The following table shows the net profits and percentage on Capital of the four Productive works :

There is an increase on all canals and a substantial one on the Agra Canal.

21. The Government of India in paragraph 6 of the Resolution on the Revenue Report of these Provinces for 1888-89 pointed out how poor were the returns on the Agra and Betwa Canals as compared with the forecasts submitted with the revised estimates ; and requested that a special enquiry might be made into the causes which had reduced the returns so far below what was anticipated, the result being included in the next Revenue Report. The enquiry was made, and the result will be found in paragraphs 85 to 87 of the Chief Engineer's Report

Stated briefly, the causes are threefold

- I.—Errors in making the forecast ,
- II.—Causes which have led to a reduction in the area irrigated ;
- III.—Causes which have resulted in increase of expenditure

Under head I an insufficient allowance was made when adopting an exceptionally good year as a starting point for the forecast, and a far too sanguine view taken of the advance of irrigation in a new country.

Under II may be placed

- (a) The heavy rainfall of the five years following 1883-84.
- (b) Indifferent cultivation.
- (c) Uncertainty of the "kharif" supply.
- (d) Owner's rate.

Under III are given :

- (e) Expenditure on head works beyond anticipation.
- (f) Expenditure on distributaries necessitated by the weak and imperfectly consolidated sections originally thrown up.

The only antagonistic causes to an improvement of affairs which appear to be under control are (c) and (d) of class II and class III.

As regards (c) of class II, the completion of the new Nadrai aqueduct and of the tail falls of the Jani escape should remove this in a great measure, and bring about an increased trust in the capabilities of the canal to meet demand; whilst a reduction of the owner's rate recently ordered should tend to some extent to the spread of irrigation. Unless, therefore, cause (a) of class II should still continue, a substantial improvement in the revenue may be anticipated in the not far off future.

As regards the causes under class III, heavy expenditure must continue to be incurred for a few years, after which the charges will probably be reduced to something like those made in the forecast.

The matter is very fully treated in the report by the Chief Engineer, and the Lieutenant-Governor has satisfied himself that the explanations given for the net income from the Agra Canal not having reached that which was anticipated are satisfactory. The financial results appear to have reached their lowest probable limit in 1888-89. An upward movement has commenced, and it is confidently expected that it will be maintained, though it is not likely to be as rapid as was shown in the forecast; and it will certainly be many years before either the average income or expenditure will reach the figures allowed in the forecast for the year 1891-92.

FAMINE PROTECTIVE WORKS.

22. There is only one work of this class in these Provinces, the Betwa Canal, and the year under review was the fourth in which irrigation was effected from it in both seasons.

The increase in revenue on this canal, though not what was anticipated, has been fairly steady heretofore, and it is therefore all the more disappointing to have to record a retrogression. There is a decrease in income of Rs. 4,955, which is entirely under water-rate, and which is ascribed to the falling off in the area of sugarcane, a falling off that was general; and to the fact that contrary to the experience of the rest of the Province, there was rain in September sufficient to meet the requirements of cultivation.

At the same time the expenditure has increased as compared with the previous year by Rs. 3,774 notwithstanding a substantial decrease under extensions and repairs taken together. The increase is wholly due to the increased charge for establishment on account of the reduction of Capital outlay. With a view to decrease the general establishment charges, the canal has since the close of the year under review been divided tentatively into two sub-divisions instead of three.

Owing to the above mentioned decrease in income and increase in expenditure, the loss has increased from Rs. 32,982 to Rs. 41,711, or 1 per cent. on the Capital outlay.

The area under irrigation fell off by upwards of 8,000 acres, and was about the same as in 1887-88. The level of water in the reservoir fell to 15.2 feet below the crest as compared with 11.4 in 1888-89, and the supply was not quite equal to the demand before the rains set in.

23. As in the case of the Agra Canal, the Government of India desired an enquiry to be made regarding the non-fulfilment of anticipations respecting the net income of the Betwa Canal. The result of the enquiry is given in paragraph 119 of the Chief Engineer's report.

The maintenance charges have been steadily below the figures of the forecast, and the deficient returns are entirely due to the short revenue. The causes are very much the same as on the Agra Canal, except that there was probably less experience and more unknown factors for the preparation of a forecast in the case of the Betwa than in the case of the Agra Canal. The explanations given must, His Honour considers, be accepted, and there appears very little likelihood of this work paying its way for many years to come.

MINOR WORKS.

24. The Dún Canals show a profit of Rs. 43,723, or 6.86 per cent., on the Capital outlay. This is a slight increase on the previous year. There was a substantial increase in revenue, the occupier's rate being again the highest on record, but the whole increase was practically swallowed up by a new syphon on the Kata Pathar Canal and extensive repairs necessitated by the heavy rainfall.

On the Rohilkhand Canals there was a profit of Rs. 53,920, or 2.03 per cent., on the Capital expenditure as against Rs. 39,463, or 2.34 per cent., in the previous year. There was a slight increase in revenue, but a larger one under working expenses.

On the Bijnor Canals there is a profit of Rs. 10,093, or 12.62 per cent., on the Capital outlay as against Rs. 18,402, or 26.30 per cent., in the previous year. This falling off is wholly due to the heavy expenditure in the repairs to the regulator of the Nehtor Canal, there having been an increase in the revenue.

The Bundelkhand Lakes show a profit of Rs. 1,565 against Rs. 2,508 in the previous year.

The Taráí and Bhábar Canals are, as usual, shown in the report, though the figures concerning them are not included in the canal statements, since no actual water-rate is levied on them.

The following statistics are based on data supplied by the local authorities :

TARÁÍ CANALS.

Area irrigated	.	.	.	.	.	.	.	.	Acres	25,856
Revenue	.	.	.	.	.	.	.	.	Rs.	29,998
Expenditure	.	.	.	.	.	.	.	.	"	11,904
Profit	.	.	.	.	.	.	.	.	"	18,094

BHÁBAR CANALS.

Area irrigated	.	.	.	.	.	.	.	.	Acres	88,824
Revenue	.	.	.	.	.	.	.	.	Rs.	1,51,669
Profit	.	.	.	.	.	.	.	.	"	93,578

It is explained by the local authorities that no water-rate is taken separately from the land rent either in the Bhábar or in the Gadarpur and Kilpuri parganas of the Taráí, but that in both cases an arbitrary portion of the land rent is shown as water-rate. In the case of the Taráí, one rupee per acre is credited to the Canals, and in the case of the Bhábar, although not mentioned, it would appear to be about Rs. 1.34 per acre irrigated. As already noted, no reliance can be placed on the area figures of the Bhábar Canals.

TOTAL NET PROFITS, INCLUDING ALL CLASSES OF WORKS.

25. The net profits and the percentage on the total Capital outlay from all the canals in the North-Western Provinces, with the exception of those in the Tarāi and Bhābar, are shown in the following table, and compared with the figures for the ten previous years :

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

By DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first four volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses, both chemical and industrial; trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributions have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names; so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages, Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and G in 514 pages, Volume IV, letters H to L in 643 pages. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in six volumes by 1891; but a seventh volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary; and this, as a work of reference, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The price to subscribers will be in India R30 and in England 2 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set. An extra charge for packing and postage will be made for the set—in India, at 8a. per volume, and for England at R2-6 per volume.

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole sets.

*.* No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately. The price to non-subscribers will be R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England, exclusive of packing and postage.

ABSTRACT OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNCIL OF THE GOVERNOR
GENERAL OF INDIA ASSEMBLED FOR THE PURPOSE OF MAKING
LAWS AND REGULATIONS UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THE ACT OF PARLIAMENT 24 & 25 VICT., CAP. 67.

The Council met at Viceregal Lodge, Simla, on Thursday, the 16th July, 1891.

PRESENT:

The Hon'ble Sir P. P. Hutchins, K.C.S.I., presiding.
His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, K.C.S.I.
His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, BART., V.C., G.C.B., G.C.I.E., R.A.
The Hon'ble Sir D. M. Barbour, K.C.S.I.
The Hon'ble Sir A. E. Miller, Kt., Q.C.
The Hon'ble Lieutenant-General H. Brackenbury, C.B., R.A.
The Hon'ble Colonel R. C. B. Pemberton, R.E.

BANKERS' BOOKS EVIDENCE BILL.

The Hon'ble SIR ALEXANDER MILLER moved that the Hon'ble Mr. Rattigan be added to the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Law of Evidence with respect to Bankers' Books. He said that, as nothing had as yet been done in the Select Committee, he thought it as well to utilise Mr. Rattigan, and, with that object, a copy of the Bill had been sent to him.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

MADRAS SMALL CAUSE COURT BILL.

The Hon'ble SIR PHILIP HUTCHINS asked for permission to postpone till the next Meeting of the Council the Motion for leave to introduce a Bill for authorizing the transfer of certain jurisdiction from the High Court of Judicature at Madras to the Court of Small Causes of Madras.

Permission was granted.

INDIAN CHRISTIAN MARRIAGE ACT, 1872, AMENDMENT BILL.

The Hon'ble SIR ALEXANDER MILLER moved for leave to introduce a Bill to validate certain marriages solemnized under Part VI of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872. He said:—

"Part VI of the Indian Christian Marriage Act is only adapted for a case in which both parties being married are Christians, and it appears that some of the Registrars appointed, not having noticed that, have solemnised marriages under this Part in certain cases where only one of the parties was a Christian; consequently, under the existing law, these marriages are invalid. The object of the Bill is to validate those marriages which have already taken place, and to take steps to prevent the possibility of the same thing happening in the future."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble SIR ALEXANDER MILLER also introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble SIR ALEXANDER MILLER also moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India in English, and in the local official Gazettes in English and in such other languages as the Local Governments think fit.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned to Thursday, the 23rd July, 1891.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Weather Review of India for the week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, July 11th, 1891.

During the week under review the principal characteristic of the weather has been the steep gradient for westerly winds which has prevailed throughout the greater part of the Indian region. Within the area of low and comparatively uniform pressure which has been reported from Upper Sind, the Punjab, Rajputana, the North-Western Provinces, and on some occasions Behar and North Bengal, the barometer has marked between 0.05" and 0.10" below the normal, while in the south, at least in the earlier part of the week, the barometer read above the normal; hence, as under normal conditions pressure at this season is high in the south and low in the north, the normal differences of pressure were increased, and the gradient was steeper than usual. Associated with this distribution of pressure was a very strong westerly current of wind which swept across the Peninsula, the central parts of the country, and penetrated into the Bay. In consequence a large part of the Bay of Bengal current, which ordinarily advances northward into Bengal, and so north-westward up the Gangetic plain, was diverted towards Burma, and the normal south-easterly and easterly current up the north side of the Gangetic plain was practically never felt. Quite at the close of the week, however, a modification in the distribution of pressure occurred. A shallow low pressure area appeared over the region represented by the stations of Gopalpore, Balasore, Benares, and Allahabad. This depression prevented the progress of the westerly winds across the head of the Peninsula, so that southerly winds were produced at the head of the Bay, and, flowing across the Bengal Coast, passed as south-easterly and easterly winds up the Gangetic plain.

During the time of prevalence of the strong westerly winds the rainfall over a large part of the country was fairly good. On the 5th the rainfall was heavy over the West Coast districts, Burma, and Bengal, while showers prevailed in Madras, the central parts of the country, and Rajputana. In the North-Western Provinces, the Punjab, Sind, and the Deccan there was practically no rain. On the 6th it had ceased over a large part of Madras, while, on the contrary, there was a considerable extension of rain over the North-Western Provinces. In other respects there was little change. On the 7th the amounts on the West Coast and over a large part of North-East India had fallen much lighter, but otherwise the distribution was little altered. The chart of the 8th showed a considerable contraction in the rainfall area, and the amounts, except in Arakan and North Bengal, were smaller. With the exception of some showers at the central stations, rain was wholly confined to the West Coast districts and to North-East India. On the 9th, 10th, and 11th similar conditions prevailed, the rainfall both on the West Coast and in Bengal being most remarkably light for the time of year.

Temperature.—Conditions have been very similar to those reported last week. Except in North-East India, the rainfall has been light, and the temperature has consequently been generally excessive. This has been particularly the case in North-West India, where the absence of rain has been most marked.

The following table shows the variation of temperature from the normal average on each day for the principal Provinces of India :

PROVINCE.	JULY							Mean variation of week.
	5th.	6th.	7th.	8th.	9th.	10th.	11th.

Madras . . . . .	+ 0.1	+ 0.3	+ 1.2	+ 2.1	+ 2.5	+ 2.7	+ 2.2	+ 1.6
Mean for whole India . . . . .	+ 2.1	+ 1.3	+ 1.3	+ 2.2	+ 3.1	+ 3.8	+ 4.4	+ 2.6

The mean temperature of the whole of India was  $2\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$  in excess of the average, the provincial variations showing a deficiency over Burma, Bengal, and Assam and an excess elsewhere, the excess being greatest in the North-Western Provinces, and considerable in the Punjab, Guzerat, Sind, and Rajputana. The steady increase of temperature as the amount of rain fell off is shown by the concluding line of figures. On the 6th and 7th the mean temperature was  $1\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$  in excess of the normal; on the 8th it was  $2^{\circ}$ ; on the 9th,  $3^{\circ}$ ; on the 10th,  $3.8^{\circ}$ ; and on the 11th,  $4.4^{\circ}$ .

The maximum temperatures for the whole of India were reported throughout the week from the north-west, the highest being as follows :

On the	5th	118.0°	at Jacobabad.
„	6th	113.0°	„ ditto and Khushab.
„	7th	114.0°	„ Khushab.
„	8th	115.0°	„ Jacobabad.
„	9th	117.0°	„ ditto.
„	10th	119.0°	„ ditto.
„	11th	119.0°	„ ditto.

Rain.—The rainfall return of the present week shows that rain has fallen in all the divisions of India, except Sind and South Madras, but in four other divisions, vis., the Punjab (Submontane, North-West, and West) and in the East Coast (South), the total fall of the week was less than one-tenth inch, so that these divisions also should be added to those which have received no rain. The rainfall due to the Bay branch of the monsoon current was much heavier than that due to the Arabian Sea branch; thus Arakan received  $24\frac{1}{2}$  inches, Assam (Surma)  $15\frac{1}{2}$  inches, and Tenasserim 15 inches, while the heaviest fall from the Arabian Sea current was  $12\frac{1}{2}$  inches in Coorg. Rajputana (West) had a heavy fall of rain on the 5th, when Jodhpur received 1.8 inch. The third column of the table shows that of the fifty divisions into which India is divided, fourteen had more than the usual amount of rain, and thirty-six less than the normal. These fourteen divisions include all the Burma and Assam divisions, East, Deltaic, Central, and North Bengal, Behar (North), Madras (South-Central), Coorg, and Rajputana (West). This leaves practically the whole of Upper India, of the central parts of the country, and of the Peninsula with deficient rain. The greatest absolute excess was  $13\frac{1}{2}$  inches in Arakan, while the most marked cases of defect were the Konkan with a deficiency of  $4\frac{1}{2}$  inches; the Punjab hill districts with a deficiency of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  inches; Malabar and Guzerat with a deficiency of 3 inches; the North-Western Provinces (East and Submontane) and Oudh with a deficiency of over 2 inches. In the columns showing the state of the seasonal rainfall the figures are similar to those given last week. For the period May 31st to July 11th there has been an excess of rain in Tenasserim, Lower and Central Burma, Assam (Surma), Madras (South-Central), Coorg, and Mysore. In all other parts of India the rainfall is short. The most serious cases of deficiency, i.e., where the seasonal rainfall is less than half the normal amount, are reported from the following divisions: Orissa, the North-Western Provinces (East, Central, West, and Submontane), Oudh, the Punjab (all divisions), the Konkan, Berar, the Central Provinces (all divisions), Guzerat, Kattiawar, Sind, Central India, Rajputana (East), Hyderabad (South), Madras (Central), and East Coast (Central). The absolute greatest deficiency is in Oudh (South), the Punjab (Hill districts and West), and Sind, where the deficiency equals 90 per cent.

Only in North-East India and on parts of the West Coast do the records of maximum falls show any large amounts. The following are the principal falls:

Weekly Report on the State of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 11th July.—Rainfall good on West Coast and Nilgiris; fair in Vizagapatam and parts of Ganjam, Kistna, Kurnool, and Cuddapah; no rain in Chingleput, Tanjore, Madura, Tinnevely, and in North and South Arcot; except in two stations each in the other districts, the fall was slight. The monsoon up to date is largely below the average in the Presidency generally, and the affected tracts, except Malabar, had practically little or no rain. Want of water felt in most districts of the Presidency. Prices generally rising, except in Kistna, Kurnool, Madras, and Coimbatore; the prices of rice, jowar, ragi, and bajra being 12, 18½, 19½, and 14½ seers per rupee. Over 7,100 coolies employed on works on last day of week in the Chingleput district, 5,247 in the Wandiwash taluk, 1,772 in the Kalahasti zemindari, 198 in the Royachoti taluk, Cuddapah district, 782 in Tinnevely, 1,912 in Coimbatore, and 567 in Malabar. Number fed at kitchens—318, including 78 women and 167 children, in the four taluks of Chingleput; 746, including 135 women and 560 children, in the Wandiwash taluk; 1,030, including 782 children, in the Kalahasti zemindari. Loans granted for wells during week—Rs. 13,157 in Chingleput, Rs. 7,757 in the Wandiwash taluk, Rs. 660 in Cuddapah, and Rs. 12,420 in Tinnevely. Wells constructed—54 in Chingleput and 52 in Cuddapah. Wells under construction—1,568 in Chingleput, 21 in the Wandiwash taluk, 43 in Cuddapah, and 57 in Tinnevely. 75 inch of rain since reported from Royachoti, Cuddapah district.

Bombay.—For week ending 15th July.—Rain throughout the Presidency proper, except Baroda; good in parts of Konkan, Surat, Nasik, Poona, Satara, and Belgaum; moderate or slight elsewhere. More generally required, and urgently in parts where sowing is retarded and fodder scarce. Crops injured by locusts in parts of Sind and withering in parts of Sholapur. Prices stationary.

Bengal.—For week ending 14th July.—Rainfall general, but in Orissa and parts of Behar and South-West Bengal it was scanty. More rain wanted in these parts for transplantation of winter rice, which is elsewhere proceeding well. Bhadoi sowings nearly finished, and are coming up well. Autumn rice, jute, and sugarcane are doing well in parts of North and East Bengal. Early rice is being harvested. Indigo manufacture going on. In Rungpore and Chittagong some damage to crops on low and riverside lands has been caused by heavy rain and floods. Locusts have appeared in various places, but have done little damage to the crops. Prices continue stationary.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 15th July.—Weather cloudy and sultry. Local showers only are reported. Sugarcane and indigo being irrigated. The few kharif crops that have been sown are suffering from want of rain. General sowing for the kharif is retarded. Markets are well supplied, but prices have risen in most districts. In Ballia only has any damage been done by locusts, which have traversed many of the eastern and central districts.

Punjab.—For week ending 15th July.—Rain has fallen in Hissar, Delhi, Umballa, and parts of Ferozepore, Lahore, and Dera Ismail Khan. Prices stationary in all districts, except Delhi, where they are rising. Average for wheat throughout the Province is 15½ seers per rupee. Rabi crops nearly harvested and cleaned; kharif ploughings and sowings in progress. Standing crops are reported fair. Rain urgently wanted for kharif sowings in most districts. Locusts are still found in parts of Hissar, Umballa, Rawalpindi, and Dera Ismail Khan, but no damage is reported. Fodder scarce in Hissar and Delhi; average in Dera Ismail Khan; and sufficient elsewhere.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 15th July.—Rain has fallen in all districts, except Nimar, but more is required, especially in Jubbulpore and Nimar, where sowings are somewhat retarded. Sowings progressing well in other districts, but they are rather late in the case of cotton. Prospects generally continue favourable.

Burma.—For week ending 11th July.—In Lower Burma ploughing and sowing are still in progress. In Upper Burma the want of rain is generally felt, and standing crops of early paddy, sesamum, cotton, &c., are suffering in consequence and agricultural operations retarded. The price of paddy has risen considerably in Myingyan and Magwe; elsewhere fluctuations are slight.

Assam.—For week ending 15th July.—Weather seasonable. Transplantation of late rice continues. Reaping of summer paddy begun. Prospects generally good.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 15th July.—Rainfall good in the Shimoga district and slight in other parts. Crops and prospects generally good, but more rain needed in parts. Outturn of harvests favourable. Prices risen in the Tumkur district.

Rainfall good in Coorg during the week. Transplanting of rice in progress. Prospects good. A slight rise in prices.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 15th July.—Average rainfall fair in Berar during the week. Weather warm and cloudy. Cotton sowing in progress; the plants are above ground in some places. Jowar sowing commenced. Fodder generally insufficient, and cattle suffering in the Ellichpur district and Morsi taluk. Water scarce in the Wun district.

Rainfall moderate in Hyderabad during the week. Sowing of kharif crops continues. Prices stationary.

Central India.—For week ending 15th July.—Rain fell in Bhopal, Bundelkhand, Baghelkhand, and Western Malwa. Crops withering in Bhopawar. Agricultural stock poor, and pasturage insufficient in Gwalior and in Western Malwa. Cattle dying in Bhopawar and Neemuch. Prices rising in Gwalior, Bundelkhand, Bhopawar, and Goona, and high in Bhopal, Western Malwa, and Neemuch. Prices of wheat  $14\frac{1}{2}$ , jowar 19, and maize  $19\frac{1}{2}$  seers per rupee.

Rajputana.—For week ending 15th July.—Very little rain fell during the week, except in Marwar, Jhallawar, Dholpur, and at Deoli. Agricultural operations progressing in those districts where rain has fallen. Cattle dying in numbers at Kherwara, Ajmere-Merwara, and Harowtec, and suffering in other States through want of fodder. Rain urgently needed everywhere. Locusts still remain in Marwar. 44,518 acres affected with scarcity in Ajmere-Merwara; 6,106 persons on relief works; 150 persons on gratuitous relief. Scarcity also prevails in some villages of Bikanir. Prices of food-grains steady generally. Prices of barley, maize, and jowar in Ajmere are 17,  $17\frac{1}{2}$ , and  $17\frac{1}{2}$  seers per rupee.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.*A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

By DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first four volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses, both chemical and industrial; trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributions have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names; so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 550 royal pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and G in 534 pages; Volume IV, letters H to L in 643 pages. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in six volumes by 1891; but a seventh volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary; and this, as a work of reference, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The price to subscribers will be in India Rs 30 and in England 2 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set. An extra charge for packing and postage will be made for the set—in India, at 8s. per volume, and for England at Rs 2-6 per volume.

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs 6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole sets.

*. No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately. The price to non-subscribers will be Rs 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England, exclusive of packing and postage.

Note by the Director General of Railways, No. 188 (Statistical), dated the 28th June 1891, with abstract returns of accidents to trains, &c., on the open lines of Railways in India for the twelve months ending the 31st December 1890.

OBSERVATIONS.—As compared with the average of the two previous years, the number of the accidents to trains, rolling-stock, permanent-way, &c., during the twelve months ending the 31st December 1890 shows an increase of 308, or 9·40 per cent., with an increase of 1,368 miles, or 9·24 per cent. in the mean mileage worked, and of 854,244 miles, or 0·68 per cent. in the train-mileage run.

2. The following table gives for the fourth quarter of 1890 the number of accidents resulting in loss of, or injury to, life and limb, and the railways on which they occurred. The figures for the first, second, and third quarters of 1890 have already been noticed in Public Works Department Resolutions No. 733 R. T., dated the 17th October 1890, No. 3 R. T., dated the 5th January 1891, and No. 325 R. T., dated the 5th May 1891, respectively :—

3. On the 24th November 1890, a collision took place between two pilot engines at the crossing points at Cawnpore station on the East Indian railway. The accident was caused by the carelessness of one of the drivers. One railway servant was killed.

4. On the 18th December 1890, an up passenger train arrived at Gunji station on the Southern Mahratta railway, and was brought to a stand on the platform line. The second line was blocked with fuel wagons when a down passenger train arrived. A danger signal was exhibited, but before the down train could be pulled up, it collided with the fuel wagons. Nine passengers and the guard of the train were slightly injured.

5. On the 9th November 1890, a brake-van of a ballast train, which was being brought on to the main line at Devanuru station on the Mysore section of the Southern Mahratta railway, collided with an engine, causing death to two railway coolies who were hand-shunting the brake-van. The under guard, who was at fault, was prosecuted, and sentenced to six months' rigorous imprisonment.

6. On the 5th October 1890, the tender of the engine and 13 carriages of an up mail train were derailed at mile  $\frac{1}{4}$  on the Irrawaddy section of the Burma State railway. This accident was caused by the permanent-way having been tampered with by some person or persons unknown. One passenger was killed and three others were slightly injured.

7. The following summary gives the total number of accidents to trains, rolling-stock, permanent-way, &c., for 1890 distributed under the classification adopted in Abstract No. 4 of the Returns; it also shows the number of persons killed and injured:—

8. The principal variations occurred under "Goods trains or parts of goods trains, engines, &c., leaving the rails," 260 against 317; "Trains running over cattle on the line," 1,450 against 1,258; "The failure of machinery, springs, &c., of engines," 345 against 241; "Slips in cuttings or embankments," 58 against 24; and "Other accidents," 201 against 232.

9. The decrease under "Goods trains, or parts of goods trains, engines, &c., leaving the rails" was largest on the Dibru-Sadiya railway, the number returned being 13 against 40. The North Western and the Bengal and North-Western railways also showed a decrease of 11 each in this class of accidents.

(a) The figures shown in this column are for the six months ending the 31st December 1890 only. Accidents reported to Local Governments, but not so classed in the Returns for the two previous quarters, are, for the purpose of this table, included under the head "Other accidents."

(b) Not a passenger.

(c) Of these, 5 were not passengers.

(d) Of these 1 was not a passenger.

(e) Of these, 6 were not passengers.

10. The number of cattle accidents was largest on the Southern Mahratta railway, viz., 206; next to it comes the Eastern Bengal State railway with 146; then the North Western railway with 143, the South Indian railway with 138, the Rajputana-Malwa State railway with 121, and the East Indian railway with 91. As compared with the average of the two previous years, there was an increase of 46 accidents on the Southern Mahratta railway, 46 on the Southern Mahratta railway, Mysore section, 36 on the North Western railway, 28 on the Indian Midland railway, and 2 on the East Indian railway; and a decrease of 39 accidents on the Rajputana-Malwa State railway.

11. Of the increase of 104 accidents under "Failure of machinery, springs, &c., of engines," 41 occurred on the Nizam's Guaranteed State railway alone. The accidents on the East Indian railway falling under this head increased from 4 to 14, and on the Southern Mahratta railway, Mysore section, from 3 to 16. The largest number recorded was 63 on the North Western railway, and the Nizam's Guaranteed State railway returned 112.

12. The number of "Slips in cuttings or embankments" rose from 24 to 58 owing chiefly to the number returned by the Bengal-Nagpur railway being 27 against 6.

13. The decrease in the number of accidents classed as "Other accidents" principally took place on the Bombay, Baroda and Central India railway, viz., from 96 to 56. The number on the North Western railway increased from 15 to 31.

14. Of the 76 cases of "Collisions between goods trains or parts of goods trains," 19, or 25 per cent., occurred on the North Western railway.

15. The accidents from "Bursting of tubes, &c., of engines" numbered 117, of which 58 (29 each), or about 50 per cent., were recorded on the North Western and South Indian railways, 21, or 18 per cent., on the Rajputana-Malwa State railway, and 20, or 17 per cent., on the Southern Mahratta railway.

16. The cases of "Failure of axles" were most numerous on the Rajputana-Malwa State railway, being 41 out of a total of 65, but, as compared with the average of the two previous years, there was a decrease of 20 accidents on this line.

17. The number of "Failures of couplings" was largest on the Dibru-Sadiya railway, viz., 41, though, as compared with the average of the two previous years, there was a decrease of 24 such accidents on this line. The Rajputana-Malwa State railway comes next with 34 cases of failure, and the Eastern Bengal State railway with 22. The cases on the Bombay, Baroda and Central India railway increased from 3 to 15, and on the Burma State railway from 3 to 13.

18. Of the 108 cases of "Flooding of portions of permanent-way," 29 occurred on the North Western railway, 28 on the Eastern Bengal State railway, and 18 on the Southern Mahratta railway.

19. The number of cases of "Fire in trains" was large on the North Western, Madras, and Great Indian Peninsula railways, the numbers recorded on these lines being 42, 39, and 42 respectively. The number on the Madras railway increased from 19 to 39, and that on the Southern Mahratta railway decreased from 30 to 10.

20. The casualties to passengers from causes other than accidents to trains, &c., were 42 killed and 136 injured against 42 killed and 138 injured, and those to servants in the employ of railways or of contractors, whilst performing duties connected directly with the transit of passengers and goods, were 141 killed and 485 injured against 170 killed and 572 injured. (For details, vide abstract No. 2.)

21. The total casualties to persons from all causes, including trespassers, cases of suicide, &c., were 454 killed and 775 injured against 503 killed and 938 injured.

22. In addition to the above, 33 persons are reported to have been killed and 149 injured in yards, workshops, &c., and 637 persons to have died in carriages and at stations from causes unconnected with the working of trains.

23. A table showing the proportion of passengers killed and injured in passenger journeys on railways open for traffic in India from causes beyond their own control during 1890, as compared with ten previous years, has been added to the returns.

RESOLUTION.—The Government of India notices that with an increase of 1,268 miles, or 9·24 per cent., in the mean mileage worked, and of 354,244 miles, or 0·68 per cent., in the train-mileage run, the number of accidents to trains, rolling-stock, permanent-way, &c., on Indian Railways shows an increase of 308, or 9·40 per cent., as compared with the average of the two previous years.

The numbers of passengers killed and injured by accidents to trains, &c., were 1 and 24 respectively. The number of passengers killed from causes other than accidents to trains, &c., was the same as the average of the two previous years, viz., 42, while the number injured decreased from 139 to 136.

The numbers of passengers killed and injured from all causes per million of passengers carried were 0·378 and 1·406 respectively. The proportion of passengers killed in journeys by rail from causes beyond their own control was 1 in 113,828,810, and of passengers injured 1 in 4,748,700.

The accidents to servants in the employ of railways or of contractors, whilst performing duties connected directly with the transit of passengers and goods, from causes other than accidents to trains, &c., have decreased from 170 killed and 572 injured to 141 killed and 485 injured.

The total numbers of persons killed and injured from all causes over the whole of the Indian Railway system, as compared with the average of the two previous years, decreased from 508 and 938 to 454 and 775, or by 10·63 and 17·38 per cent. respectively, against increases of 9·24 per cent. in the mean-mileage worked and of 0·68 per cent. in the train-mileage run.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for making Laws and Regulations, or Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 23rd July 1891:

NO. 11 OF 1891.

A Bill to extend the jurisdiction of the Court of Small Causes of Madras.

WHEREAS it is expedient to extend the jurisdiction of the Court of Small Causes of Madras; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Title and commencement. I. (1) This Act may be called the Madras Small Cause Court Act, 1891; and

(2) It shall come into force on such day as the Governor of Fort St. George in Council may, by notification in the local official Gazette, appoint in this behalf.

Definitions. 2. In this Act, unless there is something repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) "High Court" means the High Court of Judicature at Madras: and

(2) "Small Cause Court" means the Court of Small Causes of Madras.

Extension of original civil jurisdiction of Small Cause Court. 3. (1) The Small Cause Court shall, in addition to the jurisdiction which it already possesses, have jurisdiction to receive and try all suits except—

(i) suits of classes mentioned in clauses (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f) and (g) of section 19 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882, and XV of 1882.

(ii) suits of value exceeding five thousand rupees, or of such higher value exceeding five thousand and not exceeding ten thousand rupees as the Governor of Fort St. George in Council may, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, direct by notification in the local official Gazette.

(2) Such a direction as is referred to in exception (ii) to sub-section (1) may be revoked or varied by the Governor of Fort St. George in Council with such sanction and by such a notification as in that exception described.

(3) The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure and of Chapter X of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882, shall apply to all proceedings before the Small Cause Court or any Judge or Judges thereof exercising the extended jurisdiction conferred or conferable under sub-section (1), and appeals from decrees and orders passed in the exercise of such jurisdiction shall, when such appeals are allowed by law, lie to the High Court.

(4) The Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, XV of 1882, shall, in relation to the Small Cause Court, be read as if—

(a) the words "in the High Court" were omitted from sections 47, 49 and 61;

(b) the words "any Judge having jurisdiction with respect to the suit" had been enacted instead of the words "any Judge of the High Court" where these latter words occur in section 61; and

(c) the figures "10,000" were substituted for the figures "2,000" in the second column of the fourth schedule.

XV of 1882. 4. Sections 21 and 22 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882, are, in relation to the Small Cause Court, hereby repealed.

5. All suits to which an officer of the Small Cause Court is, as such, a party, except suits in respect of property taken in execution of its process, or the proceeds or value thereof, may be instituted in the High Court at the election of the plaintiff.

6. (1) If any suit cognizable by the Small Cause Court, other than a suit to which the last foregoing section applies, is instituted in the High Court, no costs shall be allowed to the plaintiff; and, if in any such suit the plaintiff does not obtain a decree, the defendant shall be entitled to his costs as between attorney and client.

(2) The provisions of sub-section (1) shall not apply to any suit in which the Judge who tries the same certifies that it was one fit to be brought in the High Court.

7. When under section 13 of the Letters Patent for the High Court, dated the twenty-eighth day of December, 1866, or under section 25 of the Code of Civil Procedure, XIV of the High Court has removed for trial by itself any suit from the Small Cause Court, fees on the scale for the time being in force in the High Court as a Court of ordinary original civil jurisdiction shall be payable in that Court in respect of the suit and proceedings therein:

Provided that in the levy of any such fees which, according to the practice of the Court, are credited to the Government, credit shall be given to the plaintiff in the suit for any fee which in the Small Cause Court he has already paid under Chapter X of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882, on the plaint.

8. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary Attachment before in section 23 of, or the judgment in Small second schedule to, the Cause Court. Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882, sections 483 to 489 (both XV of inclusive) and section 491 of the Code of Civil XIV of Procedure, respecting the attachment of immoveable property before judgment, shall extend, and shall, so far as the same may, in the judgment of the Court, be applicable, be applied, to the Small Cause Court when exercising the jurisdiction conferred upon it by section 18 of the said Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to constitute what may be called a regular side of the Madras Court of Small Causes for the trial (1) of suits of the nature of small causes, but of a value exceeding the limit of Rs. 2,000 fixed by section 18 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882, and (2) of suits not of the nature of small causes. At present all such suits have to be instituted in the High Court, and the result has been found to be not only a great waste of judicial power, but also a practical denial of justice to suitors who are unable to bear the expense of a trial in the High Court. It is therefore proposed to confer on the Small Cause Court jurisdiction in all such suits (with the exception of a few defined classes) of value not exceeding five thousand rupees; and it is further proposed to give power to the Governor in Council, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, to raise this limit of value from time to time to any sum not exceeding ten thousand rupees.

2. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure are to apply to all these cases, and appeals from the decrees and orders passed by the regular side of the Small Cause Court, where appeals are ordinarily allowed by law, will lie to the High Court.

3. It is not proposed to abrogate the jurisdiction vested in the High Court with regard to such cases, but if a suit cognizable by the Small Cause Court is unnecessarily instituted in the High Court, the plaintiff will be debarred from recovering costs from the defendant, while, if his suit fails, he will have to pay costs to the defendant on the most liberal scale.

4. Of the other provisions of the Bill the only one calling for notice is that in section 8, which applies to the Small Cause Court, even when exercising jurisdiction under section 18 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882, the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure respecting the attachment of immoveable property before judgment.

MADRAS SMALL CAUSE COURT BILL.

The Hon'ble SIR PHILIP HUTCHINS moved for leave to introduce a Bill to extend the jurisdiction of the Court of Small Causes of Madras. He said:

"As indicated by its title, the effect of this Bill, when it becomes law, will be to transfer the cognizance of certain original civil suits, arising within what is called the City of Madras, from the High Court to the Court of Small Causes. It will give to the Madras Small Cause Court a jurisdiction which is at present excluded from it by section 19 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act of 1882, and that is the reason why it has to be introduced in this Council; but it is really a local measure only, and it has been framed in order to give effect to proposals which have been frequently pressed on the Government of India by the Governor of Madras in Council.

"Last year, after we had obtained the approval of Her Majesty's Secretary of State to those proposals, we drew up a rough Bill and transmitted it to Madras in order that before its introduction we might be quite certain that it expressed the intentions of the local authorities. This rough sketch was unfortunately treated as a carefully prepared measure which the Government of India was determined, without any regard to local criticisms and at all hazards, to pass into law before the day which the Secretary in the Legislative Department had, in accordance with ordinary practice, tentatively inserted as the date on which it might come into force. The day thus fixed happened to fall within the High Court's vacation, and a cry was at once raised that our aim was to abrogate the Court's jurisdiction without allowing the Judges a chance of being heard. This point was immediately put right by its being explained that the 1st July was merely a tentative date; that we had no sort of desire to hurry on the Bill; and that in any case it would have to be circulated after introduction, when, according to rule, a reasonable time would be allowed for its consideration and criticism by every one concerned. I am afraid, however, that the idea which got abroad that we were trying to rush the Bill in spite of opposition has not even now been altogether dissipated; and it seems to have infected the mind of the High Court itself as then constituted, for the Hon'ble the Judges repeatedly declare that the measure has been launched without that serious attention and consideration which its gravity demands. I shall presently show that the outlines of the scheme had emanated from the High Court itself, and had been under the consideration of the local authorities for something close on twenty years. Those outlines, however, had perhaps been filled in by our sketch draft, in a manner which was open to some objection; and before I proceed further it will be well to make clear both what the Bill which I now lay on the table contains and in what respects it differs from the rough draft to which I have referred.

"And, first, as to the date on which the measure is to come into force, in order to avoid all possibility of future misunderstanding I propose to allow the Governor in Council to appoint the day by notification in the Fort St. George Gazette.

"In the second place, I have cut out all reference to the insolvency jurisdiction. The Government of India recognize the disadvantage of a dual jurisdiction in such matters, and fully accept the assurance of the Hon'ble the Chief Justice that an alteration of the present practice would fail to afford any material relief to the High Court.

"In the third place, at the suggestion of my hon'ble and learned friend Sir Alexander Miller, I have preserved the concurrent jurisdiction of the High Court even in those cases which are to be brought within the cognizance of the Court of Small Causes. Personally I am inclined to agree with the Local Government in this matter, and to hold that we ought to apply the ordinary rule laid down in the Code of Civil Procedure, which is that, when a transfer of jurisdiction is made from a superior to an inferior Court, the power of the former to take cognizance of cases included in such jurisdiction, except by specially calling them up for trial, is ipso facto ousted. Section 15 of the Code enacts that every suit must be instituted in the Court of the lowest grade competent to try it, and therefore in no other Court. My own view with reference to the change of jurisdiction now under consideration is that, until the new tribunal has proved its ability to deal with cases involving difficult questions of mercantile law and usage, it would not only be right and proper for the High Court, but would even be its duty, to lend a favourable ear to an application that such a suit should be called up for trial by itself. The Hon'ble the Judges have, however, repudiated the idea of any understanding as to the course which they would adopt, and, as it is impossible to fetter their discretion upon such a point by legislation, the only alternative seems to be to allow plaintiffs for the present and under certain conditions to choose their own forum. The condition will be similar to that which already prevails in regard to suits cognizable by the Small Cause Court under the existing law. If the plaintiff chooses to resort to the High Court when he might go to the Small Cause Court, he will be debarred from recovering costs, and in case of failure he will have to pay costs as between attorney and client, unless the presiding Judge certifies that the suit was one fit to be brought in the High Court. According to my recollection, there is no class of plaintiffs who give the High Court more trouble than paupers, and I do not think that any provision as to costs is likely to influence them much in the choice of a forum. Perhaps the Hon'ble the Judges may wish to propose some special proviso for the exclusion of pauper suits from the High Court; but I will not venture to do more than suggest the matter for their consideration in this general way.

"Then as regards court-fees, the chief ground, and I think, I may say, the only ground, on which the High Court based its suggestion that the Bill had been launched without due consideration was that the sketch draft omitted to say in so many words what scale of court-fees should be levied. We intended that the scale which Chapter X of the Act lays down for small causes proper should be followed in regard to all suits which might be instituted in the Court of Small Causes. The High Court considers that this Chapter cannot apply to suits which are excluded by section 19 of the Act, and to meet this objection it has now been provided in the Bill that Chapter X of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act shall govern all proceedings which may be heard before the Court or any Judge thereof.

"I now come to another point about which the High Court as constituted last September has expressed itself with perhaps unnecessary warmth. The jurisdiction which the draft Bill before them, which, as I have so frequently pointed out, was only a rough attempt to sketch what was believed to be the intention of the local authorities and should have been so treated—the jurisdiction which that draft purported to make over to the Small Cause Court included suits up to the value of Rs. 2,500, but reserved power to the Local Government to extend this limit by notification. The idea was that the suits up to Rs. 2,500 might prove either too few to occupy one Judge of the Small Cause Court, or too many for one Judge, but not enough for two, and that the Legislature, having established the principle that the original jurisdiction should be reasonably divided between the High Court and the Court of Small Causes, might leave it to the Local Government to make the necessary adjustment from time to time with reference to the business to be done. There was certainly no thought of giving the Executive Government power to extinguish the High Court's original jurisdiction altogether; and, if at any time His Excellency the Governor in Council had been so ill-advised as to make any attempt to do this, it could easily have been defeated by the High Court calling up such cases as it thought proper to its own file. The fact was that we did not contemplate the possibility of the Executive Government exercising its powers without reference to the Judges and otherwise than substantially in concurrence with their advice. The High Court had itself proposed the transfer and might reasonably have been expected to give it effect as from time to time might seem reasonable. As, however, the objection has been raised, and it is perhaps within the bounds of possibility that a Governor in Council might go beyond what is reasonable, and even that he might succeed in securing that previous sanction of the Government of India which the sketch draft made indispensable, there can be no objection to the Legislature fixing any fair limit to his powers. The limit suggested in the Bill which I have laid on the table is Rs. 10,000, but the precise figure is open to revision, and will be a matter for the consideration of the Select Committee. On the other hand, now that the concurrent jurisdiction of the High Court is to be maintained, I think the pecuniary value of suits to be transferred to the Small Cause Court absolutely and without any special order of the Local Government may well be raised from Rs. 2,500 to Rs. 5,000.

"Hon'ble members will have now gathered the exact practical effect of the Bill which I have laid before them. Stated in a few words, it is this. There will be a regular side to the Court of Small Causes at Madras. It will try all ordinary suits up to a value of Rs. 5,000 which are not already cognizable on the small cause side of the Court. Some few classes of suits are excepted, and, speaking generally, it may be stated that the admiralty, matrimonial and testamentary jurisdiction of the High Court will remain unimpaired. It will be left to the Chief Judge to depute any member or members of the Court to preside from time to time on the regular side. The procedure will be governed by the Code of Civil Procedure, and the decrees will be subject to appeal to the High Court. Power is reserved to the Local Government to extend the pecuniary limit of this regular jurisdiction from Rs. 5,000 to any sum not exceeding Rs. 10,000; and it is intended that they should exercise this power with reference to the number of Judges who can be made available in the High Court and Small Cause Court respectively, and the business which has to be distributed between them. In other words, without going so far as to establish a District Court with fixed powers, which shall oust the jurisdiction of the High Court, and the Judge of which might not have enough work or might have too much, we shall make use of machinery which already exists, and apply it under conditions so elastic that it will be in the power of the Local Government to assign to the inferior Court just so much work as may fully occupy the one, one and a half, two or even three Judges whom it is prepared to employ over and above those required for small cause work proper, and to reserve for the High Court so much of the more important original civil business as with the criminal sessions and insolvency work will occupy the one Judge, or it may be one and a half, who can be spared from the appellate side of the High Court. My own view of the situation is that in all probability one Judge ought to be ample for the whole of the original work which deserves to be retained in the High Court. Whether a single Judge will be enough for the regular side of the Small Cause Court must depend on the effect which this legislation may have on the petty litigation of the City. It has been all along recognized that it is likely to cause a considerable increase in the number of suits, and it may well be that the work will be beyond the powers of a single Judge even with the occasional aid of a colleague not at the time required for the small cause work. Should this prove to be the case, the Local Government can at once apply an effectual remedy by appointing a temporary additional Judge, or by enlarging the jurisdiction to such extent as may seem desirable and giving another permanent Judge. This elasticity of the scheme is to my mind one of its chief recommendations. I need hardly remind any one conversant with the work of the Madras High Court in the last decade or two how extremely difficult it is to get an additional Judge appointed to the High Court by letters patent. Mr. Justice Innes' long and ineffectual struggle for the appointment of a fifth Puisne Judge must be well remembered in Madras; and, although in 1883 I had the advantage of entering into his labours, I might never have succeeded but for the fact of my having in 1886 become a Member of the Government and for a further happy concatenation of circumstances of which I was able to take advantage to overcome the very reasonable objections entertained by the Secretary of State.

"But now it may be asked—indeed it has been asked—even granted that the scheme is a good one, why press it at the present time? There is a fifth Puisne Judge at last, and if he is confirmed the High Court will probably be able to get through the work which will come before it for some years to come—why not get him confirmed and have done with it? The simple answer is that this puts the case on an entirely false issue. I am surprised and sorry to find this put forward as the only real issue in some of the newspapers which had no full knowledge of the facts; but I still more regret that the High Court itself, as constituted last September, should have ventured to say that 'the measure appears to have been designed with a purely financial object, simply and solely to relieve the High Court of a portion of its work, and thereby enable the Government to avoid appointing permanently a fifth Puisne Judge.' If this were the sole or even the main object in view, I should still think that the measure is one which deserves to be carried into effect, first, in order that we may ascertain whether after all the fifth Puisne Judge is really necessary; and, secondly, because in a few years' time we may have a sixth Judge proposed, and exactly the same trouble over again. But so far is this from being the main object in view that the Local Government in its last letter, while expressing 'a decided opinion that the present strength of the High Court will never admit of reduction,' is equally decided that the Bill is necessary in order to provide a tribunal both less expensive and less dilatory than a High Court.

"I may say, then, that the objects and reasons of this Bill are twofold. The first is to remove that 'practical denial of justice to a not insignificant portion of the inhabitants of the city' which the High Court admits to exist, and to be inevitable under the present system of judicial administration in the Presidency-town. And the second is to obviate the lamentable waste of judicial power involved in that system, which requires every petty dispute not technically a small cause to be fully investigated by so highly paid an officer as a Judge, or perhaps even a Chief Justice, of the High Court. This waste is more marked in Madras than in Bombay or Calcutta, because the litigation is pettier, and because the original jurisdiction of the Court extends over a far wider area, and one much less distinguishable from the outer Mufassal. It includes a large number of suburban hamlets, and there is no conceivable reason why a petty dispute arising in one of these hamlets should occupy the attention of a High Court Judge on Rs. 3,750 with all his paraphernalia when a similar dispute outside the toll-bar would be adequately dealt with by a Munsif drawing perhaps no more than Rs. 200.

"I say then that, quite apart from the question whether the fifth Puisne Judge should be retained permanently or not, there are the strongest possible reasons for amending the existing state of things in Madras. Even those Judges who deprecate the measure concede this much, for they distinctly 'approve of the measure so far as its effect will be to create a cheaper forum for certain classes of actions which will not endure the expense entailed on suitors' in the High Court. It is true that they add a rider to the effect that the result of establishing ~~such~~ a tribunal will be to multiply suits to an extent which will astonish the Government; but, if their estimate turns out to be correct, what will it show? It will only prove that the present denial of justice is even more serious, and therefore that the measure which I am advocating is still more necessary, than had been supposed.

"I have seen it stated that the High Court has only recently been made aware what was really contemplated, and, as I have already mentioned, the Court itself has thought fit to denounce the measure as crude and ill-considered. It must, however, be remembered that three of the six Judges then on the Bench were officiating only, while the oldest and most experienced dissented from the majority. It must also be borne in mind that their remarks were directed to the original sketch which has since been modified in various material respects. I do not anticipate that the Court as now constituted will object to the Bill which I have placed on the table, and for that reason I abstain from any further criticism of its letter; but, all the same, it is right that I should show that the measure originated with the High Court itself, and has received from it, as well as from the Government, very ample consideration.

"When I had myself the honour of a seat among Their Lordships, I was greatly struck, coming as I did from the Mufassal and from a special enquiry with a view to reorganize the Mufassal Courts, by what I have ventured to describe as a lamentable waste of judicial power. The remedy which suggested itself to me is the very remedy which I now wish to apply. On submitting the matter to the Chief Justice, I learned that the same remedy had been suggested by Sir Walter Morgan and more than once urged by himself. I mention this partly because Sir Walter Morgan and Sir Charles Turner were specially remarkable among Chief Justices for their knowledge of the country and talent for organisation, and partly because it will help to explain a letter which Sir Charles Turner drafted embodying the Court's deliberate and unanimous proposals, and which I will now proceed to read so far as it is material. It is dated 27th February, 1885, and contains the following paragraphs:

'7. A measure suggests itself which would at once effect this object, benefit suitors, and not injuriously affect the legal profession, viz., that the Court of Small Causes at the Presidency-town should be invested with power to try as a Court of Original Jurisdiction all suits (of which it at present cannot take cognizance) except testamentary, matrimonial and maritime, arising within the local limits of the High Court, and not exceeding in value Rs. 2,000 or Rs. 2,500, subject to an appeal to the High Court.

'8. The exclusive jurisdiction of the High Court in certain classes of cases entails on poorer suitors expense altogether out of proportion to the benefit they derive from the presumed superiority of the forum. It not unfrequently happens that suits are instituted for the partition of immoveable property where the costs incurred exceed the value of the subject-matter. The same observation applies to other cases, such as maintenance, mortgage, inheritance and administration.

'9. In a suit for partition which recently came before the Court the value of the property was Rs. 169, subject to a mortgage for Rs. 100, which it was the object of the suit to avoid. The suit was instituted in forma pauperis, and no party was in a position to engage legal assistance. It frequently happens in a suit for maintenance that the rate awarded, or indeed claimed, does not exceed a few rupees per mensem. Yet it may be necessary to determine whether the plaintiff's husband was a divided member of the family, whether there was ancestral property, whether there were debts and to what amount, how many members have to be married and maintained, and whether the widow has forfeited her right by unchastity.

'10. In other cases, of which the High Court has not exclusive cognizance, suitors are compelled to resort to it if it is necessary to obtain the attachment of immoveable property before judgment.

'11. In view of the expenses entailed on the poorer classes of suitors, this High Court has admitted vakils to plead on the original side, so as to avoid the necessity for the employment of the higher-paid agency of attorneys and counsel; but it has been found impossible to reduce court-fees without encouraging the institution of suits in the High Court which should be brought in the Court of Small Causes.

* * * * *

'16. The appellate and supervisional work of the High Court is, and to all appearance will continue to be, sufficient to occupy the time of at least four Judges. The strain now experienced by the Court arises from the necessity of employing a second Judge in the disposal of business on the original side. The value of a suit is no certain criterion of the expense of judicial time occupied in its disposal, and it seems inexpedient to employ a highly-paid judiciary in the disposal of cases which, if they arose on the other side of a toll-bar, would be triable by a District Munsif.

'17. Meanwhile, the trial of suits which from their value or intricacy are properly cognizable by a High Court is retarded by the disposal of petty litigation of the nature above indicated.

'18. The strengthening of the Small Cause Court by the appointment of an additional Judge, who would possess the qualifications of a Subordinate Judge, on a salary of Rs. 1,200 or Rs. 1,500 per mensem would, the Court believes, avoid the necessity for the appointment of an additional Judge of the High Court—at all events for a time. Whether it may not ultimately become necessary is a question upon which the Court cannot at present express a decided opinion; but, on all grounds, it appears desirable that the experiment now proposed should be made.

'19. If the scheme of the Court is accepted, it is believed that a reduction of the establishment of the High Court might set free some funds to provide for the establishment required by conferring on the Small Cause Court a new jurisdiction.

'20. It will be in the recollection of the Government that the proposal now made is not novel.

'21. It originated in a correspondence between the late Chief Justice and the Government between 1872—1877. It was more formally made in a minute by Mr. Justice Buteed (then Chief Judge of the Small Cause Court, but officiating in the High Court), which will be found in G. O., 11th March, 1879, No. 194, Judicial Department. It met with the approval of all the Judges then present in the Court of Mr. Justice Muthusami Aiyar (pp. 3, 4, 10—14), then in the Small Cause Court, and of Sir Walter Morgan (pp. 14—16).

'22. The present Chief Justice has more than once pressed its adoption on the Government—G.O.s, 27th May, 1879, No. 1247, and 8th October, 1880, No. 2425, Judicial Department.

'23. The Government of Madras recommended the measure and deprecated the rejection of the proposal when the Small Cause Court Act was under amendment—G. O.s, 2nd November, 1880, Nos. 2623 and 2624, Judicial Department.

'24. The Court was not informed of the grounds on which the Government of India regarded the proposal as inexpedient. The only objection which was mentioned to the Chief Justice by Mr. Stokes was that he doubted whether the same Judge could, with equal efficiency, exercise Small Cause Court and ordinary jurisdictions. The Court is not without experience that this objection is untenable. For some years the Subordinate Judges and Munsifs in this Presidency have exercised both jurisdictions, and the Court has not seen any reason to think that the exercise of the one has prejudiced the exercise of the other.

'25. It is believed that the objections proceeded from other High Courts. If this be so, it is suggested that an Act should be passed empowering the Local Government to confer the jurisdiction on the Small Cause Court in this city, and that its working should be first tested in Madras.'

"This letter shows, among other things, that the proposals emanated from the High Court, and were unanimously approved by all the Judges in 1879, and again by another set of Judges in 1885. They were further referred to as having been deliberately adopted in a letter dated 3rd March, 1887—after a sketch Bill had been submitted to the Chief Justice by the Hon'ble Mr. Ilbert—and in another letter written by the Registrar as recently as 12th November, 1889; and, notwithstanding what was written last September, I believe that as now formulated they will again be generally approved by the full Court. The Local Government has throughout given the measure its warm support. I may refer to, but I will not stop to quote, its letters dated 14th May, 1887, 21st December of the same year, 2nd June, 1888, and 16th March, 1889. In the last letter His Excellency in Council urged the importance of expediting the measures required to effect the transfer, as otherwise 'even six Judges may not be able to keep down the arrears without relief.'

"Lastly, in order that we might be quite sure that we were not going beyond what was locally recognized to be desirable, before laying the matter before the Secretary of State we took the precaution of asking for the views of the mercantile community. The members of the Trades Association were 'unanimously of opinion that the change proposed would afford great relief to the High Court, and be beneficial and a great convenience to suitors.' The Chamber of Commerce approved of the proposals, 'provided the services of the sixth Judge are not dispensed with until it is satisfactorily established that the relief afforded by the proposed change will reduce the work of the High Court to dimensions that can be efficiently dealt with by a smaller number of Judges than six.' As to this proviso, I have only to say that both the Government of India and the Local Government recognize their obligation to provide a sufficient staff of Judges, and there is no intention whatever to dispense with the sixth Judge, i.e., the fifth Puisne Judge, unless it should turn out that he is not required. Whether he will be required or not it is more than I or any one else can assert with any degree of confidence. All that I am inclined to insist on is that a single Judge ought to be able to dispose of all the important original work of the Presidency-town, and this would leave all the other Judges free for the undoubtedly heavy appellate business.

"My Lord, I am not in the habit of noticing attacks by anonymous contributors to newspapers; but, as I have been more than once lately denounced by name in connection with this measure as an insidious enemy of Madras, and of the High Court and the sixth Judge in particular, I may perhaps be permitted to take this opportunity to mention that this Bill merely embodies proposals which I made when I was myself in the High Court and expected to remain there, and that the present existence of a sixth Judge is more due to my own personal efforts, undertaken after I had quitted the Court, than to anything else I am aware of. All that can truly be laid to my charge is that I do not regard the original civil jurisdiction of the High Court as a fetish which it would be sacrilegious to interfere with in the smallest degree, and that I consider that the interests of the Bar must give way when they come into conflict with the interests of the suitor and the public tax-payer. The Bar, however, is but slightly affected by the Bill now in question, as may be gathered from the letter of 1885 which I have quoted almost in full. All the pettier suits of the original side are already conducted by vakils, and by far the best paying work is connected with Mufassal litigation. In this respect, as well as in other local peculiarities which I have already mentioned, Madras differs essentially from Calcutta and Bombay. Many good authorities are of opinion that some similar measure of reform is demanded for the other Presidency-towns also, but Madras has advantages which enable her to take the lead. Whether her sisters will be inclined to follow when they see how easily the proposed transfer of jurisdiction can be effected, and the good results which follow, is a question which we may well leave it to time to solve.

"My Lord, there are yet two objections with which I ought to deal before I bring this long speech to an end. The first is that the addition of this new business will make the Court of Small Causes less efficient for the primary purpose for which it was created, namely, the summary recovery of simple debts. The High Court's letter of 1885 dismissed this difficulty as untenable by showing that almost every Court in the Madras Presidency has its two sides for the disposal of regular suits and small causes respectively, and that no practical inconvenience has resulted. The only fact brought forward to show that the summary work may have been delayed is that the average duration of a small cause suit in the Presidency Court is less by ten days than the similar average for all the Mufassal Courts. Those who made this comparison appear to have overlooked the wide extent of the territorial jurisdiction possessed by Mufassal Courts. It will often take much more than ten days to get a summons served on a defendant and returned to the Court, and reasonable time must of course be allowed to a distant party to put in an appearance. Besides, in the Mufassal there is but one Judge for both sides of the Court, and the rule is for him to take only two days in each week for small causes. In the Presidency Court the two sides will be absolutely and entirely distinct, and the only outward and visible signs that the regular side is part of the Small Cause Court will be, first, that it will be styled 'the Court of Small Causes, Regular Side,' and, secondly, that the presiding Judge will be one or other of the Judges appointed to the Small Cause Court. I have already dwelt on the advantages of such an elastic arrangement. The Chief Justice of the High Court does not appear to have any difficulty in deciding how many or which Judges should be deputed to the original side or the appellate side, as the case may be, or in determining their relative claims to consideration from time to time. The two sides of the Small Cause Court will be every whit as distinct, and the Chief Judge will have exactly the same power to make arrangements. As to the efficiency of the Judges, I need only point out that, supposing their number to be four or five, two must be Advocates of the High Court, while the others have hitherto been the pick of the Subordinate Judges, as good a body of judicial officers as can be found anywhere.

"Lastly, it has been urged that the work of the High Court will not really be decreased, because, if it is saved original trials, it will get more appeals. The weighty authority of Sir Henry Maine has been called in aid of this objection, but after all his arguments are either à priori, or at all events they do not take into account the actual facts at Madras. We will suppose 200 suits to be transferred, and that appealable decrees are passed in 100. The average percentage of appeals from appealable decrees of the Mufassal Courts is 12, but we will allow 20. Now, bearing in mind that what takes up most time in Court is the recording of evidence, and that the record is complete before an appeal comes on for hearing, about 6 appeals may be heard in the time which 1 original suit will occupy. We will, however, reduce this number to 4 only. Thus, 20 appeals would take as long as 5 original suits. This is just one-twentieth of the business which I have supposed to be transferred without making any allowance for the interlocutory work connected with the other 100 suits not disposed of on the merits. I have not lost sight of the fact that two Judges sit together on an Appellate Bench, but I set it against another fact, vis., that at least 10 per cent. of the appealable decrees passed by High Court Judges are already appealed.

"I regret, My Lord, that I have encroached so much on the time of this Hon'ble Council, but the matter is one on which the public of Madras is naturally interested, and on which it has not hitherto enjoyed full information. I trust I have now succeeded in making it sufficiently clear, and at all events that I shall no longer be suspected of entertaining any insidious designs to their disadvantage."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble SIR PHILIP HUTCHINS also introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble SIR PHILIP HUTCHINS also moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India in English, and in the Fort St. George Gazette in English and in such other languages as the Local Government thinks fit.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

INDIAN CHRISTIAN MARRIAGE ACT, 1872, AMENDMENT BILL.

The Hon'ble SIR ALEXANDER MILLER moved that the Bill to validate certain marriages solemnized under Part VI of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872, which was introduced and ordered to be published at the last Meeting of the Council, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Sir Philip Hutchins, the Hon'ble Mr. Rattigan and the Mover.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned to Thursday, the 6th August, 1891.

Weather Review of India for the week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, July 18th, 1891.

It will be remembered that at the close of last week a depression lay over the Circars, the east of the Central Provinces, and West Bengal, and that this depression diverted the course of the westerly winds crossing the Peninsula, and so permitted of southerly winds from the Bay passing into Northern India and the Gangetic plain. The influence of this depression was felt throughout a great part of the week under review, and the rainfall in Northern India was somewhat more extensive than it had been in the preceding weeks. On the 12th westerly and north-westerly winds prevailed across the Peninsula and the central parts of the country, southerly winds in Burma, and easterly winds in Bengal and the North-Western Provinces. A feeble cyclonic circulation prevailed over North-West India around the independent area of low pressure which existed over the Punjab. Thus, except in the extreme North-West, the wind directions were on the whole normal, and were favourable to fairly general rainfall. Similar conditions prevailed on the 13th, but on the 15th the depression noticed above had moved northward from the Circars and Central Provinces to Behar and the North-Western Provinces. Westerly winds had not, however, extended across the head of the Peninsula, so that southerly winds continued at the head of the Bay, and a slight easterly current continued to advance up the Gangetic plain. By the morning of the 15th this easterly current had become very light and much interrupted, and the wind had veered round to south-west at the head of the Bay, so that the favourable conditions which had hitherto prevailed were quickly disappearing. On the 16th the chart showed that the depression over the Punjab had thrown out an arm south-eastward down the Gangetic plain, and that a depression had begun to form over Bengal. On the 17th the Bengal depression had enlarged, and by the morning of the 18th the arm of low pressure from the Punjab had united with the depression over Bengal, and resulted in the formation of the trough of low pressure down the Gangetic plain which is characteristic of the monsoon season.

On the whole then conditions have been fairly favourable for rain over the Indian region, and at times the rainfall was more extensive than it has yet been during the present monsoon season. On the West Coast the fall has been small for the time of year, but both in Bengal and the Central Provinces the amounts have been large and the fall continuous.

Temperature.—As was the case last week, the mean temperature of the whole of India has been  $2\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$  above the normal. The warmest day was the 12th, when the mean excess exceeded  $4^{\circ}$ , but on each day the weather was warmer than usual, though at the close of the week the excess was comparatively slight.

The following table shows the variation of temperature from the normal average on each day for the principal Provinces of India :

PROVINCE.	JULY							Mean variation for week.

The above figures show that Bengal-Assam was the only Province where the mean temperature of the week was below the normal, and even there the deficiency was less than  $\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$ . The greatest excess was  $4·7^{\circ}$  in the Punjab, Guzerat, and Central India. In Bengal-Assam the mean temperature on five days was below the normal, in Burma on four days, and in the Punjab and Central Provinces on one day. In all the other Provinces the exceptional heat continued without interruption throughout the week. The greatest excess was  $9^{\circ}$  in the Punjab on the 14th, but in the North-Western Provinces on the 12th and in the Punjab on the 13th and 15th the mean excess was over  $8^{\circ}$ .

The maximum temperatures over North-West and Central India were from  $10^{\circ}$  to  $15^{\circ}$  above the normal, the following being the highest temperature and the variation from the average on each day of the week :

	Max.	Excess.
July 12th, Sialkote . . . . .	116·4°	17·1°

18th, Multan . . . . .	106·7°	3·2°

Rain.—The table at the close of the Summary shows that the rainfall over the Indian region during the past week has been very general. Kattiawar is the only division which received actually no rain, though the divisions Punjab (Central), Rajputana (West), East Coast (South), and Madras (South) received less than one-tenth of an inch during the week. Though the rainfall was thus general, the amount received was very light, and much less than that reported in years of normal rainfall. Tenasserim, Lower Burma, Central Bengal, Chota Nagpur, and the Central Provinces (East) are the only divisions reporting an excess of rain during the week, and in three out of these five instances the excess was small. The greatest excess was 4 inches in Tenasserim, followed by 2 inches in Lower Burma, by  $\frac{3}{4}$  inch in the Central Provinces (East), and by about  $\frac{1}{2}$  inch in Central Bengal and Chota Nagpur. The heaviest rainfall during the week was 15½ inches in Tenasserim, followed by 10½ inches in Akyab. The third column of the table shows that the largest actual deficiency in the week's rain was 6½ inches in Coorg; this was followed by 5 inches in the Konkan, by over 3 inches in the hill districts of the Punjab, in Malabar, and in Guzerat, and by over 2 inches in Kattiawar, Central India, and Rajputana (East).

Under these circumstances the column giving the state of the seasonal rainfall shows no improvement. The Burmese divisions, Cachar and Madras (South Central), are the only divisions exhibiting any excess for the period May 31st to July 18th. The defect is moderate in North-East India, but all over North-West India, over the greater part of the central divisions, and over a large part of the Peninsula less than half the normal fall has occurred. Taking the total average rainfall of the whole of India into account, it appears that 56 per cent., or rather more than half the normal rainfall, has been registered. The division showing the worst state of affairs is the Punjab (North-West), where only 10 per cent. of the average has fallen.

The returns of maximum falls continue to show very low amounts, except in North-East India and parts of the West Coast. The following are some of the largest falls:

Madras.—For week ending 18th July.—Rainfall good on West Coast; fair in Ganjam, Vizagapatam, Kistna, and parts of Godavari and the Nilgiris; and slight elsewhere. Monsoon up to date greatly below average, and want of rain much felt in several districts. Distress increasing in the Chingleput district and the Kalahasti zemindari in North Arcot. Prices rising in Ganjam, Vizagapatam, Nellore, Cuddapah, Kurnool, Madras, North Arcot, South Arcot, and Salem; falling in Bellary; stationary in other districts. Average prices of cholum, ragi, cumbu, and rice— $18\frac{1}{2}$ ,  $19\frac{1}{2}$ ,  $14\frac{1}{2}$ , and 12 seers per rupee respectively. About 7,500 coolies employed on works on last day of week in Chingleput, 4,986 in the Wandiwash taluk, 1,313 in the Kalahasti zemindari, 1,776 in Coimbatore, 850 in Nellore, 648 in Tinnevely, 717 in Malabar, and 83 in Cuddapah. Number fed at kitchens—632, including 168 women and 354 children, in five taluks of Chingleput; 778, including 139 women and 579 children, in the Wandiwash taluk; and 1,027, including 744 children, in the Kalahasti zemindari. Loans granted for wells during week—Rs. 8,874 in Chingleput, Rs. 9,057 in North Arcot, Rs. 1,860 in Cuddapah, Rs. 13,720 in Tinnevely, and Rs. 900 in Coimbatore. Wells constructed—79 in Chingleput and 52 in Cuddapah. Wells under construction—1,593 in Chingleput, 43 in the Wandiwash taluk, 54 in Cuddapah, 58 in Tinnevely, and 5 in Coimbatore. Slight showers since reported from Kalahasti, Arcot, and Wandiwash.

Bombay.—For week ending 22nd July.—Rain in all districts, except Kathiawar; good in Konkan and parts of Surat and Nasik; moderate or slight elsewhere. Total fall insufficient for sowing and fodder supply over greater part of Guzerat, Deccan, and Karnatic. Young crops withering in parts of six districts and damaged by locusts in parts of Sind. Sowing and transplantation progressing where rain is sufficient. Prices of food-grains rising slightly.

Bengal.—For week ending 21st July.—Rainfall during the week has been fairly general. In Orissa and parts of South-West Bengal, Behar, and Chota Nagpur more rain is wanted for cultivation and transplanting of winter rice. Autumn rice, jute, and sugarcane are doing well in North and East Bengal. Harvesting of early rice is in progress, and cutting of jute has also begun in Behar. Prospects of all bhadoi crops are fair. Indigo manufacture is proceeding with prospect of fair outturn. Locusts again appeared in Bankura, Maldah, and Sonthal Pergannahs, and did considerable damage in Maldah to indigo, makai (indian corn), and mulberry leaves. Prices continue steady.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 22nd July.—The weather has been hot with very little rain. Banda reports more than 1 inch; Ballia over 2 inches, and Partabgarh and Kumaun 3 inches and  $3\frac{3}{4}$  inches respectively; elsewhere light local showers have given from  $\frac{3}{16}$  to 1 inch. Where the fall has been sufficient, ploughing and sowing have recommenced, but generally agricultural operations are retarded, and the crops already sown are suffering from want of rain. Good rain is reported from Bareilly, Moradabad, and Sitapur on the 22nd. Markets are well supplied, but prices have risen in many districts.

Punjab.—For week ending 22nd July.—Slight rain has fallen in all districts, except Hissar, Umballa, Ferozepore, Mooltan, and Peshawar. Prices rising in Hissar, Delhi, Ferozepore, Amritsar, Sialkot, Lahore, and Peshawar; stationary elsewhere. Average of wheat and jowar is  $15\frac{1}{4}$  and 14 seers per rupee. Harvesting of rabi crops nearly over. Sowings for kharif in progress. Rain badly wanted for kharif sowings in most districts. Standing crops are generally in fair condition. Cotton crops withering for want of rain in Lahore. Rabi outturn is reported average in Rawalpindi. Locusts still found in parts of Rawalpindi and Dera Ismail Khan. Fodder sufficient in all districts, except Hissar, Delhi, and Umballa, where it is getting scarce.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 22nd July.—Good and sufficient rain in all districts, except Saugor and Hoshangabad, which have only received 2.10 and 1.17 inches respectively and require more. Prospects continue generally favourable, and sowings are progressing. Cotton sowings completed in Nagpur. Young rice plants thriving. Prices falling slightly.

Burma.—For week ending 18th July.—Ploughing and sowing in progress. Want of rain is much felt in Mandalay, Shwebo, Katha, Sagaing, Kyaukse, Lower Chindwin, Minbu, Magwe, and Meiktila; and general anxiety is felt regarding crops in these districts. Prices of paddy have changed very little.

Assam.—For week ending 22nd July.—Weather warm. Rainfall scanty. Reaping of early and transplanting of late rice continue. State and prospects of crops generally good.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 22nd July.—Rainfall slight. Standing crops in good condition. Agricultural operations in progress. Prospects generally favourable, but more rain much needed in parts. Prices slightly risen in the Bangalore and Tumkur districts.

Heavy rain in Coorg at the end of the week. Transplanting of rice fields continues. Prospects generally good.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 22nd July.—Average rainfall good in Berar during the week. Weather cloudy. Kharif sowings well advanced. Cotton coming up satisfactorily. Cattle still suffering from insufficiency of fodder in the Ellichpur district and the Morsi taluk.

Rainfall slight in Hyderabad during the week. Sowing of kharif crops continues. Prices stationary.

Central India.—For week ending 22nd July.—Rain everywhere, except in Goona and Neemuch. Condition of standing crops bad in Western Malwa and Neemuch, withering in Jhabua, and good in Bhopal. Cattle dying in Western Malwa and Bhopawar and in bad condition in Neemuch. Pasturage bad in Bundelkhand and Neemuch and very scarce in Western Malwa and Bhopawar. Prices rising in Gwalior, Bundelkhand, Western Malwa, and Bhopawar.

The following revised telegram has been received for the week ending 15th July for Rajputana :

Except in Meywar, rain fell in every district. Falls in Marwar, Jhallawar, Harowtee, Ajmere, and Dholpore ranged from 1 inch to 2½ inches; in the other districts the falls were light. Agricultural operations progressing in Sirohi, Marwar, Kotah, Harowtee, Ajmere, Jeypore, and Dholpore. Cattle dying in Kherwara, Harowtee, and Ajmere, and suffering on account of scarcity or dearth of fodder in Marwar, Meywar, Jhallawar, Harowtee, parts of Jeypore, and Ulwar. Rain urgently wanted everywhere. Locusts still moving about in Marwar. In Ajmere 44,518 acres affected and 4,678 persons employed on relief works; gratuitous aid given to 132 persons who are unable to work—a satisfactory decrease from last week's figures for labourers. Scarcity prevails in some villages of Bikanir. Prices fluctuating or rising in Kherwara, Jhallawar, Harowtee, Jeypore and Kerowli; steady elsewhere.

Rajputana.—For week ending 22nd July.—Slight rain in almost all States. Rain badly wanted in Ajmere-Merwara. Agricultural operations progressing in some places; unsatisfactory at other places. Locusts still found in Marwar. Cattle dying in Kherwara, Harowtee, Ajmere-Merwara, and Jeypore, and in poor condition in some States for want of fodder. Cotton damaged in Kishengarh. Scarcity in some Bikanir villages. About 5,300 persons on relief works in Ajmere-Merwara; gratuitous relief given to 150 persons who are unable to work. Prices of food-grains steady in some States; rising in others. Average price of barley, maize, and jowar in Ajmere 17½, 16½, and 16 seers per rupee.

Nepal.—For week ending 16th July.—Good showers fell during the week. Prospects favourable.

REVENUE REPORT OF IRRIGATION WORKS IN SIND FOR 1889-90.

No. 139-I., dated Simla, 15th July 1891.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Public Works Department.

Read—

Letter No. 86 W.I.—970, dated the 9th June 1891, from the Government of Bombay, forwarding the Revenue Report of the Irrigation Department in Sind for 1889-90, with a memorandum by the Commissioner in Sind and the Resolution of the Government of Bombay on the subject.

OBSERVATIONS.—As stated in the Review of the Report for 1888-89, there are eleven works in Sind for which Capital and Revenue Accounts are kept. Of these, four, viz., the Desert Canal, the Unharwah, the Begári Canal, and the Eastern Nara Works, are classed as 49—Major Works, the capital outlay on which is not charged against Revenue. Seven works, viz., the Sukkur Canal, the Ghar Canal, the Mehrabwah, the Alibhar Kacheri Canal, the Marak Great Canal, the Sūrfrazwah, and the Fuleli Canal, are classed under 43—Minor Works and Navigation, the capital outlay on which is met from Revenue. There is also a large number of Minor Works for which only Revenue Accounts are kept. The capital outlay during and up to the end of 1889-90 is shown in the following statement :

	Number of Works.	DURING THE YEAR 1889-90						Total direct and indirect to end of 1889-90.

2. Capital expenditure was incurred on only three works. On the Desert Canal it amounted to Rs. 2,588. On the Eastern Nara works Rs. 74,215 were spent during the year, principally in enlarging and extending the Dimwah and on the Khipra Canal. On the Fuleli Canal an outlay of Rs. 54,173 was incurred in the completion of the head regulator, and in the excavation of a new branch 10 miles in length to serve partly as an escape channel for surplus water, and partly to supply water to lands not formerly under command.

3. The actual financial results of the year for the Major and Minor Works are shown in detail in the following statement. The aggregate figures for the works for which only Revenue Accounts are kept are also given :

* Separate figures not available.

4. It must be stated as regards the figures in the preceding table, which are taken from Statement No. 1-C., that those representing the working expenses are for the official year ending March 31st, while those representing the revenue collections are partly for the official year, and partly for the revenue year ending July 31st. The figures representing direct receipts, i.e., the water-rate directly paid and the miscellaneous receipts, are partly for the official and partly for the revenue year, while the indirect receipts, which are the share of the enhanced Land Revenue due to irrigation, are wholly for the revenue year. The receipts and outlay on Revenue Account relate therefore to different periods. In paragraph 16 of the Review of the Report for 1888-89, the attention of the Government of Bombay was drawn to this, and it was suggested that figures showing the revenue receipts for the official year might be made available. The matter does not appear to be specifically referred to in the report now under review, but the Government of India hopes that it will not be lost sight of.

5. On the four Major Works the interest charges during the year amounted to Rs. 3,27,492, so that the net profit on these for the year amounted to Rs. 3,99,515. To the end of the year the net revenue on these four works amounted to Rs. 69,28,751 and the interest charges to Rs. 53,96,378, so that the balance of receipts after meeting all charges and 4 per cent. on capital outlay was Rs. 15,32,373.

6. The following statement gives the assessed water revenue for the year under review, and compares it with the irrigated area. Of the gross assessed revenue, 90 per cent. is the water share and 10 per cent. the land share :

7. The area irrigated is again the largest on record, and shows an increase of 231,184 acres over the figures for 1888-89. The increase in the area of Government land irrigated was 222,248 acres and in jaghir land 8,936 acres. The increase in the assessments on Government lands amounted to Rs. 3,58,235. The season was exceptionally good. The Indus began to rise at the end of May, and the depth of water on the Bukkur gauge did not fall below 12 feet till September 7th. The maximum height to which it rose was, however, about 16½ feet, which is considerably above the average, and this occasioned severe floods. Several protective banks were breached, more especially the Mithu Bund protecting the town of Lárkhána, which narrowly escaped destruction; and the Jatri Bund which, though constructed only a few months before, had to be cut. A large amount of kharif crop was damaged by the flood water, but, on the other hand, a large area was in consequence of the floods cultivated with rabi crop. On the whole, therefore, the revenue benefited, though this cannot properly be ascribed to the operations of the canals. Of the Government land 1,722,040 acres were cultivated under kharif and 387,764 under rabi crop. The increase in the rabi crop compared with the figures for 1888-89 was 148,794 acres.

Compared with the figures for 1878-79, in which year the floods were the highest on record, the area of Government land shows an increase of 388,494 acres in the kharif and a decrease of 164,005 acres in the rabi, or a net increase for the whole year of 224,489, while the area of jaghir land has risen by 109,241 acres. The increase in the area of kharif crops, which are entirely dependent on canal irrigation, is very satisfactory: the falling off in the area under rabi crops is doubtless due to more perfect protection from floods being now afforded by the embankments.

8. In paragraph 7 of last year's Review the Government of India remarked:—

“There can be no doubt that much of the water-supply that might be made available runs to waste in consequence of the haphazard and unscientific manner in which the bed levels of the canals have been fixed and their sections excavated. It would seem that no proper system has hitherto been followed in this respect, as the connexion between the bed-level of the heads of the various canals and the river gauge at Bukkur has never been accurately determined.”

These remarks were based on what was said by the late Superintending Engineer in paragraphs 2-4 of his Revenue Report for 1888-89. He observed that “when the Bukkur gauge reads 12 feet, that reading may be taken as a datum to which the bed clearance of all canals carrying only a kharif supply may be reduced.” In his report for 1889-90, the present Superintending Engineer contests this view, and says that “the level of the water at any point.....has no fixed relation to the height at Bukkur.” Some figures are also given in support of this opinion, but as the late Superintending Engineer (Mr. Lambert), who, it is believed, had the advantage of a long experience in Sind, appears to have used the same figures to support a precisely opposite conclusion, it is evident that the question demands further enquiry, and it is recommended to the attention of the Bombay Government.

9. Of the total jaghir cultivation, 79,945 acres were in Khelat territory, which is outside the province of Sind. This will be shown separately from the jaghir cultivation in Sind in future reports.

10. The “hakaba,” or water assessment on jaghir lands, is considerably less than the water-rate on Government lands. The difference of assessment has hitherto been calculated and credited to the canals in tables VI and VI-A attached to the report; but in paragraph 11 of last year's review the Government of India observed that as the figures were to a certain extent hypothetical, they had better be excluded from these tables in future. This has now been done, but the Superintending Engineer in paragraph 14 of his report shows that the difference of assessment during the year under review amounted to Rs. 4,25,126, or Rs. 15,708 more than in 1888-89. The difference naturally augments as the area of jaghir cultivation increases.

11. The following statement shows the distribution of the outlay on revenue account :

12. In the figures for new works and repairs in the preceding statement a considerable outlay on protective embankments is included. Such outlay, the Superintending Engineer considers, should no longer be charged against the canals, but should be debited against Agricultural Works. It is observed that the Government of Bombay has accepted this view, and in Resolution No. 6-A. 1.—90 of January 16th, 1891, has ruled that the whole line of embankments on the right bank of the Indus from Kashmir to Dadu should be classified, with effect from 1st April 1890, under the head "Ordinary Agricultural Works for which no Capital or Revenue Accounts are kept."

13. In paragraph 8 of the review on last year's Report, reference was made to a proposal that a certain sum should be placed annually at the disposal of the Superintending Engineer in communication with the Commissioner in Sind for outlay on extensions and improvements. The Superintending Engineer again refers to this in his report, and is supported by the Commissioner, and the Government of Bombay in paragraph 29 of the Resolution on the report observes that the matter will be treated separately. The Government of India can see no objection to the adoption of the proposal, and must again express a hope that it will be favourably entertained by His Excellency the Governor in Council.

14. The establishment charges were distributed as follows :—

		Rs.
Major and Minor Works for which Capital and Revenue Accounts are kept.	Direction . . . . .	24,921
	Executive . . . . .	83,053
	Share of collection charges	2,20,021

	Executive . . . . .
	Share of collection charges	2,05,180
		3,69,883

* Details not available.

No information is given as to how the collection charges are made up: they aggregate Rs. 4,25,201. The collections, including the amounts realised by Public Works officers, amounted to Rs. 47,64,676, so that the percentage charge on account of the amount collected by Civil officers was rather more than 9 per cent., which appears to be a high charge. The aggregate charge on account of Public Works establishment amounted to Rs. 2,72,627 against Rs. 2,79,807 during the preceding year.

15. The figures given above do not include the outlay on account of supervising and abkaláni, or watch and ward establishments, which is charged against maintenance. The charge to works on account of these establishments during the year amounted to Rs. 1,81,602, of which Rs. 62,055 was for supervising establishment and Rs. 1,19,547 on account of abkaláni. There was a decrease on the figures for the preceding year of Rs. 17,824. The abkaláni establishment is employed during the inundation season in watching the embankments, and the supervising establishment overlooks the canal clearances during the season for such work, and is employed at other times in the revenue management, conservancy, and water distribution on the canals. There appears to be some difference of opinion regarding the strength at which these establishments should be maintained and the manner of organising them, but the question has been referred to a Committee, whose report is being considered by the Bombay Government.

16. The area of the principal crops irrigated was as follows :

	Acres.
Jowári . . . . .	431,578
Bájrí . . . . .	248,499
Rice . . . . .	410,683
Other crops . . . . .	240,050

The area irrigated by flow was 898,639 acres and by lift 432,171 acres. The area irrigated per cubic foot per second of supply varied from 18.79 to 53.70 acres, which is small. The Commissioner in Sind in paragraph 6 of his endorsement submitting the report to Government appears to think that in some cases too much attention is paid to improving the appearance of the canals rather than to supplying water to as large an area as possible. This is a question that will doubtless receive attention.

17. The remissions made during the year amounted to Rs. 2,33,442, and are largely in excess of the average owing to the remissions on account of kharif crop destroyed by the floods. The balance of collections outstanding at the end of the year amounted to Rs. 72,127. Of the collections due during the year, 98.6 per cent. were actually realised. The outstandings on account of "hakaba" were reduced to Rs. 27,020, those due from Khelat being reduced to Rs. 12,758, which it was expected would be all realised before July 31st, 1890.

The occupancy rights in 78,531 acres were sold during the year, realising Rs. 1,24,227. Four per cent. of the irrigation share of this amount, or Rs. 4,472, were credited in the accounts as Indirect Canal Revenue. The miscellaneous receipts shown in the statement in paragraph 3 were made up largely from the proceeds of the sale of fish, the value of grass, &c., from the canal banks being also included:

18. The last class of works dealt with in the report are Agricultural Works, the outlay on which was :

	Rs.
Kashmor Bund . . . . .	1,84,779
Kasimpur „ . . . . .	1,820
Karachi Canals . . . . .	4,734

The expenditure on the Kashmor Bund was principally Rs. 1,09,006 on account of a new loop. The charge for the Karachi Canals was again on account of the Mathematical Instrument Depôt at Karachi.

19. In paragraph 16 of the Review of the Report for 1888-89, the Government of India drew attention to its late submission. The present report was not received by the Government of India till the 11th of June, which is considerably later than that for the previous year. It was the last of the Revenue reports to be received. The delay in submission may no doubt be largely attributed to the necessity for awaiting the figures for the receipts of the revenue year. This matter was alluded to in last year's review, and is also referred to in paragraph 4 of the present review. But independently of the delay thus caused, it would appear that the report was forwarded by the Superintending Engineer to the Commissioner in Sind on December 24th, 1890, but was not submitted by the latter to Government till February 17th, 1891, and was not reviewed by the Government of Bombay till June 9th. It would seem possible that the delay in both these cases might have been considerably curtailed, and the Government of India trusts that this will receive due attention when the report of the Committee on the means to be taken to ensure the earlier submission of the Revenue report, which is mentioned in paragraph 43 of the Resolution by the Government of Bombay as being before Government, is taken into consideration.

20. In paragraph 2 of his forwarding letter, the Superintending Engineer remarks that "absolute accuracy in the figures showing the return given by the expenditure is not necessary in a report of this nature," and further "the scope of this report is not intended to include financial results." The Government of Bombay is requested to point out to the Superintending Engineer that he is entirely in error in this respect. The report is a Revenue report, and is intended to summarise the actual financial operations of the year both as regards receipts and outlay.

21. The report has been very well prepared, and contains a large amount of interesting information, but the map is not very clear, and would be much improved by the use of distinguishing colors.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of this Review, of the Report, and of the Resolution by the Government of Bombay be forwarded to the Revenue and Agricultural Department for information.

Ordered also, that a copy of this Review be forwarded to the Government of Bombay for information, and that copies of this Review, of the Report, and of the Resolution by the Government of Bombay be forwarded to the Governments noted in the margin in the Public Works Department for information.

Accompaniment to Public Works Department Resolution No. 139-I. of 1891.

No. 86-W.I.—970, dated the 9th June, 1891.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of Bombay, Public Works Department.

Read—

Letter from the Superintending Engineer in Sind, No. 4405, dated 24th December 1890.—Submits, with the usual statements, map and charts, the Irrigation Revenue Report for Sind for 1889-90.

Memorandum from the Commissioner in Sind, No. 563, dated 17th February 1891.—Submits the above with remarks.

RESOLUTION.—The inundation of 1889 was exceptionally good, having been both in respect of height and duration one of the best ever known, and, judged by the readings on the Bukkur gauge, is stated to have been as nearly perfect as possible.

2. The figures for 1889-90 consequently show considerable improvement on those of 1888-89, which, though the inundation of that year was indifferent, were better than those of 1887-88, which was then the best on record.

3. The mileage of canals and river embankments was 5,924 and 653 respectively against 5,916 and 613 respectively in the previous year. The improvement in results is thus not attributable to the extension of the canal system. The increase in canal mileage is due principally to the extension of the Dim and Khipra Canals, both branches of the Eastern Nara, and in bund mileage is due to bunds on the right bank of the Indus in the Karachi District, the length of which is shown as 91 against 50 miles in the previous year. The increase is due to re-adjustments in the measurements.

4. The following table compares the cultivation and revenue with that of the previous year :

5. The increase in the total cultivation was nearly 11 per cent. and in the total canal revenue nearly 7½ per cent. as compared with 1888-89. The figures of that year as compared with 1887-88 showed increases of between 13 and 14 per cent. under each head.

Net Increase . . . . .	73,454	148,794	222,248

8. Of the total increase, 67 per cent. was in the area of rabi cultivation, which was much larger than in any previous year, except 1878-79, with which it is compared in paragraph 10 of the Superintending Engineer's report. The large extent of rabi cultivation is in both years ascribable to the same cause—the extensive areas flooded either by breaches in the river embankments, by spill from the river, or rain floods.

9. The circumstances of the two years were strikingly similar, with the exception that in 1889, the Kashmor and Sukkur-Begari Bunds remained staunch, and that the heavy rainfall occurred in July and August, but after the river had reached its greatest height. Rain floods from the hills in both years damaged the cultivation on the right bank of the Western Nara. In both years heavy floods on the left bank above Rohri swept the Rohri District, and joining flowed down the Eastern Nara Valley, and seriously injured the bunds, canals, and cultivation in the Thar and Parkar District. In both years a flood escaped on the left bank south of Hyderabad, and laid extensive tracts in the Guni, Mirpur, and Jati talukas between the Fuleli and the Indus down to the sea under water. On the right bank the flood in 1889 escaped north of Larkhana, and swamped much of the finest cultivation on the tails of the Ghar as in 1878, when, however, the area affected was larger, as the whole area from Kashmor down to Sehwan was then completely submerged.

10. The floods, though productive of increased revenue from rabi cultivation, led to heavy remissions of kharif revenue. The flood which escaped north of Larkhana submerged about 24,000 acres of kharif cultivation: in the Eastern Nara Valley about 22,000 acres of cultivation were submerged between the Nara River and the Mithrau Canal protective embankment, and the flood on the right bank south of Hyderabad destroyed about 20,000 acres of cultivation in the Fuleli District, and damaged the crops in the Karachi District. But there can be no doubt that the flood of 1889-90 did a great deal more good than harm. The net profit of the year's cultivation must have been largely enhanced through its operation. It spoilt kharif crops to some extent, and the people lost the labour and expense they had bestowed on sowing those crops, and some damage was done to their watercourses and embankments; but most of the land that lost its kharif was resown with rabi, and in addition a very large area that would have remained unsown but for the floods was cultivated with rabi. In the case of the Eastern Nara, the kharif remissions on cultivation from the river were Rs. 3,314 only, and the flood so far from being destructive was eminently beneficial, as it increased the rabi cultivation by 4,202 + 55,761, or nearly 60,000 acres (Table VII-A of the Superintending Engineer's report). The year 1889-90 was in fact the best year the cultivators of the strip purposely left unprotected on the right bank of the Nara have seen since the last great flood year (1878-79).

11. Credit is due to the officers of the Irrigation Department for the great improvements effected since the occurrence of the last heavy floods, which have so greatly reduced the damage cost by unusually high and copious inundations, and for the skill with which they dealt with the heavy inundation of 1889-90 as evidenced by the results reported.

12. Under such abnormal conditions it is difficult to review the results as a test of the efficiency of the canals. It is obvious that the canals and river embankments ought not, properly speaking, to be credited with revenue due to floods, which it is the special object of the works designed by the Department to prevent, and, when they occur to any serious extent, they manifestly upset all deductions as to the revenue results of expenditure on the works affected.

13. In comparing the figures of 1889-90 with those of the last great flood year 1878-79, the Superintending Engineer shows that there has been an increase of kharif cultivation on Government lands of 388,494 acres, while the rabi shows a decrease of 164,005 acres and the jaghir cultivation an increase of 109,241 acres. These results are satisfactory. It is observed that a large part of the increase shown under the head "Jaghir cultivation" occurred in Khelat, i.e., in foreign territory outside the Province of Sind. In future reports cultivation and revenue in Khelat should be shown separately from the Sind jaghir cultivation and revenue, from which it is distinct.

14. The following table compares the cultivation and irrigation share of the net consolidated revenue, excluding jaghir lands, the assessments on which are not shown separately for each canal, on each class of works in 1889-90 with the previous year:

15. The results—cultivation and revenue for each canal division for the year 1888-89 and 1889-90—are tabulated in the comparative statement (VII-A) on page 40 on the Superintending Engineer's report. The Eastern Nara heads the list in increase of cultivation and revenue, but the results there have to be discounted by the 60,000 acres of rabi due to spill before mentioned. The Fuleli shows the best results of all—increases of 23,306 acres of kharif, 23,116 acres of rabi, and Rs. 69,821 revenue, and the Hyderabad Canals the next best. The floods had not much effect on the cultivation or revenue of either of these divisions. The Karachi and Ghar Divisions follow in order, but the rabi cultivation in both of them was considerably increased by the floods.

16. The following statement illustrates the progress of cultivation and revenue on each class of canals during the last five years:

17. Of the four Major Works, the Desert Canal worked well, and the returns show a considerable increase in cultivation. The figures on this canal compare with those of the previous year as follows:

The figures under Hakaba are the realisations, and the decrease in the receipts is due to the outstandings having been smaller. The water share of assessment in Government lands shows an increase of 20 per cent. due to an increase in the kharif cultivation. In the rabi area there was a decrease. The jaghir cultivation is in this instance almost wholly in Khelat territory, which should in future, as directed in paragraph 13 of this Resolution, be shown separately from Sind jaghir cultivation. The assessments of both Khelat and jaghir cultivation (kharif and rabi) should also in future be shown separately for each canal.

18. On the Unharwah there is no jaghir cultivation: its working was affected by changes in the river, which also affected the working of the Begari. The figures for the Unharwah compare with those of the previous year as follows:

The falling off in cultivation on Government lands was about 12 per cent., and in the total, including jaghir lands (in which there was an increase), about 9 per cent. The causes are explained in paragraphs 11, 16, 20 and 39 of the Superintending Engineer's report as partly due to the action of the river on the dhund which supplies this canal and the Unharwah, and partly to the canal being overworked. The former cause accounts for the increase in remissions, due to the failure in the supply at the end of the season. The upper portion of the Begari Canal is now being remodelled with a view to improving its efficiency, and the projects for the new canals to supply the demand for water in this district, alluded to in the Superintending Engineer's report, are in preparation.

The working of the Eastern Nara was affected by the heavy floods already referred to, and the very large increase in the rabi cultivation and revenue credited to the canals in 1889-90 was due to spill from the Nara river and not to canal water. The remissions were light, apparently because part of the lands on which the kharif cultivation was destroyed was afterwards cropped with rabi.

21. Two points connected with the working of the Eastern Nara system call for comment. The first is the working of the head regulator, and the second the premature closing of the Jatri channel.

As regards the first, it is stated that much more water was passed through the regulator than was wanted, which, of course, aggravated the effects of the floods:

it is surmised that difficulty was experienced in working the needles to regulate the flow, but the matter is important and calls for further enquiry, which should be instituted and the result reported.

The premature closing of the Jatri channel, which affected the supply to the Thar Canal and led to the flooding of the lands above Jatri, has been separately dealt with in Government Resolution No. 55 W. I.—746, dated 3rd April 1890, and a project has been prepared for carrying out the original intention to clear the Nara channel between Jatri and Ketī, and is now under reference to the Commissioner in Sind.

The progress is very satisfactory, and especially so on the Eastern Nara. The Unharwah too has given good results since its opening in 1885-86. The cultivation on the Desert Canal has now quite recovered from the decline that affected it for some years, and in 1889-90 exceeded that of 1884-85, the next best year of the series. The decline in the rabi cultivation on that canal continues, and needs explanation.

23. The Irrigation Minor Works for which Capital and Revenue Accounts are kept include seven works, on which a capital expenditure, aggregating Rs. 33,29,075, has been incurred in recent years on enlargements, extensions, and improvements designed to increase the supply and bring a larger area under cultivation. The Sukkur Canal, itself a new work, but which supplies water to the old system, worked well, and the cultivation and revenue show some increase; but 7·6 per cent. of the rabi revenue was remitted, of which on explanation is afforded: the rabi head was opened on 10th November, and it is stated that the water through this head was not required as early as usual, and the inference is that there was no insufficiency in the supply. The Ghar cultivation was affected by the floods: the figures show an increase in the total cultivation of 24,732 acres, which was wholly in the rabi area, and an increase in consolidated revenue of Rs. 1,14,967, of which, however, Rs. 55,775 were remitted: the remissions in 1888-89 were Rs. 2,871 only: the canal was opened earlier than in the previous year, and did not cease to flow until the 11th December, or two months later than in the previous year: the head worked well. On the Fuleli there was an increase in total area of 32,638 acres, of which about half was in rabi cultivation: the increase in consolidated revenue was Rs. 74,412: the remissions were Rs. 11,138 against Rs. 976 in 1888-89. From the remarks of the Superintending Engineer in paragraph 83 (e) of the report, there would appear to have been some wasteful expenditure in the clearance of the Guni branch of the Fuleli, and explanation regarding it should be separately furnished. The other canals under this head call for no comment.

24. The remaining class includes all the old Sind Canals maintained by Government, on which about 43 per cent. of the total canal revenue and 36 per cent. of the net canal revenue of the Province is dependent. Those in the Rohri Districts under the Shikarpur Canals officer were affected by the floods already referred to, and show a decrease in cultivation and revenue due to that cause. All the other canals show an increase in both cultivation and revenue due to the favourable inundation, but in the case of those canals affected by the floods heavy remissions had to be granted, amounting in the aggregate to Rs. 82,379 against Rs. 35,422 on the same works in the previous year. The net increase in revenue, after deducting remissions, amounted as shown in the table (paragraph 14) to Rs. 1,42,323, or about 8 per cent. Of this amount nearly Rs. 46,000 was on the canals of this class in the Hyderabad District. The Western Nara, which belongs to this class, shows an increase in cultivation of 34,849 acres, made up as follows:

	Kharif.	Rabi.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Ghar Canals portion . . . .	5,139	15,018	20,157
Karachi Canals portion . . . .	2,578	12,114	14,692
	<hr/>	<hr/>	<hr/>

The consolidated assessment shows an increase of Rs. 83,809, but heavy remissions in the kharif revenue in the Ghar District due to the floods were granted, which reduced the net increase to Rs. 59,577. The canal flowed from 18th May to 24th November: in the Ghar Canals District the supply was ample, but complaints were rife in the portion of the Karachi District watered by this canal; the remissions in that district, however, amounted to only Rs. 1,895 against Rs. 12,853 in the previous year. The Pritchard Canal, which is designed to remedy all cause for complaint of want of water in the lower portions of the Western Nara, was under construction during the year. The Western Nara system was formed into a separate charge with effect from 1st April 1890, and will in future reports be dealt with as a whole instead of in two parts under different districts.

The Pinyari Canal in the Karachi District would have shown greatly improved results as compared with the previous year but for the heavy kharif remissions due to the flood from Budh-ka-Takar south of Hyderabad.

The other canals in the Karachi District show an increase in cultivation of 18,339 acres and in consolidated revenue of Rs. 44,919, of which increase Rs. 10,419 was remitted.

25. The revenue of the year based on realizations was—

	Rs.
Irrigation share of land revenue collections . . . . .	45 56,187
Jaghir receipts . . . . .	1,52,646
Miscellaneous . . . . .	55,167
	47,64,000

The occupancy right of 78,231 acres of lands under the several canals was sold during the year, and realised Rs. 1,24,227. Four per cent. on the irrigation share (nine-tenths) of this amount is credited to the canals. Including the interest on receipts from sales in previous years, the sum to be credited to the canals on this account is Rs. 11,072, which raises the total canal receipts of the year to Rs. 47,75,072,* as compared with Rs. 44,58,953 in 1888-89, and with Rs. 39,28,756, the average of the previous five years.

26. The unrealised balance of the canal land revenue demand was Rs. 72,127, or 1·4 per cent., against Rs. 47,247 last year. The collections under jaghir show further improvement, Rs. 27,020 only remaining outstanding against Rs. 38,387 in 1888-89 and Rs. 94,813 in 1887-88. Of the total for collection in Khelat, Rs. 1,06,712, Rs. 1,511 were remitted and Rs. 92,443 were realised, leaving Rs. 12,758 outstanding, which, it is reported, would be paid before 31st July 1890.

27. The expenditure incurred during the year under all heads was as follows :

28. The capital expenditure under the head Major Works was incurred principally on the Eastern Nara Works in enlarging and extending the Dimwah and on the Khipra Canal. On Minor Works the capital outlay incurred was on the Fuleli Canal, principally in completing the head regulator and on a work styled re-opening the old Kaziawah, a branch of the Fuleli. This work was in fact the excavation of a new branch, 10 miles in length, from the 8th mile of the Ghari Mandir, to serve as an escape for the surplus waters of that branch of the Fuleli and to supply water for irrigation to lands not formerly under command.

29. The expenditure under the head 'Extensions and Improvements' amounted to Rs. 3,18,798 as compared with Rs. 1,32,558 in the previous year. It is objected that almost half of the outlay (Rs. 1,56,834) was on embankments and not on the improvement of the canals; but it is observed that in the previous year, out of the total of Rs. 1,32,558, the amount spent on river embankments was Rs. 82,942, so that making the same deduction in both years the sums spent on the improvement of the old canals was—so that the year under report shows a great increase. Under present conditions the embankments are in many places as essential to the development of permanent settled irrigation as are extensions and improvements of the canals. The renewed request made by the Commissioner and Superintending Engineer for a discretionary grant for expenditure on extensions and improvements will be treated separately.

	Rs.
1888-89 . . . . .	49,616

30. The principal works of improvement in progress were the Pritchard Canal, already referred to, and the improvements of Dambro and Ren Wahs in the Hyderabad District, and the Nurwah and Baghar, from which a new cut was made for the supply of the Kara creek, in the Karachi District. The favourable inundation, and in the case of the Dcharwah (improved in the previous year) the floods, make it difficult to judge of the effect of the several improvements. Reports have been received, but deductions as to the results had better be deferred until normal conditions prevail.

31. The expenditure on repairs as compared with the previous year and with the normal estimate of requirements under that head was as follows :

	Major Works.	MINOR WORKS.		Total.
		Canals.	Bunds.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Outlay in 1889-90 . . . . .	1,52,102	7,12,810	1,00,605	9,65,517
Outlay in 1888-89 . . . . .	1,22,142	6,81,014	1,17,293	9,20,449
Normal Estimate . . . . .	1,31,000	6,46,000	1,23,000	9,00,000

The increase under Major Works, as compared with the previous year, was principally on the Begari Canal. Under Canals—Minor Works—the figures compare as follows :

	OUTLAY ON REPAIR IN 1889-90 AS COMPARED WITH 1888-89.
	Increase. Rs.	Decrease. Rs.
Shikarpur Canals . . . . .	23,822	...

Karachi Canals . . . . .	64,232	...
	97,758	65,962
Net Increase . . . . .	31,796

The increase in Shikarpur was principally on the canals in Rohri, and that in Karachi principally on the Khanta, Baghar, Kalri, Pinyari, Nara, and canals in Mirpur Batoro. The decrease in the Ghar District was distributed over all the works, and that in Hyderabad was principally on the Alibhar, Gharo, Mahmuda, Dad, and Ren Wahs: it was largest on the last mentioned work owing probably to its being under improvement. There are no remarks in the reports explaining these increases and decreases.

32. The following statement showing the cultivation and revenue in the Fuleli and Hyderabad Canal Divisions each year for the past six years illustrates the advantages of liberal expenditure on the thorough clearance and improvement of old canals :

The results of the work done in these two divisions during the last three years must be considered highly satisfactory, and give cause for encouragement in the pursuance of similar treatment in the case of other of the old canals. Similar results are showing themselves on the Western Nara system of canals, where the supply has been greatly improved by the construction of the Pritchard-wah feeder channel.

33. The following table shows the proportion which the expenditure on repairs bears to the total canal revenue on each class of works :

	Total Canal Revenue, 1889-90.	Expenditure on Repairs 1889-90.	Percentage

* Assessments of Land Revenue and realizations under other heads.

Rs. 10,193 has to be added on account of the Kashmir Bund to make these figures correspond with table III of the Superintending Engineer's report.

The Major Works are comparatively inexpensive to maintain. The expenditure on the "other canals" in the Fuleli bears, and has always borne, a very high proportion to the revenue. The low rate in the Ghar Canals District is due to the large size of the principal canal concerned (the Western Nara), the expenditure on which was, moreover, only Rs. 35,426 against Rs. 46,932, the average of the previous five years.

The decrease under bunds was principally on those in the Karachi District, on which the expenditure was Rs. 21,278 as compared with Rs. 52,031 in the previous year. There was a large increase in the expenditure on the bunds in the Ghar Canals District.

The figures show increased attention to the clearance of the canals, and the expenditure largely exceeded the normal estimate. The increase, as compared with the previous year, was wholly on the works for which only Revenue Accounts are kept, the expenditure on the Minor Works for which Capital Accounts are kept having been less than in the previous year.

34. The charges for establishment amount to Rs. 3,39,981 against Rs. 3,25,805 in the previous year. The increase of Rs. 14,176 is due principally to the Irrigation officer at Karachi having been relieved of the charge of public works in the station, on account of which a credit was formerly afforded by the funds concerned. The charge to Major Works, Working Expenses, under this head shows a satisfactory decrease.

35. The financial results of the four Major Works for the year are as follows :

	DURING THE YEAR			TO THE END OF THE YEAR
	Direct.	Indirect.	Total.	Direct	Indirect	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.

Simple interest . . . . .		3,27,492			53,96,378
Net profit after paying interest . . . . .		3,99,515			15,32,373

The net profit during the year after paying interest was Rs. 3,99,515 as compared with Rs. 3,92,092 in 1888-89 and with Rs. 1,91,015 in 1887-88. These results are on the basis of actual receipts : the results on the basis of the assessment of the year differ very little from this, and the return on the capital outlay to the end of the year on that basis on the several works was as follows :

Desert Canal . . . . .	11.27 per cent.
Unbarwah . . . . .	13.24 "
Begari Canal . . . . .	11.40 "
Eastern Nara . . . . .	6.92 " and the works taken all four together show a net return of 8.70 per cent. on the expenditure as compared with 8.11 per cent. in 1888-89 and with 6.04 per cent. in 1887-88. These results must be regarded as highly satisfactory.

These figures are exclusive of the loss on the assessment of jaghir lands, which on these works in the year under report amounted to Rs. 87,792 against Rs. 84,909 in the previous year.

36. The Minor Works for which Capital and Revenue Accounts are kept show the following results as compared with the previous year :

	1888-89.	1889-90.	Increase.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Capital outlay to the end of the year . . .	32,73,637	33,29,075	55,437
Gross Revenue (Realizations) . . .	14,99,392	16,35,424	1,36,032
Deduct—Previous net Revenue . . .	3,74,707	3,74,707	...
	11,24,685	12,60,717	1,36,032
Revenue Charges . . . . .	6,12,211	5,30,247	—81,964
Net Revenue . . . . .	5,12,474	7,30,470	2,17,996

There was an increase in the net revenue of Rs. 2,17,996, or 42·5 per cent., made up of an increase of Rs. 1,36,032 in gross revenue and a decrease in working expenses (revenue charges) of Rs. 81,964, which was principally due to the expenditure on loop bunds charged to the Ghar Canal Revenue Account in the previous year.

The net profit on the Capital outlay to the end of the year on the works of this class on the basis to the assessments of the year was 22·02 per cent. as compared with 15·25 per cent. in 1888-89 and with 12·69 per cent. in 1887-88.

These figures are also exclusive of the loss of assessment on jaghir lands, which amounted to Rs. 1,83,075 against Rs. 1,73,222 in the previous year.

37. The class, Works for which only Revenue Accounts are kept, gave the following results :

	1888-89.	1889-90.	Increase.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Gross Revenue (Realizations). . .	19,19,572	20,67,246	1,47,674
Revenue Charges (Working Expenses)	8,01,918	10,20,136	2,18,218
Net Revenue . . . . .	11,17,654	10,47,110	—70,544

The increase in revenue charges is principally due to the increased outlay on extensions and improvements (including the Pritchard Canal) and to the increased expenditure on repairs—both matters already alluded to and explained. These figures are also exclusive of the loss on assessment of jaghir lands, which on works of this class amounted to Rs. 1,54,259 as compared with Rs. 1,51,287 in 1888-89.

38. Under the head Agricultural Works for which neither Capital nor Revenue Accounts are kept, which head includes in the year under report as in the previous year the Kashmor and Kassimpur Bunds, the outlay was as follows :

	1888-89.	1889-90.
	Rs.	Rs.
Original Works . . . . .	3,003	1,09,224
Repairs . . . . .	43,361	35,869
Establishment and Tools and Plant . . . . .	16,736	45,249
Collection Charges . . . . .	663	991
	63,763	1,91,333

The increase is wholly on account of the loop bund found necessary for the safety of the Kashmor Bund in consequence of the erosion of the river bank. It has been decided, as remarked by the Commissioner in Sind, to include the whole line of bunds on the right bank of the river from Kashmor to Sehwan under this head in future instead of classifying some of them under this, and others under the head Revenue Account.

The receipts (realizations) under this head were :

	1888-89. Rs.	1889-90. Rs.
Direct . . . . .	217	262
Indirect . . . . .	6,634	10,131
Total . . . . .	6,851	10,393

39. Recapitulating the results of the year under all heads, they were as follows :

	Gross Revenue (Realizations)	Revenue Charges (Working Expenses).	Percent- age of column 3 to co- lumn 2	Net Revenue.	Percent- age of total.
1	2	3	4	5	6
	Rs.	Rs.		Rs.
Major Works . . . . .	10,62,006	3,06,699	29	7,55,307	26
Minor Works—
Works for which Capital and Revenue Accounts are kept . . . . .	16,35,424	5,30,247	33	11,05,177	38

Total, 1889-90 . . . . .	47,75,069	20,48,415	43	27,26,654	...
Total, 1888-89 . . . . .	44,58,953	17,66,958	39	26,91,985	...
Increase . . . . .	3,16,116	2,81,447	89	34,669	...

The improvement in gross revenue was thus Rs. 3,16,116, or 7 per cent. on the total of the previous year, but in consequence of the larger outlay on extensions and improvements and on repairs, the net revenue shows an increase of only Rs. 34,669, or 1·3 per cent.

40. The comparison in the above statement recapitulating the financial results gives an erroneous impression of the relative profitableness to the State of the several classes of canals, principally because, 1st, in the case of the Major Works and those Minor Works for which Capital and Revenue Accounts are kept, the outlay on improvements is written off to capital, whereas in the case of the works for which only Revenue Accounts are kept, it is charged to the working expenses of the year; 2nd, because the charges against the latter class include outlay on river embankments, which in the case of the Major Works (except the maintenance of the Mithrau Canal protective embankment and other bunds in the Eastern Nara) is not debited to the works concerned, the embankments being classed as Agricultural Works for which no Capital or Revenue Accounts are kept, the works being for the general protection of the country as well as for that of the canal irrigated area. If these charges and the indirect charges in the case of Capital Account works are severally eliminated, and the comparison is made on the basis of the outlay on maintenance and repairs, excluding that on river embankments, but including revenue collection charges, it would stand as follows :

	Gross Revenue.	Revenue Charges.	Percent- age of columns 3 to 2.	Net Revenue.	Percent- age of total.
1	2	3	4	5	6
Major Works.	Rs.	Rs.		Rs.

The Ghar Canal is shown separately like the Eastern Nara, because the Revenue charges debited to it also include the maintenance of bunds, for which separate figures are not available.

This table, taken in connection with that in paragraph 33, which shows the percentage which the outlay on repairs to canals only bears to the assessed revenue, gives a more accurate idea of the relative net value of the works, excluding expenditure on extensions and improvements. The Major Works still head the list, but the differences are much smaller.

41. The information regarding the kind of crops irrigated is confined to certain of the canals on which observations regarding the duty of the water are recorded (Table VIII). The orders for the introduction of a form of cultivation return for each canal (paragraph 28 of Government Resolution No. 51-W. I.—721, dated 31st March 1890) have not yet been given effect to. The figures, as compared with those of the previous year, are as follows :

	1888-89. Acres.	1889-90. Acres.
Jowari . . . . .	397,624	431,578

* Discrepancy in total is unexplained.

The Superintending Engineer remarks on the increase in rice cultivation on the Ghar Canal, but it is noticed that the area is still much below what it formerly was. The figures for the last six years are :

Ghar Canal.	Area of rice. Acres.
1884-85 . . . . .	153,448
1885-86 . . . . .	141,787
1886-87 . . . . .	128,889
1887-88 . . . . .	44,539
1888-89 . . . . .	60,169
1889-90 . . . . .	97,676

The duty of the water varied from 18.79 to 53.70 acres per cubic foot as compared with 29.07 to 77.11 acres in 1888-89. The decrease is explained in paragraph 32 of the Superintending Engineer's report.

42. The Superintending Engineer should arrange in future reports to give details of the kharif and rabi areas of jaghir cultivation for each canal, and to show in similar detail the assessments of jaghir revenue. These particulars are ascertainable in the present report only in the lump for the whole Province (table D), and only the realisations of jaghir assessments are shown by canals (table III).

43. The reports of the Committees appointed to consider the question of Works and Abkalani establishments referred to in paragraph 23 of the Superintending Engineer's report, and the question of the means to be taken to ensure the earlier submission of the report, are now before Government, and will be dealt with shortly.

44. During the year under report and the two preceding years the office of Superintending Engineer in Sind was held by the late Mr. G. N. R. Lambert, M. Inst. C.E. The material advancement of irrigation achieved in Sind during that period is due in great measure to his work and ability, and the intimate knowledge of the subject gained by him during his long and meritorious service in that Province.

45. The acknowledgments of Government are due to Mr. H. M. Thompson for the useful and interesting report he has submitted, and Government have pleasure in recognizing the good services of the officers of the Irrigation Department employed in Sind during the year under report.

No. 563-R.T., dated Simla, the 16th July, 1891.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Public Works Department.

Read again—

- Public Works Department Resolution No. 1446R.T., dated 12th December 1887.
- Public Works Department No. 660R.T., dated 23rd June 1888, to the Director General of Railways.
- Public Works Department No. 992R.T., dated 22nd September 1888, to the Director General of Railways.
- Public Works Department Resolution No. 1101R.T., dated 17th October 1888.
- Public Works Department No. 179R.T., dated 27th May 1889, to the Director General of Railways.
- Public Works Department No. 157R.T., dated 19th May 1890, to the Director General of Railways, and the letter to which it is a reply.

OBSERVATIONS.—The Government of India in Public Works Department Resolution No. 1446R.T., dated the 12th December 1887, now read again, prescribed for adoption on all railways worked directly by the State a single rate as the maximum and minimum for each of the five classes of goods.

2. The Government of India upon a reconsideration of the matter is of opinion—

- (a) that a separate maximum and a separate minimum rate should be fixed for each of the five different classes of goods within which Railway Administrations shall have the power to vary their charges without reference to Government; and
- (b) that all goods should be arranged in classes, and the transfer of goods from one class to another should not be made without the prior sanction of Government.

RESOLUTION.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council is accordingly pleased to rule that—

- (a) in supersession of the schedule forming Appendix A to Public Works Department Resolution No. 1446 R.T., dated the 12th December 1887, the accompanying Schedule A of maximum and minimum fares and rates for the carriage both of coaching and goods traffic shall be adopted for both local and through booking on all standard (5' 6") and metre (3' 3½") gauge railways administered directly by the State.
- (b) These schedules are to be regularly published in the Coaching and Goods Tariffs of each railway under the signature of the Secretary to the Government of India in the Public Works Department.

- (c) The classification of goods which appeared in the Goods Tariff of the East Indian Railway for October 1890 is to be adopted, and no alteration made therein without previous sanction.

The transfer from one class to another of articles of small importance may be made with the previous sanction of the Local Government or Administration controlling the railway; but in the case of the more important items, a reference must be made to, and the approval of the Government of India obtained, before any transfers are effected.

- (d) For the purposes of the foregoing rule, the Government of India is pleased to delegate to the Local Government or Administration controlling the railway the power of determining what are and what are not articles of importance; but it must be distinctly understood that every alteration in classification which may be sanctioned, as well as all alterations in rates, must be recorded in the Minutes of an Official Meeting.
- (e) Standard class lists are to be prepared periodically, and carefully scrutinized under the orders of the Local Government or Administration controlling the line before submission to the Government of India.

2. The Government of India does not wish at present to interfere with the levying of the extra charges which have for special reasons been approved on the Sind-Pishin Section of the North-Western Railway, and the schedule of maximum and minimum rates and fares prescribed for general adoption in paragraph 1 (a) ante is not therefore wholly applicable to the Sind-Pishin Railway.

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution be communicated to the Gov-

The Governments of Madras, Bombay, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and the Punjab.
The Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces.
The Residents at Hyderabad and Mysore.
The Agents to the Governor General for Rajputana, Central India, and Baluchistan.
The Consulting Engineers to the Government of India for Railways, Calcutta, Lucknow, and Central Division
The Accountant General, Public Works Department

ernment of Bengal, the Chief Commissioners of Burma and Assam, and the Director General of Railways for information and guidance; also to the Local Governments, Administrations, and Officers noted in the margin for information.

Ordered, also, that this Resolution, and its enclosures, be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.*A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

By Dr. Geo. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first four volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses, both chemical and industrial; trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributions have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names; so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 550 royal pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages, Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and G in 534 pages; Volume IV, letters G to L in 643 pages. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in six volumes by 1891; but a seventh volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary; and this, as a work of reference, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The price to subscribers will be in India Rs 30 and in England 2 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set. An extra charge for packing and postage will be made for the set—in India, at 8s. per volume, and for England at Rs 6 per volume.

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs 6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole sets.

*. No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately. The price to non-subscribers will be Rs 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England, exclusive of packing and postage.

Mr. Stephen Jacob from 7th April 1890 to 31st March 1891. The other circle offices were in charge of the officers mentioned below :—

Bombay . . .	Mr. R. Logan from 1st April 1890 to 31st March 1891.
Madras . . .	Mr. T. W. Rawlins from 1st April 1890 to 31st March 1891.

	{ „ F. J. Atkinson from 28th June 1890 to 25th September 1890.

ACCOUNTS AND AUDIT.

3. The monthly audit of the accounts has been duly reported for each office to the Comptroller General, and special audits have also been made of Bombay for 1889-90, of Lahore for 1889-90, and of Karachi for 1889-90, and from April 1890 to January 1891, by the Deputy Auditor General.

CIRCULATION.

4. The following figures show the state of the net circulation* at the beginning and end of the year :—

	Gross circulation.	Retired by other offices.	Net circulation.
1st April 1890 . . .	16,03,94,525	26,76,720	15,77,17,805
31st March 1891 . . .	25,93,44,775	24,40,285	25,69,04,490

The circulation at the end of the year was about 63 per cent. in excess of that at the commencement—a rise which is quite unparalleled in the history of the Department; the closing circulation was not, however, the highest point touched in the year; at the end of January the circulation rose to Rs27,66,03,000 or about 75 per cent. in excess of the opening circulation.

5. The average net circulation at the end of each month is compared below with that of the two preceding years :—

1888-89 . . . . .	16,43,16,288
1889-90 . . . . .	16,15,14,963
1890-91 . . . . .	22,88,92,275

This average for the year under report is 42 per cent. in excess of that of the previous year.

6. The variations in the net circulation of each circle are shown in the following table :—

* A note is in "Gross circulation" when it is not yet returned to the original office of issue; but if it has meantime been paid off by another office of issue, and is held by it pending return to the original office of issue, then it has ceased to be in "net circulation" though it is still part of the "Gross circulation."

7. The figures in the above table include the amounts in the reserve treasuries of Government, which, so far as they consist of notes, are always held in the higher denominations. These balances are excluded from the following table, which gives the monthly circulation in lakhs of the Calcutta, Bombay, Madras and other circles for each of the past three years :—

8. The circumstances of the year have been quite special ; the circulation began to expand from the very commencement and rose rapidly (especially during the second and third quarters), till at the end of December it exceeded the opening circulation by 11,38 lakhs ; after that it fell by 8½ crores in the remaining three months of the year.

The rise was almost entirely due to the American legislation regarding silver, the anticipation of the effects of which led to speculation in that metal, and to its importation into India in larger quantities than in any previous year of the last quarter of a century, with one solitary exception (1877-78) ; here, however, there was but little demand for money ; trade was stagnant owing to violent fluctuations in exchange, and a large proportion of the importations lay idle for months in the Presidency Banks, swelling the cash balances of those banks and the paper currency circulation in which those balances are chiefly held.

9. The following figures illustrate what has been said in the preceding paragraph, and indicate especially the inter-relation of the circulation with the imports of silver and the balances of the Presidency Banks :—

TOTAL .	...	7,63	14,17	...	2,54		...	...

10. The year 1890-91 stands out in marked contrast with the preceding year, the special feature of which was the smallness of the variation in the circulation. It may be noted that in the preceding year the Presidency Banks' Head Office cash balances never rose beyond about 8 crores against a maximum of about  $10\frac{1}{2}$  crores in the year under report, and that the demand for money during part of that year was so great that the minimum Bank rate of interest rose to from 10 to 12 per cent. for periods, for which in the year 1890-91 it was 3 and 4 per cent. The imports of silver in the year under report also exceeded those of the previous year by  $3\frac{1}{2}$  crores.

11. The increase was not confined to any one circle, though it was naturally largest in the Bombay and Calcutta circles. The fluctuations in Bombay are specially noticeable; the circulation of that circle at the end of December 1890 was about two and-a-half times what it was at the end of March 1890; and during December and January it exceeded that of the Calcutta circle. This was owing to the importations of silver being made chiefly in Bombay, and the money not being required elsewhere remained where the bullion was landed. As soon as the demand for money sprang up, the Bombay circulation was chiefly affected, and of the fall of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  crores, which took place in the last three months of the year,  $3\frac{1}{2}$  crores pertained to that circle. The importations of silver into Calcutta were also much larger than they have been in recent years.

12. The average circulation at the end of each month for the last five years (excluding Reserve Treasury figures) is given below:—

	Average.
April . . . . .	1,459
May . . . . .	1,476
June . . . . .	1,498
July . . . . .	1,518
August . . . . .	1,545
September . . . . .	1,629
October . . . . .	1,734
November . . . . .	1,774
December . . . . .	1,734
January . . . . .	1,689
February . . . . .	1,622
March . . . . .	1,628

As pointed out last year the general tendency is to the lowest circulation in April and May and the highest in October and November. Notwithstanding the special circumstances of the year under report, its circulation followed pretty closely this general tendency, the exception being that the highest circulation was in December instead of November.

13. The details of the net circulation of 31st March 1891 for each denomination of note are as follows:—

	NUMBER OF NOTES FOR RUPEES								TOTAL.
	5	10	20	50	100	500	1,000	10,000	Pieces.	Value.
Calcutta . . . . .	97,693	2,106,800	77,400	52,532	159,963	21,396	25,944	1,525	2,543,493	9,36,04,265

Total for 31st March 1889	429,663	2,782,663	264,642	183,011	364,318	32,963	40,537	1,949	4,100,535	15,73,78,135

14. While, as stated above, the value of the notes in circulation shows an excess of 63 per cent. over the value at the beginning of the year, the number of pieces shows an excess of only 743,107, over a total of 4,180,556 at the beginning of the year, or about 18 per cent. This indicates a disproportionately large increase in the circulation of the higher notes, as might have been anticipated from what has been already said as to the causes of the increased circulation.

15. Dividing the net circulation between notes of R500 and upwards and notes below R500, the values at the end of each of the last three years are—

	Notes of R100 and under.	Notes of R500 and upward.	TOTAL
	(Thousands of Rupees)
1888-89 . . . . .	8,08,80	7,64,98	15,73,78
1889-90 . . . . .	8,86,42	7,41,76	16,27,18
1890-91 . . . . .	9,87,48	15,81,56	25,69,04

The value of the higher notes in circulation at the end of the year 1890-91 was more than double their value at the commencement.

16. The increase in the lower notes has, however, been very considerable; it amounts to 18·2 per cent., and is far in excess of that shown in any previous year. This is an encouraging feature, for while it would be premature at present to reckon upon the continuance of the large circulation of higher notes, the increase in the notes of lower values may be considered a real increase of the ordinary circulation. As illustrating the extended use of these lower notes the Commissioner of Paper Currency, Bombay, writes as follows:—

The rise in the circulation of low value notes in March, coincident with the revival of trade and the rapid fall in the number of notes of R10,000 in circulation, would seem to indicate that besides being used for the purposes of ordinary retail trade they are also employed by the large traders and exporters in the purchase of staple trade commodities, such as cotton, wheat and oilseeds. The bulk of these purchases are undoubtedly made in coin, but that notes are also used for the purpose is indicated by the large receipts of small value notes in the remittances of surplus notes from Surat, one of the chief cotton-growing districts.

And in another part of his report the same Commissioner mentions that large issues of notes of R5 and R10 are made monthly to mill-owners and Railway Companies for paying the wages of their employes.

The Commissioner of Paper Currency, Rangoon, also writes —

The increase is most noticeable in the R5 and R10 denomination of notes, which are now freely taken by Burmans both in Upper and Lower Burma, and I understand notes have for the first time this year been accepted by Burmans in payment of their rice up country.

17. The value of each denomination of lower notes in circulation at the end of the last two years is compared below—

	1889-90.	1890-91.	Percentage of increase.

18. The number of 10-rupee notes far exceeds that of any other denomination, and amounts to about 67 per cent. of the whole of the notes in circulation.

The circulation of notes of this denomination in the Calcutta circle is quite phenomenal; the number of these notes in circulation on 31st March amounted to 88 per cent. of the total number of notes in circulation in that circle, the corresponding percentage for all the other circles taken together being only 50.

19. The average value of each note in circulation in each circle on the last day of the year, compared with the past two years, was—

	1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.		1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.
Calcutta Circle . . .	30	81	37	Karachi Circle . . .	63	49	53

Bombay „ . . .	42	35	58	Rangoon „ . . .	61	60	78
				All India . . .	38.3	37.7	52.2

There is, of course, an increase in every circle, and in some the increase is considerable. The average is smallest in Calcutta, owing to the overwhelming proportion of 10-rupee notes already noticed; Karachi and Bombay are next lowest: in the former the proportion of 10-rupee notes, and in the latter of 5-rupee notes, is considerably above the average. The steady increase in the 5-rupee note circulation in Bombay was noticed in last year's report, and it was pointed out that it was gradually compensating for the decrease of the circulation of these notes in the Calcutta circle, originally caused by the alarm engendered by some successful forgeries of notes of that value. The ebb in the latter circle was at last stayed during the year under report. The number of 5-rupee notes in circulation in these two circles at the close of each of the last seven years is given below—

	Calcutta.	Bombay.
1889-90 . . . . .	88,304	266,466
1888-89 . . . . .	99,403	242,575
1887-88 . . . . .	131,544	229,378
1886-87 . . . . .	189,322	186,443
1885-86 . . . . .	287,395	169,930
1884-85 . . . . .	316,193	164,240

It will be observed that in this period the circulation of these notes in the Bombay circle has almost doubled.

ANALYSIS OF CIRCULATION.

20. The differences in the outstanding balance of circulation between the Issue Registers and the Ledger have been cleared up as far as possible. In Bombay Mr. Groves continued to carry on the work of reconciliation with great perseverance, and reduced the difference as regards 10-rupee notes to 49 pieces distributed over 18 series; after his transfer the difference was still further reduced to 6 pieces. It would be useless to pursue the reconciliation any further as the labour involved would be very great.

In the other circles no special work has been undertaken this year. The small differences existing in some circles still remain uncleared and occasionally fresh differences are discovered; but the labour and expense involved in any further attempt at reconciliation would be quite incommensurate with the result to be obtained.

RESERVE.

Notwithstanding the increase of the investment mentioned below the proportion of the reserve held in coin and bullion increased from 62 per cent. to 73 per cent. owing to the very large rise in the circulation.

22. The half-yearly verifications of the Currency balances were held for all Circles and Sub-Circles on the 30th September 1890 and on 31st March 1891, and the balances of the last working day of each half-year were verified in accordance with the orders issued on the subject.

INVESTMENTS.

23. By Act XV of 1890 the maximum amount, out of the coin and bullion reserve, which may be invested in securities of the Government of India, was raised from 60 millions to 80 millions of rupees, and by Notification No. 5900, dated 19th December 1890, the amount to be so invested for the present was fixed at 70 millions of rupees. The investment of this extra crore was effected between January 6th and March 2nd and the actual amount invested was R99,99,978, for which Government 4 per cent. securities to the nominal value of R95,06,200 were purchased, the average cost being a fraction over R105-3.

24. The nominal value of the investment was thus raised to R7,20,37,300 which was held at a book value of R6,99,99,958-6-4. The book value thus corresponds as closely as possible with the limit of 70 millions of rupees fixed by the Notification quoted above. The average rate at which the whole investment is held on the books is a little over R97 against a present market-rate of about R107½.

25. The portion of the investment (5 lakhs) held in the 4½ per cent. loan of 1879 was transferred into the 4 per cent. loan of 1854-55 under Financial Department Notification No. 8117, dated 25th June 1890, so that the whole investment is now held in 4 per cent. paper. At the end of the year the portions held in the loans of 1854-55 and 1865 were transferred into the loan of 1842-43, in which the bulk of the investment was already held.

PROFITS OF CIRCULATION.

26. The interest realized and credited under the head "Profits on Note circulation" is R25,36,628-0-7. It is made up as follows:—

The transactions at Agencies are exchange transactions with Treasuries, as the Agencies do not deal directly with the public, but only enable the Treasuries to do so to a greater extent than would otherwise be the case.

The receipts from other currency circles represent notes cashed at other Currency Circles from March 16th, 1890, to March 15th, 1891, and returned during the year under report to the circles to which they belong.

The receipts for Mint certificates are confined to Bombay where the Reserve Treasury Balance is held almost exclusively in notes; coin received from the Mint into the Reserve Treasury is at once exchanged for notes and the Mint certificates when they fall due are consequently repaid to Currency by the return of the notes, which are then cancelled. This practice swells by a large amount both the issues and receipts at Bombay. In Calcutta the Mint certificates are paid in coin.

The remittances are for the most part payments and receipts of one Currency Office, in consideration of receipts or payments at another.

28. The issues and receipts for the last four years are compared below :—

	Issues.	Receipts.
1890-91 . . . . .	1,03,24,77 750	93,35,27,500

1888-89 . . . . .	90,39,02,285	91,17,66,030
1887-88 . . . . .	83,20,40,605	80,55,80,115

29. The main increase occurs in issues over the counter, which exceed those of the previous year by more than 13 crores, while the receipts over the counter were only 2 crores in excess. The remittance transactions between Circles were much smaller than in the previous year; the amount of these transactions depends on the general Resource Operations of the Empire, which again are to some extent affected by the transfers granted for the convenience of commerce, especially between the Presidency Towns. The unusually large balances held in the Government treasuries (chiefly owing to the improvement in exchange) and the plethora of money in the Banks naturally reduced the number of the remittances both for Government and trade purposes.

30. The aggregate gross issues and receipts of the several denominations of notes at both offices of issue and agencies during the year were as follows :—

The letter (c) marks the cases in which the foreign notes are legally encashable, i.e., shows the amounts of Sub-Circle notes encashed by their respective Head Circles, aggregating Rs 1,91,76,915.

34. The comparison for four years is as follows :—

Foreign Circles. Notes cashed at—	Rs 1887-88.	Rs 1888-89.	Rs 1889-90.	Rs 1890-91.

35. As compared with last year, the increase is almost confined to Calcutta, all the other circles showing a decrease except Karachi. The increase at Calcutta was chiefly in the encashment of Bombay and Lahore notes. The rise in the total of Bombay notes cashed at Calcutta was the noticeable feature of last year's return. The figures for the last four-years have been—

					Bombay notes cashed at Calcutta in thousands of Rupees.
1887-88	.	.	.	.	1,14,44
1888-89	.	.	.	.	1,37,35
1889-90	.	.	.	.	2,13,07
1890-91	.	.	.	.	2,65,92

As explained last year the receipt of foreign circle notes in payment of Government dues facilitates the employment of Bombay notes as a cheap method of remittance to Calcutta.

36. Taking Allahabad and Lahore notes cashed at Calcutta together, the increase compared with last year is considerable; but last year the amounts so encashed were exceptionally low. The figures for the last five years have been as follows :—

Head Office.	Sub-Circle.	(In thousands of Rupees.)	1886-87.	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.
Calcutta	Allahabad	.	1,02,16	90,75	91,40	58,48	67,10
	Lahore	.	88,63	86,86	50,85	60,40	94,35

The Presidency Bank holds a portion of its reserve in Allahabad and Lahore notes, and the place of encashment (the Head Office or the Sub-circle Office) depends often on the circumstances of the moment.

38. The receipts and issues for the past four years are given below :—

1887-88 . . . . .	29,07,75,377	26,80,13,604

39. Notwithstanding the purchase of a crore of Government securities, the net result was an increase of the coin reserve by 9½ crores, and the closing balance was more than double the opening balance. The receipts over the counter and for mint certificates exceeded those of the previous year by about 7 crores, and the issues over the counter were less than those of the previous year by about 2½ crores.

STATE OF THE COINAGE.

40. The following table shows the operations during the year in the withdrawal from circulation of shroff-marked coins and their remittance to the mint:—

(a) Excludes 44 remitted to N.-W. P.

(b) Includes 44 received from India.

The figures given in previous years included light weight and other defaced coins; but these have been excluded from the present return.

The total amount withdrawn from circulation is almost exactly the same as in the previous year. Shroff-marked coin is found chiefly in the North-Western Provinces and the Punjab. The amount recoined was smaller than usual, as fewer remittances of current coin were necessary, and the amounts of uncurrent coin available for remittance were too small to make it worth while to remit them by themselves.

41. The following shows the operation of the cutting clauses of the Coinage Act during 1890:—

As usual Bombay shows the largest amount of light-weight coin reduced by wear and tear, and the North-Western Provinces of that reduced by illegal means. Burma still has the pre-eminence in the matter of counterfeit coin.

42. I append the usual statements of whole Rupees coined and issued from the Indian Mints during the years 1835 to 1890, and of the proportions of each of those annual issues found on examination, in every District Treasury, of a bag of Rupees of the coin ordinarily current in the districts.

43. The coinage of 1890 was larger than in any previous year except 1877; but owing to the accumulation of coin in the Currency Reserve the portion that passed into actual circulation was not large, and the figure for the coinage of 1890 in this year's census is accordingly lower than usual.

Bombay has the lowest proportion of old coin in circulation and the North-Western Provinces and the Punjab have the highest. In Burma the proportion of old coin is low.

The gross transactions were larger, but the net issues slightly smaller than in the previous year. Owing to a misunderstanding of the orders on the subject the Deputy Commissioner of Paper Currency, Karachi, was unable always to meet the demands of the public for small coin. The matter has, however, now been set right, and detailed instructions have been issued by the Commissioner.

47. The operation of the Bullion Clauses of the Currency Act is also shown in further detail of the transactions between Mint and Currency in the following figures :—

Balance of bullion held on Treasury account, i.e., the amount by which the deliveries of new coin failed to meet the Mint certificates payable by Treasury to Currency.

52. The number does not differ materially from that of the previous year, but the total value refunded was considerably lower. As explained in last year's report, the high value in the previous year was due to one case which involved several notes of high value.

53. The Bombay Commissioner notices the large number of cases in which parties allow their claims to remain unrealized, though they have proved them and have only to execute an indemnity bond to secure payment. There are also many such cases in the Calcutta Office.

54. A curious case occurred at the Calcutta Office, which is not included in the above statement. Two notes of R100 each were left on the counter, the presenter, apparently a wrongful holder, having disappeared on being asked his name and address. These notes were retained by the Currency Office for some time and were ultimately paid on a bond to the rightful owner on proof of his claim.

FRAUD AND FORGERY.

55. Four cases of suspicion of fraud, with reference to mis-matched and half notes, are brought to notice in the Annual Reports. They were of the usual kind, a false claim being made on half notes, which the claimant had either received as a mis-matched note or had become dishonestly possessed of. Two of the cases occurred in the Allahabad Circle and two in the Madras Circle. In one case in each Circle a conviction was obtained, the culprits being sentenced to pay fines of R100 each. Such a sentence appears very inadequate, especially as in one case the offender was a clerk in the Government Treasury. The second case, in the Allahabad Circle, is somewhat complicated and is still under investigation; while in the other case in Madras, the Magistrate considered it doubtful whether a charge of attempt at cheating could be sustained, though the circumstances were very suspicious; a prosecution was accordingly not instituted.

The Bombay Commissioner also writes that "a considerable number of cases have occurred of double claims on the same notes, each claimant depositing half of the note and stating that the other half was lost in transit by post." He considers the evidence is against the acceptance of the view that they are fraudulent claims; none of them have yet been admitted and the matter is still under enquiry.

56. The following cases of forged notes have come to light during the year. All the forged notes except three purported to be of the Calcutta Circle:—

Of 5-rupee notes 12 pieces.

57. Of the 5-rupee notes nine, which are of the  $\frac{R}{74}$  series of the Calcutta Circle, apparently belong to the same set as those which were first uttered in 1883-84. It is satisfactory to notice that their number is gradually decreasing. The remaining three notes are of the Bombay Circle. They belong to a new forgery, and though the Commissioner reports that they are "rough imitations executed with pen and ink and a little colouring matter," he adds that the investigation made by the Police showed that they had passed through several hands without detection, and remarks that this proves how easily ignorant and illiterate persons can be deceived by even the roughest imitation.

58. Of the forged 10-rupee notes 29 are of the  $\frac{R}{32}$  series, for issuing which Mohendro Nath Chatterjee was sentenced to six years' imprisonment in 1888. These notes have had a wide circulation; and as was the case last year, the largest number was presented in the Punjab, seventeen having been presented there, ten in Calcutta, one in Bombay, and one in the North-Western Provinces. Ten forged notes of the Calcutta Circle,  $\frac{R}{77}$  series, known as the Punjab Forgery (mentioned in the report of 1888-89), were presented in the Calcutta Circle, and two of the  $\frac{R}{34}$  series of the same circle (the Andul Forgery) were presented, one in Calcutta and one in Lahore. No forgeries of these last two series came to light last year, and it was hoped that they had disappeared, but they still crop up occasionally.

59. The two remaining 10-rupee forged notes were detected in the Calcutta Circle. They pertain to a new forgery, but are a very clumsy imitation, the paper being flimsy and without water-marks, and the printing coarse and unequal. It is to be hoped therefore that they will not have a wide circulation.

60. In none of these cases of small value notes were any prosecutions instituted. As a rule, they are tendered by persons of unimpeachable honesty, and owing to the almost universal practice of not keeping any record of small notes, it is generally impossible to trace them back through many hands.

61. Two out of the three forgeries of Rs300 notes appear to have belonged to the same set as the six detected last year; one of them was sent to the Currency Office by a European firm, which had already suspected it to be a forgery; they had all, however, passed through several hands, and were sufficiently good imitations to deceive well-to-do native merchants. All of them were finally traced back to the village of Ekdil in the Etawah District; but one of the notes was so much clumsier looking than the rest of the set that it is doubtful whether it was the work of the men who were convicted last year.

62. The note brought to light by the European firm was traced to Buxar, Jubbulpore, Banda, and Cawnpore. A man who had attempted to pass it at Cawnpore (where it was refused encashment on the ground of its "dirty appearance" and not on suspicion of forgery) and had eventually succeeded in passing it at Banda, after a futile attempt to get it cashed at the Treasury (where also the encashment was refused on other grounds than suspicion of forgery), was convicted of passing the note with dishonest knowledge and intent, and was sentenced to six years' rigorous imprisonment.

63. The second case came to light in the Etawah District; a man's house was searched on suspicion of theft and the forged note was found there; he cleared himself, and suspicion then attached to the informer, but sufficient proof could not be obtained and the case was dropped.

64. The third case is still under investigation and full details are not at present available.

REMITTANCES OF SILVER.

65. The following is the detail of silver remittances :—

		R
Calcutta to Rangoon	.	40,00,000
Bombay to Rangoon	.	25,00,000
Lahore to Calcutta	.	7,19,800 (shroff-marked coin).
Bombay to Calcutta	.	1,29,43,377 (29,43,377 of this was of silver bullion).
Allahabad to Lahore	.	87,50,000
Bombay to Madras	.	20,00,000
Bombay to Karachi	.	75,20,000
Karachi to Bombay	.	8,000 (shroff-marked coin).

The remittances from Bombay to Calcutta and Madras were much smaller than usual owing to the small demand for money and the larger importations of silver into Calcutta.

TREASURY STATISTICS.

66. The transactions in notes at the several treasuries in India during 1888-89, 1889-90 and 1890-91 have been as follows :—

The amount received from the public in payment of Government dues shows no signs of diminution, though the increase this year is not so large as it has been for the last few years.

67. The total Treasury transactions in notes during the last three years have been as follows (in lakhs of Rupees) :—

69. Statement V shows the proportion of Treasury and Bank balance which in each Province was held in the form of Currency Notes.

Including Reserve Treasuries the percentage of balances held in notes was :—

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURE.

70. The figures of expenditure given in statement III are only approximate, as the accounts for 1890-91 are not yet closed. The actual receipts and expenditure in 1889-90 were more by R4,344 and R10,354 respectively than the approximate figures given in last year's report; details of the differences are given in the foot-note to statement III. The charges for 1890-91 exceed those for 1889-90 by R9,410; this increase is due to the difference under the cost of note forms, the cost of a larger number having been adjusted in 1890-91.

Simla, the 30th July, 1891.

No. 272.—The following Rules for Quarantine against cholera which have been made by the Bombay Government in exercise of the power conferred by Section I, Act I of 1870, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, are published for general information. The Rules have effect from the 18th July 1891 as a temporary measure in the ports of Aden, Perim, and the Somali Coast:

I.—The Commander of every vessel, including buggalows or other native craft, arriving from the Arabian Coast of the Red Sea between Tor and Cape Babelmandeb shall, before entering the harbour, indicate by signal the port from which such vessel has come.

II.—Such Commander shall not, except as hereinafter provided, allow any communication, either with the pilot boat, except orally, or with the shore, or with any other vessel or boat in the harbour.

III.—Immediately on arrival the Commander shall cause the letter R of the Commercial Signal Code to be hoisted, and shall keep the said flag flying during his stay in port or until authorized by the Health Officer to haul it down. If communication with the shore is not desired, the vessel shall anchor at such place as may be pointed out by the Port authorities, having regard to the season of the year. GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.
REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Weather Review of India for the week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, July 25th, 1891.

Throughout the whole of the week under review the pressure conditions and the wind circulation over India have been more or less of the monsoon type, and there has been a gradually increasing monsoon over the Arabian Sea. Over the greater part of the Indian region these favourable conditions of pressure and wind were accompanied with general, fairly continuous, and moderately heavy rain, but Behar and Upper India were for some days without rain, though a steady south-easterly and easterly wind blew over the whole of that region. It was not, however, until the 23rd, when a branch of the monsoon current from the Arabian Sea began to blow across Rajputana into North-Western India, that rain commenced at all steadily in the north-west. At first the fall was confined to the hills and the immediate neighbourhood of the hills, but on the 24th rain was reported also from nearly all the plains stations in the North-Western Provinces and from the extreme south-east of the Punjab, and on the 25th rain had fallen over the whole of the Gangetic plain, Rajputana, and the south and east of the Punjab.

Throughout the whole week there has been a marked tendency to the formation of cyclonic storms in different parts of the Indian region—a result due to the general increase in the strength of the monsoon current. On the 19th and 20th a large shallow depression was shown over West Bengal and the east of the North-Western and Central Provinces. This disturbance occasioned much heavy rain in the Central Provinces. On the 24th a second depression appeared over much the same region as that given above, and on the same date a third depression appeared in Guzerat, giving heavy rain to Kattiawar, Guzerat, and the North Konkan. On the 25th a well-defined depression appeared over the Sunderbuns, and heavy rain fell around the north-west angle of the Bay, while in Guzerat, the North Konkan, and Kattiawar the fall continued heavy.

Temperature.—The mean temperature of the whole week for the whole of India has been  $2.1^{\circ}$  above the normal average. The hottest day was the 22nd, when the mean was  $3.8^{\circ}$  above the average, the coolest day the 25th, when it was  $\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$  below.

The following table shows the variation of temperature from the normal average on each day for the principal Provinces of India:

PROVINCE.	JULY							Mean variation for week.
	19th.	20th.	21st.	22nd.	23rd.	24th.	25th.
Burma	+ 0.5	+ 0.4	— 0.9	— 0.4	— 0.5	— 1.3	— 0.9	— 0.4
Bengal and Assam	+ 0.7	+ 1.3	+ 0.8	+ 1.3	+ 0.4	— 0.9	— 0.9	+ 0.4
North-Western Provinces.	+ 4.4	+ 6.4	+ 8.1	+ 6.5	+ 2.9	+ 1.6	— 0.6	+ 4.2
Punjab	+ 3.4	+ 6.0	+ 8.4	+ 10.8	+ 7.7	+ 5.3	— 1.0	+ 5.8
Bombay	+ 0.2	— 1.0	— 1.8	— 0.3	— 0.5	— 0.1	— 0.7	— 0.6
Berar and Central Provinces	— 2.0	— 2.1	— 0.3	+ 1.5	+ 0.8	+ 1.0	— 0.9	— 0.3
Guzerat and Central India	+ 3.9	+ 5.1	+ 5.4	+ 6.2	+ 5.4	+ 3.1	— 0.6	+ 4.1
Sind and Rajputana	+ 5.0	+ 6.7	+ 8.5	+ 9.4	+ 6.7	+ 1.7	+ 0.1	+ 5.4
Madras	+ 1.4	— 0.7	+ 0.2	— 0.6	+ 0.6	+ 0.7	+ 1.5	+ 0.4
Mean for whole India	+ 1.9	+ 2.5	+ 3.2	+ 3.8	+ 2.6	+ 1.2	— 0.4	+ 2.1

The above table shows that in Burma, Bombay, and the Central Provinces the mean temperature of the week was slightly below the normal. In all the other Provinces there was an excess, which ranged from  $\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$  in Bengal, Assam, and Madras to  $5\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$  in the Punjab, Sind, and Rajputana. In Sind and Rajputana every day was warmer than usual, but in all the other Provinces one or more days had temperatures lower than usual.

The maxima remained very high in North-Western India until quite the close of the week, the following being the daily record of the highest recorded maximum :

		Max.	Excess.
July	19th, Jacobabad	108°4'	1°2'
"	20th, Dera Ismail Khan	113°5'	9°4'
"	21st, Jacobabad	116°6'	9°5'
"	22nd Ditto	119°0'	12°5'
"	23rd, Montgomery	120°4'	?
"	24th Ditto	113°4'	?
"	25th Ditto	111°9'	?

Rain.—The rainfall returns for the week under review show that rain has fallen in all parts of India except Sind. The week's fall ranges from 18½ inches in Tenasserim, 16 inches in the Konkan, 15 inches in Coorg, and 10 inches in Lower Burma and Arakan to less than ½ inch in the Punjab (South and West) and to less than 1/10 of an inch in the south of the Carnatic. The relative distribution agrees fairly with the normal. The third column of the table shows that, notwithstanding the general character of the rainfall, the fall throughout India was somewhat short of the average, thus, while 20 divisions had more than the average amount, 29 divisions reported a deficiency. The regions of excessive rain were Burma, Orissa, the West Coast of the Peninsula, the central parts of the country, Guzerat, Kattiawar, the Deccan, and the East Coast (North and Central); while regions of deficiency were Assam, Bengal (except Orissa), the North-Western Provinces, the Punjab, Sind, Rajputana, Madras (Central and South), and the East Coast (South). The excess ranged from 8½ inches in Tenasserim and the Konkan, 7 inches in Coorg, and over 4 inches in Lower Burma, Berar, and the Central Provinces (West) to about ½ inch in Central Burma, Kattiawar, Central India, the East Coast (North), and Hyderabad. The greatest absolute deficiency was 3½ inches in Assam (Surma), but the week's fall was more than 2 inches in defect in East Bengal, Behar, and the east of the North-Western Provinces.

The general rainfall, and more particularly the heavy fall over the central parts of the country and the West Coast, and the fairly heavy rain over North-Western India, has considerably improved the condition of the seasonal rainfall as compared with the normal. There is still, as is shown by the last column of the table, a great preponderance of divisions in which the seasonal rainfall is short, but the amount of the deficiency is less than it was last week. Burma, Madras (South-Central), Coorg, and Mysore are still the only regions in which there has been any excess, but the amount of the deficiency in the other parts of India has decreased. The greatest deficiency is in Oudh, the east of the North-Western Provinces, the Punjab, and Rajputana (East), where the defect is 70 per cent. of the normal.

The record of maximum falls shows much larger amounts than have hitherto been reported. The following gives the principal falls in the different districts :

Tenasserim	Amherst	Thaton	28·23
Lower Burma	Bassein	Sudder	15·72

Weekly Report on the State of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 25th July.—Rainfall general in Kistna, Godavari, Nilgiris, South Canara, Travancore, Malabar, and parts of Vizagapatam and Kurnool; fair in parts of Ganjam, Nellore, Bellary, and Coimbatore; slight elsewhere. Rainfall up to date much below average in all districts except Nilgiris and Travancore, and deficiency of rain is greatly retarding agricultural operations in several districts, notably in Nellore, Chingleput, North and South Arcot, and Salem. Distress deepening in Chingleput and North Arcot, but considerably relieved in the Royachoti taluk of Cuddapah and in parts of Coimbatore by recent rains. Prices rising in Ganjam, Vizagapatam, Cuddapah, Chingleput, North Arcot, South Arcot, Tanjore, Trichinopoly, Madura, Tinnevelly, Coimbatore, and Salem; falling in Godavari, Kistna, Nellore, Bellary, Kurnool, and Nilgiris; stationary in the rest; but in the affected tracts, in most of which ragi is the grain consumed by the poorer classes, it is dearer than 18 imperial seers per rupee only in Chingleput and the adjoining parts of the Kalahasti zemindari, where it is in parts as dear as 15 seers per rupee. About 6,900 coolies employed on works on the last day of the week in Chingleput, 4,353 in the Wandiwash taluk, 1,318 in the Kalahasti zemindari, 1,840 in Coimbatore, 738 in Nellore, 628 in Tinnevelly, 649 in Malabar, and 149 in Cuddapah. Number fed at kitchens—945, including over 199 women and 516 children, in five taluks of Chingleput; 784, including 139 women and 584 children, in the Wandiwash taluk; 1,221, including 905 children, in the Kalahasti zemindari. Loans granted for wells up to date—Rs. 1,92,172 in Chingleput, Rs. 6,519 in Cuddapah, Rs. 14,270 in Tinnevelly, Rs. 500 in Coimbatore, and Rs. 200 in Nellore. North Arcot figures incorrectly reported. Wells constructed—656 in Chingleput and 5 in Tinnevelly. Wells under construction—1,602 in Chingleput, 54 in the Wandiwash taluk, 104 in Cuddapah, 61 in Tinnevelly, and 6 in Coimbatore.

Bombay.—For week ending 29th July.—Rain general and sufficient throughout Konkan, Khandeish, Nasik, Poona, and Satara, where prospects are greatly improved; scanty in Ahmednagar, Sholapur, and Bijapur, where more is urgently wanted for sowing. Reports from other districts not received. Communication with Guzerat impeded owing to heavy rain. Prices of food-grains generally steady.

Bengal.—For week ending 28th July.—Rainfall has been general, but lighter than usual at this season. In Orissa the rainfall of the week has improved prospects of crops. Cultivation of winter rice is proceeding, but is still backward in some parts. Condition of early rice, jute, and other autumn crops fair. Sugar-cane is doing well. Early rice and jute are being harvested in parts of North and East Bengal. Indigo manufacture is generally progressing. Locusts are still hovering about in some districts, but are doing only slight damage to crops. No important change in prices reported during the week.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 29th July.—Rain has fallen during the week in all reporting districts except Gorakhpur. The fall was light in the eastern districts generally, and heavy in the central and sub-montane and hill districts. It has everywhere admitted of the resumption of ploughing and sowing which are now in rapid progress, and prospects have on the whole markedly improved during the week. Locusts have done some damage in Fyzabad, Jhansi, and Banda, and fodder for cattle is scarce in Lucknow, Cawnpore, and Jhansi. Prices stationary in Lucknow, Cawnpore, Agra, and Meerut, but rising in Benares, Gorakhpur, Allahabad, and Southern Oudh.

Punjab.—For week ending 29th July.—Rain has fallen in all districts except Mooltan. Prices unsettled in Delhi; rising in Hissar, Lahore, and Peshawar; falling in Rawalpindi; and stationary elsewhere. Average prices of wheat and jowar 15½ and 11 seers per rupee. Harvesting of rabi crops nearly over. Kharif sowings commenced. Prospects improved by recent rain. More rain still wanted. Sowings on barani lands not yet commenced at Lahore for want of rain. Prospects of standing crops are generally reported good. Cotton crop is said to be suffering from drought in Lahore. Locusts are still found in Ferozepore and Rawalpindi; they are disappearing from Dera Ismail Khan. Fodder insufficient in Hissar, scarce in Delhi, average in Dera Ismail Khan, and sufficient elsewhere.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 29th July.—Good and sufficient rain in all districts, except in the Sihora and Murwara tahsils of Jubbulpore, where more is required. A break would be beneficial in the cotton and jowari growing districts. Agricultural operations progressing well. Prospects good, especially of rice. Flight of locusts reported from the Bilaspur district, but they did only slight damage to rice. Prices steady.

Assam.—For week ending 29th July.—Weather seasonable. Harvesting of summer and transplanting of winter paddy continue. Tea doing well.

Burma.—For week ending 25th July.—In Lower Burma prospects are favourable, and ploughing and sowing are well advanced. The want of rain is severely felt all over Upper Burma. Standing crops and rice nurseries are withering, and prospects are very unfavourable. Prices, however, do not show any tendency to rise.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 29th July.—Rainfall good in parts of the Shimoga and Kadar districts and slight elsewhere. Crops and prospects good, but more rain required in parts for sowing operations. Outturn of harvest generally fair. Prices risen in the Mysore district slightly.

Rainfall in Coorg during the week favourable for cultivation. Transplanting of rice progressing. Coffee crops generally good. Prospects of season continue good. Labour abundant.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 29th July.—Average rainfall 6·17 inches. Cotton sowing nearly everywhere completed, and plants generally in good condition. Sowing of jowari continues. Fodder still reported insufficient in parts of the Akola and Amraoti districts, especially in the Morsi taluk, where cattle are suffering.

Rainfall during the week slight in Hyderabad. Sowing of kharif crops continues. Sowing of abi crops commenced in some places; elsewhere it is in abeyance for want of sufficient rain. Prices stationary.

Central India.—For week ending 29th July.—Rain has fallen throughout the Agency. Prospects improved generally since last week.

Rajputana.—For week ending 29th July.—Heavy rain fell during the week in seven States; moderate in two States and at Ajmere; slight in three States; no rain in Bikanir. Agricultural operations progressing generally. Standing crops improving. Maize crop in Ajmere-Merwara slightly damaged by locusts, which are also still found in the Marwar district and at Dholpore. Large numbers of cattle died in the Pindwara district of Sirohi; some are still dying in Ajmere-Merwara and Jeypore. Cattle improving in Harowtee and in fair condition elsewhere. Pasturage or fodder scarce everywhere, but fresh grass is coming up owing to recent rains. Cotton crops damaged in Jeypore. Prices steady generally; rising in Dholpore; falling in Marwar. 6,089 persons employed on relief works in Ajmere-Merwara. Gratuitous relief given to 150 persons who are unable to work. Scarcity prevails in some villages of Bikanir. Average prices of barley, maize, and jowar in Ajmere 17, 16½, and 16 seers per rupee.

Nepal.—For week ending 23rd July.—Rainfall general. State and prospects of the crops good.

Read—

A report on the working of the office of the Secretary under the Inventions and Designs Act (V of 1888) during the year 1890.

RESOLUTION.

At the commencement of the year the Inventions and Designs office was placed under the superintendence of the officer in charge of the Mathematical Instrument Office of the Survey of India in view of the facilities afforded by the arrangement for the examination of inventions connected with mechanical contrivances in an office which deals with cognate matters. The consequent reduction of references to the Public Works Department is indicated by a fall from 92 in 1889 to 29 in 1890.

2. Statistics of the working of the Inventions and Designs office are given in the appended statement. The total number of applications received was 319 against 336 in the previous year. Of these, 96 were referred to experts against 218 in 1889, the remainder being dealt with under the advice of the officer appointed under the Act. Permission to file specifications was accorded in the case of 176 applications and refused in the case of 37, while 106 applications remained pending at the close of the year. Many of the latter were filed under section 25 of the Act after an application for a patent had been made in England, and awaited the completion of the patent there. The Government of India, however, have ruled that the sealing of the English patent should not, save in exceptional cases, be in future awaited. Delay is not infrequently caused by the failure of applicants to comply with the requirements of the law in framing their applications for leave to file a specification and the correspondence which is entailed thereby.

3. Out of 192 specifications of inventions which were filed, 18 were of inventions connected with railways and tram-cars, 16 dealt with processes for the treatment of fibres and cotton in various stages of their conversion into textile fabrics, and 12 were concerned with the manipulation of mineral ores. There were 7 inventions dealing with the various stages of tea manufacture, 5 relating to the preparation of indigo, and 6 intended to facilitate and improve methods of irrigation, but only 3 inventions dealt with agricultural implements. Eight inventors of punkah machines were granted exclusive privilege during the year.

4. The public made more use of the provisions of the Act for the registration of designs in 1890 than in the previous year. Forty-nine designs, the majority of which were patterns of textile fabrics, were presented for registration, of which 44 were registered.

5. The fees collected amounted to Rs. 10,406-10, of which Rs. 676-10 were paid for the inspection of registers and for copies of specifications and drawings.

ORDER.—Ordered, that the above Resolution be forwarded to the Local Governments and Administrations noted on the margin, and that a copy be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Circular No. <sup>17.</sup><sub>105</sub>

Read—

Resolution of this Department, No. 16-A., dated 1st March 1883, on the subject of the formation of Fuel and Fodder Reserves.

Also—

No. 21-F., dated 12th July 1889, on damage caused to Forests by the grazing of sheep and goats.

R E S O L U T I O N.

In the first Resolution cited in the preamble, the Government of India asked for the advice and co-operation of Local Governments as to the action which should be taken for the better protection of the cattle of the country during seasons of drought, and at the same time indicated the general outlines of the scheme which appeared most likely to secure the desired result.

2. This scheme, while seeking to encourage the people to store more carefully the grasses produced in their fields, and, where possible, to store hay, had for one of its principal objects the extended growth and reproduction of the fodder trees and bushes on which Indian cattle are so largely dependent for food-supply in years of scarcity. The question was asked whether in some cases land could not be purchased for the above purpose, and information was called for which would indicate how far the cattle in each district required protection, the extent of waste land available, and the best means of managing any land which could be set apart for the purpose.

3. The Government of India have now before them the replies of the Local Governments and Administrations addressed, a summary of which is appended to this Resolution. It will be observed that the replies are still incomplete; but the Government of India are convinced, from a perusal of the reports now under consideration, that the subject deserves to be further analysed and studied in greater detail before it is safe to draw any final conclusions.

4. The lands of each Province may for the purposes of this Resolution be ranged under three classes, vis. :—

1. Cultivation.

2. { Pastures.
Fodder reserves.

3. Forests, properly so called.

5. The Government of India accept the proposition that no impediment should be offered to the extension of permanent cultivation wherever the welfare of the agricultural communities demands it. It is only in cases in which the expansion of arable land is less profitable or—unless protected by a sufficient area of pastures, fodder reserves, and forests—is unsafe that restriction is required. While it is true that in some richly irrigated tracts no grazing or fodder reserves and but few forests are required, and that it is more profitable to grow what food the cattle may require in the cultivated fields and to import timber and other forest produce needed by the population, it is equally true that in other less favoured localities the profitable continuance of agriculture depends upon the existence of grazing lands, of fuel and fodder reserves, or forests.

6. It must first be considered to what extent “pastures,” “fodder reserves,” and “forests” are required in each locality in order to meet public wants and to secure the proper protection of agriculture or the full efficiency of agricultural operations; and an analysis of each district should be made in special regard to this question.

7. The next question is that of the management of areas brought under treatment in each class. The general principle which applies to all of them is that they should be permanently maintained in such manner as to provide a maximum benefit to the adjacent population at a minimum cost to the State. Their management must, therefore, be conducted on mercantile principles, so far as these are consistent with full regard to proved and acknowledged rights. With this proviso, the produce of the areas taken under management should be disposed of at market rates to be fixed from time to time with due consideration of the local demand and supply and any other circumstances affecting the value of the produce.

8. By pastures are meant grazing lands from which cattle, including sheep and goats, are not to be otherwise than temporarily excluded, but which are to be brought under a definite system of management. What that system should be is a question which requires enquiry and perhaps experiment in each locality.

In some cases it may be found necessary to close lands selected as pastures against grazing during part of the year, opening them only when the annually recurring scarcity of fodder begins: in others a longer period will be required for the recovery of the grass, while in certain tracts it may be found expedient to divide the pasture lands into blocks, opened in rotation, in which the number of cattle admitted will be restricted in accordance with the supply of grass by the imposition of sufficiently high grazing-fees or otherwise.

The methods to be adopted will, however, vary from district to district, and the Government of India are content at present with an expression of their desire that an investigation should be set on foot and continuously maintained, and that the responsible authorities should not on the recurrence of a fodder famine in any district or tract be exposed to a charge that the requirements of the locality in connection with the maintenance of a fodder supply had not been seriously investigated and considered in each case. It is hardly necessary to add that the system of management should be such as to exclude as far as possible all interference on the part of subordinate officers.

9. Fodder Reserves are lands in which, while the yield of grass is improved, the growth of fodder other than grass—e.g., bushes and trees edible by cattle—is promoted, and which must for the attainment of this object be, except in years of great drought, absolutely closed against grazing, the fodder being cut and collected. Their future treatment requires observation and study.

The advantages of such reserves are that under proper treatment the average supply of fodder, whether in the form of plants, trees, or grasses, is larger than under the system of open grazing; that a judicious system of supplying leaves and lopped branches to cattle will maintain a continually increasing supply of fodder without injuring the bushes or trees; that the grasses will, in the form of hay or cut fodder, produce annually more food than if grazed during the period of growth; that in years of extremity, when cattle are admitted to the reserves, fodder bushes and trees, being able to withstand long-continued drought, afford a supply of food upon which the cattle can fall back when grasses and more shallow-rooted plants are burnt up by the heat; and, finally, that the grasses themselves will be cut and stacked so as to form a store of food when the growing vegetation in the open grounds has been exhausted.

10. By forests proper are meant lands which have been set apart primarily either for the production of timber, fuel, and the other products of tree-growth, or for the protection of hill sides; but forests may also be constituted and maintained for other cognate purposes connected with the public welfare. In many cases their importance is felt beyond their immediate neighbourhood within such limits as it is possible to transport timber or other trade-products from them with profit; but they may also serve to supply the surrounding agricultural population with fuel, small building and other wood, grass, and minor produce, and in some cases with grazing lands. It is important that, consistently with a rational treatment under which they fulfil the primary object for which they were set apart, forests should be made to supply the needs of the adjacent residents to the utmost extent.

11. The enquiries and investigations called for under this Resolution form part of the agricultural analysis which in the 9th and 10th paragraphs of Resolution No. 6—340-50-G., dated 8th December 1881, Agricultural Departments were required to institute. It was there laid down that Agricultural Departments should district by district ascertain the causes which, especially in years of drought, had tended to interfere with “agricultural efficiency,” and that, when those causes had been ascertained, remedies should be suggested and, where possible, provided. The instructions contained in the paragraphs above quoted have not in some Provinces been sufficiently understood or carried into effect, and the Government of India take this opportunity of requesting that a serious commencement may now be made by Agricultural Departments in setting on foot in each district, in communication with Revenue and Forest officials, the agricultural analysis contemplated in the Resolution of 1881, so far as it includes the provision of an adequate grazing and fodder-supply.

12. The question of increasing the area of wooded land in connection with the general improvement of agriculture and the increase of the manure supply is one which it will be necessary to bring under further discussion on receipt of

* the final report from Dr. Voelcker, the Consulting Chemist to the Royal Agricultural Society of England. In the meantime attention is directed to the remarks on the subject contained in Dr. Voelcker's Preliminary Report, which was distributed with Circular No. 2—26-4-A., dated 30th January 1891.

13. It is, in the opinion of the Government of India, advisable for convenience of administration that all lands set apart for special treatment as pastures, fodder reserves, or forests proper should, so far as the law permits, be placed under the Forest Law as "Reserved Forests;" but it should be understood that it is not necessary that, because an area is constituted a Reserved Forest, it must be managed for the purpose of producing trees or placed under the control of the officers of the Forest Department. The method of treatment of such lands and the arrangement of their control must be regulated entirely by the local authorities, with whom remains also the power of determining the agency and system of management.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded, for information and guidance, to the Local Governments and Administrations noted in the margin; to the Governments of Madras and Bombay and to the Inspector General of Forests for information; and to the Foreign Department for communication to the Agent to the Governor General in Baluchistan; also that it be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

APPENDIX.

Summary of replies received to Circular No. 16 A., dated 1st March 1883.

His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab was of opinion that much could be done for the material good of the Province in the direction indicated by the Government of India. The results would, however, depend very largely on the interest taken in the matter by District Officers and the example set to the people by Government itself. His Honour had, therefore, directed that a statement of the scheme and the advantages to be derived from it should be circulated to all District and Local Boards and leading persons of the Province, and that District Officers should submit proposals for placing areas belonging to Government for special treatment as fodder reserves under the management of the District Officer, of the District Board, or the District Forest Officer, as might appear best. The Conservator of Forests has also been directed to carry out experiments on special areas with a view to determining the best system of managing fodder reserves.

The Bengal Government replied that reports had been called for from Commissioners of Divisions on the subject of the formation of fodder reserves, and were then being considered. It would appear to be the opinion so far of the officers consulted that no special measures for the protection of the cattle were required in the comparatively moist districts of Eastern Bengal, or in the less populated districts in which large wooded areas exist, while in many other districts there were no areas available for the formation of reserves. No definite proposals have, however, as yet been received from the Local Government.

The Chief Commissioner of Burma reported that the area reserved for grazing purposes in the different districts of the Province amounted to 252,355 acres (394 square miles), and that this area was being steadily added to, especially in those districts in which settlement operations were proceeding. These grazing grounds consisted, not only of grass plains, but also of wooded uplands. The larger trees in these areas were protected, but the underwood was allowed to be cut under certain circumstances, so that the lands served the purpose of fuel as well as fodder reserves. It was also proposed to set apart certain areas as fuel reserves under the Forest Act, and to allow grazing in these areas under certain conditions; and proposals for reserving certain forest areas in view to supplying the fuel and fodder requirements of the village communities were being considered.

The Chief Commissioner of Ajmere reported that it was not possible for the present to increase the area directly under forest management, but that a scheme for the establishment of village reserves, to be managed by the villagers themselves, had been started. From results already achieved there was every reason to believe that this village reserve system would afford the help that the villagers required as regards fuel and fodder.

The Chief Commissioner of Coorg stated that the question of assisting the cultivators by adding to the fodder reserves is complicated by the exaggerated demands made by the people with regard to the number of cattle to be provided for, but that when a Settlement Officer is appointed, it will be possible to ascertain more accurately the requirements of the people in this respect.

The Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces in replying stated that those Provinces were exceptionally well provided with grazing grounds for their village cattle--

"Not only is the margin of uncultivated village land in most districts still very large, but extensive tracts of forest and scrub jungle occur throughout the Provinces, which afford to every district hot-weather grazing grounds of precisely the description referred to in paragraph 4 of the Resolution above quoted. The extent of the forest area which is at present available for cattle-grazing, and which could be thrown open for grazing in time of drought, has lately been ascertained, and a register prepared of all such forest tracts in accordance with the provisions of the Famine Code. But the Government forests by no means constitute the only jungle pasturage of the Provinces. The Government of India is aware that a very large proportion of the Provincial area is held on zamindari or talukdari tenure. These zamindaris, as a rule, occupy hilly and sparsely cultivated tracts, and contain a very large proportion of jungle land. Indeed, many of them may be regarded as little more than forest and scrub jungle, and the principal source of their owners' income consists in the grazing dues levied on cattle. Speaking generally, the agricultural cattle of these Provinces are of very fair breed, and are pretty well fed and cared for. But the cattle of Chhattisgarh are a marked exception. They are of small size, are habitually under-fed, and are liable to periodical visitations of cattle-disease, which carry them off in enormous numbers.

* * * * *

"The Chief Commissioner thinks that the miserable condition of the Chhattisgarh cattle is in great measure due to the lack of proper pasture grounds, and this could perhaps be ameliorated were the supply of grass increased.

* * * * *

"The tracts which remain for cattle-grazing mostly consist of the poor gravelly soil known as bhata, and, though capable of bearing a fair crop of edible grass, are given no chance of doing so by being constantly grazed over. The Chief Commissioner has now under consideration a scheme for taking up large tracts of this land and preserving them as fodder and perhaps fuel reserves. The details of the scheme have not been finally settled, but the question is receiving attention, and Mr. Crosthwaite hopes before very long to be able to report that some progress has been made."

The Government of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, in dealing with the proposals of the Government of India, record the following remarks:

"It is no doubt true that large numbers of cattle, as of human beings, perish during seasons of severe and protracted drought. The people of the country allow more cattle to breed than they are able to feed even in ordinary times, and the practice is encouraged by the existing system of throwing open to the villagers large pasturage belonging to the State on very low terms. The peasantry who live near the forest lands can upon payment of an exceedingly light grazing fee send in to the grazing wastes as many cattle as they like, and a very great multitude is sent. Obviously no area can be permanently sufficient for cattle that are not themselves restrained within any limits; so that if much larger reserves were taken up for annual grazing, the result would be that in a few years the pressure of the cattle on the means of subsistence would be just the same, and the mortality in bad years much more extensive. It may be added that this excessive production is aggravated by the preservation of large numbers of useless animals that are saved from destruction by the customs and religious scruples of the people till removed by the natural process of disease or starvation. It seems, therefore, unsafe to infer that the large mortality caused by occasional droughts points to a progressive decrease of the feeding powers of these Provinces, or that the mortality has materially affected their agricultural resources. The resources for this supply do not, of course, lie in pasturage alone; nor does it follow that, even if the grazing area were contracted, the business of cattle-keeping would necessarily fall off or that stock would deteriorate. It has, indeed, been found in other countries that restrictions upon common land grazing are an essential condition of the improvement of breed.

"These considerations have, in the opinion of the Lieutenant-Governor, a substantial bearing upon the question of the measures that can be taken for arranging systematically, and in advance, to secure supplies of fodder in years of drought. The productive industry that is concerned with the breeding, rearing, and preservation of useful animals in India is evidently developing steadily, and adjusting itself to the ordinary supply and demand of agriculture and commerce. If it is true that at present the agricultural population will not or cannot themselves take sufficient precaution to provide against exceptional occurrences, the reason may probably be traced to the exceptional difficulties of making any such provision. To establish large fodder reserves in anticipation of drought would be a very costly and speculative undertaking. Such a measure would be economically analogous to growing large quantities of food as a precaution against famine; for it is very doubtful whether such reserves can be profitably employed as an investment of capital in ordinary years. The immediate effect of taking up and closing extensive tracts of waste land would be to diminish the area available for pasturage, and so far to anticipate the effects of a drought on the existing stock; and if the produce of these reserves were in ordinary seasons made available for the support of cattle, there is reason to apprehend that the stock of cattle would multiply up to the limit of the means of subsistence thus afforded, so that when any general failure of forage occurred, there would be no untouched resources from which to supply the deficiency. Unless the reserves, therefore, were strictly maintained in that character and only thrown open when the normal production of fodder had failed, it is unlikely that they would serve to materially diminish the mortality of exceptional seasons. If, on the other hand, the grazing were reserved in ordinary years, or if the produce were cut and stored, the expense of the undertaking thus managed would apparently be very formidable. Enquiries and experiments made, moreover, give good reason to doubt whether any but irrigable reserves would yield any large supply of fodder in seasons of great drought.

"It is beyond doubt that large numbers of cattle perish in seasons of drought which would be preserved by the proximity of extensive and unexhausted resources, such as still exist in the grazing lands of the sub-Himalayan Tarai. Cattle are still bred without due regard to the means available for their sustenance or to the quality of the stock; while worn-out or useless animals, which in other countries would be killed, are allowed to struggle on for existence and to share the food which should be reserved for useful animals. The loss of such cattle, which augments the mortality observed in years of drought, cannot be treated as an evil of great magnitude, if it is an evil at all. In many districts under high and close cultivation the milch kine and the best plough-cattle are always to a great extent stall-fed, and, except in seasons of the very direst calamity, when the resources of food for both man and beast have failed, are tended and preserved. The analysis of districts shows that in the majority of them no grazing-grounds exist that are proof against drought, while in some of the districts least provided with such pastures the best cattle are bred. The expense of taking up as reserves even a small proportion of the waste lands now used as pastures would be enormous. For instance, a reserve of about 6 per cent. of the grazing-grounds of Bareilly would cost for acquisition alone a lakh and a half of rupees. Without multiplying illustrations, it may be briefly said that in those fully-settled districts, where pressure on the available pasturage is felt, no reserves could, by fencing, planting, and re-foresting waste and usar lands, be created which would have an appreciable effect, except at an outlay so enormous as to place the measure at present beyond the means of the Government to undertake.

"The question relating to the best method of turning waste and barren lands into reserves capable of producing fodder, even in years of drought, appears to be one which could only be settled by actual experiment; and, after full discussion and enquiry, it was determined to undertake one on a sufficiently large scale to test whether such reserves could be made to yield an adequate supply of fodder in all seasons, and also to ascertain the financial results of such a scheme as a general protective measure for the whole province. This experiment has now been planned, and is in progress in the Aligarh district.

"The formation of new fodder reserves is very closely connected with the question of utilising those already in existence. The necessity for maintaining such areas intact has been fully recognised by this Government. Both in the Tarai and elsewhere all grass reserves are being carefully maintained, and the policy has been adopted of gradually ceasing to stimulate the speed of cultivation in such parts of the country. Along with this a system of managing the pasturage is being gradually introduced. In connection with the present subject, an enquiry was instituted to ascertain how far and under what restrictions the Government forests of the province could be made available for the supply of fodder or pasturage in seasons of drought. In these there can be no doubt that the supply of fodder is in most places considerably in excess of ordinary requirements, even in forests that are constantly open to grazing, and an ample fodder-reserve is thus provided for the districts that adjoin the forests. There is no reason at present to anticipate any failure of the supply, and in years of exceptional severity any deficiency in the ordinary grazing-grounds could probably be compensated by throwing open tracts that are ordinarily closed against cattle. In one case at least that has come to the notice of the Government, the Forest Department has shown itself ready to relieve a local fodder scarcity by opening a portion of a closed block; and the Government has now under consideration the question of whether it may be possible to open to grazing at certain seasons of the year portions of the closed blocks in the School Circle forests.

"In short, the forests of these provinces provide an excellent grazing-ground for the tracts in their neighbourhood and an ample fodder reserve for districts within reasonable distance. The utilisation to the full extent, however, of their capabilities as a fodder reserve for the province is rendered difficult by the remoteness of their situation. Instances have been known of cattle being marched as far as from Agra to Dehra Dun for pasturage; but such cases must in the nature of things be rare, and the driving of cattle long distances across the provinces in seasons of scarcity must necessarily be accompanied by very heavy mortality. There is, of course, the alternative of transporting grass from the forests to the districts where it is required; but a light and bulky article like grass cannot, unless compressed by machinery, bear the cost of carriage to any great distance. The supply to the larger cities of grass and fuel from the forests is a matter to which the Lieutenant-Governor's attention has already been directed, and experiments are being made under his orders to test the probabilities of a successful issue to ventures on a larger scale. The extension of communications, and especially of railways, is every year making the forests more accessible, and bringing their products within reach of wider tracts of country. What development it may in the future be possible to give to the use of the forests as a fodder reserve by means of the transport of grass it is scarcely possible as yet to forecast; but, if the experiment for the carriage of grass from the Bhira forests to Lucknow succeed, it will be proved that the resources of the forests can be utilised so as to form a very useful addition in times of drought to the fodder-supply of the highly cultivated districts in the centre of the provinces."

The Resident at Hyderabad intimated that no report from Berar was necessary, and the Conservator said he could not furnish any useful report, being new to the province.

The Bombay Government, in forwarding reports by the Conservators of Forests, wrote:

"His Excellency the Governor in Council fully concurs with the Government of India as to the great importance of preserving undiminished the area of grazing land and the supply of fodder available in aid of agriculture and of improving the quality of natural resources, and great attention has been, and is being, paid to these questions. The enclosed copy of a Circular issued by this Government, No. 7677, dated 22nd September 1885, containing directions for the preparation of Forest Settlement and Demarcation Reports, will show the detail in which Government require that information should be placed before them to enable them to judge of the respective claims on waste land for fodder and tillage."

The Government of Madras also forwarded, but without adding any remarks, copies of replies received from the Conservators of Forests. In these the Conservator, Northern Circle, wrote:

"The reserved forests will be the most satisfactory fuel and fodder reserves, and I think it much better that fuel and fodder should be provided by constituting permanent estates, to be worked on a definite permanent working-plan, either for grass or fuel or timber or all combined, than by merely keeping them temporary estates on which it will not be advisable to expend much in improvement."

The Conservator, Southern Circle, furnished a list of the tracts, amounting to 104,000 acres, set apart for purposes of grazing; and remarked:

"These are the areas specifically set apart and notified as fuel and fodder reserves up to date, but really the majority of 'Reserved Lands' which it is not intended to constitute 'Reserved Forests' will be 'Fuel and Fodder Reserves,' which are merely a class or sub-division of Reserved Lands."

The first four volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses, both chemical and industrial; trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1880, was presented to the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 6th August 1891:

WE, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to amend

From High Court, Calcutta, No. 223, dated 28th January, 1891 [Paper No. 1].
From Government, Bengal, No. 280 Marine, dated 29th January, 1891, and enclosure [Papers No. 2].
From Government, Madras, No. 193 Judicial, dated 29th January, 1891, and enclosures [Papers No. 3].
From Chief Commissioner, Burma, No. 162-11 M S, dated 7th February, 1891, and enclosures [Papers No. 4].
From Government, Bombay, No. 47 dated 17th February, 1891, and enclosures [Papers No. 5].
From ditto, No. 66, dated 9th March, 1891, and enclosure [Papers No. 6].
To Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 40, dated 31st December, 1890, from ditto, No. 3, dated 5th March, 1891, and enclosures [Papers No. 7].

the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1880, was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our Report, with the Bill as revised by us annexed thereto.

2. The Bill, as introduced, has been generally approved by the Board of Trade; but we have deemed it expedient to recommend the adoption of the following suggestions which have been made by Local Governments, namely:—

- (1) that section 43 in the revised portion of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1880, relating to deck and load-lines, should provide for the recognition of marks attached in Colonies which have legislated on the model of the English Act of 1890, and whose legislation has been approved by Order in Council, that is to say, that Colonial marks which are recognised in the United Kingdom should also be recognised in India;
- (2) that the Bill should contain a section, like section 4 of the English Act of 1890, bringing foreign ships under the law unless the countries to which they belong have a law or laws on the subject of deck and load-lines equally effective with the English (or Indian) law;
- (3) that the Bill should give power to the Local Government to exempt Native craft not square-rigged, such craft being not really concerned with deck and load-line laws; and
- (4) that surveyors employed by any society, corporation or association for the survey or registry of shipping approved by the Board of Trade should be authorised, on appointment in this behalf by the Local Government, to approve and certify the position of deck.

3. We have also provided for the making of rules (with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council) for the definition of fair and foul seasons and for the modification of tables of free-board in the case of any class or classes of vessels. This provision will enable the Government to deal, as occasion may arise, with vessels in the coasting or exclusively Eastern trade to which it may be unnecessary to apply to their full extent the rules of the Board of Trade.

4. The other alterations which we have made in the Bill are not such as to call for remark.

5. The publication ordered by the Council has been made as follows:—

6. We do not think that the measure has been so altered as to require re-publication, and we recommend that it be passed as now amended.

(2) The master, before the ship proceeds to sea after any renewal or alteration of the disc, shall send or deliver to the Collector or other principal officer of Customs aforesaid notice in writing of such renewal or alteration, together with such statement in writing as before mentioned of the distance between the centre of the disc and the upper edge of each of the deck-lines.

(2) The Local Government shall from time to time appoint—

- (a) a surveyor employed by Lloyd's, or by any other society, corporation or association for the survey or registry of shipping approved by the Board of Trade under section 2 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1890, and specially authorised in this behalf by Lloyd's or by such society, corporation or association, as the case may be, or

Rules

- (b) as to the mode in which the disc and the lines or marks to be used in connection therewith are to be marked or affixed on the ship, whether by painting, cutting or otherwise;
- (c) as to the mode of application for, and form of, certificates under this Chapter; and
- (d) as to the entry of such certificates, and any other prescribed particulars concerning the draught of water and free-board of the ship, in the official log (if

"41. Any master of a ship who neglects to cause his ship to be marked as by this Chapter required or to keep her so marked, or who allows the ship to be so loaded that when in perfectly smooth salt-water the centre of the disc is submerged, and any person who conceals, removes, alters, defaces or obliterates, or suffers any person under his control to conceal, remove, alter, deface or obliterate, any of the lines or marks prescribed by or under this Chapter, except in the event of the particulars thereby denoted being lawfully altered, or for the purpose of escaping capture by an enemy, shall be liable in respect of each such offence to a fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

"42. The master of any ship on which any of the marks or lines prescribed by or under this Chapter is inaccurately placed so as to be likely to mislead, who does not forthwith cause such inaccuracy to be corrected, shall be liable to a fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

"43. The provisions of this Chapter as to load-lines shall not apply to ships coming from ports in the United Kingdom and having such lines fixed, marked and certified in accordance with the provisions of the law for the time being there in force, or to ships registered in a British possession and having such lines fixed, marked and certified in accordance with the provisions of an enactment passed by the Legislature of that possession, with respect to which enactment such a declaration as is mentioned in section 3 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1890, has been made by an Order of Her Majesty in Council and is for the time being in force."

5. To the said Act the following section shall be added, namely:—

"85. The provisions of this Act for the prevention of the overloading and improper loading of British ships shall apply to foreign ships also when in ports of British India unless such foreign ships, if in ports of the United Kingdom, would be entitled to the benefit of an Order of Her Majesty in Council under section 4 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1890."

Privileges and Liabilities.

39. No suit shall be instituted against a committee, or against an officer of a committee in respect of an act purporting to be done by him in his official capacity, until the expiration of one month next after notice in writing has been, in the case of a committee left at its office, and in the case of an officer delivered to him or left at his office or place of abode, stating the cause of action and the name and place of abode of the intending plaintiff ; and the plaint must contain a statement that such a notice has been so delivered or left :

CHAPTER III.

TAXATION.

General Provisions.

42. (1) Subject to any general rules or special orders which the Governor

Taxes which may be imposed.

General in Council may make in this behalf, and to any rules made by the Local Government under this Act, a committee may, from time to time, for the purposes of this Act, and in the manner by this Act directed, impose in the whole or any part of the municipality any of the following taxes, namely:—

(A) with the previous sanction of the Local Government:—

(a) a tax on buildings and lands—

(i) not exceeding in any municipality specified in the schedule 10 per cent., and elsewhere  $7\frac{1}{2}$  per cent., on the annual value; or

(ii) not exceeding in any municipality specified in the schedule one anna four pies, and elsewhere one anna, per square yard of the ground area; or

(iii) not exceeding in any municipality specified in the schedule four rupees, and elsewhere three rupees, per running foot of frontage in streets or bazars;

(b) a tax on persons practising any profession or art or carrying on any trade or calling in the municipality;

(c) a tax on all or any vehicles, boats, animals used for riding, driving, draught or burden, and dogs, when the vehicles, boats, animals used as aforesaid, and dogs, are kept within the municipality;

(d) a tax on vehicles and animals used as aforesaid entering the municipality;

(e) a tax on menial and domestic servants;

(f) an octroi on animals or goods or both brought within the octroi-limits for consumption or use therein; and

(B) with the previous sanction of the Local Government and of the Governor General in Council, any other tax.

(2) In this section "annual value" means the gross annual rent for which buildings and lands liable to taxation may reasonably be expected to let, and, in the case of houses, may be expected to let unfurnished:

Provided that, in the case of land assessed to land-revenue or of which the land-revenue has been wholly or in part released, compounded for, redeemed or assigned, the annual value shall, if the Local Government so directs, be deemed to be double the aggregate of the following amounts, namely:—

(a) the amount of the land-revenue for the time being assessed on the land, whether such assessment is leviable or not; or, when the land-revenue has been wholly or in part compounded for or redeemed, the amount which, but for such composition or redemption, would have been leviable; and

(b) when the improvement of the land due to canal-irrigation has been excluded from account in assessing the land-revenue, the amount of the owner's rate or water-advantage rate or other rate imposed in respect of such improvement.

43. When a committee has, in exercise of the powers conferred by this Act, undertaken the house-scavenging of any house or building, it may charge the occupier of such house or building, in respect of the house-scavenging done for him, with a tax, imposed in the manner by this Act directed, of such amount or at such rate as it thinks fit.

44. (1) Besides the taxes mentioned in the foregoing sections, a committee, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, may, for the purpose of constructing or maintaining works for the supply of water to the municipality or paying the principal or interest of any loan raised for the construction of such works, impose, in the manner by this Act directed, a tax, to be called the water-tax, upon buildings or lands which are so situated that their occupiers can benefit by the works.

(2) The rate or amount of the tax so imposed on different buildings or lands may be determined with reference, among other considerations, to their distance from the nearest point at which the water is deliverable by the works and to their level; but in fixing it regard shall be had to the principle that the total net proceeds of the tax, with the estimated income from payments for water supplied from the works under special contracts, should not exceed the amount required for the said purposes.

45. (1) A committee may, at a special meeting, pass a resolution to propose the imposition of any tax under section 42, section 43 or section 44.

(2) When such a resolution has been passed, the committee shall publish a notice, defining the class of persons or description of property proposed to be taxed, the amount or rate of the tax to be imposed and the system of assessment to be adopted.

(3) Any inhabitant objecting to the proposed tax may, within thirty days from the publication of the notice, submit his objection in writing to the committee; and the committee shall, at a special meeting, take his objection into consideration.

(4) If no such objection is received within the said period of thirty days, or if such objection, having been considered as aforesaid, is deemed insufficient, the committee may forward its proposals to the Local Government, with the objections (if any) which have been submitted as aforesaid, and the decision thereon.

The Punjab Municipal Bill, 1891.(Chapter III.—Taxation.—Sections 46-52.)

(5) The Local Government, on receiving such proposals, may sanction the same, or refuse to sanction them, or return them to the committee for further consideration.

(6) When the Local Government sanctions any such proposals which require the further sanction of the Governor General in Council, it shall submit the same to the Governor General in Council, with the objections (if any) received through the committee; and the Governor General in Council may sanction the proposals, or refuse to sanction them, or return them to the Local Government for further consideration.

(7) When the proposals of a committee have been sanctioned by the Local Government, or by the Local Government and the Governor General in Council, as the case may be, the committee may, at a special meeting, direct the imposition of the tax in accordance with such proposals.

(8) In giving such direction the committee shall fix a date on which the tax shall come into force:

Provided that—

(a) a tax shall not come into force until its imposition has been notified:

(b) a tax shall not come into force less than three months from the date of the meeting at which its imposition is directed:

(c) a tax leviable by the year shall come into force on the first day of January or on the first day of April or on the first day of July or on the first day of October in any year; and if it does not come into force on the first day of January, then the tax shall be leviable to the extent of one-twelfth of its annual amount for each month of the period from the date on which it comes into force till the first day of January next ensuing; and from the latter date it shall be leviable in full for the year thereon commencing.

(g) A notification of the imposition of a tax under this Act shall be conclusive evidence that the tax has been imposed in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

46. A committee may, by a resolution passed at a special meeting and confirmed by the Local Government, abolish or reduce in amount any tax imposed under the foregoing sections.

47. (1) A committee may exempt, in whole or in part, from the payment of any such tax any person who by reason of poverty may in its opinion be unable to pay the same.

(2) A committee may, by resolution passed at a special meeting and confirmed by the Local Government, and the Local Government may by order, exempt in whole or in part from the payment of any such tax any person or class of persons or any property or description of property.

48. (1) If at any time it appears to the Local Government, on complaint made or otherwise, that any tax imposed under the foregoing sections is unfair in its incidence or that the levy thereof or of any part thereof is injurious to the interests of the general public, it may require the committee to take within a specified period measures to remove the objection; and, if within that period the requirement is not complied with to the satisfaction of the Local Government, the Local Government may by notification suspend the levy of the tax or of such part thereof until the objection has been removed.

(2) The Local Government may at any time by notification rescind any such suspension.

49. No tax imposed under this Act shall be invalid merely for defect of form; and it shall be enough in any such tax on property or any assessment of value for the purpose of any such tax if the property taxed or assessed is so described as to be generally known; and it shall not be necessary to name the owner or occupier thereof.

50. (1) Any tax imposed under the foregoing sections and payable periodically shall be payable on such dates and in such instalments (if any) as the committee with the previous sanction of the District Magistrate may, by rule, from time to time direct.

(2) A tax payable for a year or any other period is said in this Act to be payable by instalments when the period is divided into definite parts in respect of each of which a corresponding part of the tax is payable; but mere payment of such a tax in portions does not constitute payment by instalments unless the portions throughout the period correspond to similar portions of time.

51. For all sums paid on account of any tax under this Act a receipt, stating the amount and the tax on account of which it is paid, shall be given by the person receiving the same, on request by the person making the payment.

52. (1) An appeal against the assessment or levy of any tax under this Act shall lie to the District Magistrate or to such other officer as may be empowered by the Local Government in this behalf:

Provided that, when the District Magistrate or such other officer as aforesaid is a member of the committee, the appeal shall lie to the Commissioner of the Division.

(2) If, on the hearing of an appeal under this section, any question as to the liability to, or the principle of assessment of, a tax arises, on which the officer hearing the appeal entertains reasonable doubt, he may, either of his own motion or on the application of any person interested, draw up a statement of the facts of the case and the point on which doubt is entertained, and refer the statement with his own opinion on the point for the decision of the Chief Court.

(3) On a reference being made under sub-section (2) the subsequent proceedings in the case shall be, as nearly as may be, in conformity with the rules relating to references to the High Court contained in Chapter XLVI of the Code of Civil Procedure.

The Punjab Municipal Bill, 1891.(Chapter III.—Taxation.—Sections 53-58.)

(4) If an appeal is wholly accepted, the officer deciding the appeal may order the committee to pay the reasonable costs of the appellant in making the appeal if the assessment or levy of the tax appears to have been made without reasonable care, but not otherwise;

if an appeal is wholly rejected, the officer deciding the appeal may order the appellant to pay the reasonable costs of the committee in defending the appeal if the appeal appears to have been made without reasonable or proper ground, but not otherwise;

if the appeal is partly accepted and partly rejected, no costs shall be allowed to either party.

(5) Costs awarded under this section to the committee shall be recoverable by the committee as though they were arrears of a tax due from the appellant or under the provisions of section 53, sub-section (3).

(6) If for ten days the committee fails to pay any costs awarded to an appellant, the officer awarding the costs may order the person having the custody of the balance of the municipal fund to pay the amount.

53. (1) No appeal shall lie in respect of a tax on any land or building, unless it is preferred within one month after the publication of the notice prescribed by section 59, and no appeal shall lie in respect of any other tax unless it is preferred within one month from the time when the demand for the tax is made:

Provided that an appeal may be admitted after the expiration of the period prescribed therefor by this section if the appellant satisfies the officer before whom the appeal is preferred that he had sufficient cause for not presenting the appeal within that period.

(2) No appeal shall be entertained—unless the appellant has paid all municipal taxes due from him to the committee other than the tax or portion of the tax in regard to which the appeal is preferred, and unless before the appeal is preferred the appellant has deposited with the committee a sum equal in amount to the tax or portion of the tax which is in dispute and in regard to which the appeal is made.

(3) After the appeal is decided the committee may apply any sum deposited with them under sub-section (2), first, in payment of any municipal taxes then due or claimable from the appellant, and, secondly, in payment of any costs awarded against the appellant by the officer deciding the appeal. If thereafter there is any balance, it shall be returned to the appellant on his application.

54. No objection shall be taken to any valuation or assessment, nor shall the liability of any person to be assessed or taxed be questioned, in any other manner or by any other authority than in this Act is provided.

Taxes on Immoveable Property.

55. (1) The committee shall cause an assessment-list of all buildings and lands on which any tax is imposed to be prepared, containing—

- (a) the name of the street or division in which the property is situated;
- (b) the designation of the property, either by name or by number, sufficient for identification;
- (c) the names of the owner and occupier, if known;
- (d) the annual value, area or length of frontage on which the property is assessed; and
- (e) the amount of the tax assessed thereon by the committee.

(2) For the purpose of preparing the list the committee may require the owners or occupiers of the buildings or lands to furnish it with the returns of the measurements and of the rent or annual value.

56. When the assessment-list has been completed, the committee shall give public notice thereof, and of the place where the list or a copy thereof may be inspected; and every person claiming to be either owner or occupier of property included in the list, or the agent of any such person, shall be at liberty to inspect the list and to make extracts therefrom without charge.

57. (1) The committee shall at the same time give public notice of a time, not less than one month from the publication of the notice, when it will proceed to revise the valuation and assessment; and in all cases in which any property is for the first time assessed, or the assessment thereof is increased, it shall also give notice thereof to the owner or occupier of the property.

(2) All objections to the valuation and assessment shall be made in writing before the time fixed in the notice or orally or in writing at that time.

58. (1) After the objections have been required into and the persons making them have been allowed an opportunity of being heard either in person or by authorized agent as they think fit and the revision of the valuation and assessment has been completed, the amendments made in the list shall be authenticated by the signatures of not less than two members of the committee, who shall at the same time certify that no valid objection has been made to the valuation and assessment contained in the list, except in the cases in which amendments have been entered therein; and, subject to such amendments as may thereafter be duly made, the tax so assessed shall be deemed to be the tax for the year commencing on the first day of January next ensuing, as also for the period between the certification and such first day of January, unless the tax for such period is already payable under an assessment previously made.

(2) The list when amended under this section shall be deposited in the committee's office and shall there be open during office-hours to all owners or occupiers of property comprised therein, or the agents of such persons, and a public notice that it is so open shall forthwith be published.

Preparation of assessment-lists.

The Punjab Municipal Bill, 1891.(Chapter III.—Taxation.—Sections 59-65.)

59. (1) The committee may at any time amend the list by inserting the name of any person whose name ought to be inserted, or by inserting any property which ought to have been inserted, or by altering the assessment on any property which has been insufficiently valued or assessed through mistake, oversight or fraud, after giving notice, to any person interested in the amendment, of a time, not less than one month from the date of service of such notice, at which the amendment is to be made.

(2) Any person interested in any such amendment may tender his objection to the committee in writing before the time fixed in the notice, or orally or in writing at that time, and shall be allowed an opportunity of being heard in support of the same in person or by authorized agent, as he thinks fit.

60. It shall be in the discretion of the committee to prepare a new assessment-list every year, or to adopt the valuation and assessment contained in the list for any year, with such alterations as may in particular cases be deemed necessary, as the valuation and assessment for the year following, giving the same notice of the valuation and assessment as if a new assessment-list had been prepared.

61. (1) When a tax payable under section 42, sub-section (1), division (A), clause (a), or under section 44, is payable in one sum in respect of an entire year, and the property in respect of which it is payable is property which is not occupied, used or rented throughout the year, or when such a tax is payable in instalments and the property is property which is not occupied, used or rented throughout the period in respect of which an instalment is payable, the amount payable in respect of such property for the year or the instalment, as the case may be, shall be remitted:

Provided that it shall be in the discretion of the committee to direct by public notice that no remission shall be granted unless notice in writing of the circumstances under which the remission is claimed has been given to it within such time from the beginning of the year or of the period, as the case may be, as it may from time to time fix in this behalf.

(2) When a tax payable under section 42, sub-section (1), division (A), clause (a), or under section 44, is payable by the year in respect of property—

(a) which has been only partially occupied, used or rented during the year for which the tax is leviable, or

(b) which is wholly or in greater part demolished or destroyed by fire or otherwise, the committee may remit such portion (if any) of the tax as it thinks equitable.

(3) For the purposes of this section the presence of a caretaker does not constitute occupation, and the mere retention in an unoccupied dwelling-house of the furniture habitually used in it does not constitute use of the house.

62. (1) A tax payable under section 42, sub-section (1), division (A), clause (a), shall be paid by the owner of the property, in respect of which it is payable.

(2) A tax payable under section 44 shall be paid by the occupier of the property in respect of which it is payable.

63. (1) When any sum is due on account of a tax payable under this Act in respect of any property by the owner thereof, the committee shall cause a bill for the amount, stating the property and the period for which the charge is made, to be presented to the person liable to pay the same.

(2) If the bill is not paid within ten days from the presentation thereof, the committee may cause a notice of demand to be served on that person; and, if he does not, within seven days from the service of the notice, pay the sum due, with any fee leviable for the notice, or show sufficient cause for non-payment, the sum due, with the fee, shall be deemed to be an arrear of tax.

(3) The amount of every such arrear, besides being recoverable in any other manner provided by this Act, shall, subject to any claim on behalf of Her Majesty, be a first charge on the property in respect of which it is payable, and shall be recoverable, on application made in this behalf by the committee to the Collector, as if the property were an estate assessed to land-revenue and the arrear were an arrear of such revenue due thereon:

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall authorize the arrest of a defaulter.

Octroi and Tolls.

64. If any person, bringing or receiving a conveyance or package within the octroi-limits of a municipality in which octroi is leviable, refuses, on the demand of an officer authorized by the committee in this behalf, to permit the officer to inspect the contents of the conveyance or package for the purpose of ascertaining whether it contains any articles in respect of which octroi is payable, the officer may cause the conveyance or package to be taken without unnecessary delay before any Magistrate or member of the committee, who shall cause the inspection to be made in his presence.

65. Every person bringing or receiving within the octroi-limits of any municipality any article on which octroi is payable shall, when required by an officer authorized by the committee in this behalf, and so far as may be necessary for ascertaining the amount of tax chargeable,—

(a) permit that officer to inspect, examine, weigh and otherwise deal with the article; and

(b) communicate to that officer any information and exhibit to him any bill, invoice or document of a like nature which he may possess relating to the article.

The Punjab Municipal Bill, 1891.

(Chapter III.—Taxation.—Sections 66-70. Chapter IV.—Municipal Fund and Property.—Sections 71-72.)

66. Every officer demanding octroi by the authority of the committee shall tender to every person introducing or receiving any article on which the tax is claimed a bill specifying the article taxable, the amount claimed and the rate at which the tax is calculated.

67. (1) In case of non-payment of any octroi or of any toll on demand, the officer empowered to collect the same may seize any article on which the octroi is chargeable, or any vehicle or animal on which the toll is chargeable, or any part of its burden of sufficient value to satisfy the demand.

(2) The committee may cause any property so seized, or so much thereof as is necessary, to be sold by auction to satisfy the demand, with the expenses occasioned by the seizure, custody and sale thereof, unless the demand and expenses are in the meantime paid, after the lapse of five days from the seizure, and after the issue of a proclamation fixing the time and place of sale:

Provided that, by order of the president or a vice-president, articles of a perishable nature which could not be kept for five days without serious risk of damage may be sold after the lapse of such shorter time as he may, having regard to the nature of the articles, think proper.

68. The collection of any octroi or toll may be leased by the committee, with the previous sanction of the Commissioner, for any period not exceeding one year; and the lessee and all persons employed by him in the management and collection of the octroi or toll shall in respect thereof—

- (a) be bound by any rules made by the committee for their guidance;
- (b) have such powers exercisable by servants of a committee under this Act as the committee may, from time to time, confer upon them; and
- (c) be entitled to the same remedies and be subject to the same responsibilities as if they were employed by the committee for the management and collection of the octroi or toll.

69. If goods passing the octroi-boundary of a municipality are liable to the payment of octroi, then any person who, with the intention to defraud the municipal committee or their lessee for the collection of octroi, causes or abets the introduction of, or himself introduces or attempts to introduce, within the said octroi-boundary any such goods upon which payment of the octroi due on such introduction has neither been made nor tendered shall be punishable with fine which may extend either to ten times the value of such octroi or to fifty rupees.

70. (1) The committee may, by written communication, call upon any inhabitant of the municipality to furnish such information as may be necessary in order to ascertain whether such inhabitant is liable to pay any municipal tax.

(2) If any inhabitant so called upon to furnish information omits to furnish it or furnishes information which is untrue, he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to twenty rupees.

CHAPTER V.

MUNICIPAL POLICE

79. (1) Every committee shall, unless it is relieved of this obligation by the Local Government, maintain a sufficient police-establishment for police requirements within municipal limits and for the performance of the duties imposed on it by this Act.

(2) The establishment maintained under subsection (1) shall, as the committee with the approval of the Local Government may, from time to time, determine, be either a body of watchmen or a part of the general police-force under the Local Government within the meaning of section 2 of Act V of 1861, or partly one and partly the other; and it shall consist of such number of officers and men, and the officers and men shall receive such pay, leave-allowances, gratuities and pensions, as the committee may from time to time, after consultation with the District Magistrate and the Inspector General of Police, and subject to the final decision of the Local Government, direct.

80. (1) The Local Government may relieve any committee of the whole or part of the cost of the police-establishment, and may enter into a contract with the committee, on such terms as may be agreed on, that, in consideration of such relief, the committee shall pay periodically a sum not exceeding the amount thereof or undertake any services within the municipality to which the municipal fund can properly be applied, and which are estimated to cost not more than the amount of the relief.

(2) When a committee is relieved under this section of the whole or part of the cost of the police-establishment which it is required to maintain, the Local Government shall maintain such police-establishment as it considers necessary, and the establishment so maintained may be either a body of watchmen or a part of the general police-force under the Local Government within the meaning of section 2 of Act V of 1861, or partly one and partly the other.

(2) Any person obstructing any such watchman in the discharge of his duties may be arrested without warrant by a police-officer or by any such watchman.

82. If the establishment maintained under this Chapter or any portion thereof is part of the general police-force, the Local Government may, notwithstanding anything contained in Act V of 1861 or in any other Act for the time being in force, define, subject to the provisions of this Act, the duties which the officers and men of the establishment or such portion thereof may or may not be required to perform.

83. (1) Every member of a police-establishment under this Act shall give immediate information to the committee of any offence committed against this Act or the rules made thereunder, and shall be bound to assist all members, officers and servants of the committee in the exercise of their lawful authority.

CHAPTER VI.

POWERS FOR SANITARY AND OTHER PURPOSES.

Streets and Buildings.

85. When any land is required for a new street or for the improvement of an existing street, the committee may proceed to acquire, in addition to the land to be occupied by the street, the land necessary for the sites of the buildings to be erected on the sides of the street.

87. The committee may grant permission in writing for the temporary occupation of any street or land vested in it for the purpose of depositing any building materials or making any temporary excavation therein or erection thereon, subject to such conditions as it may prescribe for the safety or convenience of persons passing by or dwelling or working in the neighbourhood, and may charge fees for such permission, and may at its discretion withdraw the permission.

88. The committee may attach to the outside of any building brackets for lamps in such manner as not to occasion any injury thereto or inconvenience.

89. (1) The committee may cause a name to be given to any street, and to be affixed on any building in such place as it thinks fit, and may also cause a number to be affixed to any building; and in like manner may, from time to time, cause such names and numbers to be altered.

(2) Whoever destroys, pulls down or defaces any such name or number, or puts up any different name or number from that put up by order of the committee, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to twenty rupees.

90. The committee may direct that, within certain limits, to be fixed by it, the roofs and external walls of huts or other buildings shall not be made or renewed of grass, mats, leaves or other highly inflammable materials unless with the permission of the committee in writing; and the committee may, by written notice, require any person who has disobeyed any such direction to remove or alter the roofs or walls so made or renewed as it may think fit.

91. (1) If any building or part of a building projects beyond the regular line of a street, either existing or determined on for the future, or beyond the front of the building on either side thereof, the committee may, whenever the building or part has been either entirely or in greater part taken down or burnt down, or has fallen down, by notice require the building or part, when being re-built, to be set back to or towards the said regular line or the front of the adjoining buildings; and the portion of the land added to the street by such setting back or removal shall become part of the street and shall vest in the committee:

Provided that the committee shall make full compensation to the owner for any damage he may sustain in consequence of his building or any part thereof being set back.

(2) The committee may, on such terms as it thinks fit, allow any building to be set forward for the improvement of the line of the street.

92. (1) Any person intending to erect or re-erect any building shall, if required to do so by rule made by the committee in this behalf, give notice in writing of his intention to the committee, and shall obey all written directions consistent with this Act given by the committee within two months after receiving such notice, either prohibiting the erection or re-erection if deemed likely to be injurious to the inhabitants of the neighbourhood, or in respect of all or any of the matters following, namely:—

(2) Any person giving notice to the committee under sub-section (1) shall, if required to do so by rule made by the committee in this behalf, along with his notice forward a plan and specification of the building which he intends to erect or re-erect of such a character and with such details as the committee may by rule prescribe. No notice under sub-section (1) shall be valid unless accompanied by such plan and specification as may be required under this sub-section.

(3) In any case to which sub-section (2) does not apply the committee may require a person who gives them notice under sub-section (1) to submit within one week of the receipt of the requisition a sufficient plan and specification of the building which he intends to erect or re-erect with such reasonable details as the committee may prescribe in their requisition.

(4) If any such building is begun or erected without giving notice, or without submitting a plan and specification as aforesaid when required, or in contravention of the legal orders of the committee issued within two months of receipt of notice under sub-section (1), the committee may, by notice, require the building to be altered or demolished, as it may deem necessary.

93. (1) The committee may at a special meeting make rules to regulate in the erection or re-erection of any building within the municipality—

Provided that the committee may by resolution dispense with the observance of any or all of the rules made under this section in regard to the erection or re-erection of any building specified in the resolution.

(2) If in and during the erection or re-erection of any building any rule under this section is contravened, the committee may by notice require the building to be altered or demolished within the space of thirty days as it may deem necessary:

Provided that no such notice shall issue in respect of the contravention of any rule of which the observance has been dispensed with under the proviso to subsection (1).

(3) This section shall take effect in a municipality only after it has been specially extended thereto by the Local Government at the request of the committee.

(2) The committee may, by notice, require the owner or occupier of any building to remove or alter any projection, encroachment or obstruction built or placed against or in front thereof if the same overhangs or projects into or encroaches on any public street, or projects into or encroaches on any drain, aqueduct or sewer in the street:

Provided that, in the case of a projection, encroachment or obstruction being lawfully in existence at the time of the passing of this Act, the committee shall make reasonable compensation to any person who suffers damage by the removal or alteration.

(3) The committee may give written permission to the owners or occupiers of buildings in streets to put up open verandahs, balconies or rooms projecting from any upper storey thereof to an extent beyond the line of the plinth or basement-wall, and at a height from the level of the ground or street, to be specified in the written permission.

Bathing and Washing Places.

Provided that no rules under this section shall apply to animals slaughtered for any religious purpose.

(2) This section shall take effect in a municipality only after it has been specially extended thereto by the Local Government at the request of the committee.

(2) If, on such inspection, it appears that the opening of the ground was necessary for the prevention or removal of a nuisance, the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owner or occupier of the land or building; but if it is found that no nuisance exists, or but for such opening would have arisen, the ground shall be closed and made good as soon as may be, and the expense of opening, closing and making it good shall be borne by the committee.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Punjab Municipal Act, XIII of 1884, has been found by experience to be in some respects inconvenient and defective. The procedure required by it is sometimes excessively elaborate in regard to the smaller municipalities, while in some cases (more especially in the hill municipalities) the Act gives no powers with respect to certain matters of building, social convenience and sanitation which stand in need of proper regulation.

2. His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab considers therefore that the Act should be amended, and further that the amendments should, for the convenience as well of persons having to administer, as of persons interested in the administration of, municipalities in the Punjab, be incorporated in a Bill consolidating the proposed new law with the old.

The Governor General in Council concurs with His Honour; and this Bill has been prepared accordingly, new or altered matter being printed in italics.

3. Section 5.—The condition imposed by section 5 of the Act of 1884, that a committee must not consist of less than six members, is unnecessary, and has proved inconvenient in small places like Kalka. Even in large places small committees may occasionally be necessary.

4. Sections 7, 8 and 9.—The main object of these sections is to secure the prompt introduction of changes from appointment to election and vice versa when such changes seem to the Local Government to be desirable.

5. Section 16.—The sub-sections added to this section are intended to avoid needless trouble. At present an ex officio president or vice-president has to be elected or appointed again and again as often as the incumbent of the office changes.

6. Sections 19, 20 and 50.—The main object of the alterations in these sections is to decentralize some of the minor apparatus of municipal administration so as to prevent unnecessary references to the Local Government.

7. Sections 43 and 111-119.—Section 43 taken with sections 111 to 119 (both inclusive) are intended to regulate the municipal scavenging of private dwellings, and replace sections 40 and 101 of the present Act. The law as it now stands has been found to be unworkable. It involves repeated negotiation with a succession of individual occupiers, and any arrangements made by the committee can at any time be disorganized by private dissent. Moreover, the phrase "duties usually performed by sweepers" is of very vague and uncertain import. It might very well be held to include duties of a domestic and private nature which the municipal committee could not possibly undertake. And, if this were held to be the case, the present law on this point would become ineffectual. The new proposals limit municipal scavenging to what is practically possible and provide for the committee undertaking it without being compelled to procure individual assents, though not without being compelled to consider possible individual grievances. Attempts are also made to provide adequate safeguards for agriculturists wishing to secure their own manure, and for the caste or customary rights by which guilds of sweepers in some towns claim the exclusive right of scavenging the houses of particular quarters. These rights are very inconvenient obstacles in the way of proper sanitation, but the new proposals will nevertheless protect them so long as the correlative duties are adequately discharged.

8. Section 45. Sub-section (8) of this section is intended to make section 42 of the present Act more generally convenient. It has been added that the year mentioned in that section must begin on the 1st of January. The amendment of section 58 is a corollary of section 45, sub-section (8).

9. Sections 52 and 53.—The additions to these sections are intended to remedy grievances which have been complained of by taxpayers in Simla. Similarly, section 61 (with which should be read sub-section (2) of section 50) is intended to remedy ascertained defects in the procedure as to remissions in whole or in part of assessed taxation.

10. Sections 69 and 70.—The sections supply what is believed to be an omission in the present Act as to punishment for election frauds. It also compels inhabitants of a municipality to furnish necessary information as to taxable liability. The want of this power in the present Act has been seriously complained of in Delhi.

11. Section 72.—The addition to clause (k) of sub-section (2) is intended to provide for expenditure out of the municipal fund on such objects as an Imperial census or the celebration of a Jubilee or other like object.

12. Section 73.—This section provides for the payment of a municipal president. A paid president is to be appointed for Simla.

13. Section 76.—Clause (d), as amended, will give to the committee the property in refuse deposited in municipal receptacles. Any other arrangement is manifestly impossible, but the want of an express legal provision recently led to the abandonment of a reformed system of conservancy in one of the towns of the Province.

14. Section 92.—This section re-enacts section 88 of the present Act with some important changes. In the first place, no compensation is to be given for prohibiting the erection of new buildings. At present compensation is payable, and the power to prohibit is therefore nugatory. At the same time, however, section 151 of the Bill gives an appeal against prohibition of erection. In the second place, the law as it at present stands compels the committee to take action within one month of receipt of notice of intention to build. But it prescribes no time for the submission to the committee of the plan of the buildings and prescribes no conditions which the plan must fulfil. It is therefore comparatively easy to evade the committee's jurisdiction under this section. The new proposals practically require the notice to be accompanied by the plan and allow the committee, with the sanction of the Local Government, to prescribe what the plan shall contain.

15. Sections 93, 104 and 105.—These are new proposals intended principally to provide safeguards in the bazars of hill municipalities which are peculiarly exposed to risks from fire. Section 105, however, will be of general application.

16. Section 100.—This section is intended to provide for the proper disposal of dead animals.

17. Section 120.—This section is the corollary of and sanction for section 105.

18. Section 137.—This section was framed in consequence of representations from Simla. It is a new proposal, and is principally intended to give power to regulate the trade in food so far as may be necessary in any case to secure its cleanly preparation, and to exclude from certain thoroughfares offensive shops, such as those of butchers or spirit-sellers. The section is mainly, though not exclusively, intended for use in hill municipalities.

19. Sections 138-143.—These are new proposals to diminish danger from mad dogs and from infectious diseases. They are adapted from the City of Bombay Municipal Act, 1888.

20. Section 145.—This section is new, and in some respects follows the principle of the Darjeeling Act, V of 1883 (B. C.), for the regulation of hired coolies and vehicles in a hill municipality.

21. Sections 146, 147, 151 and 170.—Sections 146 and 147 are required in consequence of the extended power of rule-making given to committees by the Bill. Similarly, as the Bill gives larger powers to committees, a somewhat larger power of appeal against their decisions is given by sections 151 and 170.

22. Sections 171-174.—These sections provide for the establishment and working of fire-brigades.

23. Section 183.—A sub-section has been added giving to the Local Government in more express terms a power to deal generally with corrupt practices or intimidation at municipal elections.

24. Sections 185 and 186.—Section 185 is intended to enable the committee to institute prosecutions by an easier process than that of the present law, which in many cases is practically unworkable. Similarly, section 186 is intended to make ordinary sanitary police more effective.

25. Section 202.—This section is an adaptation of the provisions of laws passed by the Bombay and Bengal Councils for the prevention of a sweeper strike.

26. Lastly, sections 209 to 213 (both inclusive) are intended to provide for such sanitary and other measures as may be possible in small towns which are not fit to be treated as municipalities, but in which improved arrangements are often extremely desirable. Kalka is an excellent instance of one such place.

INDIAN MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT, 1880, AMENDMENT BILL.

The Hon'ble SIR DAVID BARBOUR presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1880.

MADRAS SMALL CAUSE COURT BILL.

The Hon'ble SIR PHILIP HUTCHINS moved that the Bill to extend the jurisdiction of the Court of Small Causes of Madras be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Sir Alexander Miller, the Hon'ble Mr. Rattigan and the Mover.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

PUNJAB MUNICIPAL BILL.

The Hon'ble SIR PHILIP HUTCHINS also moved for leave to introduce a Bill to make better provision for the administration of Municipalities in the Punjab. He said:—

“As the hon'ble member (Mr. Rattigan) whom Your Excellency has lately appointed to represent the Punjab has not yet taken his seat, it devolves upon me to move for leave to introduce this Bill.

"The law which at present governs the municipalities of the Punjab was enacted in 1884 at a time when a general extension of local self-government was taking place throughout India. It was therefore naturally framed upon a far more elaborate and ambitious model than the former Municipal Act of 1873. The older law was not indeed at that time expressly repealed except in regard to those municipalities to which the new law was specifically extended. But the practical inconvenience of two independent municipal systems in one Province was too great for continuance. The Act of 1884 was speedily extended to all the municipalities then in existence, while no new municipality was ever constituted under the Act of 1873. The latter Act thus fell into complete desuetude; but it was only finally repealed a few months ago by the Obsolete Enactments Act, No. XII of the present year.

"Since August, 1884, therefore, Act No. XIII of 1884 has been in practice the sole municipal law of the Punjab, and an experience of six years has discovered some faults in its operation and some deficiencies in its provisions. Both the faults and the deficiencies are probably due to the very great difference of condition which exists among the various municipalities of the Punjab, and to the extreme difficulty of framing any single enactment which shall be appropriately fitted to the various circumstances of them all. On the one hand, there are large and growing commercial centres, such as Amritsar and Delhi, with a great and intelligent population, with adequate resources, and with large and growing municipal wants and requirements. On the other hand, there are numerous country-towns with a small population which hardly affords material for a municipal administration even of the simplest description. These towns have practically no conception of municipal life on a large scale. Their resources are narrow, and their wishes correspond with their powers. Lastly, apart from both these classes are the various hill-stations, peculiar in their physical situation, the character and habits of their population and the special needs and expectations which follow from these peculiarities.

"Even this enumeration by no means exhausts the differences of condition among the Punjab municipalities, but it sufficiently indicates the difficulties of the case. To some extent these difficulties are recognised in the existing Act by the division of municipalities into two classes, and by the power given to except individual municipalities from the operation of particular provisions of the law. But these arrangements, though salutary in themselves, are insufficient and often hard to apply in practice. The fact remains that there is at present no adequate method by which municipal committees can deal with many matters which either now require, or may shortly require, regulation in the more highly civilized communities, as well as at the hill-stations. At the same time, on the other hand, the apparatus of administration is unnecessarily cumbrous for the smaller towns, and there is naturally some reluctance to bring under so elaborate a system those small townships which are not at present municipalities but in which it is desirable to provide at least some measures of rudimentary sanitation and perhaps also some arrangement for local watch and ward.

"Acting upon these considerations the Punjab Government resolved to undertake an amendment of the municipal law. Their proposals were embodied in a draft Bill recently submitted to the Government of India. Almost everything that is new in the Bill which I am about to ask leave to introduce is taken from this draft or from supplementary suggestions made subsequently by the Local Government. But if the Bill had been passed merely as an amending Act the result would have been to spread the municipal law of the Province over two separate enactments, and this seemed an undesirable arrangement in regard to municipalities in which the law has to be administered by men who have often no legal training and for whom it is therefore expedient to supply a single enactment in as lucid and compact a form as possible. It has therefore been decided (with the full assent of my hon'ble friend the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab) to repeal the existing Municipal Act and to re-enact it with the alterations and additions recommended in the original draft amending Bill. This decision has swollen the Bill now in my hands to very formidable dimensions. But, though rather alarming to look at, it in reality consists for the most part of what is already law and has been law since 1884. What is new is of no great compass, involves no large matter of principle, and merely deals with a number of details of municipal administration. Some of these details have a certain amount of importance, while others are more or less insignificant. I will not weary the Council with a detailed enumeration of the changes which have been made or of the reasons for them. Both will be found fully set out in the Statement of Objects and Reasons annexed to the Bill. But I think that all the new proposals can be conveniently distributed into three groups, and it will perhaps be desirable for me to indicate the character of each group and of the more important items comprised in it.

"In the first place, there are a number of sections which grant new or enlarged powers to committees or in connexion with municipal administration. Some of these are expressly confined to municipalities at hill-stations. Such are the powers to make rules to license porters and hired horses given by section 145. Other powers—such as those given by section 93 for the regulation of building—though not expressly confined to hill-stations, are not likely in practice to be applied elsewhere. The remaining important sections of this type are those which give increased power of control over petroleum and similar inflammable materials (105 and 120), that which gives power to regulate by rule the places in which food and drink may be manufactured for sale or sold (137), those which endeavour to reduce the danger from the malignant diseases of cholera and small-pox (140-143), those which provide for the establishment of fire-brigades (Chapter VIII), and lastly the section which provides for the control of houses of ill-fame (203). In all the more important of these matters the committees will exercise their powers under somewhat strict control from Government, and additional precautions are provided in two ways in regard to all matters which appear to involve any interference with individual habits or industry. In the first place, the various sections will not operate in any municipality unless specially extended thereto, and, in the second place, no such extension will be possible unless specially applied for by the committee. There seems therefore no ground for apprehension either that the committees will abuse their powers or that measures of advanced administration will be thrust upon an unwilling population without its own consent. I may mention that the provision for the control of houses of ill-fame was inserted in the Bill by the Local Government in compliance with the prayer of a petition from Lahore bearing numerous and influential signatures.

"The second group of amendments to which I would refer comprises all those sections which attempt to make municipal administration in general less cumbrous and more efficient. It would be tedious to enumerate these, and were I to attempt the task I could do little more than recapitulate the Statement of Objects and Reasons. Among them will be found provisions to facilitate the change from an appointed to an elected or from an elected to an appointed committee. There are also provisions for decentralizing the administration of the smaller municipalities by delegating some of the functions of the Local Government in regard to them to Commissioners. Other sections of the Bill are intended to simplify the imposition and remission of taxation, and to make better provision for appeals against assessments. The provisions of the existing law as to house-scavenging (which have proved unworkable in practice) have also been thoroughly reformed. Larger powers of control have been given over certain classes of municipal servants. And, lastly, power has been taken to compound offences against municipal byelaws and to make prosecutions for such offences much simpler and more speedy than under the present law.

"The third and last group of changes is that contained in the last chapter of the Bill. There are a good many places in the Punjab, of which Kalka may be mentioned as a good instance and one familiar to hon'ble members, which are clearly not fitted for municipal government, but which nevertheless require some adequate arrangements for conservancy or for police or for both. At present such townships can only be dealt with under Act No. XX of 1856, which is an inconvenient, and in some respects an obsolete, enactment. Chapter XI of the present Bill endeavours to supply a simple regulation for places of this description. Under its provisions it will be possible in several small towns to provide at least some rudimentary measure of public cleanliness, and in process of time, as resources develop, such towns may be gradually elevated to full municipal rank.

"The remaining changes introduced by the Bill are not of much importance. They deal mainly with elucidations of doubtful points in the present law, or with the regulation of minor practical details. I do not think I need detain the Council with any account of these."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble SIR PHILIP HUTCHINS also introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble SIR PHILIP HUTCHINS also moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India in English, and in the Punjab Government Gazette in English and in such other languages as the Local Government thinks fit.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned to Thursday, the 20th August, 1891.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DÉPARTEMENT.

Weather Review of India for the week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, August 1st, 1891.

The past week has been marked by a burst of the monsoon and of general rainfall which has not been approached during the present season. This result has been attributable to two causes—the first an exceptional strengthening of the monsoon over the Arabian Sea; the second the passage of a fairly deep cyclonic storm through the central parts of the country to Rajputana and Sind. These two causes have operated in unison. The strong monsoon current brought up an exceptionally large amount of moisture. The cyclonic storm over India occasioned steep barometric gradients and much ascensional movement, so that the monsoon current was rapidly drained of its moisture. It will be remembered that at the close of last week a well marked cyclonic storm lay over the head of the Bay. The chart of the 26th showed that this storm had commenced a westerly movement, and lay over West Bengal and the east of the Central Provinces. Extending from the head of the Bay westward through the central parts of the country to Lower Sind was a trough of low pressure, and it was along this trough that the storm subsequently progressed. On the 27th the centre was close to Jubbulpore, on the 28th just to the west of Jhansi, on the 29th to the west of Ajmere, on the 30th near Bikanir, and on the 31st it had disappeared. On the last date a fresh depression had appeared over the head of the Bay, and on the 31st this new depression was intensifying. Throughout the whole period of the existence of the first storm the wind was strong throughout the greater part of the Indian region, and on the 28th the monsoon on the Bombay Coast was blowing with a velocity of 35 miles per hour, and at the head of the Bay with a velocity of 32 miles per hour. In the east of the Peninsula the influence of the storm was felt less than in any other part of the Indian region, and this part of the country only received very slight and scattered showers until the close of the week, when, with the appearance of a fresh depression over the Bay, the rainfall, though at no time heavy, became more general. In all other parts of the country rain fell very generally, and over and in the neighbourhood of the storm's course very heavily. This was particularly the case on the North Konkan Coast and in parts of Guzerat, where the fall, though by no means unprecedented, was yet excessively heavy.

Temperature.—Owing to the general rain there has been a considerable fall of temperature, and the general excess of  $2\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$  noticed last week has been changed into a general deficiency of  $\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$ . The following table shows the variations of temperature from the normal average on each day for the principal Provinces of India :

The above figures show that for India generally there was only one day, vis., the 31st, on which the mean temperature was above the normal, and one day (the 30th) on which it exactly equalled the average. On the other five days there was a deficiency ranging from  $0.1^{\circ}$  on the 1st August to  $1.3^{\circ}$  on the 26th and 27th July. As a general rule, the provincial variations for the week showed very small departures from the normal, but in the Punjab there was an average deficiency of nearly  $3^{\circ}$ . Sind, Rajputana, and Madras were the only Provinces where on the average of the week the weather was warmer than usual.

Rain.—The rainfall table at the close of this summary shows that rain has been received in all the divisions of India, and that, except in Madras (Central and South), where the amount received does not exceed one-tenth of an inch, the rainfall has been effective. The heaviest average fall was 15 inches in Arakan: this was followed by  $13\frac{1}{2}$  inches in Guzerat, by  $11\frac{1}{2}$  inches in the Konkan, and by  $9\frac{1}{2}$  inches in Tenasserim. As noticed above, the smallest fall was registered in Madras (South and Central), but over nearly the whole of the east and centre of the Peninsula the average fall was less than 1 inch, and this was equally true of the east of the North-Western Provinces, Oudh, the west of the Punjab, and Sind. Notwithstanding the very large falls in some parts of the country, the general fall over India was not in excess of the normal; thus, while twenty-two of the rainfall divisions reported an excess, twenty-eight reported a deficiency. The regions of excess included the following divisions:—Arakan, Central Bengal, all the Punjab divisions, except the hill districts; the divisions in the west of the Peninsula, except Coorg; the Central Provinces divisions; and the divisions in Guzerat, Kattiawar, Rajputana, and Central India; while the regions over which there was a deficiency included Burma, except Arakan; Bengal and Assam, except Central Bengal; the North-Western Provinces, and the eastern half of the Peninsula. The greatest absolute excess was in Guzerat; the greatest absolute deficiency was in the North-Western Provinces (East) and Oudh (South). The rainfall over Guzerat and Kattiawar was exceptionally heavy. The heaviest rainfall was apparently on the 28th and 29th, when Surat had 14 inches, Broach 17 inches, and Kaira and Baroda 6 inches each. The week's fall at some of the subdivisional stations was very heavy; thus, Jalalpur (Surat) had 36 inches and Ankhisur (Broach) 28 inches. The burst of rain which gave these falls was the heaviest which has been experienced during the present monsoon season.

The heavy fall of the past week has still further diminished the large seasonal deficiency which has been noticed in the returns of previous weeks. The divisions reporting an excess form still a small minority, being only Tenasserim, Lower Burma, Central Burma, Madras (South and Central), Coorg, Mysore, Khandeish, and Rajputana (West); but this list shows an increase as compared with last week, while over a very large part of the country the amount of the deficiency has been diminished. The North-Western Provinces, the hill districts of the Punjab, and Sind are the divisions showing the largest seasonal deficiencies. The record of maximum falls shows the following large amounts:

W. L. DALLAS,

SIMLA, 6th August, 1891.

Assistant Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India.

E. C. BUCK,

Secretary to the Government of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Weekly Report on the State of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 1st August.—Rainfall to date largely below average in all districts, except Ganjam, Tinnevely, Nilgiris, Malabar, and South Canara. Rainfall of week also largely below average everywhere, except Vizagapatam, Nilgiris, Malabar, and South Canara. Want of rain and water much felt in several districts. The average cultivation prior to end of July on unirrigated lands is about one-fourth of the total unirrigated cultivation of the year; that in August is about one-seventh of the whole. These areas, which, excluding zemindaris, represent about 7,000,000 acres, are dependent on the rainfall of August. Distress is increasing in Chingleput, North Arcot, and Coimbatore, and great anxiety is reported regarding parts of Cuddapah and South Arcot. The recent rains have improved pasture in Chingleput, but done little further good. Prices falling in Kurnool, Trichinopoly, Madura, Tinnevely, Coimbatore; stationary in Anantapur and the Nilgiris; and generally rising elsewhere. Over 9,600 coolies employed on the last day of the week in the Chingleput district, 4,188 in the Wandiwash taluk, 2,445 in the Kalahasti zemindari, 2,265 in Coimbatore, 750 in Nellore, 674 in Tinnevely, 401 in Malabar, and 192 in the Royachoti taluk in Cuddapah. Number fed at kitchens—1,534, including 403 women and 944 children, in five taluks of Chingleput; 790, including 142 women and 582 children, in the Wandiwash taluk; and 1,579, including 1,160 children, in the Kalahasti zemindari. Loans granted for wells from commencement of distress—Rs. 2,26,550 in Chingleput, Rs. 19,820 in Tinnevely, Rs. 9,180 in Cuddapah, and Rs. 7,247 in the Wandiwash taluk. Wells constructed—685 in Chingleput, 19 in Cuddapah, 40 in Tinnevely, and 5 in Coimbatore. Wells under construction—1,686 in Chingleput, 56 in the Wandiwash taluk, 115 in Cuddapah, 67 in Tinnevely, and 5 in Coimbatore.

Bombay.—For week ending 5th August.—Good and beneficial rain throughout the Presidency, except in Sind and parts of Deccan and Karnatic, where it was moderate or slight. Total fall insufficient in six districts. Sowing and transplantation in progress. Young crops injured by locusts in parts of Sind; withering in parts of two districts; otherwise good. Prices continue steady.

Bengal.—For week ending 4th August.—Rainfall during the week has been fairly general. Cultivation of winter rice is progressing, but more rain is still wanted in several places. Prospects of early rice, jute, and sugarcane are fair in Behar. Bhadoi crops require rain in some places. In North and East Bengal early rice and jute harvests are proceeding. The outturn in some districts is reported to be somewhat short of the average. Indigo manufacture is in progress. Prices stationary.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 5th August.—The rain that has fallen at intervals during the week has been generally light, and in parts of four districts it has been insufficient, and the crops that have germinated are suffering. Elsewhere the prospects of the kharif crops have improved, but more rain is required for rice. Prices have slightly risen in six districts; elsewhere they are steady. Locusts have appeared again in Jhansi and done some damage. Fodder is scarce in Benares and dear in Lucknow.

Punjab.—For week ending 5th August.—Rain has fallen in all but one district. Prices rising in five districts; stationary elsewhere. Average prices of wheat and jowar  $15\frac{1}{4}$  and  $10\frac{3}{4}$  seers per rupee. Harvesting of rabi crops over. Kharif sowings in progress. Sowings on barani lands commenced in Lahore. More rain still wanted in most districts. Prospects of standing crops are generally reported fair. Condition of sugarcane and cotton crops average in Jullundur. Locusts have appeared throughout the Ferozepore district, but have disappeared in Dera Ismail Khan. Fodder sufficient in all districts except two, where it is scarce.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 5th August.—Weather generally cloudy and rainy. Break required in Nagpur for jowari and cotton; too much rain has necessitated re-sowings in some places. In Nimar sowings nearly completed. Transplanting of rice and weeding in progress. Prospects good. Prices steady.

Burma—For week ending 1st August.—In Lower Burma ploughing and sowing completed in some districts and approaching completion in all. Transplanting in progress. In Upper Burma prospects have slightly improved in Katha, but in all other districts have become worse. Paddy nurseries are withering in Kyaukse and Yamethin, and standing crops everywhere damaged by protracted drought. Cotton crop in parts completely destroyed. Ploughing has been stopped where begun, and in parts it has not been commenced from want of rain, notably in Sagaing, Pakokku, Magwe, and Yamethin. Sowing has been stopped in Meiktila. The price of paddy has risen considerably in Kyaukse and Yamethin.

Assam.—For week ending 5th August.—Weather warm. Rain wanted in some districts. Reaping of early and transplanting of late rice continue. Prospects of tea good.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 5th August.—Rain much needed throughout the State. Standing crops in good condition. Agricultural operations retarded in parts for want of rain. Prospects generally fair. Prices risen in one district.

Rainfall good in Coorg during the week. Transplanting of rice continues. Prospects generally good. Prices stationary.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 5th August.—Average rainfall fair in Berar. Jowari sowing continues. Cotton plants generally in good condition. Weeding operations commenced. Fodder still reported insufficient in parts of the Amraoti, Akola, and Buldana districts. Prices almost stationary.

Rainfall slight in Hyderabad during the week. Sowing of kharif crops finished. Sowing of abi crops begun in lands irrigated by wells. Tanks and wells received no water. Scarcity of fodder has commenced to be felt. Prices are rising.

Central India.—For week ending 5th August.—Rain everywhere except in Gwalior. Prices rising in Gwalior and high in Bhopal and Western Malwa. Agricultural stock bad in Neemuch and poor in parts of Bhopal.

Rajputana.—For week ending 5th August.—Heavy rain fell almost all over Rajputana ; moderate in four States, and slight in two. Agricultural operations progressing and satisfactory generally. Standing crops fair. Slight damage done by locusts to crops in some States and at Ajmere. Agricultural stock still poor in some States, but improving in others. Cattle mortality continues in Ajmere. Pasturage or fodder scarce in some States ; sufficient or improving in others as fresh grass is springing up. Prices steady generally, but falling in some States. Average prices of wheat, barley, and jowar in Ajmere 13½, 16½, and 15 seers per rupee. About 2,150 persons on relief works, and gratuitous relief afforded to 567 persons who are unable to work in Ajmere-Merwara. Scarcity in some villages of Bikanir.

Nepal.—For week ending 30th July.—Rainfall plentiful. Prospects of Indian-corn and rice in the Katmandu Valley are favourable. It is reported that locusts have partially injured the crops in Eastern Nepal. Prices continue abnormally high at Katmandu.

No. 4774.—In exercise of the powers conferred on the Local Government by Section 56 of Act XXII of 1881 (as amended by Act XIII of 1890) as applied to the territories administered by the Agent to the Governor-General in Baluchistan as such Agent, the Agent to the Governor-General is pleased to direct that all malt liquors supplied to the Commissariat Department for issue to the troops under contracts, which were executed on or before 28th March 1890, shall be exempted, and are hereby exempted, from the duty prescribed in Section 7a of Act XIII of 1890.

No. 4775.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 10 of Act XXII of 1881 (as amended by Act XIII of 1890) as applied to the territories administered by the Agent to the Governor-General in Baluchistan as such Agent, the Agent to the Governor-General is pleased to sanction the following rules which have been made by the Chief Revenue Authority in the aforesaid territories under Sections 8 and 55 of the aforesaid Act, and they are hereby published for general information :—

1. A license to work a brewery in Baluchistan, granted under Section 5 of Act XXII of 1881, shall be given in the form annexed, the form (No. XIII) prescribed under Act X of 1871 being hereby superseded.

2. Applications for licenses shall be made to the Political Agent of the district in which it is proposed to work the brewery.

3. A brewer licensed to work a brewery may, if it be thought necessary, be required to deposit, as security for abstinence from all acts involving forfeiture of the license, a sum not exceeding Rs. 5,000, the whole of which, or such portion as the Chief Revenue Authority may determine, shall be liable to forfeiture in the event of any breach of these rules or of the conditions of his license, involving forfeiture of the license, being proved. On the license expiring otherwise than by forfeiture, the sum so deposited shall be returned by the Political Agent.

4. Such deposit will further be at the disposal of the Political Agent for the discharge of all payments, whether of excise duty or of fines or forfeitures, to which the brewer may be liable by law, by these rules, or by the conditions of his license, or by any engagement into which he may have entered.

5. The Political Agent of the district in which a brewery is licensed, or any officer whom he may appoint for the purpose, shall be the officer of Excise in charge of the brewery, and a subordinate officer or officers may also be stationed at that brewery to check the outturn, issues, and receipts of fermented liquors, and to see that the provisions of the Excise Act and of these rules are duly complied with. Such subordinate officers shall be paid by Government at a rate or rates to be determined by the Chief Revenue Authority, and shall be appointed and removed by the Political Agent of the district.

6. Every brewer must provide suitable accommodation within the brewery for any Excise Officer or Officers who may be stationed at the brewery under the provisions of the preceding rule. The officer or officers thus appointed shall keep such accounts of the outturn, issues, receipts, and returns of fermented liquors, and of the Excise duty thereon payable, as may from time to time be prescribed by the Political Agent, subject to the approval of higher authority.

7. Every brewer must provide and maintain sufficient and just liquid Imperial measures and other necessary and reasonable appliances to enable the officers to take account of, or check by gauge or measure, all casks, jars, bottles, or other vessels issuing from the brewery, and must render all reasonable assistance to the officers in the gauging, measuring, or check of such vessels.

8. Issues of fermented liquor may only be made from a brewery between the hours of 7 A.M. and 7 P.M. between March 1st and October 31st, and between the hours of 8 A.M. and 6 P.M. between the 1st November and the last day of February.

9. No fermented liquor shall be issued from a brewery until it has paid duty at the rate leviable under the Indian Tariff Act, 1882, on like liquor imported by sea, except liquor merely transferred from one brewery to another under Rule 10 following, and malt liquor supplied to the Commissariat Department for issue to troops, which have been exempted by the Agent to the Governor-General's Notification No. 4774, dated 22nd July 1891. The approximate original specific gravity of the wort of all fermented liquor must be declared by the brewer before issue, and the Political Agent or officer in charge of the brewery may either accept such declaration or may cause the original gravity to be ascertained by test or analysis, and may take samples of the liquor not exceeding two quart bottles from each cask for the purpose. Samples thus taken shall be sealed by the Excise Officer and brewer before leaving the brewery, and the brewer in charge may, as of right, be present either in person or by agent at any examination or analysis that may be made.

10. Liquor issued from a licensed brewery merely for transmission to another licensed brewery may be allowed to travel in bond. The tap and bung-hole of each cask shall be sealed by the Excise Officer at the brewery. A declaration of the quantity of liquor thus forwarded, its original specific gravity, and its place of destination must be furnished to the officer in charge of the brewery, who will, if satisfied that the transfer is being made in good faith, grant to the brewer a pass to cover transport of the same, and forward a duplicate of the pass to the Collector or Political Agent of the district for which it is destined.

11. On payment of the prescribed duty, or, in the case of liquor exempted from duty by the Notification referred to in Rule 9, after satisfying himself that it is really intended to be supplied to the Commissariat Department for issue to troops, under a contract executed on or before 28th March 1890, the Political Agent or other officer in charge of the brewery shall grant a pass in the form annexed authorizing the brewer to remove and despatch from the brewery liquor intended for consumption. The agency or other destination of liquor thus removed must be declared before removal for specification in the pass, but the destination may be subsequently altered and the pass renewed by the officer in charge of the brewery for any sufficient reason. A duplicate of such original or renewed pass when granted shall be forwarded by the officer of Excise in charge of the brewery to the Political Agent or Collector of the district for which the liquor is destined.

12. The duty realized on fermented liquor returned unsold to the brewery of issue, or any brewery worked bond fide in the same interest, will be refunded, provided that original specific gravity of liquor thus returned be declared or be found to accord with the gravity recorded at the time of issue. In the event of a return being made to a brewery other than the brewery of issue, the brewer claiming a refund must produce a certificate as to the quantity and original specific gravity of the beer issued, and as to the payment of the duty thereon, from the Excise Officer in charge of the brewery of issue, with such other evidence as may be necessary to support the claim.

13. With the sanction of the Revenue Commissioner, payments and refunds of duty in any licensed brewery may be made by book credit in any account kept for the purpose by the Excise Officer in charge of, or the Excise Officer stationed at, the brewery, on the understanding that the account thus maintained be settled quarterly, and that any sum found to be due by the brewer be paid into the nearest Government Treasury within one week of the expiration of the quarter.

14. The following books must be kept in each brewery for inspection and verification by the Excise Officers of Government:—

This book should show, in a separate column any imported beer received at the brewery on which duty has been paid at the port of landing and on which duty is not again chargeable under these Rules.

15. A quarterly account shall be prepared by every brewer, and shall be forwarded by him to the Political Agent of the district on or before the 15th day of each of the months of January, April, July, and October. Such account shall show the total quantity of liquor issued during the preceding quarter, the quantity on which duty was payable, the amount of duty paid either in cash or by book credit as provided for by Rule 13, the quantity of liquor returned unsold to the brewery, and the amount claimed or received as a refund of duty actually paid.

16. Any brewer attempting to defraud the revenue by removing from the brewery fermented liquor liable to duty on which duty has not been paid, or by rendering false returns of the outturn, issues, returns, and receipts of fermented liquor, or by making false declarations as to the original specific gravity of liquor issued from the brewery, shall be liable to the forfeiture of the whole, or such portion as the Chief Revenue Authority may determine, of the sum deposited by him as security under Rule 3, in addition to any punishment to which he may be liable under the Excise Act.

17. The Excise Officer or Officers stationed at a brewery shall be allowed free access at any time of the day, and, if specially authorized by the Political Agent or other Officer in charge of the brewery, at any time during the night, to every part of the brewery premises for purposes of inspection or for the performance of their Excise duties. ### REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

By DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first four volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses, both chemical and industrial; trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributions have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names; so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and G in 534 pages; Volume IV, letters G to L in 643 pages. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in six volumes by 1891; but a seventh volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary; and this, as a work of reference, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The price to subscribers will be in India R30 and in England 2 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set. An extra charge for packing and postage will be made for the set—in India, at 8a. per volume, and for England at R2-6 per volume.

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole sets.

* No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately. The price to non-subscribers will be R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England, exclusive of packing and postage.

No. 772.—The Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct the publication, in continuation of G. G. O. No. 585 of 1891, of the subjoined correspondence:

No. 428-M, dated Simla, 17th July 1891.

Memo. by the Adjutant-General in India.

The following is submitted for the information of the Government of India in the Military Department, in continuation of this office No. 375-M, dated 11th June 1891.

No. 411-M, dated Camp Manipur, 3rd July 1891.

From—The General Officer Commanding the Manipur Field Force,

To—The Adjutant-General in India.

When I had the honor of submitting, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, my letter (No. 59-M, dated 2nd May) reporting the occupation of Manipur, I made no reference to the services rendered by the Telegraph Department and by the Postal Department, because up to that date it had not been possible for either department to get into working order.

2. I beg permission now to record that the Telegraph Department opened office at Manipur on 11th May, and that in my opinion great credit is due to Mr. H. T. Piquhey, Assistant Superintendent in charge, and to his subordinates, for the energy and resource they displayed in effecting so rapid a reconstruction of the line.

3. Up to Kairong (two marches within Manipur territory) the wire was found nearly intact, and an office was opened at that place on the 24th April, the morning after our arrival; but between Kairong and Manipur it had been almost entirely destroyed, many of the posts even having been broken down or pulled up.

4. The Postal Department was somewhat longer in perfecting its arrangements on the lines of communication; but it is now working very well, and I am glad to acknowledge the services rendered by Mr. F. P. Williams, the Superintendent in charge, and by Mr. J. W. Pilkington, the Deputy Postmaster-General, Assam.

No. 773.—Lieutenant L. G. N. Eales, East Kent Regiment, held the appointment of Assistant Superintendent of Army Signalling with the Kohima Column of the Manipur Field Force from the 18th April to the 2nd May 1891.

Weather Review of India for the week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, August 8th, 1891.

The past week has been one of very strongly marked monsoon conditions. The rainfall has been general and in some places exceedingly heavy, while two cyclonic storms have appeared over the head of the Bay and advanced north-westward. The monsoon current has been strong on both sides of India, while the winds composing the cyclonic circulations around the two storms noticed above have at times blown very strongly.

On the 2nd a well marked cyclonic storm was shown over the head of the Bay and part of Lower Bengal. The wind circulated cyclonically around it, while a general westerly current prevailed across the central parts of the country and the Peninsula. In the north-west the directions were variable. Rain was falling, except in North-West India, North Bengal, and the South Karnatic, the amounts at the stations around the head of the Bay being large. On the 3rd the observations showed that the centre of the storm had passed inland over South-West Bengal, but there was no other change of importance. By the 4th the storm centre had reached the extreme west of Chota Nagpur and the rainfall had become heavy in the Central Provinces, while it had fallen off over Bengal and the head of the Bay. The centre of the cyclonic circulation of the winds had travelled westward with the storm, but in other respects the wind directions had not changed much. The chart of the 5th showed that the storm had continued to advance north-westward and that the centre was near Sutna; but the principal change was the rapid barometric fall in North-West India, which brought the low pressure area in the north-west into greater prominence, and gave steepish gradients for south-west winds between the North-West Himalayas and the Arabian Sea. These winds gave heavy rain to the west of the North-Western Provinces and to the east of the Punjab. By the morning of the 6th the depression noticed near Sutna had disappeared and a fresh depression had appeared over the north-west angle of the Bay and the neighbouring part of Bengal; but the most marked feature in the distribution was the very low pressure existing over the Indus Valley and the steepish gradients for southerly winds prevailing in the north-west. On the 7th similar conditions prevailed and fairly general rain was falling, except over the Western desert and over parts of the Peninsula. On the 8th the barometer was rising briskly in the north-west, so that the steepness of the barometric gradient had decreased. The rainfall had fallen somewhat in amount, but the extent was similar to that reported during the preceding two days.

Temperature.—The temperature conditions of the past week call for comparatively little notice. A considerable excess was reported from parts of North-West India during the earlier half of the week, and a considerable defect from the same regions in the latter part of the week; but, on the whole, the temperature has been fairly normal.

The following table shows the variations of temperature from the normal average on each day for the principal Provinces of India :

PROVINCE.	AUGUST							Mean variation for week.
	2nd.	3rd.	4th.	5th.	6th.	7th.	8th.

Berar and Central Provinces . . . . .	— 1'2	+ 0'1	— 2'6	— 3'1	— 1'9	— 2'4	— 2'1	— 1'9
Guzerat and Central India . . . . .	— 1'3	— 0'8	+ 1'2	+ 0'7	0	— 1'7	— 0'4	— 0'3

Madras . . . . .	+ 0'5	+ 1'3	+ 1'5	+ 1'7	+ 2'0	+ 1'9	+ 1'3	+ 1'5
Mean for whole India . . . . .	+ 0'2	+ 1'1	+ 1'1	+ 0'7	+ 0'3	— 0'8	— 0'8	+ 0'3

For the whole of India the mean variation was only + 0'3°. On five days the mean temperature was slightly above and on two days slightly below the normal. The provincial variations showed a slight excess in Bengal, Assam, the North-Western Provinces, Bombay, Sind, Rajputana, and Madras, and a slight deficiency in Burma, the Central Provinces, and Central India, and no variation in the Punjab.

Rain—During the week under review rain has been received in all the rainfall divisions of India, except Sind and Madras (South), where the weather has been fine throughout. The heaviest average fall was 17½ inches in Tenasserim, followed by 17 inches in Arakan, by 12½ inches in the hill districts of the Punjab, by 12 inches in Lower Burma, and by between 6 and 8 inches in Central Burma, the North-Western Provinces (Submontane), and the Central Provinces (East). Of the fifty rainfall divisions for which a comparison is possible, twenty-five received more and twenty-three less than the normal, while two had exactly the average amount. The regions of general excess included the Burma divisions, Orissa, Chota Nagpur, the North-Western Provinces divisions, the central, submontane, and hill districts of the Punjab, Malabar, the Deccan and Khandeish, the Central Provinces and Central India, while the regions reporting a deficient fall were generally Bengal and the greater part of the Peninsula. The greatest absolute excess was in Tenasserim; the greatest absolute deficiency was in Assam and Bengal, but relatively to the normal the greatest deficiency was in parts of Madras.

The total rainfall for the period May 31st to August 8th, 1891, compared with the general average of that period shows that over by far the greater part of the Indian region the monsoon rains are still deficient by varying amounts. The only divisions reporting an excess are Tenasserim, Lower and Central Burma, Arakan, Madras (South Central), Coorg, Mysore, the Bombay Deccan, and Khandeish. This is a slight improvement as compared with the conditions reported in previous weeks, and in the divisions reporting a deficiency there is some decrease in the amount of the defect. The general improvement amounts to 5 per cent., the figures for last week showing that for the whole of India 72 per cent. of the normal rainfall had been received, while the figures for the present week show that 77 per cent. has been received. The regions where less than half the normal has been received are the North-Western Provinces (East and Central), Oudh (North and South), the Punjab (West), Sind, Hyderabad, Madras (Central and South), and East Coast (South). The greatest deficiency relatively to the normal is in Sind.

The record of heavy falls shows some exceptional amounts in North-West India, where a very heavy burst of rain occurred between the 5th and 7th; but in other parts of India the recorded amounts are not larger than usual, and in parts of the west of the Peninsula are indeed in some cases much smaller. The following are the principal heavy falls :

Weekly Report on the State of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 8th August.—Rainfall good in South Canara, Malabar, Nilgiris, Ganjam, Vizagapatam, and Godavari; very slight and much below average elsewhere; and none in Trichinopoly. Rainfall to date generally largely below average and very deficient, except in three northern districts; in Tinnevely and on the West Coast urgently needed. Crops suffering for want of rain. Sowings to end of July in affected districts much below average, except in Cuddapah. Pasturage and fodder growing scarce and cattle suffering for want of water and fodder. Prices generally rising, except in Godavari, Tinnevely, Coimbatore, Nilgiris, and Malabar, where they have fallen slightly or are stationary. 5,992 coolies employed on works in Chingleput, 5,318 in the Wandiwash taluk, 2,956 in the Kalahasti zemindari, 2,783 in Coimbatore, 1,790 in Nellore, 473 in Malabar, 469 in Tinnevely, and 218 in the Royachoti taluk in Cuddapah. Numbers fed at kitchens—1,556, including 513 women and 925 children, in five taluks of Chingleput; 934, including 179 women and 681 children, in the Wandiwash taluk; and 1,866, including 1,361 children, in the Kalahasti zemindari. Loans granted for wells from commencement of distress—Rs. 2,33,058 in Chingleput, Rs. 19,820 in Tinnevely, Rs. 11,322 in Cuddapah, Rs. 59,387 in the Wandiwash taluk, and Rs. 14,310 in Coimbatore. Wells constructed—703 in Chingleput, 30 in Tinnevely, 28 in Coimbatore, 26 in North Arcot, and 22 in Cuddapah. Wells under construction—1,736 in Chingleput, 557 in North Arcot, 157 in Cuddapah, and 68 in Tinnevely.

Bombay.—For week ending 12th August.—Good rain throughout the Presidency proper, except parts of Deccan and Karnatic. Total fall insufficient in Sholapur, Bijapur, parts of Poona, Ahmednagar, Belgaum, and Dharwar. Sowing and transplantation of early crops progressing generally. Preparations for late crops commenced in Sholapur. Standing crops withering in parts of three districts; injured by locusts in parts of Sind, and by excessive rain in parts of Surat and Broach, Baroda and Khandesh; otherwise good.

Bengal.—For week ending 11th August.—Rainfall during the week has been general, but more rain is still wanted in some places for transplantation of winter rice. Autumn crops have been much improved by the rain. Prospects of aus, jute, and sugarcane are fair in North and East Bengal. Early rice and jute harvests are proceeding. Indigo manufacture going on. Prices stationary.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 12th August.—The rainfall has been general and steady, and in the western districts very heavy. Prospects have very much improved. Sowings are being completed. Rice is being transplanted and weeding is affording employment. Locusts have done some slight damage in four districts. Supply of fodder for cattle is not so scarce now in Lucknow; is becoming available in Jhansi; and is sufficient elsewhere. Prices are steady, except in Allahabad, where they have risen, and in Meerut, where they tend to fall. Export continues from Moradabad.

Punjab.—For week ending 12th August.—Rain has fallen in all districts except Mooltan. Prices unsettled in Delhi; rising in four western districts; stationary elsewhere. Sowings of kharif crops in progress. More rain still wanted in some districts. Crops are generally reported to be in fair condition. Recent rains have done good to the standing crops. Condition of sugarcane and cotton crops is average in Jullundur. Locusts have again appeared in parts of three districts. Fodder insufficient in Delhi; average in two districts; and sufficient elsewhere.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 12th August.—The weather has continued to be rainy till within the last two days, when a break set in, which was much needed. The only tract in the Provinces where rainfall is still reported insufficient is the northern tahsil of the Jubbulpore district. Damage has been caused to cotton and til by excessive moisture, and in some parts of the Nagpur country the sowing of jowari has been greatly delayed, and is still in progress. The rice crop has been damaged by excessive rain in low lying lands in parts of Bilaspur, but generally rice prospects are excellent, and transplanting and weeding progressing under favourable conditions. Locusts have appeared in Bilaspur. No lack of grass fodder.

Burma.—For week ending 8th August.—In Lower Burma crop prospects are generally favourable and the paddy plants in good condition. In Bassein the paddy nurseries have been slightly damaged by heavy rain, while in the Mindon and Minhla townships of the Thayetmyo district more rain is wanted, as also in Sinbaungwe, where crops have been slightly destroyed by drought. In Upper Burma prospects are gloomy, particularly in Meiktila and Yamethin and the Pauk township of Pakokku, where agricultural operations are at a stand still from want of rain. Everywhere rain is deficient. In the Eastern Pagyi township of Lower Chindwin cotton and sessamum crops have failed, and in Ayadaw they are withering. A later report from Pyinmana reports heavy rain there, and anxiety in that district is at an end for the present. The price of paddy has risen considerably in Pakokku, but elsewhere stationary. Food supply scanty in Yamethin.

Assam.—For week ending 12th August.—Weather warm; more rain wanted in Sylhet, Goalpara, and Nowgong. Transplanting of late and reaping of early rice continue. Tea doing well.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 12th August.—Crops and prospects generally good, but more rain is required throughout the State. Sowing operations delayed for want of rain. Prices risen in two districts.

Rainfall good in Coorg during the week. Transplanting of rice still continues. Prospects of season good.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 12th August.—Average rainfall good in Berar. Weeding operations continue. Cotton plants in good condition. Fodder still reported insufficient in parts of three districts. Prices rising in the Akola district.

Rainfall slight in Hyderabad during the week. Weeding of khari and sowing of abi crops continue in some places, but in many places the latter crop is retarded for want of rain. Tanks and wells received no water. Fodder scarce. Prices rising.

Central India.—For week ending 12th August.—Rain insufficient in Western Malwa. Prices steady in Gwalior; falling in Bundelkhand. No other changes of importance.

Rajputana.*—For week ending 12th August.—Rather heavy rain fell in four States; moderate in five States and at Abu; slight in four others and at Ajmere. No rain in Sirohi, Marwar, and Kishengarh. Agricultural operations still in progress and satisfactory generally. Standing crops fair generally. Locusts still doing more or less damage in some States and at Ajmere. Cattle still suffer from scarcity of fodder in a few States, and dying at Kherwara, Ajmere, and Jeypore. Pasturage or fodder sufficient generally, as new grass is growing. Prices steady generally, but fluctuating in some States. About 2,500 persons on relief works, gratuitous relief afforded to about 120 persons. Scarcity in some villages of Bikanir.

Nepal.—For week ending 6th August.—Rain general. Harvesting of indian-corn begun. Rice crop doing well. Prices continue exceptionally high.

* In the report for previous week—Number on gratuitous relief for 567 " read 120 "

Secretary to the Government of India.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE "BHARATI AND BALAK."

To the Honourable the Commons of Great Britain and Ireland in Parliament assembled,

The Petition of the undersigned inhabitants of India and Burmah,

SHEWETH

That your Petitioners respectfully desire to call your attention to an evil of the gravest nature which threatens the welfare of the millions of this portion of the British empire. This great evil is the opium vice, which is ministered to by the large facilities for its indulgence afforded by Government by the places licensed for its sale and consumption

That the destruction of human happiness and life by the opium vice is so terrible, and its continued extension so appalling to contemplate, that your Petitioners pray that immediate measures may be taken to stay this desolating scourge.

- (1) by the Government of India retiring from and prohibiting in these lands the growth and manufacture of opium, and
- (2) by enacting the same protection to the people of these dominions against opium consumption as is afforded to the people of Great Britain under the Pharmacy Act of 1868, by which it is unlawful for opium to be sold except by duly qualified Chemists and Druggists for medicinal purposes, and then only under a label inscribed with the word ' POISON '

That your Petitioners plead for equal justice for the vast populations of India and Burmah, in the above mentioned matter, with their British fellow-subjects in Great Britain

That your Petitioners also respectfully express the hope and desire that the Imperial Government will, with the stoppage of the growth, manufacture, and common sale of the opium poison in India and Burmah, make it legally, as it is now morally, criminal for British subjects to carry, send, or sell, or be partners or agents in carrying, sending, or selling, this devastating drug to or in the great neighbouring country of China, or elsewhere in the East, thus ending what is practically a war policy towards a nation with whom Great Britain professes to be on terms of peace

And your Petitioners will ever pray

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

By DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first four volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses, both chemical and industrial; trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributions have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names; so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 550 royal pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and G in 534 pages; Volume IV, letters H to L in 643 pages. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in six volumes by 1891; but a seventh volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary; and this, as a work of reference, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The price to subscribers will be in India R30 and in England 2 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set. An extra charge for packing and postage will be made for the set—in India, at 8s. per volume, and for England at R2-6 per volume.

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole sets.

* No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately. The price to non-subscribers will be R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England, exclusive of packing and postage.

The subscription list of the above work will be closed on the 1st October next, and thereafter, copies will only be obtainable at the rates fixed for non-subscribers.

NOTIFICATION.

Simla, the 21st August, 1891.

No. 1700-E.—The following Resolution and Proclamation regarding the trial of accused persons in Manipur and the regrant of the Manipur State are issued by order of the Governor-General in Council:

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India, Foreign Department.

Read—

Letter from MAJOR-GENERAL H. COLLETT, C.B., Commanding Manipur Field Force, No. 20, dated the 15th May 1891; letters from MAJOR H. ST. P. MAXWELL, Chief Political Officer in Manipur, No. 32, dated the 29th May, No. 37, dated the 2nd June, No. 48, dated the 14th June, No. 58, dated the 20th June, No. 67, dated the 24th June, No. 91, dated the 8th July, and No. 132, dated the 31st July 1891; also letter from MAN MOHAN GHOSE, Esq., dated the 28th July, and enclosures.

RESOLUTION.

In March last the Manipur State openly resisted by force of arms the troops of Her Majesty the Queen, Empress of India; and, while this resistance was in progress, Her Majesty's Representative and other British officers were seized and put to death. The Manipur State was thereupon occupied by a British force; and the officer commanding was instructed to place upon their trial all persons suspected of murder or abetment of murder or of having acted as leaders or instigators of revolt. In pursuance of this order the Regent, Kula Chandra Singh, and his brothers, Tikendrajit Singh and Angao Singh, and other persons, were made prisoners and placed upon their trial.

Having regard to the great importance of the question raised in these cases, His Excellency the Governor-General in Council has resolved to draw up a statement of the reasons which have led him to the conclusion that all the accused have committed heinous offences against the State, and deserve exemplary punishment.

2. It is true that these accused persons were with one exception not amenable for the acts charged against them to the municipal law of British India, and that the Courts by which they were tried derived their authority solely from the special Commission under which they were constituted. This Commission issued, as has been correctly apprehended by Mr. Man Mohan Ghose, in the exercise of the prerogative of the Government of India as the Sovereign Power, "for the purpose of bringing to justice persons accused of grave offences, but who not being British subjects were not triable by British Courts," and in consequence of the anxious desire of the Government "to secure to all persons, whether subjects or aliens, that fairness of treatment and that strict justice which a public trial, conducted according to civilised methods and principles, can alone ensure." The Court by which the Regent and his brothers were tried was composed of two of the senior Military Officers on the spot, aided by a civil officer with judicial experience as Deputy Commissioner, and the Governor-General in Council expressly reserved to himself the final determination of the sentences to be passed upon the accused in the event of their being adjudged guilty. The other accused were tried by the Chief Political Officer in Manipur, his sentences being subject to confirmation by the General Officer Commanding the Manipur Field Force. The Government of India called for a report on each case.

3. The Regent, Kula Chandra Singh, was convicted of waging war against the Queen, and was sentenced to death.

Tikendrajit Singh, the Senapati, was convicted both of waging war against the Queen and of abetting the murder of the Chief Commissioner of Assam and other officers, and was sentenced to death.

Angao Singh was convicted of waging war against the Queen and of abetting the murder of the Chief Commissioner and other officers, and was also sentenced to death.

These sentences were submitted to the Government of India for confirmation.

The following were the persons tried by the Chief Political Officer:—

Tongal Singh alias Tongal General.

Kajao Manipuri.

Niranjan, Subadar.

Samu Singh alias Luang Ningthao, Colonel.

Nilmoni Singh, alias Aiya Parel, Major.

Miya Singh, Major.

Lokendra Birjit Singh alias Wang Khai Lakpa.

Uroo Singh Usurba.

Abungjao Yenkorba.

Chowbi Hider Machahal.

Ghun Singh Kangdra.

Kumba Singh Laisraba.

Dhojo Singh Myenba.

Noni Singh Nepra Machahal.

Trilok Singh Nongtholba Sutwal.

Dhan Singh Sugol Senba.

Tongal Singh was convicted of the murder of the Chief Commissioner and other officers, and was sentenced to death.

Kajao Manipuri was convicted of the murder of Mr. Grimwood, and was sentenced to death.

Samu Singh, Colonel, and Aiya Parel, Major, were convicted of waging war against the Queen and of abetment of murder, and were sentenced to death.

Miya Singh, Major, and Niranjan, Subadar, a British subject and an ex-sepoy of Her Majesty's Native Army, were convicted of waging war against the Queen, and were sentenced to death.

Lokendra Birjit Singh alias Wangkhailakpa was convicted of waging war against the Queen, and was sentenced to transportation for life.

Uroo Singh Usurba, Abungjao Yonkorba, Chowbi Hider Machahal, Ghun Singh Kangdra, Kumba Singh Laisraba, Dhojo Singh Myenba, Noni Singh Nepra Machahal, Trilok Singh Nongtholba Sutwal, and Dhon Singh Sugol Senba were convicted of the murder of the Chief Commissioner and other officers, and were sentenced to death.

4. After being sentenced to death, two of the accused, namely, the Regent, Kula Chandra Singh, and the Senapati, Tikendrajit, asked and received permission to submit petitions to the Governor-General in Council under legal advice, and the Government of India also agreed to receive from their legal adviser a statement of arguments in their defence. These petitions and arguments, together with the records of the various trials mentioned above, have now been before the Governor-General in Council.

5. It has been urged on behalf of the Regent and the Senapati that they had no opportunity of being defended by Counsel. This is an error. Special instructions were given by the Government of India that they should have all reasonable opportunity in this respect, but no application was made by them for professional assistance before their trials began. Since then ample time has been allowed them to represent their case by Counsel, and the papers prepared by Mr. Man Mohan Ghose have brought before the Government of India everything that can be urged in their defence.

6. Mr. Man Mohan Ghose, as Counsel for the accused, has complained that the language of the written statement of defence put in on behalf of the Senapati has been revised and altered by a British officer since it was signed by him, and has commented upon the inquisitorial character of his oral examination.

The revision of the statement, if it took place as described, was certainly irregular, but the Government of India were careful to understand the passages which are said to have been altered in the sense which they were intended to convey, and Tikendrajit Singh has in no way suffered by the alleged alterations. As regards the oral examination, His Excellency in Council observes that the law of British India not only permits, but requires, that an accused person shall be questioned "for the purpose of enabling him to explain any circumstances appearing against him." The questions were scrupulously recorded, and most of them put before the accused some fact which was either proved or generally known in Manipur, and which, if not explained, might have borne hardly against him. The case against the Senapati, however, in no way depends on anything extracted from himself.

7. It has been urged by the Counsel for the accused that the State of Manipur was independent, and that its rulers were not liable to be tried for waging war against the Queen-Empress, and it is contended that they were justified in repelling an attack made upon the Senapati's house "without even a declaration of war by the British Government."

The Governor-General in Council cannot admit this argument. The degree of subordination in which the Manipur State stood towards the Indian Empire has been more than once explained in connection with these cases; and it must be taken to be proved conclusively that Manipur was a subordinate and protected State which owed submission to the Paramount Power, and that its forcible resistance to a lawful order, whether it be called waging war, treason, rebellion, or by any other name, is an offence, the commission of which justifies the exaction of adequate penalties from individuals concerned in such resistance as well as from the State as a whole. The principles of international law have no bearing upon the relations between the Government of India as representing the Queen-Empress on the one hand, and the Native States under the suzerainty of Her Majesty on the other. The paramount supremacy of the former presupposes and implies the subordination of the latter. In the exercise of their high prerogative, the Government of India have, in Manipur as in other protected States, the unquestioned right to remove by administrative order any person whose presence in the State may seem objectionable. They also had the right to summon a Darbar through their Political representative for the purpose of declaring their decision upon matters connected with the expulsion of the ex-Maharaja, and if their order for the deportation of the Senapati were not obeyed, it was their officer's duty to take proper steps for his forcible apprehension. In the opinion of the Governor-General in Council any armed and violent resistance to such arrest was an act of rebellion, and can no more be justified by a plea of self-defence than could resistance to a police officer armed with a Magistrate's warrant in British India.

8. The Governor-General in Council holds, therefore, that the accused persons were liable to be tried for waging war against the Queen; that they had full opportunity of being represented by Counsel; and that their trial was not prejudiced by any irregularity of procedure.

9. It remains to state the conclusions formed by the Governor-General in Council as to the propriety of the several convictions upon the evidence adduced.

10. The Regent, Kula Chandra Singh, has been convicted of what is in fact rebellion, though acquitted of any complicity in the murders. He was the recognized ruler of Manipur when the occurrences in question took place. He had been the Jubraj or heir-apparent, and, whatever may have been the Maharaja's secret intentions, the evidence clearly shows that His Highness went through a process which was understood by every body to signify abdication, giving up his sword of State and robes which were made over to the accused. Thereupon the accused undertook the management of the State. He assumed the title and authority of Maharaja, and with the title and authority he undertook the responsibilities of the head of the State. All that can be said in his favour is that in practice he subordinated himself to a younger brother possessing greater force of character than himself. He acquiesced in the decision to resist, and, though he left it to others to carry that decision into effect, he allowed them to act under the authority of his name. Further, he accepted the consequences of their acts, and tried to screen them by making false statements to the Government of India.

He was therefore rightly convicted; but nevertheless, in view of the fact that he was a man of weak character and notoriously under the influence of his brother Tikendrajit Singh, His Excellency has determined to commute the sentence into one of transportation, accompanied by forfeiture of private property.

11. The Senapati, Tikendrajit Singh, was the real leader of the revolt, and undoubtedly the most powerful personage in the State. It is not denied that he led the Manipuri troops against those of Her Majesty the Queen-Empress, and used artillery at close quarters against an unfortified building, the official residence of the Representative of the Indian Government, having amongst its inmates an English lady as well as several wounded men. He also appears to admit the truth of the following facts, which have been established by the evidence, with regard to the murder. The Chief Commissioner and those with him were received into the fort for a parley. The Senapati met them and peremptorily insisted that the British troops should surrender their arms. This demand not being acceded to, the Senapati left without taking any precautions for the safe return of the Chief Commissioner and those with him, although they were surrounded by a dangerous and excited crowd. He did, however, on being appealed to by the witness Angao Mingo, give him permission to escort them to the Residency if he were able to do so; and when they were attacked, and Mr. Grimwood had been spared, he returned, drove back the mob, and had them placed in the Darbar Hall. He then betook himself to the parapet of the fort, and was found there half an hour later by the witnesses Usurba and Jatra Singh, who told him that the Tongal General had ordered that the officers should be put to death. He replied that he would come and speak to the General, and, after making a circuit of the parapet, he returned to the top-guard, where he had a conversation with the Tongal General on the question whether the officers should or should not be put to death. Within half an hour a distinct order for the officers' execution was given by the Tongal General, standing in the same room where the Senapati was lying down; and thereupon the subordinates who had refused to act on the Tongal General's own order sent for the State executioners and had the officers beheaded.

The Senapati's defence is that he opposed the Tongal General's proposal, and that, being ill and exhausted, and believing the Tongal General was convinced by his arguments, he fell asleep and was only awakened after the murder by the sudden resumption of firing. A careful examination of the evidence, however, shows that the alleged illness did not prevent the Senapati from doing anything which he had a mind to do; while, as regards the resumption of firing, it is proved beyond all reasonable doubt that the Senapati had himself resumed it, and brought a cannon to bear upon the Residency before he held his consultation with the Tongal General. At this time he knew the officers were in his power in the Darbar Hall. It is in evidence that one of them had written a note showing that they regarded themselves as treacherously entrapped, and it is also established that before fire was re-opened under the Senapati's directions, some one had called out from the parapet where he was engaged that the Chief Commissioner would not return.

The Government of India are unable to believe that the Tongal General would have ventured to order the execution of high British officials against the wishes of the Senapati, and they are satisfied upon the whole evidence that the order was really and in truth what the subordinates considered it to be, viz., the joint order of the Tongal General and the Senapati himself.

The Government of India were, therefore, convinced that he was rightly convicted on both counts of the charge. The sentence in his case has therefore been confirmed and carried into execution.

12. The third case is that of Angao Singh, who seems to have assumed the title of Senapati. On his own admission he was in command at Thobal; it appears also that he took charge of the west gate at Manipur on the night of the 24th March. Though there is no evidence that he gave any specific order, he was acting throughout as a leader, if not as the Commander-in-Chief, of the forces resisting the representative of the Supreme Government, and there can be no doubt that he waged war against the Queen. It is not to be supposed that the whole truth has been told as to what happened on that eventful night, but there is no evidence from which it can be safely concluded that he abetted the murder of the officers. The Government of India have therefore determined that his conviction on this count cannot be upheld, and the capital penalty will not be inflicted. He has been sentenced to transportation, with forfeiture of property.

13. The cases of the other accused persons presented no difficulties.

The evidence against Tongal Singh was such as to leave no doubt whatever that he ordered the execution of the officers, and has been rightly convicted. The sentence in his case was therefore carried into execution.

Kajao Manipuri admitted that he murdered Mr. Grimwood; and Niranjan, Subadar, a British subject, and formerly a soldier in the British army, was clearly shown to have participated in armed opposition to Her Majesty's troops. In both these cases the sentences of death were carried into execution.

In the cases of Samu Singh and Nilmoni Singh, who were leading men in Manipur, the Government of India did not uphold the conviction on the charge of abetment of murder, but the charge of waging war against the Queen was clearly established. Nevertheless, having regard to the fact that they were acting under orders, the Governor-General in Council commuted the sentences of death to sentences of transportation and forfeiture of property.

The accused Miya Singh and Lokendra Birjit, also leading men in Manipur, admitted that they had taken an active part in the armed resistance offered to Her Majesty's troops. In their case also, as they had acted under orders, sentences of transportation with forfeiture of property were considered sufficient.

In the cases of Uru Singh Usurba, Abungjao Yonkorba, Chowbi Hider Machahal, Ghun Singh Kangdra, Kumba Singh Laisraba, Dhojo Singh Myenba, Noni Singh Nepra Machahal, Trilok Singh Nongtholba Sutwal, and Dhon Singh Sugol Senba, it was clear that the accused, though on their own statements guilty of murder, were persons in subordinate positions, and acted under the orders of others. They were, therefore, sentenced to transportation.

PROCLAMATION.

Whereas the State of Manipur has recently been in armed rebellion against the authority of Her Majesty the Queen, Empress of India; and whereas, during such rebellion, Her Majesty's Representative and other officers were murdered at Imphal on the 24th of March last: and whereas by a Proclamation bearing date the 19th April 1891 the authority of the Regent, Kula Chandra Singh, was declared to be at an end, and the administration of the State was assumed by the General Officer Commanding Her Majesty's forces in Manipur territory:

It is hereby notified that the Manipur State has become liable to the penalty of annexation, and is now at the disposal of the Crown:

It is further notified that Her Majesty the Queen, Empress of India, has been pleased to forego Her right to annex to Her Indian Dominions the territories of the Manipur State; and has graciously assented to the re-establishment of Native rule under such conditions as the Governor-General in Council may consider desirable, and in the person of such ruler as the Governor-General in Council may select.

Her Majesty has been moved to this act of clemency by the belief that the punishment inflicted upon the leaders of the revolt, together with the imposition upon the State of suitable conditions of regrant, will afford an adequate vindication of Her authority.

The Governor-General in Council will make known hereafter the name of the person selected to rule the State, and the conditions under which he will be invested with power.

H. M. DURAND,

* NOTIFICATION.

Simla, the 21st August, 1891.

No. 1701-E.—The following telegrams and despatch connected with the late outbreak in Manipur, which have been published by Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, are reprinted for general information :

Telegram, dated the 28th May, 1891.

From—The Viceroy, Simla,

To—The Secretary of State, London.

Manipur punishments. It is essential to the security of our position in India that the subjects of Native States should understand that the murder of British officers renders the murderers and their abettors liable to punishment of death whatever orders they may have received from the authorities of the State concerned. It has been clearly laid down that no Native State has capital jurisdiction over European British subjects. I regard maintenance of this principle as of the utmost importance, but, where a murder has been committed under compulsion, sufficient weight should be given to this fact.

Telegram, dated the 3rd June, 1891.

Appendix to paragraph 1.

- 1 Extract of a letter from the Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Foreign Department, to the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces,—No. 197-I., dated Fort William, the 15th January, 1884.

I am to say that the Governor-General in Council agrees with you that the formal investiture of a Chief should, if possible, be performed by a British officer. Such a course may not always be practicable; but I am to observe that the succession to a Native State is invalid until it receives in some form the sanction of the British authorities. Consequently an ad interim and unauthorised ceremony carried out by the people of a State, such as that which occurred in the present instance, cannot be recognised, though the wishes of the ruling family and the leading persons in a State would naturally in all cases receive full consideration.

- 2 Extract of a letter from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, to the Government of India,—No. 19 (Political), dated India Office, London, the 13th March, 1884.

I have to acknowledge the receipt of Political letter of Your Excellency's Government, No. 16, dated 5th February 1884, with enclosures (one of these being the letter from which the extract above is taken).

Your proceedings in this matter are approved.

Appendix to paragraph 2

- 3 Extract from paragraph 7 of a letter from HIS HIGHNESS SUR CHANDRA SINGH, Maharaja of Manipur, to the Chief Commissioner of Assam,—dated the 14th November, 1890.

I also considered that I was ruling my State under the protection of the British Government, whose representative, the Political Agent, always resided at my capital, and the Government had made a public avowal of their determination to uphold my father's authority and punish those who would attempt to dispossess him; that I had the right to expect that a similar course would be followed in my case, and that this policy would never be departed from or its benefits denied to me when occasion arose; that any attempt at disturbance which would be a clear defiance of the authority of the Indian Government would be, therefore, at once put down with a strong hand, as had been done even during my time twice—once when Bara Chauba rose against me, and again when Jogendra Singh did so.

(a) These Appendices have been printed in the margin for ready reference.

Manipur.—We wish to draw special attention to the following points :

First.—It is the right and duty of the British Government to settle successions in subordinate Native States. Every succession must be recognised by the British Government, and no succession is valid until recognition has been given. This principle is fully understood and invariably observed

Second.—Manipur is a subordinate Native State. We rendered it independent of Burma. We have recognised successions in Manipur, and have asserted suzerainty in many ways; and Manipur ruling family have repeatedly acknowledged their position of dependence. For example, in 1874 Maharaja presented nasar to Viceroy and received khilat. Again ex-Maharaja now in Calcutta was recognised as future successor by us during his father's lifetime at his father's request; and similarly, at ex-Maharaja's request, we recognised as his successor present Jubraj. Ex-Maharaja and even Regent and Senapati since revolt have all admitted dependent position of State (see

4. Extract from a letter from KULA DHUJA SINGH, Regent of Manipur, to His Excellency the Viceroy,—dated the 25th March, 1891.

Hitherto the British Government has been protecting this petty State of Manipur in a friendly manner. I cannot understand why, in spite of repeated remonstrances on the present occasion, the Chief Commissioner broke that friendly relation and acted with such injustice and cruelty. I cannot believe that he acted so unjustly under the guidance of the Honourable Governor-General.

5. Extract from paragraph 6 of a letter from BABU RASSICK LALL KUNDU, Head Clerk, Manipur Political Agency, to the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Assam,—No. 1, dated the 4th April, 1891.

He* states that he was always submissive to the paramount power, and is yet willing to surrender if the Government be graciously pleased to grant a kind hearing of his long felt grievances, and instead of awarding punishment would allow favourable consideration on his valour which a valiant nation is naturally inclined to adore and esteem. He* further states that as a Khatris by birth, the offspring of the famous family of Babrubakun, he has only done the duty of his fighting race in self-defence; and yet in case the Government deem it expedient to ruin him, he is least afraid of his mortal life, but it would add discredit on the Government of such superior strength to ruin a feudatory State of much inferior position.

6. Extract from statement of BABU RASSICK LALL KUNDU, Head Clerk, Manipur Political Agency, dated the 12th May, 1891.

On the 4th April 1891, I wrote a letter to the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Assam, and the Senapati dictated that portion of paragraph 6 relating to him.

Appendix to paragraph 3.

7. Extract from Aitchison's Treaties, Vol. I, page 248.

In consequence of repeated attempts to upset the authority of Chandra Kirti Singh, whereby the peace of the country was disturbed and British influence endangered, Government made a public avowal of its determination to uphold Chandra Kirti Singh, and to punish any parties attempting to dispossess him.

8. Extract from a demi-official letter from the Hon'ble Mr J. W. QUINTON, C.S.I., to W. J. CUNNINGHAM, Esq., Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Foreign Department,—dated the 19th February, 1891.

Several attempts previous to that which gave rise to this correspondence have been made to upset the Maharaja's rule since his accession—two of Bara Chauga in 1886, which were finally suppressed only by the employment of the Cachar Frontier Police under a British officer (see paragraph 3, General Summary of Administration Report for 1886-87). These were followed by two attempts in 1887—one, three months after the Maharaja's accession, headed by the Wang Khairakpa, who was shot through the head while making a rush at the Maharaja's private residence, the other of Jogendra Singh, heading a party of exiles from Manipur, which also called for the employment of Military Police from Cachar and British troops from Manipur.

9. Extract from a letter from the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Assam, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Foreign Department,—No. 5210-P, dated Shillong, the 31st December, 1890.

It must, moreover, be remembered that the present occurrences are not the result of a revolution in which the people of the State have any interest, of foreign aggression, or of any ascendancy gained by rival Chiefs, but are merely the outcome of a family quarrel between the brothers of a nominal ruler.

10. Extract from a letter from F. St. C. GRIMWOOD, Esq., Political Agent, Manipur, to the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Assam, No. 351-C, dated the 4th December, 1890.

The Maharaja was not unpopular, and naturally he has some adherents; but the people were not very enthusiastic about him, and they cordially disliked the Pacca Sena.

ex-Maharaja's letter, 14th November, paragraph 7; Regent's letter, 25th March, last paragraph but one; Rassick Lall Kundu's letter, 4th April, end of paragraph 6). He now states that portion of letter referring to Senapati was dictated by Senapati himself.

Third—It is our right and duty to uphold Native Chiefs recognised by us, except in case of gross misrule, and to punish unlawful revolt against their authority. We have accordingly more than once upheld Manipur Chiefs by force, and punished rebels against their authority (see Aitchison's Treaties, Vol. I, page 248, and recent cases of Bara Chauga and Jogendra Singh referred to in Maharaja's letter of 14th November).

Fourth—The rising against Maharaja in September 1890 was unlawful revolt, and we should have been justified in putting it down by force and punishing rebels. But for Maharaja's abdication, which was somewhat hastily accepted by Grimwood without reference to us, we should probably have done so. Chief Commissioner offered Grimwood armed assistance from Kohima (see Quinton's telegrams to Cunningham, 22nd and 24th September 1890, and Grimwood's letter 25th September, paragraphs 10 to 14, and Cunningham's letter to Quinton of 24th January, paragraph 6).

11. Telegram, dated the 22nd September, 1890.

From—The Chief Commissioner of Assam, Silchar,
To—The Foreign Secretary, Simla.

Following telegrams received this morning from Manipur Political Agent:—"22nd, No. 4—Maharaja's brothers attacked Palace during night. Maharaja fled to Residency. Shall defend him as long as possible if attacked; 22nd, No. 5.—Senapati and two brothers in possession of Palace. Jubraj and three brothers with Maharaja at Residency, only 65 rifles besides escort. Please instruct how to act. Do not anticipate attack on Residency at present, but Maharaja and brothers are preparing to attack Senapati if they can collect men. No loss of life as Maharaja fled." Chief Commissioner has sent the following reply, having arranged with the General Officer Commanding now here to move a detachment from Kohima if necessary:—"Your telegrams of today. Protect the Residency. Endeavour to mediate between the parties, and, if necessary, wire for troops to Kohima. Commanding Officer has been authorized to send you 200 rifles. Defend yourself, but do not assume the offensive without informing me of the reasons on which you recommend it, and obtaining orders."

12. Telegram, dated the 24th September, 1890.

From—The Chief Commissioner of Assam, Nadarpur,
To—The Foreign Secretary, Simla

Your 1094-E of 22nd. Political Agent wires:—Begins "Maharajah has formally abdicated in favour of Jubraj, and goes to Brindaban as a fakir. This is his own wish. I told him I could guarantee his personal safety at Residency, but refused to allow him to collect armed men in Residency ground; also told him, if once abdicated, he could not return to Manipur or Cachar, but he persists in his resolve. The Senapati agrees to supply Maharaja with all necessaries for journey. This seems to me best solution. Jubraj has held aloof from both sides, and could therefore be acknowledged Maharaja if you approve. Maharaja leaves to-night. Am sending escort 41 rifles; also insisting on Pucca Sena going too. He is the primary cause of all the trouble."—Ends. I have replied as follows.—Begins "Yours of yesterday. Jubraj may be acknowledged as Regent till sanction of Government is received. Send full report of all the circumstances, and wire if Maharaja and Pucca Sena have gone."—Ends.

13. Extract paragraphs 10 to 14 from a letter from the Political Agent in Manipur, to the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Assam,—No. 288, dated the 25th September, 1890.

10. On the next morning (Tuesday) the Maharaja told me he had fully made up his mind to leave the country and go on a pilgrimage and settle at Brindaban. He begged that I would arrange this, and entreated he should not be sent to Hazaribagh (thinking no doubt of the Bara Chauba). I told him I would arrange it to be so if he had really made up his mind, but he must understand he could never return to Manipur, Cachar, or Sylhet, and I also said that the Pucca Sena must go with him, but that the others might stay or not as they liked.

11. The Maharaja then wrote a letter to the Senapati to tell him his determination to leave and resign the gadi to the Jubraj; and when I went to the Palace the Senapati and his brother were evidently very pleased at the Maharaja's resolution, and the former promised to make all the arrangements for the journey of the Maharajah and his brothers to Cachar in a proper manner, and that those who chose to stay in Manipur would not be molested. He also said he would send for the Jubraj, who, it appears, was about 8 miles away of the Cachar road. The Jubraj arrived 2 or 3 hours after, and at once proclaimed himself Maharaja.

12. As soon as the Maharaja's intention of leaving the country was known, numbers of Manipuris flocked to the Residency to see him, most of them bringing various sums of money to present to him. To judge from the way the people wept, one would say the Maharaja was popular and every one seemed sorry at his departure.

14. The Maharaja and his brothers left in the evening at about 7.30 P.M. I sent an escort of 35 rifles of the 44th Gurkha Light Infantry to accompany them to Cachar. It was best for several reasons for the Maharaja to leave at once. It was very awkward his being at the Residency; he would eat nothing here, and he seemed afraid to go into any of the Manipuri houses near by; he was even alarmed at my leaving the house for a short time, and begged I would not do so. His staying here also entailed heavy duty on the men of my escort, and besides there was always the chance that something might happen, and the minds of the people would be disturbed till he left. I accordingly decided to take the responsibility without waiting for orders, and did not object to his leaving; and in this way was ended one more change of rulers in Manipur which have so frequently occurred in the previous history of the country. This time fortunately there has been no bloodshed.

14. Extract paragraph 6 from a letter from W. J. CUNINGHAM, Esq., Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Foreign Department, to the Chief Commissioner of Assam,—No. 203-E., dated the 24th January, 1891.

6. At the same time, when Mr. Grimwood received your telegram directing him to mediate and assuring him of military assistance from Kohima, the proper course for him to pursue was to have gone to the Senapati at the Palace, to have ascertained the reason of the disturbances, and to have communicated with you. It would then in all probability have become apparent before the Political Agent had committed himself to assenting to the Maharaja's flight, and thereby admitted the success of the Senapati's revolt, that the Maharaja was entirely in our hands, and that the Senapati, a declared traitor in open mutiny, could have been dealt with by us according as circumstances demanded.

Appendix to paragraph 5.

15. Extract from a letter from the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Assam, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Foreign Department,—No. 5210-P, dated Shillong, the 31st December, 1890.

Having thus abdicated and left the country, the Maharaja changed his mind, and wishes now to repudiate his previous action and resume his position as ruler of the State. This course cannot, in the Chief Commissioner's opinion, be adopted, unless the Government of India is prepared to support the Maharaja on the gadi with British troops.

16. Extracts from a demi-official letter from the HON'BLE MR. J. W. QUINTON, C.S.I., to W. J. CUNINGHAM, Esq., Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Foreign Department,—dated the 9th February, 1891.

The restoration of the Maharaja—I am still doubtful whether the principles of justice call for this step, and I am certain that it would not be for the benefit of good government in Manipur.

Again, there is nothing in the character or previous conduct of the Maharaja which warrants the conclusion that his restoration would be for the benefit of good government in Manipur.

I am making arrangements for a visit to Manipur next month in view of the Government of India determining that the question of the return of the Maharaja should be re-opened; but, if I am right in supposing that the point is one on which I am asked for an opinion, I would strongly advise against it.

17. Extract from a demi-official letter from the HON'BLE MR. J. W. QUINTON, C.S.I., to W. J. CUNINGHAM, Esq.,—dated the 19th February, 1891.

As regards the first of these two points, I stated in my letter of the 9th of February the reasons against the restoration based on the weakness of the Maharaja's character as shown by his conduct since his accession.

Constant interference will be no less necessary in the internal affairs of the country; the weakness of the Maharaja, already dwelt upon, will leave him a ready tool in the hands of the people round him who have no direct responsibility for the consequences of their advice, and the Political Agent cannot allow abuses of authority, which at present might be held not to give grounds for interference, to be indulged in by a ruler set up and maintained by ourselves. Under the circumstances described, I do not think that good administration can be secured without constant interference.

Fifth.—When Maharaja wished to recall abdication, we were disposed to restore him and re-assert his authority. We gave way on this point to objections earnestly pressed by Quinton both in letters and in personal communication with the Viceroy and Council. Grimwood also was opposed to Maharaja's restoration (see Quinton's letters to Cuninghame, 9th and 19th February 1891, and Grimwood's letter, 4th December, paragraph 26).

18. Extract paragraph 26 from a letter from F. St. C. GRIMWOOD, Esq., Political Agent, Manipur, to the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Assam,—No. 351-C., dated the 4th December, 1890.

26. If the Maharaja returns to Manipur, in my opinion he has no chance of regaining his throne unless brought back by British troops. I would certainly not advise the return of the Maharaja, but, if he does come back, he should be accompanied by a force of our troops sufficient to overawe all opposition; but even then, I believe, the Jubraj and Senapati would fight in preference to being sent into exile in India, which would be necessary, as after late events the eight brothers could never live peaceably here again altogether.

19. Extract from a letter from COLONEL SIR JAMES JOHNSTONE, K.C.B., to COLONEL J. C. ARDAUGH, C.B., R.E.,—dated the 13th November, 1890.

I have heard nothing of the revolution but the meagre details given in the Times telegrams, but I never doubted that Koirang, the late Maharaja's fourth son, a man of infamous character, was the instigator of it. I never also doubted that Sur Chandra would again try for the throne. I take it that he was frightened into leaving, and now intends claiming the promise to support him.

20. Extracts from a letter from F. St. C. GRIMWOOD, Esq., Political Agent in Manipur, to the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Assam,—dated the 25th September, 1890.

4. As soon as it was daylight, I learnt that the Senapati, the Dolarai Hanjaba, and the Zillah Singh, the fifth and seventh brothers of the Maharaja, were in the Palace, and in the possession of the four mountain guns and the magazine. The Jubraj had left his house and gone down the Cachar road. Of the Ministers who have seats in Darbar, only one was with Senapati, viz., the Aiya Parel. The others, including the Tongal General and his sons, all came to the Residency.

11. The Maharaja then wrote a letter to the Senapati to tell him his determination to leave and resign the gadi to the Jubraj, and when I went to the Palace the Senapati and his brothers were evidently very pleased at the Maharaja's resolution, and the former promised to make all the arrangements for the journey of the Maharaja and his brothers to Cachar in a proper manner, and that those who chose to stay in Manipur would not be molested. He also said he would send for the Jubraj, who, it appears, was about 8 miles away on the Cachar road. The Jubraj arrived 2 or 3 hours after, and at once proclaimed himself Maharaja.

19. This seems to have satisfied the Maharaja, and he certainly had no suspicion of any outbreak being probable. But the Dolarai Hanjaba and Zillah Singh say they were afraid that they would be punished by being banished or in some other way, so the Zillah Singh took the initiative by attacking the inner enclosure of the Palace in which the Maharaja lives. To this he gained access by climbing over the wall with ladders; and the shots fired, though they hit nobody, so frightened the Maharaja that he fled precipitately. The Senapati then arrived and took possession of everything, and proceeded to strengthen the Palace defences against any attempt to retake it.

21. Extract from a letter from F. St. C. GRIMWOOD, Esq., C.S., Political Agent in Manipur, to the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Assam,—No. 351-C., dated the 4th December, 1890.

The magazine is a good defensible post, on the south side of the Palace, and it that and the ammunition in it had been seized and held at once, then at daybreak my escort could probably have retaken the Palace without much difficulty; but it would have been madness to have sent 85 Gurkhas to attack the Palace when the Senapati and his brothers had possession of all the guns and ammunition.

14. I suggested that the Maharaja should retire to Kohima, as I knew our troops would come from there, and he could have met them; but I certainly never said there was personal danger to the Maharaja. I did not think it likely the Senapati would attack the Residency, and I repeatedly told the Maharaja he was quite safe at the Residency. The Maharaja appears in his letter to assume that because I refused to take the offensive with troops (85 rifles) at my disposal, I also declined to protect him. But this is quite wrong.

Sixth.—Nevertheless we could not permit a revolt against a Chief recognised by us to remain wholly successful and unpunished and virtual authority in Manipur to pass into hands of Senapati, who, as lately described by Johnstone in a letter, is "a man of infamous character," and who was notoriously turbulent and the real leader of the revolution of September 1890. See paragraphs 4, 11, and 19 of Grimwood's letter of 25th September, and paragraphs 5, 14, 17, 19 and 27 of his letter of 4th December; also correspondence of 1881 and 1888 as to Senapati's antecedents and occasions on which he incurred the displeasure of Government.

Under these circumstances we decided that Senapati should be removed from the State, and Quinton, while at Calcutta, did not question propriety of this decision.

17. My own feeling was that such a course would be more honourable, and I thought that I should be able to make the Senapati agree to such terms. I am sure the Maharaja did not misunderstand me, and the three Ministers got up and solemnly shook hands with me. They were entirely of my opinion, but the Maharaja said "No." He was determined to become a pilgrim. In the end I told him not to decide till next morning, the 23rd; but then he was of the same opinion, and not only sent the letter to the Senapati, a copy of which was given me by the Darbar, and which is annexed to this letter, but he also sent his State sword and State coat he was wearing.

27. I annex a copy of the letter asked for in paragraph 3 of your letter, and I also return the original representation sent with your letter.

Translation of a letter from SUR CHANDRA SINGH, Maharaja of Manipur, Greeting, to HIS EXCELLENCY THE SENAPATI, —dated 1812, Bhadra Sukla, 9th, Tuesday.

I have much to inform my younger brother, the Senapati. I have no hope of fighting against you, and I have already told you before that I intended to go once to Brindaban, but I am unable to cross the hills on foot and go to Brindaban. Therefore, my brother, be kind and arrange for your elder brother's (i.e., my) journey to Brindaban, and you must, for our father, the late Maharaja's sake, forgive the Sagol Hanjaba (i.e., Pucca Sena), who has sinned much against you, and I wish to hear from you that you will do this.

4. As I have already in my letter above cited informed you, the Governor-General in Council considers that it will be desirable that the Senapati should be removed from Manipur and punished for his lawless conduct. I am to enquire where you would recommend that he should be interned, and what steps you consider necessary for carrying out his removal without affording him the chance, which his position as head of the Manipur forces might possibly give him, of making any forcible opposition.

23. Telegram No. 252-M., dated the 8th May, 1891.

To—The Foreign Secretary, Simla.

Your telegram 905-E of 6th May Following, dated 7th, received from Gurdon. —Begin: "Your 250-M. Arrangement was orders of India were to be announced at Darbar, and Senapati was to be told to surrender. If he refused, Colonel Skene was to arrest him at Darbar. Troops were kept in readiness round Residency where Darbar was held in case of resistance. Made following communication to Grimwood beforehand:—First, informed him of intention to deport Senapati. Asked him best way to arrest him without affording him an opportunity of forcibly resisting. Grimwood's reply was Senapati personally would resist to the utmost. Grimwood could suggest no means of arresting Senapati as described. Grimwood never mentioned extent of Senapati's followers in Palace or general rising likely; second, asked Grimwood whether he could bring pressure to bear on Regent to arrest Senapati. Grimwood's answer—'No.' Other communications less important. Colonel Skene

Seventh.—We did not indicate to Quinton method in which deportation was to be effected. We asked him what steps he considered necessary for carrying out removal without affording Senapati the chance of making forcible resistance. No instructions other than those contained in letter No. 360 of 21st February were given to Quinton on this point either by letter or by word of mouth.

Eighth.—Quinton did not immediately consult Grimwood on subject doubtless for reasons given in demi-official letter to Cunningham of 22nd February. Following is extract from this letter:—Begin: "It is of importance that the decision of the Government of India which I am going to Manipur to announce and enforce should not be divulged prematurely, and it is scarcely possible to guard against its leaking out if I use the telegraph at Manipur or even write: so many persons are interested in knowing what is about to happen. The Political Agent has no cypher code."—Ends. No doubt Darbar would have tried hard to get message or letter from Telegraph or Post Office, and might have succeeded. Some of the Agency establishment are suspected of having been in the habit of supplying information to Darbar, and Quinton must have known this. These facts explain alleged studious concealment from Grimwood of Quinton's intentions.

Ninth.—Quinton's desire to consult Grimwood as far as circumstances permitted is shown by Gurdon's special mission to Manipur a week in advance of Quinton. On that occasion Gurdon gave Grimwood clear information of intended removal of Senapati, and consulted him as to the method of arrest. Grimwood could suggest no way for effecting arrest without affording Senapati opportunity of making forcible resistance. Gurdon's Italian telegram to Quinton reporting on situation was seen and approved by Grimwood (see Gurdon's telegram, 7th May, and his report forwarded with our despatch No. 81 of 26th May).

was told in Golaghat on 6th March objects of expedition. Have not seen Englishman of 4th yet."—Ends.

24. Extract from a report by LIEUTENANT P. R. GURDON, B.S.C., without date, received by the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Assam on the 16th May, 1891.

The discussion between us then came to an end, and I wrote out a telegram to the Chief Commissioner, which contained the following information, and which represented the Political Agent's final opinion:—

- (1) The Senapati might be deported if he was granted an assurance that he would be allowed to return to Manipur eventually.
- (2) It was not necessary to deport the Princes Dolarai Hanjaba and Zilla Singh.
- (3) The Pucca Sena and the other Princes of the ex-Maharaja's party should on no account be allowed to return to Manipur.

Mr. Grimwood saw and approved of this telegram.

25. Telegram, dated the 18th March, 1891.

From—The Chief Commissioner of Assam, Camp Kairong,
To—The Foreign Secretary, Calcutta.

Your No. 360-E. of the 21st ultimo. Expect to reach Manipur on Sunday with the escort described in my demi-official letter of the 22nd idem. Have communicated with the Political Agent through Lieutenant Gurdon, whom I sent on in advance. Your paragraph 4. I propose requiring Regent and the Darbar to meet me on arrival, announce decision of Government; arrest Senapati, and inform him that length of his exile and return depend on his conduct and the tranquillity of the country, and order the Maharaja to place a gun with the escort during my stay. To prevent any disturbance, the Senapati comes with me on the 25th. Officer Commanding concurs in this. India, not Assam, should be the place of his detention, the cost of which will be Rs. 50. Paragraph 7. Conditions—Six three hundred troops and acceptance by the Maharaja of the advice of the Political Agent. Paragraph 8. Maharaja's residence Brindaban and allowance Rs. 100. Pucca Sena must not return to Manipur, and his detention will cost Rs. 40. The younger brothers may remain in Manipur. If no reply reaches me by Saturday, I will act as above.

Appendix to paragraph 12.

26. Extract from a report by LIEUTENANT P. R. GURDON, B.S.C., without date, received by the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Assam on the 16th May, 1891.

I suggested that the Chief Commissioner should send for Mr. Grimwood, and then the Chief Commissioner could hear himself what he had to say. This Mr. Quinton did, and on the 21st Mr. Grimwood joined us at Sengmai. Immediately he arrived he had a long private interview with the Chief Commissioner. What transpired I cannot say, but I presume the Chief Commissioner explained the whole situation. When this interview was over, there was a consultation between Mr. Quinton, Colonel Skene, Mr. Grimwood, and Mr. Cossins (Assistant Secretary). At this consultation I was not present. After it had gone on for about half an hour, I saw Mr. Grimwood leave and walk some little distance away. Judging from his manner, he appeared annoyed. Shortly after I saw Mr. Grimwood thus, the Chief Commissioner sent for me and told me that the Senapati would be arrested at the Darbar next day, and that after his arrest it would be my duty to at once proceed with him that same afternoon from Manipur to Sengmai. From this I conclude that it had been settled at the Council I have above referred to that the Senapati should be arrested in Darbar the next day. I may here mention that this was the first mention I had heard of the plan.

Tenth.—On Gurdon's return from Manipur, Quinton sent his telegram of 18th March to Cuningham. This telegram was the only reply received to enquiry mentioned in section 7 above, except demi-official letter of 22nd February mentioned in section eight. In that letter Quinton expressed intention of consulting with General Collett before submitting his recommendations officially.

Eleventh.—We did not know, and we had no reason to infer from Quinton's telegram of 18th March, that Quinton contemplated summoning a formal Darbar or public assembly for the purpose of arresting Senapati. The words "Regent and the Darbar" in that telegram mean Regent and Court or entourage. The word Darbar is habitually used in this sense.

Twelfth.—The decision to arrest in Darbar or public assembly was apparently arrived at on 21st March in conference at Sengmai between Quinton, Skene, Cossins, and Grimwood. Gurdon, who was in Quinton's confidence, informs us, in report cited in section 9 above, that after this conference Quinton told him the Senapati would be arrested at Darbar next day. Gurdon adds—Begins: "This was the first mention I had heard of the plan."—Ends. Until Gurdon's telegram of 7th May reached us, we did not know precisely what Quinton had intended.

Thirteenth.—Grimwood was opposed to removal of Senapati, and doubtless also to his arrest.

Fourteenth.—As to merits of Quinton's proposed action, there was certainly nothing unusual in announcing our orders in formal Darbar, including the order for removal of Senapati. Under ordinary circumstances this would have been the natural and proper course. No question as to exact time and method of arrest would have arisen, because ordinarily there would have been no thought of resistance, and any person to be deported would have considered himself at Quinton's disposal from the time that orders of Government were announced.

Fifteenth.—The anticipation of possible resistance to such orders is so rare that comparatively few instances of formal arrest in Darbar are on record; but the following cases may be cited: Sandeman lately arrested in open Darbar the Naib of Kej, who had attended at his summons. In 1879 General Roberts made formal entry into Bala Hissar, and read out proclamation to

Appendix to paragraph 26.

27. Extract paragraph 1 from a letter from KUBA DEBUJA SINGH, Regent of Manipur, to His Excellency the Viceroy,—dated the 25th March, 1891

At the time having shaken hands with me he informed me that on that very day at 12 A.M. he would hold a Darbar in the Residency, and that the Governor-General had sent certain intimation which will be communicated to me at the Darbar, and that I should attend it at 12 with my brothers assemble 'notables'. After doing so, he informed principal Ministers, whom he suspected of using their influence against us, that it was necessary to detain them. In these cases idea of treachery never occurred to anyone concerned

Sixteenth.—It cannot be too clearly understood that the proposed Darbar at Manipur was not a conference between equals, or anything of the nature of a hospitable reception. It was an assemblage summoned by the Representative of the Paramount Power to declare the orders of the British Government in a case of disputed succession, upon which both ex-Maharaja and Regent had addressed us, and upon which, in accordance with custom, we were entitled to decide and they were bound to accept our decision. Quinton in telegram of 18th March says — 'I propose requiring Regent and the Darbar to meet me,' and Regent's letter 25th March first paragraph, shows Regent understood that he was required to attend with his brothers to hear what our decision was. There was nothing of the nature of allurements. The Senapati, like the Regent, was bound to attend and accept our orders. The Regent was to be recognised as Maharaja and the Senapati was to be banished. In the meantime Quinton was right in treating both with ordinary politeness. Though Senapati was to be banished, the immediate cause of his banishment was political rather than criminal misconduct.

Seventeenth.—To say that Quinton was bound to give Senapati previous warning of the orders of Government and of the fact that he would be forcibly arrested unless he submitted to them, is in effect to say that because Senapati was known to be a man of violent character and likely to give trouble, it was therefore Quinton's duty to show him special consideration, and give him special opportunity of preparing for mischief. The necessity for forcible arrest could not arise unless Senapati refused to accept our orders. It could only, therefore, be the result of his own misconduct and revolt against our paramount authority, which authority he himself subsequently acknowledged in letter referred to above, section 2.

Eighteenth.—We do not know Quinton's motive for arrest in Darbar. He probably desired to announce and carry out our orders in most formal and open manner. Statement that Darbar was delayed in order to give time for translation of Quinton's speech supports this view. Arrest of Senapati could apparently have been effected with less difficulty by summoning him to private interview; but Quinton probably thought this would not have been as suitable to the occasion. In any case there was nothing of the nature of treachery involved.

Nineteenth. If Quinton had been willing to stoop to treachery, there would have been no difficulty in the matter. He could certainly and easily have allayed Senapati's suspicions by friendly assurances, and have seized him on occasion of friendly visit.

Twentieth.—Suspicion of treachery, which arises primarily from misapprehension of nature of proposed Darbar, may perhaps be secondarily due to special circumstances for which Quinton was not responsible, for example, Grimwood and Simpson's shooting expedition with

Appendix to paragraph 21.

28. Extract from a letter from W. J. CUNNINGHAM, Esq., Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Foreign Department, to the Chief Commissioner of Assam, No 360-E, dated the 21st February, 1891.

In the opinion of the Government of India, it is advisable that you should visit Manipur and make known on the spot the decision which the Governor-General in Council desires you to enforce. You should take with you a sufficient force even though opposition may not be expected, and you should report, for the orders of the Government of India, the conditions which you propose to attach to the recognition as Maharaja of Manipur of the present Jubraj.

29. Extract from a letter from BRIGADIER-GENERAL COLLETT, C.B., to the Adjutant-General in India, No 3-M, dated the 31st March, 1891.

The universal opinion in this province was that the Chief Commissioner had an escort of overpowering strength, and no one dreamed of the terrible disaster which has occurred. It seems that an escort of 400 Gurkhas added to the permanent garrison of 100 Gurkhas, and supported by 200 Gurkhas en route from Silchar, would be ample to overawe malcontents. Colonel Skene, an experienced officer, who has spent his life in Assam, and has seen much service, never gave me a hint that he considered the escort too weak for the work the Chief Commissioner had in hand, and he knew what this was, for I had myself written confidentially to him explaining the mission on which Mr. Quinton was going.

Senapati after orders of Government had been communicated to Grimwood.

Twenty-first.—As to military questions involved, we would rather not offer any opinion until the receipt of the proceedings of the Court of Enquiry held at Manipur, which were posted there on the 31st May and are due here on the 14th instant. We can only say that both by letter and in personal communication with Quinton we instructed him to take care that he had a sufficient force. From the papers that have come before us, it is evident that Quinton and the responsible military authorities in Assam considered the escort ample to overcome any resistance that could reasonably be expected.

Twenty-second.—To sum up. It was our duty to settle disputed succession in Manipur. We accepted opinion of local authorities, and decided in favour of acknowledging Jubraj instead of restoring Maharaja; but we stipulated that Senapati, who had led revolt against Maharaja, and was a man of turbulent and infamous character, must leave the State. We did not prescribe method of his deportation, and we did not know Quinton intended to arrest him in Darbar; but we consider that Darbar was suitable place for announcement of our orders, including order for banishment of Senapati, and we see no treachery whatever in Quinton's intention to arrest Senapati there and then if he declined to submit to those orders which as subject of a subordinate Native State he was bound to obey. As to question of escort, we desired Quinton to take sufficient force, and he took the full force which was considered necessary by him and the local military authorities.

No. 25.

INDIA OFFICE;

London, 24th July, 1891.

To His Excellency the Most Honourable the Governor-General of India in Council.

MY LORD MARQUIS,—The letter of Your Lordship's Government, No. 36 (Secret), dated Approval by Her Majesty's Government of the policy of the Government of India in regard to Manipur.

4th March last, has received my careful consideration, and has been the subject of discussion in both Houses of Parliament.

I am now in a position to express an opinion on the policy adopted by your Government in regard to the revolution which led to the expulsion and abdication of the Maharaja Sur Chandra Singh of Manipur, and on the measures which you ordered to be adopted in consequence of those events.

2. I propose in the present Despatch to deal with this part of the correspondence only; for while the papers before me are adequate in regard to the policy adopted by your Government and to the instructions which you issued, the case is otherwise in regard to the action taken by the local authorities in giving effect to your instructions. Until I shall have received the proceedings of the Committee of Inquiry which you have constituted at Manipur and your orders on those proceedings, I am not in a position to comment on the later phases of the question and their results.

3. It is needless to recapitulate at any length the events of the 22nd and 23rd September last. It is sufficient to say that the Maharaja fled from the palace owing to a rising of two of his younger brothers; that the Senapati seized the palace and magazine and placed them in a condition of defence against recapture by the Maharaja, who, finding himself unequal to a contest with his younger brother, determined, in opposition to the advice of the Political Agent, Mr. Grimwood, and his own Ministers, to abdicate and proceed to a place of pilgrimage.

4. On this the Jubraj, or heir apparent, who had been absent during the revolution, returned to Manipur and assumed the Raj. The Maharaja, however, changed his mind on reaching British territory, and telegraphed to the Chief Commissioner of Assam that he proposed to forward a memorial, and asked for assistance to reoccupy Manipur. Mr. Quinton, who had already informed you by telegraph of the circumstances, and of his having acknowledged the Jubraj as Regent, but only pending your orders, requested you on 9th October to defer passing any orders in regard to the succession of the Jubraj till the Maharaja's representation should be received.

5. This representation was not forwarded to Mr. Quinton till the middle of November, and it was not laid before you, with the comments of the Political Agent and the Chief Commissioner, till the following January. This delay, for which your Government was not responsible, is none the less to be regretted, as the consequence of it, and of the time occupied by subsequent discussions with the Chief Commissioner, was to allow a state of things which had been accepted only provisionally to endure for a period of six months.

6. Mr. Quinton's report of 31st December was addressed mainly to the question of the Maharaja's claim to restoration; and he, following the opinion of Mr. Grimwood, recommended that the Maharaja should not be restored, but that the Jubraj should be accepted by Government as his successor. He recognized that the attack on the palace was apparently unjustifiable, but otherwise made no remarks on the conduct of the Senapati or other leaders of the rebellion.

7. In your letter of 24th January to the Chief Commissioner of Assam, you recapitulated the facts of the case, and, after commenting on certain deficiencies in the steps taken by Mr. Grimwood for dealing with the crisis, you pointed out that the rebellion owed its success to the action of the Senapati, whose violent conduct had previously incurred your displeasure; and that, if the British Government should acquiesce in the present state of affairs and recognize the Jubraj as ruler of Manipur, the Senapati would wield the real power of the State. You explained that the Government of India had now a very close interest in maintaining tranquillity in Manipur, and could not tolerate disorder there, and you inclined at that time to the opinion that if the Maharaja was likely to receive a reasonable amount of support from the people of Manipur, he should be reinstated, and that in any case the Senapati should be removed. But before acting on these views you asked the Chief Commissioner for an early expression of his own opinion on the proposed course.

8. Mr. Quinton expressed his opinion on the 9th February that the Maharaja should not on account of his weakness and inability to rule be restored, but that the Jubraj should be recognized as ruler, and that the Senapati might at the same time after due inquiry be adequately punished. After further conferring personally with Your Excellency in Council, Mr. Quinton repeated these views in his letter of 19th February, and your final instructions to him were issued on the 21st February.

9. You then repeated your opinion that, "while the Senapati remains in Manipur unpunished for his treachery against his eldest brother, the Maharaja, the real power in the State will be in the Senapati's hands," and that it would not be to the credit of the British power any more than to the interests of the people of Manipur itself that the Government of India should acquiesce in such a settlement of the case. You accepted Mr. Quinton's opinion that, in view of the Maharaja's character, it would be to the advantage of Manipur and to the furtherance of British interests to recognize the Jubraj rather than to restore the Maharaja, and you adhered to your decision that the Senapati should be removed from Manipur on account of his lawless conduct. You asked where he should be interned, and what steps were considered necessary for removing him without affording him the opportunity of making any forcible opposition; and, finally, you directed the Chief Commissioner to visit Manipur, and to make known on the spot the decision of the Government of India, taking with him a sufficient force, even though opposition might not be expected.

10. It only remains to add that Mr. Quinton decided, in communication with the Officer Commanding the North-East Frontier District, to take an escort of 400 men from Golaghat, to be further strengthened by the addition of 200 men from Cachar; and that on the 18th March he telegraphed proposing to require the Regent and the Durbar to meet him on arrival, to announce the decision of Government, to arrest the Senapati, and bring him away with him on the 25th March. These proposals you approved, having already communicated to the ex-Maharaja your decision to acknowledge the Jubraj as Maharaja, and to punish the persons directly responsible for the insurrection.

11. Of the right of the Government of India to interfere after the forcible dispossession of the Maharaja there can be no question. It is admittedly the right and duty of the Government to settle successions in the protected States of India generally, and this is in a very marked way the case in regard to Manipur; which indeed owes its existence to our intervention. In 1851 the Government of India gave a somewhat special undertaking "to uphold the present Rajah, and to punish any parties attempting to dispossess him," and both before and since that period, and even during the reign of Maharaja Sur Chandra Singh, the history of Manipur is replete with instances of your Government having interfered forcibly to suppress attempts at usurpation, and of your having interned rebellious princes in British India at a safe distance from Manipur.

12. Your Government would undoubtedly have been justified in restoring the Maharaja by force in September, when the revolution took place, and had he not fled precipitately this course would probably have been adopted; nor, in my opinion, would either the delay that occurred or the fact that the local officers were content to accept the results of the revolution without comment have justified you in abstaining from considering the ex-Maharaja's application when it came before you, and vindicating the right of the Paramount Power to decide the question of succession on its merits. Your interference was necessary, not only in the interest of the Manipur State, where the character of the Senapati and the traditions of the succession indicated the probability of this attempt, if allowed to go unpunished, being frequently repeated; it was necessary also in the interests of the British Government, which has of late years been brought into much closer relations with the State and its subject tribes than was formerly the case, and cannot safely tolerate disorders therein; but, above all, it was necessary in the interests of the other protected States of India, for every Chief would have felt that the stability of his power was compromised had you passed over without notice an unprovoked and successful rebellion proceeding only from family quarrels.

13. I am satisfied, therefore, that your Government were right in deciding to interfere. I am equally satisfied that no interference which left the successful head of the rebellion—a man notorious for his turbulent and violent character—in possession of the real power of the State would have been adequate, and that your decision to remove the Senapati from Manipur and intern him in India was sound and politic.

14. The question whether the ex-Maharaja should be restored, or whether the Jubraj should be acknowledged as Maharaja, was by no means so clear as that of the Senapati's removal. Your Government were at first inclined to restore him, and only yielded to the strong remonstrances which the Chief Commissioner urged against that course. I have very carefully considered the subject in the light of the objections urged by Mr. Quinton to the restoration of the expelled Maharaja, and am of opinion that your Government was justified in yielding to those objections. The obligations imposed on you by the declaration of the Government of India in 1851, though not limited to Maharaja Kirti Chandra, were necessarily dependent on the Maharaja's capacity to govern, and on his willingness to abide by our advice. In this case the Maharaja's abandonment of his throne and territory (for I am satisfied that his abdication was deliberate and complete), and his unreadiness to follow the advice of your Government, absolved you from looking to any other considerations than those demanded by the interests of peace and good government, while the representations of the local authorities, as well as the Maharaja's previous history, indicated that these interests would in all probability be better served by the acknowledgment as Maharaja of the heir apparent than by the forcible restoration of one who had shown himself incapable of properly exercising the authority conferred upon him.

15. The decision to accept the Jubraj as Maharaja if Sur Chandra Singh was not to be restored followed as a matter of course. He had not taken part in the insurrection; he was the heir apparent; he was supposed to be capable; he had shown himself amenable to advice, and there was practically no other competitor.

16. So far then as the policy of your Government is concerned, I am glad that Her Majesty's Government have been able to afford it their full support. It was honourable; it asserted the rights of the Government of India, and it was calculated to give assurance to feudatory Chiefs. Nor do I doubt that you were right in leaving to the discretion of the Chief Commissioner the details of the method of enforcing your decision.

17. One question remains, which I think may be better dealt with in considering the orders of your Government than in considering the action of your subordinates. I refer to Mr. Quinton's intention for causing the Senapati, should he not surrender, to be arrested in Durbar. I have considered this subject very carefully in the light of your telegram of 11th May, last, in which you explained that you had no specific information on this point until the receipt of Mr. Gurdon's telegram of 7th May, and I am satisfied that in giving your sanction to the proposals formulated in Mr. Quinton's telegram of 18th March, you had no reason to contemplate, and in fact did not contemplate, this action. I fully concur with you that nothing like treachery can be imputed to Mr. Quinton in this matter, but care should be taken that persons summoned to attend Durbars, which are almost universally understood to be held for ceremonial purposes, should not be subjected therein to measures of personal restraint.

I have, &c.,

CROSS.

H. M. DURAND,

Secretary to the Government of India.

(2) The Local Government shall from time to time appoint—

(3) All rules intended to be made under this section shall previously be published in draft in such manner as may be prescribed by the Local Government, and shall not be formally promulgated for ninety days at the least after such publication, and all such rules shall, while in force, have effect as if enacted by this Act

"41. Any master of a ship who neglects to cause his ship to be marked as by this Chapter required or to keep her so marked, or who allows the ship to be so loaded that when in perfectly smooth salt-water the centre of the disc is submerged, and any person who conceals, removes, alters, defaces or obliterates, or suffers any person under his control to conceal, remove, alter, deface or obliterate, any of the lines or marks prescribed by or under this Chapter, except in the event of the particulars thereby denoted being lawfully altered, or for the purpose of escaping capture by an enemy, shall be liable in respect of each such offence to a fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

"42 The master of any ship on which any of the marks or lines prescribed by or under this Chapter is inaccurately placed so as to be likely to mislead, who does not forthwith cause such inaccuracy to be corrected, shall be liable to a fine which may extend to one thousand rupees

"43 The provisions of this Chapter as to load-lines shall not apply to ships coming from ports in the United Kingdom and having such lines fixed, marked and certified in accordance with the provisions of the law for the time being there in force, or to ships registered in a British possession and having such lines fixed, marked and certified in accordance with the provisions of an enactment passed by the Legislature of that possession, with respect to which enactment such a declaration as is mentioned in section 3 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1890, has been made by an Order of Her Majesty in Council and is for the time being in force "

5. To the said Act the following section shall be added, namely —
Addition to Act VII 1880

"85 The provisions of this Act for the prevention of the overloading and improper loading of British ships shall apply to foreign ships also when in ports of British India unless such foreign ships, if in ports of the United Kingdom, would be entitled to the benefit of an Order of Her Majesty in Council under section 4 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1890 "

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Lower Burma Municipal Act, 1884; It is hereby enacted as follows:

"(3) If any building is begun or erected or re-erected in contravention of any such rule as aforesaid, or in disobedience to any such prohibition as aforesaid, or in contravention of any such written direction as aforesaid, the committee may, by notice, require the building to be altered or demolished, as it may deem necessary.

4. For section 91 of the said Act the follow-

Substitution of new ing shall be substituted, section for section 91, namely: Act XVII, 1884.

"91. (1) The committee may, by notice, require the owner of any building or land to provide, in such manner as the committee may direct, any water-closet, latrine, urinal, privy, drain, cesspool, trap, sink or sulliage-tray, or any additional water-closets, latrines, urinals, privies, drains, cesspools, traps, sinks or sulliage-trays, which should, in its opinion, be provided for the building or land.

"(2) The committee may, by notice, require any persons employing more than twenty workmen or labourers to provide such water-closets, latrines, urinals, privies, drains, cesspools, traps, sinks or sulliage-trays as it may think fit, and to cause the same to be kept in proper order and to be daily cleaned.

"(3) The committee may, by notice, require the owner or occupier of any building or land to have any water-closet, latrine, urinal or privy provided for the same shut out by a sufficient roof and wall or fence from the view of persons passing by or dwelling in the neighbourhood, or to remove or alter, as the committee directs, any door or trap-door of a water-closet, latrine, urinal or privy opening on to any street or drain."

5. For section 92 of the said Act the following shall be substituted, namely:

"92. (1) The committee may, by notice, require the owner or occupier of any building or land to close or remove, or to repair or alter and put in good order, any water-closet, latrine, urinal, privy, drain, cesspool, trap, sink or sulliage-tray belonging thereto.

"(2) The committee may, by notice, require any person who constructs any new water-closet, latrine, urinal, privy, drain, cesspool, trap, sink or sulliage-tray without its permission in writing or contrary to its directions or regulations or to the provisions of this Act, or who constructs, re-builds or opens any water-closet, latrine, urinal, privy, drain, cesspool, trap, sink or sulliage-tray which it has ordered to be demolished or stopped up or not to be made, to demolish the water-closet, latrine, urinal, privy, drain, cesspool, trap, sink or sulliage-tray, or to make such alteration therein as it thinks fit.

"(3) Where any building or land situated within one hundred feet of one of the sewers or drains set apart by the committee for sulliage, sewage or other offensive matter is at any time not drained to the satisfaction of the committee by any or a sufficient drainage-connection with such sewer or drain, the committee may by notice require the owner of such building or land to make and maintain a drainage-connection with the sewer or drain in such manner as the committee may, by rule made with the sanction of the Local Government, direct.

"(4) The provisions of sections 109 and 110 of this Act shall apply to any default in compliance with any such requisition, notwithstanding that part of the land through which the said drainage-connection is required to pass may not belong to the person so making default, unless he shall prove that the default was caused by the act of the owner or occupier of such last-mentioned land."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Rangoon Municipal Committee has constructed for the use of the town a hydro-pneumatic system of drainage. The system was completed in April, 1890, and has since been in working order; but up to date only ten per centum of the houses capable of being connected with the sewers have been connected. It is necessary for the health of the town that the connection of all houses which can be connected with the sewers should be completed as soon as possible. The main object of this Bill is so to amend Act XVII of 1884 as to meet a decision of the learned Recorder of Rangoon to the effect that the municipal committee has at present no power under the Lower Burma Municipal Act, 1884, to compel house-owners to connect their premises with a system of sewers not contemplated when the Act was passed.

Though the Act is intended primarily for Rangoon, yet, as it only adds to without otherwise changing the Act of 1884, it is made applicable to the whole of Lower Burma.

2. The object of section 2 of the Bill is to extend to Lower Burma a clause which is in force in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the Punjab, the Central Provinces and Ajmere.

3. Section 3 of the Bill has been framed to give more control over the erection of buildings on land within municipal limits which belongs to the Government or a municipal committee. The more ignorant classes regard a municipal permit to build a house as equivalent to a Government grant of the site. The less scrupulous run up a wooden house quickly without the knowledge of the revenue-officers and defy the revenue-officers to eject them without a suit. It is desirable, therefore, by an amendment of the section to prevent any misunderstanding or inconvenience.

PART VI.

ABSTRACT OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNCIL OF THE GOVERNOR
GENERAL OF INDIA ASSEMBLED FOR THE PURPOSE OF MAKING
LAWS AND REGULATIONS UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF
THE ACT OF PARLIAMENT, 24 & 25 VICT., CAP. 67.

The Council met at Viceregal Lodge, Simla, on Thursday, the 20th August, 1891.

PRESENT:

His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General of India, G.C.M.G., G.M.S.I., G.M.I.F., presiding.

His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, BART., V.C., G.C.B., G.C.I.E., R.A.

The Hon'ble Sir P. P. Hutchins, K.C.S.I.

The Hon'ble Sir D. M. Barbour, K.C.S.I.

The Hon'ble Sir A. E. Miller, Kt., Q.C.

The Hon'ble Lieutenant-General H. Brackenbury, C.B., R.A.

The Hon'ble Colonel R. C. B. Pemberton, R.E.

INDIAN MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT, 1880, AMENDMENT (DECK AND LOAD-LINES) BILL.

The Hon'ble SIR DAVID BARBOUR moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1880, be taken into consideration. He said:

"It will be recollected that, when introducing this Bill on 19th December last, I pointed out that its object was to assimilate the Indian to the English law in regard to maximum load-lines, and that it had been rendered necessary by the changes in the English law made by the English Merchant Shipping Act of 1890.

"As the questions dealt with in the Bill were of a highly technical character, a copy of the Bill as introduced in December last was forwarded through the Secretary of State for India to the Board of Trade for examination and for any suggestions for the amendment of the Bill which the Board might wish to make.

"The Board of Trade has no objection to the Bill as introduced, and makes no suggestion for its amendment. There is no higher authority on this subject than the Board of Trade, and it is therefore not necessary for me to do more at the present time than briefly explain the chief modifications which the Select Committee now suggests.

" In the Bill as amended by the Select Committee it is provided that Colonial marks relating to deck and load-lines which are recognized in England shall also be recognized in India, and that foreign ships shall be brought under the operation of the law, as they are in England, unless the countries to which they belong have laws on the subject of deck and load-lines which are recognized as equally effective with the English or Indian law. In both these respects the Select Committee merely proposes to follow the English law and practice.

" The Select Committee recommends that power be given to Local Governments to exempt Native craft not square-rigged from the operation of the law; even the existing rules under Act VII of 1880 as regards the marking of vessels have not been applied to vessels of this class, and the English deck and load-line law as altered in 1890 cannot fairly be made applicable to them. Power is also given to make rules, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, for the definition of fair and foul seasons and for the modification of the tables of free board in the case of any class or classes of vessels. It is intended by this provision to enable Government to deal from time to time with vessels in the coasting or purely Eastern trade to which the rules of the Board of Trade cannot be applied in their full integrity."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble SIR DAVID BARBOUR also moved that the Bill as amended be passed.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

PUNJAB MUNICIPAL BILL.

The Hon'ble SIR PHILIP HUTCHINS moved that the Bill to make better provision for the Administration of Municipalities in the Punjab be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Sir Alexander Miller, the Hon'ble Mr. Rattigan and the Mover, with instructions to report within one month.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

LOWER BURMA MUNICIPAL BILL.

The Hon'ble SIR PHILIP HUTCHINS also moved for leave to introduce a Bill to amend the Lower Burma Municipal Act, 1884. He said:

" A fortnight ago I had the honour of bringing before this Council a Bill revising the Municipal Law now in force in the Punjab. I have now to ask leave to introduce a Bill to amend in some few respects the Lower Burma Municipal Act of 1884. The former was a lengthy measure comprising upwards of two hundred sections; the Bill which I now hold in my hand contains five sections only. The Punjab too is our westernmost province, and is probably not more remote from Burma in situation than it is divergent from it in manners and customs, in social habits and municipal requirements. Nevertheless these two measures have a good deal in common, and, with Your Excellency's permission, I shall presently move that they be referred to the same Select Committee. I shall also, in the Home Department, draw the special attention of the Chief Commissioner of Burma to the sections in the Punjab Bill corresponding with those in the Bill which he has prepared for his own province, and ask him to consider whether they may not be more closely assimilated.

" The principal sections in the Bill which I am about to place on the table are the first and the last two, which may be taken together. In 1888 the Municipal Committee of Rangoon introduced into the town the hydro-pneumatic system of drainage by gravitating sewers which is known as the Shone system. A portion of the works was opened in this month of August two years ago, and the whole system was completed in April, 1890. It has been in working order for a considerable time in part of the town, but the Municipality have not been able to discard even in that part the old and highly insanitary and objectionable method of removing faecal matter by carts, because many of the inhabitants have neglected to connect their houses with the sewers. Consequently the Municipality have to maintain two systems of night conservancy at a heavy cost. In order to compel house-owners to establish the necessary connections, one of them was prosecuted under section 115 of the Municipal Act for allowing offensive matter to flow or be put into a drain not set apart by the committee for that purpose. He was convicted, but the learned Recorder of Rangoon has quashed the conviction on three grounds, namely—(1) that the Act gives no power to compel house-owners to make such connections; (2) that, even if it did, the committee could not compel them to trespass on intervening Government land in order to effect the connections; and (3) that under section 115 only the person who has actually permitted the sewage to flow where it should not is liable to prosecution. Sections 1, 4 and 5 of my Bill have been framed to meet these several objections. It is evidently of vital importance, alike to the health of the town and to the financial position of the Municipality, that the necessary connections should be completed as early as possible, and I cannot anticipate that there will be any objection to this, which I have described as the main, portion of the measure.

“Although these amendments are intended primarily for Rangoon, yet, as they only add to without otherwise changing the Act of 1884, they will be made applicable to the whole of Lower Burma. Their effect is merely to give to a municipal committee the same amount of control over sewage-works and their appurtenances which they already possess over drainage-works, privies and cess-pools, and also the power of compelling the construction of proper drains. Such control and such power ought to be vested in every municipal committee.

“The second section of the Bill will authorize all municipal committees in Lower Burma to tax vehicles and animals entering the Municipality. I think such taxation is specially permitted by almost every other Municipal Act in force in any part of India. It could be imposed even in Burma in any particular Municipality with the previous sanction of Your Excellency in Council, but there is no real reason for requiring such special sanction in every case in which a tax of this ordinary character seems desirable. At present vehicles and animals are only liable to be taxed when they are kept within municipal limits, and the liability is frequently evaded by sending them to stables just outside those limits.

“The third and only remaining section of the Bill has been framed with a view of giving greater control over the erection of buildings on land belonging to Government or to a Municipality. The existing section for which it provides a substitute was copied from section 88 of the Punjab Act—a section which it has been proposed to alter very materially even for the Punjab by the Bill introduced at the last sitting of Council. In Rangoon there is much waste land unreclaimed from swamp and not at all fit for occupation by human habitations. There is also a good deal of ground belonging to Government which charges rent for the privilege of building. It seems that the more ignorant classes regard a municipal permit to build as equivalent to a grant of the site. The less scrupulous run up such wooden houses as are common in Burma without the knowledge of the revenue-officers, and it is impossible to eject them without a regular suit. The Chief Commissioner expects that the new section will obviate much misunderstanding and inconvenience, but, as I have already stated, I shall ask him to compare its provisions very carefully with those which it is proposed to insert in the Punjab enactment.”

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble SIR PHILIP HUTCHINS also introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble SIR PHILIP HUTCHINS also moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India in English, and in the Burma Gazette in English and in such other languages as the Local Administration thinks fit.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble SIR PHILIP HUTCHINS also applied to His Excellency the President to suspend the Rules for the Conduct of Business to enable him to move for the appointment of a Select Committee to consider the Bill. This, he explained, would save a special meeting of Council being called for this merely formal purpose.

THE PRESIDENT declared the Rules suspended.

The Hon'ble SIR PHILIP HUTCHINS then moved that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Sir Alexander Miller, the Hon'ble Mr. Rattigan and the Mover, with instructions to report within one month.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned to Thursday, the 10th September, 1891.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Weather Review of India for the week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, August 15th, 1891.

The well marked monsoon conditions which have prevailed during the past two weeks have continued during the week under review. Depressions of slight or moderate intensity have advanced from the head of the Bay or from Bengal slowly north-westward up the Gangetic plain, giving moderate to heavy rain along their line of advance. At the same time pressure has been steadily low over the Western desert, and gradients for southerly winds have prevailed over North-Western India, so that a current of moist air from the north of the Arabian Sea has traversed Rajputana, &c., and deposited much moisture over the east of the Punjab and the west of the North-Western Provinces as well as on the hills to the northward. In the Madras Presidency scattered showers only have been received. The depressions which have affected Northern India have appeared so far to the northward that their influence has not been felt in Madras, while the westerly winds which have travelled over the Peninsula and across Madras have met with no causes which would lead them to part with their moisture.

On the 9th the centre of a well marked depression overlay the North-Western Provinces. The rainfall was heavy in its neighbourhood, and moderate rain had fallen in all parts of the Indian region, except portions of the centre and east of the Peninsula and Sind. By the 10th the centre of the depression had reached Delhi, and the rainfall was heaviest in that neighbourhood, while elsewhere conditions were little changed. On the 11th the depression had disappeared, and with this change had occurred a rapid advance northward into the Gangetic plain of westerly winds. In consequence of these two actions there was a considerable falling off in the rainfall over Central and North-Western India, though in North-Eastern India and on the West Coast the fall continued. On the 12th a well defined depression was shown over Bengal accompanied with heavy rain, but in other parts of India rain was light or, as in North-Western India, entirely absent. Similar conditions continued on the 13th, but on the 14th the depression from Bengal commenced a westerly movement, and rain became heavier again over the Gangetic plain. On the 15th the centre of the depression lay near Allahabad, where 3 inches of rain had fallen, while rain had extended along the line of the hills as far as Rawalpindi.

Temperature.—The general rainfall and, on the whole, normal weather which have prevailed during the past week have been associated with small variations of temperature over the greater part of the country. The general variation for the whole of India was only  $0.8^{\circ}$ . The following table shows the variations of temperature from the normal average on each day for the principal Provinces of India :

PROVINCE.	AUGUST							Mean variation for week.

Mean for whole India	— 0.9	— 1.2	— 0.3	— 0.5	— 0.9	— 0.9	— 1.1	— 0.8

From the above figures it will be seen that the mean temperature of the whole of India was low throughout the whole week, the deficiency ranging from less than  $\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$  on the 11th to a little over  $1^{\circ}$  on the 10th and 15th. The provincial variations for the week exhibit an excess of temperature over Sind, Rajputana, and Madras, and a deficiency in other parts of the Indian region. The greatest excess was  $1^{\circ}$  in Madras; the greatest deficiency was  $2.8^{\circ}$  in the North-Western Provinces. In the south and west of the Punjab the maximum temperatures after the middle of the week rose to between  $100^{\circ}$  and  $105^{\circ}$ , and quite at the close of the week maxima of  $100^{\circ}$  and upwards began to appear in South Madras.

Rain.—As mentioned above, the rainfall of the past week has been very general, and the table at the close of the summary shows that rain was received in all divisions of India, except Sind and Western Rajputana, where there has been no fall. The heaviest rainfall has been in North-Eastern India; the highest in North-Western India and Madras, the following being the figures for some of the divisions in these regions :—Arakan received 22½ inches ; the North-Western Provinces (East), 8½ inches ; Tenasserim, 8 inches ; and Central Burma, Assam (Surma), and Deltaic Bengal, 5 inches ; while the Punjab (West) received only 0·30 inch ; Kathiawar, 0·04 inch ; Rajputana (West) and Sind, 0 inch ; Hyderabad, 0·21 inch, and Madras (South), 0·35 inch.

The third column of the table shows that of the fifty divisions where a comparison of the actual with the normal fall is possible, twenty-two received more than the usual fall and twenty-eight received less. The region of excessive rain included roughly Central Burma and Arakan, the Assam Valley, nearly all the divisions in Bengal and the North-Western Provinces, the south, centre, and hill districts of the Punjab, the south-west of the Peninsula, the Bombay Deccan, and the east of the Central Provinces. In other parts of India the fall has been deficient. The greatest actual excess is in Arakan, but the excess relatively to the normal has been greatest in the east of the North-Western Provinces and the centre of the Punjab. Large actual deficiencies are reported from Lower Burma, Coorg, and the Konkan. The three final columns of the table show the condition of the seasonal fall. The only divisions where the monsoon rains of the present season are in excess of the normal average up to date are Tenasserim, Lower Burma, Central Burma, Arakan, the Central Punjab, Madras (South Central), and the Bombay Deccan, while in Khandeish the actual exactly equals the normal fall. The greatest deficiency is in Sind, but in Oudh, the west of the Punjab, Central India, Rajputana (East), Hyderabad, and the Karnatic the seasonal defect in the rainfall is considerable. Taking into account the figures for the whole of the Indian region, it appears that 78 per cent. of the average rainfall has been received.

In the present week new averages for Mysore derived from a large number of stations have been employed for the first time. This change has introduced an alteration into the relation of the actual and normal seasonal rainfall as compared with previous weeks.

Weekly Report on the State of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 15th August—Rainfall general; good in Vizagapatam, Godavari, Cuddapah, Kurnool, North Arcot, and Trichinopoly; fair in Nellore, Anantapur, Chingleput, Malabar, and South Canara; and slight elsewhere. Prospects improved in the northern portion of Chingleput and also in the Kalahasti zemindari and other parts of North Arcot except Wandiwash. More rain urgently wanted everywhere. Crops suffering. Pasturage and fodder slightly improved, but growing scarce and cattle suffering. Prices rising, except in Bellary, Anantapur, Kurnool, Tanjore, Tinnevely, Coimbatore, Nilgiris, South Canara, and Malabar, where they have fallen or are stationary. Coolies employed on works—6,507 in Chingleput, 5,776 in Wandiwash, 3,339 in Kalahasti, 3,747 in Coimbatore, 2,505 in Nellore, 555 in Malabar, 486 in Tinnevely, and 310 in Royachoti. Total numbers fed at kitchens—1,859, including 517 women and 1,088 children, in Chingleput; 1,059, including 185 women and 785 children, in the Wandiwash taluk; and 2,122, including 1,623 children, in the Kalahasti zemindari. Total loans granted from commencement of distress—Rs. 2,42,284 in the six taluks of Chingleput, Rs. 65,856 in Wandiwash, Rs. 19,820 in Tinnevely, Rs. 15,250 in Coimbatore, Rs. 13,472 in Cuddapah, and Rs. 1,120 in Nellore. Wells constructed—716 in the six taluks of Chingleput, 29 in Coimbatore, 30 in Tinnevely, 26 in Wandiwash, and 23 in Cuddapah. Wells under construction—1,841 in five taluks of Chingleput, 639 in Wandiwash, 187 in Cuddapah, 78 in Coimbatore, 71 in Tinnevely, and 4 in Nellore.

Bombay.—For week ending 19th August.—Rain in Karachi and all districts of the Presidency proper; generally moderate or slight. Total fall insufficient in six districts. Sowing and transplantation of early crops continue generally, and preparations for late crops in three districts. Standing crops withering in parts of Bijapur; injured by locusts in parts of Sind and by caterpillars in parts of Kaira; otherwise good. Fodder scarce in parts of six districts.

Bengal.—For week ending 18th August.—Rainfall during the week has been general, and in some parts very heavy. Transplantation of winter rice is proceeding well, but in North Bengal and in some places in Behar and in Dacca more rain is still wanted, especially for the higher lands. The rain has improved the prospects of all autumn crops, which are doing well. Sugarcane is generally in good condition. Early rice and jute harvests are progressing, and indigo manufacture is still going on. Prices of rice continue generally steady.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 19th August.—Ample rain has fallen everywhere, and a break would now be beneficial. The kharif sowings are nearly completed. Transplanting of rice and weeding are in progress, and the crops promise well. In Meerut and Fatehgarh some damage has been caused by floods, and in Agra and Bareilly by locusts. Prices have fallen in most districts. Export and a rise in prices are reported from Aligarh, and a rise in the price in wheat at Meerut is attributed to export to Bombay having recommenced. Water and fodder generally abundant, except in Benares.

Punjab.—For week ending 19th August.—Rain has fallen in all districts except Peshawar. Prices rising in six districts; stationary elsewhere. Sowings and weedings of kharif crops in progress. More rain wanted in Hissar, Lahore, Shahpur, and Peshawar. Standing crops are generally reported good; those on low lands in Delhi submerged on account of excessive rain. Locusts still seen in the Ferozepore, Shahpur, and Dera Ismail Khan districts. Fodder generally sufficient.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 19th August.—The break in the weather which set in at the close of last week has continued, and has been general all over the Provinces, but there have been light showers in a few districts. This has greatly benefitted jowar and cotton, and has enabled sowings to be completed and weeding to commence. Prospects generally continue good, save as regards the rice crop on low lands in parts of the Bilaspur district, where damage has resulted from previous heavy rain. More rain is wanted in Nimar. Grass fodder plentiful.

Burma.—For week ending 15th August.—In Lower Burma prospects are generally favourable and standing crops are doing well. They have, however, been slightly damaged by floods in three townships. In Tharrawaddy the Kubyu and Ledon circles are lying fallow for want of rain. In parts of the Thayetmyo district more rain is wanted. In Upper Burma crop prospects have improved in Kyaukse owing to the rising of the water in the canals, and in Magwe to a fall of rain. In Upper Chindwin and Bhamo and parts of Lower Chindwin prospects are fair, but gloomy elsewhere; worst in Yamethin and Meiktila, where relief works have been sanctioned. Rain everywhere urgently needed. If none falls within fifteen days, relief works will have to be opened in Mandalay. The price of paddy has risen in Upper Chindwin, Lower Chindwin, Myingyan (largely), Pakokku, Minbu, Magwe (considerably), and Pyinmana.

Assam.—For week ending 19th August.—Weather dry. Rainfall insufficient in most districts. Reaping of early and transplanting of late rice continue. Tea doing well.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 19th August.—Rain still much wanted in parts of Mysore. Standing crops in fair condition. Prospects good generally. Prices stationary.

Rainfall fair in Coorg during the week. Transplanting of rice continues. Prospects good. Slight rise in prices.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 19th August.—Average rainfall moderate in Berar during the week. Weeding operations in progress. Land under preparation for rabi crops in four districts. Fodder still reported insufficient in parts of the Akola district, where prices are rising.

Rainfall slight in Hyderabad. Weather cloudy, but rains hold off. Tanks received no water. Scarcity of fodder is being felt. Prices stationary.

Central India.—For week ending 19th August.—Rain much wanted in Barwari, and insufficient in Nimach and Western Malwa. Prices rising in three States. Pasturage scanty in parts of Bhopal.

Rajputana.—For week ending 19th August.—Slight rainfall in eight; moderate in three; rather heavy in two; and nil in three States. Agricultural operations in progress and satisfactory generally, except at Ajmere and Beawar. Standing crops good in some States; poor in others; in need of rain in Marwar; and withering in Ajmere and Beawar for want of rain. Locusts passing and injuring crops in some States and at Ajmere. Cattle in fair condition in some States; poor in others; still dying in Ajmere-Merwara. Pasturage or fodder scarcely sufficient and further rain needed. Prices steady in some States; rising in others. About 2,850 persons employed on relief works, and gratuitous relief afforded to 110 persons in Ajmere-Merwara. Scarcity in one tahsil and in isolated villages of Bikanir.

Nepal.—For week ending 13th August.—Rain plentiful. Weather seasonable. Prospects generally good, but prices continue abnormally high.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

By DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta. The subscription list will be closed on the 1st October next, and thereafter, copies will only be obtainable at the rates given below, for non-subscribers.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses, both chemical and industrial; trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributions have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names; so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and G in 534 pages; Volume IV, letters G to L in 643 pages; Volume V, letters L to O in 676 pages. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in six volumes by 1891; but a seventh volume may also be issued, consisting of an index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary; and this, as a work of reference, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The price to subscribers will be in India Rs 30 and in England 2 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set. An extra charge for packing and postage will be made for the set—in India, at 8s. per volume, and for England at Rs 6 per volume.

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs 6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole sets.

*. No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately. The price to non-subscribers will be Rs 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England, exclusive of packing and postage.

The subscription list of the above work will be closed on the 1st October next, and thereafter, copies will only be obtainable at the rates fixed for non-subscribers.

FIELD OPERATIONS.

HAZARA.

No. 816.—The Most Hon'ble the Viceroy and Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following letter from the Adjutant-General in India, dated the 8th of July 1891, submitting, under the orders of the Commander-in-Chief in India, a despatch from Major-General W. K. Elles, C.B., reporting the operations of the Hazara Field Force between the 12th March and the 17th June 1891.

2. The Governor-General in Council, in concurrence with the Commander-in-Chief, desires to record his entire approval of the careful and thorough manner in which the work of the expedition was carried out by Major-General Elles, and of the good discipline and soldierlike conduct displayed by the troops on various occasions in the presence of the enemy.

His Excellency in Council has perused with much satisfaction the favorable mention of the various officers whose good services during the campaign have been brought to notice.

3. The Viceroy is glad to have an opportunity of expressing his sense of the valuable services rendered by Mr. A. F. D. Cunningham, C.I.E., C.S., as Chief Political Officer to the Force, and His Excellency notices with pleasure the efficiency of the arrangements made by the Medical, Commissariat-Transport, and other Army Departments in connection with the expedition, and by the Postal and Telegraph services under Mr. W. T. Van Someren and Mr. R. C. Barker, C.I.E., respectively:

No. 244-H.—“Field Operations—Hazara,”—dated Simla, 8th July 1891.

From—The Adjutant-General in India,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department.

I have the honor, by direction of the Commander-in-Chief, to submit, for the information of the Government of India, a despatch from Major-General Elles, C.B., describing the operations of the Hazara Field Force between the 12th March and the 17th June 1891.

2. The objects of the expedition were as stated in the second paragraph of Major-General Elles' letter, and, as far as it is possible to judge at present, these objects have been fully accomplished; the submission of the offending tribes has been more complete than on any former occasion; they have assented to the construction of roads and dominating posts upon the frontier and to the permanent expatriation of their chief, Hashim Ali, who for years has been the moving spirit in all border outrages; and a small force remains in their country to observe the fulfilment of their pledges.

3. The Commander-in-Chief considers that great credit is due to Major-General Elles for the careful and thorough manner in which he has carried out the orders of the Government of India, and His Excellency commends this distinguished officer to the favorable notice of the Government; also the officers mentioned by him as well as those included in his supplementary list of officers brought to notice by Brigadier-Generals Williamson and Hammond and heads of departments.

In endorsing these selections, His Excellency has much pleasure in bringing to notice the good discipline of the troops and their soldier-like conduct in the presence of the enemy in the affairs of the 23rd, 25th, and 26th of March at Diliári, Darbandrái, and Sarmal Ferry, and more particularly in the gallant defence of Gházikot by the Dogra company of the 4th Sikh Infantry against a fanatical night attack on the 19th March.

4. The health of both fighting men and followers throughout the expedition was phenomenal, the average daily sick having been less than one per cent. of the force.

No. 305-H. dated Murree, 22nd June 1891.

From—MAJOR-GENERAL W. K. ELLES, C.B., late commanding the Hazara Field Force,

To—The Adjutant-General in India.

I have the honor to submit, for the information of the Commander-in-Chief in India, the following report of the operations of the Hazara Field Force, 1891.

2. The objects of the expedition were defined as follows:

First, to carry out the purpose for which the movement of troops was made last October,—namely, to assert our right to move along the crest of the Black Mountain without molestation; and next, and more particularly, to inflict punishment on the tribes concerned for the hostility practised on that occasion. The occupation of the country to be entered will be prolonged until the tribes concerned have made complete submission, and have carried out whatever conditions may be imposed upon them.

The whole of the Hasanzái and Akazái clans are held to be responsible for the hostility displayed towards the force.

It was directed that "to accomplish the above object the force will advance from Darband into the enemy's country in two columns,—one moving via Baradar and Pailam to Tilli, and the other along the river route via Kotkái and Kunhar. Further movements are left to the General Officer Commanding."

It was, however, subsequently directed, during the progress of the advance, that operations were not to be extended beyond the Hasanzái and Akazái country without the sanction of Government.

3. The concentration of the force was at first ordered to take place by the 1st March, but owing to bad weather the despatch of the expedition was postponed to the 10th March. The River and Tilli Columns, afterwards designated the 1st and 2nd Brigades, were commanded respectively by Brigadier-Generals R. F. Williamson and A. G. Hammond, V.C., D.S.O. The weather remained very unsettled, but both columns were able to move from Darband with reduced field service scale of equipment and without tents on the 12th March. The roads on both routes had been previously opened out as far as the British frontier. Beyond the frontier little or no trace of the roads constructed in 1888 could be found. The river route presented no difficulties as far as Kotkái, which was occupied without opposition on the 12th, the 1st Brigade bivouacking on the Fowára plain. The 2nd Brigade reached Pailam on the frontier on the same day.

4. To give effect to the objects mentioned in paragraph 2, I proposed, after the occupation of Kunhar and Tilli as directed, to push forward both columns,—the 1st Brigade to occupy the Lower Hasanzái country on both banks and the Diliári peninsula of the Akazái country, and the 2nd Brigade to pass through the middle levels of the mountain by Ril and Kungar and occupy the Khan Khel country. Thereafter the two brigades to work up and down on the north of the Shal Nala through the Akazái country till they met. On a junction being effected, the occupation of the whole country of the two tribes would be completed. As regards punishment, the Hasanzáis who had submitted were, in the event of their return to their villages, to be mulcted in one-fourth of their standing crops. In other cases the troops would subsist on the country, as far as their requirements could be met, until submission took place.

5. The rain continued to fall, and from Brigadier-General Hammond's reports it soon became apparent that, owing to the unusual lateness of the season, some modification of this plan was necessary. The crops in the middle levels were scarcely above ground, and forage had to be brought up from below, even to the comparatively low level of Tilli. The continued wet rendered the clay soil almost impassable, and convoys were with difficulty brought to the front. Transport could not be subsisted in the Khan Khel country for at least a month to come. It was accordingly arranged that the 1st Brigade should occupy the plain of Palosi and the Diliári peninsula, where fodder was abundant, while Brigadier-General Hammond, after making a flying expedition to Seri, was to withdraw his brigade from the higher levels, and leaving posts at Ril, Tilli, Kunarái, and Makranáí, and turning the obstacle of the Shal Nala at its mouth, proceed to extend the line of the 1st Brigade upwards through the Akazáí country. As forage became available on the higher levels, the troops would be moved up until the Khan Khel country was reached.

6. This plan was carried out. The upper line of communication from Darband through Pailam was abandoned, and all supplies were brought through Kotkái, where an advance depôt was established. Brigadier-General Williamson proceeded to occupy Kunhár and the Palosi plain. The boat-bridge was established at Kotkái on the 16th March and reconnaissances were pushed out on both banks of the river. The bridge-head post and the defence of the advanced depôt and communications at Kotkái was entrusted to Colonel Rivaz and the 37th (Dogra) Bengal Infantry. His dispositions were very satisfactory.

Up to the 19th March but little opposition was met with. A few shots had been fired from the right bank on the boats coming up to Towára, but a company of the Corps of Guides cleared the ground. On the morning of the 13th March the picquets of the same regiment under Lieutenant Rich, taking up fresh ground, found the village of Nadrái occupied. Fire being opened on them, the village was rushed with some loss to the enemy.

On the morning of the 19th March a most determined attack was made on the village of Glázikot, our advanced post on the left bank, held by a company (Dogras) of the 4th Sikh Infantry. The attacking force consisted principally of Hindústani fanatics, numbering over 100, assisted by tribesmen. Under cover of the darkness the Hindústanis collected in front of the village among rocks, and charged sword in hand. They passed by an advanced picquet undeterred by its fire, and the picquet retired in good order by order of Subadar Dheru, who commanded the main body of the company holding the village. The defenders, being outnumbered, were forced back through the village, disputing every wall and street until the last house, the masjid, was reached. Here a stand was made until the arrival of the first reinforcement from Kunhár under Lieutenant Maconchy, 4th Sikh Infantry. The whole company behaved with the greatest gallantry. Subadar Dheru, Havildar Wazfru, Naik Ganesha Singh, and Lance-Naik Alam Khan have been rewarded with the Order of Merit. Jemadar Darshanu fought bravely until his sword broke and he was cut down. I now beg to bring to the notice of His Excellency the good service of Lieutenant Maconchy, who arrived on the scene at a critical moment, and was himself wounded. Colonel Sir B. P. Bromhead, Bart., 32nd Bengal Infantry (Pioneers), came up shortly after with further reinforcements of his regiment. The enemy left 25 bodies on the field, and their loss amounted to at least 50. The casualties among the defenders were—4th Sikhs, 4 killed, 18 wounded; 32nd Pioneers, 3 wounded.

7. On the 19th March the village of Kunhár, held and covered by picquets of the 4th Sikh Infantry and 32nd Pioneers, was attacked during the whole night from the hill above. The enemy at one time succeeded in entering the upper portion of the village, but were cleared out, and retired firing to the crest of the hills, which they occupied till daylight. Three of the 32nd Pioneers were wounded, and one follower killed and one wounded.

8. On the occupation of the Palosi plain on the 21st March, the move having been delayed by bad weather, it became apparent that the possession of the Diliári peninsula would be disputed. This ridge fills a loop in the Indus, and forms a barrier between the Palosi plain on the south and the Kamách plain in Chagarzáí territory on the north. The village of Bakráí and the heights of Diliári were seen to be occupied, and were shelled. On the 22nd March boats were brought up from Kotkái through some bad rapids, and on the morning of the 23rd a flying bridge was established at Bakráí, at the mouth of the Shal Nala. The operation was covered by the 4th Sikh Infantry under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Gaselee.

9. The Diliári hill rises rapidly from Bakráí to a height of about 2,000 feet. During the morning the village of Diliári was visited by Lieutenant-Colonel Gaselee, who selected positions for the picquets lower down. About 3 P.M. the enemy began to collect about the picquets, and opened a desultory fire. Lieutenant R. Harman was in command of the picquets, consisting of two companies of the 4th Sikh Infantry (one Sikh and one Pathan), and, finding the enemy increasing, he decided to drive them off. This he did with great dash, ably assisted by Lieutenant F. H. Taylor (3rd Sikh Infantry,—attached to the 4th Sikh Infantry), upon whom the command devolved when Lieutenant Harman was wounded by a sword-cut. Towards evening the enemy became more pressing, and began to collect in large numbers. Lieutenant Colonel Gaselee had himself assumed command at the front, and a wing of the Guides Infantry, under Lieutenants G. M. MacHutchin and H. W. Codrington, arrived as a reinforcement, despatched by Brigadier-General Williamson. Finding the enemy still increasing, Lieutenant-Colonel Gaselee decided to attack the heights and occupy the village of Diliári. This was effected with complete success, the enemy being entirely cleared from the field. It should be mentioned that the action being witnessed from Palosi, a well directed fire was opened on the heights just before the final advance by Lieutenant Colonel Morgan's guns under the orders of Brigadier-General Williamson. As the fire ceased, the 4th Sikh Infantry were seen in the dusk ascending the terraces and crowning the hill on which the village is situated. The enemy, whose loss was about 30 killed and wounded, asked permission to reclaim and bury their dead. The 4th Sikh Infantry had 5 wounded. Lieutenant-Colonel Gaselee mentioned with special commendation Lieutenant Harman, 4th Sikh Infantry, Lieutenant Taylor, 3rd Sikh Infantry, and Lieutenant Codrington, Queen's Own Corps of Guides; also Subadar Lehna Singh and Jemadar Mir Hasan, 4th Sikh Infantry. He further brings to notice the conduct of Naik Abdul Ahmad, 4th Sikh Infantry, who displayed great personal gallantry in leading on his section, when he engaged in single combat with two fanatics, of whom he killed one, but was wounded by the second. Brigadier-General Williamson, in reporting the action, states:—"The affair reflects the highest credit on the soldierly ability displayed by Lieutenant-Colonel Gaselee." I beg to support this commendation, and to bring this able officer, as well as the fine regiment he commands, to the notice of the Commander-in-Chief.

10. In the meantime, Brigadier-General Hammond had been continuing his advance, but, owing to the rain and the badness of the track, was able to reach Tilli with a portion only of his brigade on the 13th March. During the following days the men suffered much from exposure to weather and difficulty in cooking, but work on the roads was proceeded with cheerfully, and the Brigadier-General speaks with special approval of the exertions of Lieutenants Badcock and Anderson in bringing in a large convoy when he thought the work was almost impossible. On the 21st March he was able to start for Ril, en route for Seri, with 700 men from the 1st Battalion Royal Welsh Fusiliers, 2-5th Gurkha Regiment, 32nd Pioneers, and Khaibar Rifles,—carrying four days' cooked rations, blankets being carried by coolies. No mules could be taken, as the track had been destroyed in several places. A few shots were fired from Abu, which was ascended and held by the 2-5th Gurkha Regiment under Lieutenant-Colonel Molloy and the Khaibar Rifles. The remainder of the column bivouacked at Ril. During the night a violent storm occurred, and Lieutenant-Colonel Muhammad Aslam Khan, C.I.E., was severely injured by the falling of a hut. He was obliged to return to Darband, and afterwards to Peshawar, and the force was deprived of his valuable services, much to the regret of Brigadier-General Hammond and myself. On the 22nd Seri was occupied without opposition, and on the 23rd the place was blown up and destroyed, and the column marched back to Tilli, posts being left at Ril and Makranai. On the 24th the 2nd Brigade moved by Kotkai to Palosi and Bakrai. On the morning of the 25th Brigadier-General Hammond crossed the river by the flying bridge and ascended the Shal Nala to occupy Darbandi.

11. The track up the nala was a most difficult one. The movement was covered by Lieutenant-Colonel Gaselee, who advanced along the ridge with a wing of the 4th Sikh Infantry, three guns of the Derajat Battery, and the Khaibar Rifles (under Lieutenant Barton, Corps of Guides). On the 2nd Brigade leaving the nala, about half a mile from Darbandi, the enemy opened fire from the village and the spur above. Brigadier-General Hammond disposed his force as follows:—The Khaibar Rifles to ascend the hill on the right, the Gurkhas to the left, and the Royal Welsh Fusiliers and the 11th Bengal Infantry to advance direct. The enemy left the village before it was reached, and retired down the slope of the hill towards Lower Sarmal, the Royal Welsh Fusiliers following closely. Second-Lieutenant Doughty of that regiment was here severely wounded in the knee. One sepoy of the Khaibar Rifles was also wounded. The enemy's loss was about 40. The village of Darbandi stands on a small plateau, about 1,000 feet above the Indus, and commands the Lower Chagarzai country and a long stretch of river, including the ferry at Sarmal. No. 9 Mountain Battery made good practice on the retreating enemy. The operations of the 2nd Brigade between the 21st and 26th of March exhibit much hard work and endurance in the troops, as well as skilful leading on the part of the Commander and I submit Brigadier-General Hammond's dispositions as worthy of the favorable notice of His Excellency.

12. On the 26th March a force was seen collecting at Lower Sarmal, and on the 27th Brigadier-General Hammond moved out to attack them, covered by the fire of Major Bowles's battery. The Khaibar Rifles ascended the hill to the right, the 2-5th Gurkhas made a closer flank movement to the right, and the Royal Welsh Fusiliers, with the 11th Bengal Infantry in reserve, had to cross a nala and ascend to Sarmal, in and about which 400 or 500 of the enemy were collected. The Gurkhas reached the spur first, and dislodged the enemy under a very heavy fire from both Gurkhas and Fusiliers, who came up at once. The Khaibar Rifles and a company of Gurkhas had met and dislodged an equally large body of the enemy. The enemy lost severely,—not less than 120 or 130,—while on our side the casualties amounted only to 3 wounded. Brigadier-General Hammond speaks very highly of the conduct of the troops engaged, and observed "that no troops could have behaved more steadily or shown more eagerness to get to close quarters than the Royal Welsh Fusiliers and the 2-5th Gurkhas under Lieutenant-Colonels Norman and Molloy."

13. Up to this point it appeared that the active opposition offered to the expedition emanated from (1) the Hindustani fanatics; (2) the Chagarzai tribe and their foreign allies from the north; and (3) that portion of the Khan Khel who had followed Hashim Ali Khan. The Hasanzais as a tribe had unconditionally submitted, and abstained from hostilities throughout. The Akazais had not submitted, but as a tribe had not appeared in arms. The Mada Khel, who were only indirectly concerned in the expedition as owing allegiance to Hashim Ali Khan, kept quiet and offered no opposition. But from the 22nd March it had become apparent that there was a movement of trans-Indus tribes to the Buner frontier under the direction of Miyán Gul, the Akhundzada of Swat. The gathering was visible at and about Bairo, a village on the watershed between Chamla and the Indus Valley, and had been gradually increasing in numbers. In view of this movement, troops were moved up from Nowshera to Mardán in the Peshwar Valley, but it was the desire of Government that collision with the trans-Indus tribes should be avoided. The attitude of the gathering seemed to indicate that the intention of its leaders was to watch the Buner frontier, with which country there was no intention to interfere. Negotiations were entered into with Miyán Gul under the orders of superior authority, partly through me and partly through Peshawar, with the result that the Akhundzada disclaimed any intention of making war against Government, and withdrew his following. The duty of showing a front to Miyán Gul's gathering fell to the Seaforth Highlanders and the Corps of Guides, and I cannot speak too highly of the admirable discipline of these two fine regiments, and of the judgment displayed by Brigadier-General Williamson in directing their movements. Simultaneously with the retirement of Miyán Gúl, the gatherings of armed men in the Chagarzái territory dispersed, and by the 6th April there were no hostile bodies to be seen. On the 4th April a reconnaissance was made along the right bank of the Indus round the Diliári peninsula by Brigadier-General Williamson with portions of the Seaforth Highlanders and the Corps of Guides as far as the Chagarzái border. No opposition was met with. A few parties of the enemy were moving to the north, and were dispersed by shell fire from the Diliári heights. The route lay between the river and the precipitous slopes of the Duma range, and was found to be quite impracticable for animals. The march occupied the whole day, and was a trying one owing to the heat.

14. As soon as the movement in Buner had been ascertained, the Reserve Brigade at Rawal Pindi was mobilised, and by the 31st March the additional troops as per margin had been concentrated at Darband. On the 7th April the corps marked * were withdrawn, and marched for Kohát.

3 guns of No. 1 Mountain Battery, Royal Artillery.

* 3 guns of No. 2 (Derajat) Mountain Battery (from Oghi).

* 1st Battalion, King's Royal Rifles.

* 27th Bengal Infantry.

15. The two brigades had on the 25th March acquired the positions referred to in paragraph 5, and, having regard to the orders noted in paragraph 2, further instructions with respect to the attitude of the Chagarzái tribe had been solicited on the 27th March. On the 6th April orders were received to move the whole force to the left bank with the least possible delay, and proceed with the occupation of the Hasanzái and Akazái territory. The further movements of the force were accordingly directed with this view. The roads on the left bank had been pushed on, enabling the transfer of the force to be effected simultaneously in two columns,—one via Bakrái and the flying bridge to Ril, and the other via the bridge at Kotkái to Tilli. The movement was carried out on the 8th April. Before this date the road connecting Kunhár with Bakrái along the precipitous slopes of the left bank, a very difficult section across the mouth of the Khappa Nala, had been completed. The 15th April had been fixed as the latest date up to which it would be safe to retain the bridges in position. The river had already risen considerably, and a flood might be expected at any time. There was, however, no further occasion for them, as the trans-Indus Hasanzáis were re-occupying their villages. The bridges were accordingly broken up on the date named, and the boats returned to India. Brigadier-General Hammond remained in occupation of the Lower Akazái country extending from the Diliári peninsula to Darband. The Bimbal plain was kept clear of the Akazáis (who endeavoured to cut their crops) by the 11th Bengal Infantry under Lieutenant-Colonel Stead, D.S.O. This work in May was hot and trying.

16. General Williamson proceeded to occupy the Khan Khel country, and his head-quarters were established at Seri on the 12th April. Forage at this elevation (6,000 feet) was still backward, but supplies were drawn from the lower level of Maira in the Shal Nala. A road connecting the two brigades through Maira was taken in hand, and opened on the 17th April. A road into the Upper Akazái country was completed on the 22nd April, on which date the two Kans were occupied by the 37th Bengal Infantry. Before the end of April the whole of the Upper Akazái and Khan Khel territory had been either occupied or frequently explored by parties of the Seaforth Highlanders and the Corps of Guides, and later by the 37th Bengal Infantry. Snow still lay thickly at elevations above 8,000 feet. The country was found deserted, but a few raiders hung about the heights and ravines, approaching the camps at night, and occasionally firing shots. On one occasion, watching an opportunity, a small party waylaid an insufficiently protected foraging convoy in a rocky glen near Kan, and killed one sepoy of the 37th. Colonel Rivaz had previously laid a trap for and succeeded in killing a raider, who proved to be the son of an influential adherent of Hashim Ali Khan.

17. By the middle of April the heat in the Indus Valley had become oppressive. Arrangements were accordingly made to transfer the base to Oghi, and Darband was evacuated on the 24th of April. Communication was then established across the Pabal Gali Pass, and through Tilli and Ril. Pabal Gali had been occupied, as soon as the state of the snow permitted, by a detachment of the 28th Bengal Infantry from Oghi. The new route proved unsatisfactory owing to its length and the difficulty of the sections of road passing under and around the cliffs of Abu. Accordingly, as soon as the snow cleared, a shorter and much more convenient line was opened through Panji Gali. This route was made practicable by the 1st May, and opened for regular traffic on the 7th, and the distance between Oghi and Seri was reduced from 30 to 17 miles. As this is in every respect the best line of route across the mountain from Oghi to Seri, considerable labour has been expended on the road. It is probable that in ordinary winters it could be kept clear of snow by working parties. Káim Gali remained deep in snow until May, but was occupied in April by a post of the Corps of Guides, and communication was established by this route across the mountain for the use of the mails.

18. After opening up the upper portion of the Shal glen, it remained only for the force to occupy its position until the Akazáis submitted as a tribe. Representatives of the several sections made offers of surrender from time to time, but unconditional submission of the whole tribe could alone be accepted. Internal jealousies and dissensions, and the influence of Hashim Ali Khan, for a time prevented them from agreeing, but eventually their full jirga attended, and gave in the unconditional submission of the tribe. The Hasanzáis had been allowed to return to their villages from the first, and had gradually taken advantage of that permission. The Akazáis were now allowed to do the same. The united jirgas of the two tribes were assembled on the 28th May, and subscribed to the full terms imposed by Government. The Mada Khel jirga attended a few days later, and subscribed to those clauses of the agreement which concerned them. A full jirga of the Parári Saiyads also came in, and signed an agreement to the terms applicable to them.

19. The objects of the expedition having now

No. 9 Mountain Battery, Royal Artillery.

No. 4 Company, Bengal Sappers and Miners.
1st Battalion, 1st Garhka Regiment.

28th Bengal Infantry at Oghi.

been accomplished, the force was reduced to the detail named in the margin, half being located on the crest and in British territory, and the other half at Seri on Hashim Ali Khan's land.

The jirgas were informed that the occupation of their country was not intended to be permanent, and would continue only until Hashim Ali Khan surrendered, or until Government was satisfied that the tribes were sufficiently strong to themselves give effect to the terms of their agreement. Under instructions from headquarters, Brigadier-General Hammond took over command of the reduced force from me on the 17th instant.

20. The conduct of the troops throughout the expedition has been admirable. All ranks have borne with equal cheerfulness exposure to wet, cold, and heat, and have worked with a will in any service they were called upon to perform. Their discipline has been exemplary. In action with the enemy they have shown themselves worthy of the traditions of the British and Native armies. There was little sickness to speak of in the force either among British or Native troops or among followers. I believe I am within the mark in stating that at no time did the sick state much exceed one per cent. of the force in the field. Major E. R. Evans, Royal Welsh Fusiliers, died from pneumonia, and was much regretted. He was unremitting in his attention to the welfare of his men, and never spared himself.

21. A return of casualties during the above operations is attached.

22. In addition to the names specially distinguished in paragraph 9, I would now beg to bring to the notice of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief the officers who, in my opinion, are most deserving of mention.—

Brigadier-Generals R. F. Williamson and A. G. Hammond have afforded me the most loyal support throughout. I have already referred to their services in describing the operations of their brigades, and I now commend them both to His Excellency as thoroughly trustworthy Commanders. To the unceasing care and direction of Brigadier-General Williamson, a thoroughly practical soldier, I attribute in great measure the remarkable immunity from sickness and disease in that part of the force which came most under my personal observation. Brigadier-General Hammond in his detached operations exhibited an energy and resource worthy of all praise.

Lieutenant-Colonel J. Keith, commanding the Royal Artillery, is an officer well experienced in mountain artillery in the field, and was specially fitted for his appointment. The service of the guns was most efficient on all occasions.

The engineering operations were most admirably conducted under the superintendence of Major W. L. Greenstreet, Commanding Royal Engineer. This officer worked most indefatigably, never sparing himself, and displayed both energy and ability. The pontoon section of the Bengal Sappers and Miners was commanded by Major P. T. Buston, Royal Engineers, and it was entirely due to this officer's indomitable energy and perseverance that the standing and flying bridges were established exactly when required. It was no light task to bring up the heavy boats from Attock through shallows and over rapids, dangerous in many places, with very little loss of material and no loss of life, and his successful accomplishment of the task is worthy of all praise. The movements and communications of the force were entirely dependent on its constructive capacity in road-making. No. 4 Company, Bengal Sappers and Miners, did excellent service under Captain F. J. Aylmer, Royal Engineers, and Major Greenstreet speaks highly of him. He also acknowledges the cordial co-operation of the 32nd Bengal Infantry (Pioneers). The wings worked separately under Colonel Sir B. P. Bromhead, Bart., C.B., and Captain W. H. Jameson, and both did most valuable work. The Coolie Corps under Lieutenant H. C. I. Birdwood, Royal Engineers, was also of the greatest use.

The Medical Department was very efficiently supervised by Deputy-Surgeon-General A. F. Bradshaw, Medical Staff, whose excellent sanitary advice was most valuable. His arrangements in regard to the dispositions of the field hospitals and the transport of the sick and wounded were also extremely good and judicious. The department throughout was most efficient.

Under the able direction of Captain H. F. Lyons-Montgomery, Chief Commissariat Officer, everything connected with the Commissariat Department was entirely satisfactory. In this department forethought and pre-arrangement are specially required. Captain Lyons-Montgomery never failed in this respect, and I had every confidence in his calculations and assurances as to supplies. The transport was supervised by Lieutenant J. W. G. Tulloch, a most valuable officer, far beyond his years in knowledge and experience, and possessed of high administrative ability. I would also beg to express my acknowledgments to Lieutenant-Colonel R. Patch, Commissary-General, Western Circle, for the readiness with which all demands on him were met.

In connection with the transport, I have to acknowledge the services of First-Class Veterinary-Surgeon W. R. Hagger and his assistants. The veterinary arrangements of the force, including the lines of communication in India, were so well conducted that there was no epidemic sickness of any sort.

The postal arrangements were complete in every respect, and to Mr. W. T. Van Someren's care and attention in noting the changes in the disposition of troops the force is much indebted for the prompt delivery of their correspondence.

The telegraph service was conducted with the greatest efficiency by Mr. R. C. Barker, C.I.E., and a very capable staff. Mr. Barker is an officer of marked ability and energy, and he succeeded in inspiring the whole department with his own good qualities. The organisation of the field telegraph now leaves little, if anything, to be desired. The incorporation of the military telegraphs with the Telegraph Department of India has been shown to work successfully in the field both as regards matériel and personnel. The rapidity with which lines were laid down behind advancing columns, over very difficult ground, and taken up when no longer required augurs well for the successful construction of field lines in more ordinary conditions of warfare. I beg to bring Mr. Barker and his staff most prominently to notice.

The force was fortunate in having the services of Captain E. O. F. Hamilton, Royal West Surrey Regiment, Inspector of Army Signalling, whose experience was invaluable. All branches of this service worked most efficiently, and Captain Hamilton succeeded in bringing his stations into complete correspondence with the field telegraphs.

Major E. Balfe's duties as Provost-Marshal were light in respect to the administration of discipline. In the matter of sanitation they were more arduous. I am indebted to him for acting as my Judge Advocate and legal adviser.

Captain R. A. Wahab, Royal Engineers, was able to make a finished survey on a large scale of a considerable tract of country hitherto imperfectly delineated. He is an accomplished military surveyor.

Captain W. H. Young's arrangements in charge of the treasure chest were all that could be desired.

To Mr. A. F. D. Cunningham, C.I.E., C.S., I am much indebted for his able assistance as Chief Political Officer attached to the force. His intimate knowledge of Hazara and the frontier tribes, which he was always ready to impart, was of the greatest value, and his linguistic attainments enabled him to conduct negotiations and business generally with the tribesmen with ease and precision. I beg that His Excellency will bring his services to the favorable notice of the Government of India.

I desire to record my appreciation of the services of the officers of my immediate and personal staff.

Colonel G. R. J. Shakespear, Assistant Adjutant-General, has throughout given me the most loyal and unremitting assistance. He is possessed of sound judgment, and is a thoroughly trustworthy staff officer.

Captain F. C. Carter, Northumberland Fusiliers, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General, was also a most valuable assistant. He is quick and ready, and never wanting in resource.

Both these officers were employed in the preliminary work of organising and despatching the force, and I am greatly indebted to them for their exertions during many months.

Captain A. H. Mason, Royal Engineers, was of great assistance as Deputy-Assistant Quartermaster-General for Intelligence in procuring information, and his previous knowledge of the country was most valuable. I would here refer to Captain (now Major) Leslie Rogers, a commanding officer of Volunteers, who was deputed by His Excellency for employment with the force. He was attached to Captain Mason, and showed great zeal in acquiring information as to the working of troops in the field. The advantage to the Volunteer Force in the widening of the experience of its officers cannot but be productive of the best results, and I beg to recommend the extension on future occasions of the privilege here accorded to one of their number.

Captain A. E. Sandbach, Royal Engineers, Aide-de-Camp, and Lieutenants H. W. Wilberforce, 2nd Dragoon Guards, and His Highness Prince Christian Victor of Schleswig-Holstein, G.C.B., King's Royal Rifles, orderly officers, rendered me much ready help. Captain Sandbach has already seen considerable and varied service in the field, and was specially useful. Lieutenant Wilberforce is a most promising officer in every way. Prince Christian Victor of Schleswig-Holstein was most zealous in the performance of all duties that fell to him, and takes great interest in his profession. On his battalion being ordered for service in the field elsewhere, he requested and obtained permission to rejoin it.

23. A supplementary selected list of officers brought to notice by Brigadier-Generals and heads of departments is attached.

24. Before concluding I beg to acknowledge the obligations of the force to the Nawáb of Amb. He rendered much valuable service in furnishing boats and supplies as well as guides. He accompanied the force during active operations, and was always ready to meet demands on his resources.

Supplementary selected list of officers brought to notice by Brigadier-Generals and Heads of Departments.

Weather Review of India for the week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, August 22nd, 1891.

The most marked feature of the weather during the period since the proper establishment of the monsoon has been the constant succession of small cyclonic vortices travelling from the Bay into Upper India. During the week under review this has continued to be a marked characteristic of the weather. On the 16th a shallow depression lay over the North-Western Provinces and Behar; on the 17th it had moved westward to the north-west of the North-Western Provinces; and on the 18th it had disappeared. On the last date a fresh depression had appeared over the north-west angle of the Bay, and this depression seemingly moved north-westward, reaching Allahabad by the morning of the 19th and Nowgong by the 21st. It filled up on the 22nd, but on that day a new disturbance was shown over the north-west of the Bay and Orissa. Thus on each day of the week some part of Northern India has been occupied by a depression in progress of advancing from the Bay into Upper India. None of these storms have advanced beyond the west of the North-Western Provinces, so that their principal effects have been felt in Bengal, the North-Western Provinces, and the Central Provinces; but their influence has not been wholly confined to these Provinces, so that Rajputana and the north of the Punjab have participated in the rainfall they have occasioned. Over the Peninsula the weather for the time of year has been quiet. Pressure has been highest in the extreme south and has decreased slowly northward. The monsoon blowing on the West Coast has been only moderate, and the rainfall has been moderate or light on most days throughout the Peninsula. On the 16th there was no rain of importance in North-Western or Central India or Madras, and only light amounts on the West Coast. Elsewhere rain was general, though, except in the North-Western Provinces, it was not heavy. On the 17th rain was more general throughout the country, but, except in the North-Western Provinces, it was again not heavy. On the 18th there was practically no rain in North-Western India, while elsewhere the weather was showery. Conditions were generally unaltered on the 19th, except that there was a heavy burst of rain at Allahabad and Cawnpore. On the 20th there was further heavy rain at Allahabad and its neighbourhood and showery weather elsewhere. By the morning of the 21st the heavy rainfall had passed on to Nowgong, but the principal feature of the weather on that and on the succeeding day was its very general showery character.

Temperature.—The variations of the mean temperature from the normal continue small.

The following table shows the variations of temperature from the normal average on each day for the principal Provinces of India :

PROVINCE.	August							Mean variation for week.
	16th.	17th.	18th.	19th.	20th.	21st.	22nd.
	°	°	°	°	°	°	°	°

North-Western Provinces . . . . .	— 4'1	— 4'3	— 1'3	— 1'8	— 2'9	— 1'4	— 1'2	— 2'4
Punjab . . . . .	— 2'4	— 1'4	+ 0'7	— 0'1	— 0'8	0	+ 1'1	— 0'4
Bombay . . . . .	+ 1'2	+ 1'7	+ 1'6	+ 1'3	+ 1'3	+ 0'2	+ 0'7	+ 1'1
Berar and Central Provinces . . . . .	— 2'9	— 0'3	+ 0'1	+ 0'9	+ 1'8	— 0'2	+ 0'5	0
Guzerat and Central India . . . . .	— 2'0	— 2'2	— 0'5	— 0'4	— 0'7	— 0'9	— 0'1	— 1'0
Sind and Rajputana . . . . .	+ 0'4	+ 1'9	+ 1'9	+ 0'8	+ 0'7	+ 1'4	+ 2'4	+ 1'1
Madras . . . . .	+ 2'9	+ 3'1	+ 2'9	+ 2'1	+ 2'0	+ 0'6	+ 1'0	+ 2'1
Mean for whole India . . . . .	— 0'6	0	+ 0'6	+ 0'4	+ 0'2	0	+ 0'6	+ 0'2

The general variation for the whole of India for the week was only  $+ 0'2^{\circ}$ , and the variations for each day ranged from  $+ 0'6^{\circ}$  on the 18th and 22nd to  $- 0'6^{\circ}$  on the 16th. The provincial variations are somewhat larger than those for the whole of India ; thus, in Madras, where the weather was fine with only occasional showers, there was an excess for the week of  $2^{\circ}$ , while in the North-Western Provinces, where the rainfall was heavier than in any other part of India, there was a defect of  $2\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$ . In Bombay, Sind, and Rajputana there was on the mean of the week an excess of  $1^{\circ}$ , while in Guzerat and Central India there was a defect of  $1^{\circ}$ . In all the other Provinces the weekly variation was less than  $1^{\circ}$ . The maxima frequently exceeded  $100^{\circ}$  in the Punjab and occasionally in Madras during the week.

Rain.—During the week under review rain has fallen in all the divisions of India, except Sind and Rajputana (West), but Kathiawar reports an average fall of only 0'02 inch, Berar of only 0'09 inch, and Punjab (South) of only 0'07 inch, so that these divisions also should be added to those without effective rainfall. The rainfall was heavy and continuous in the North-Western Provinces, but in other parts of India the weather was only showery, and the falls were generally light and scattered. Thus of the fifty divisions for which a comparison is possible, only thirteen had a rainfall during the week exceeding the normal average, and thirty-seven had a deficient fall. Of the thirteen divisions reporting an excess, six were in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, one, vis. Tenasserim, in Burma, one, Orissa, in Bengal, one, the hill districts, in the Punjab, one, Central India East, in the central parts of the country, and three, vis. East Coast (North and North (a)) and Hyderabad, in the Peninsula. The greatest actual excess was  $6\frac{1}{2}$  inches in Oudh (South), followed by  $4\frac{1}{2}$  inches in East Coast (North (a)). In the other divisions of the North-Western Provinces the excess ranged between 1 inch and  $3\frac{1}{2}$  inches, but in the remaining divisions recording an excess the variations were small. The greatest actual defect was 3 inches in Arakan, followed by  $2\frac{1}{2}$  inches in Coorg and 2 inches in the Konkan.

The state of the monsoon rainfall up to date is shown in the three last columns of the concluding table. In only five divisions, vis. Tenasserim, Lower and Central Burma, Arakan, and Madras (South Central), is the normal average rainfall of the period May 31st to August 22nd exceeded. In all the other divisions there is a deficiency, which ranges from 2 per cent. in the Central Punjab to as much as 81 per cent. in Sind. In the majority of these divisions the deficiency is comparatively slight (less than 30 per cent.), but in the west of the Punjab it amounts to 52 per cent., in Sind to 81 per cent., in Hyderabad and Madras (Central) to 59 per cent., in the East Coast (South) to 56 per cent., and in Madras (South) to 52 per cent.

During the week August 16th to 22nd the heaviest rainfall was reported from the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and outside this region no very heavy falls were recorded. The following are the principal amounts registered during the week in the different Provinces:

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Weekly Report on the State of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 22nd August.—Rainfall good and general in Ganjam, Vizagapatam, Godavari, Kistna, Malabar, South Canara, and Nilgiris; slight or scattered showers elsewhere. Rainfall of the past three weeks seriously deficient in Bellary, Anantapur, Chingleput, South Arcot, Salem, Coimbatore, Madura, and Tinnevely. In these districts, the unirrigated cultivated areas in which are more than half the total for the Presidency, the area normally sown up to August is about 3.75 million acres, and about 37 per cent. of the total unirrigated cultivation in those districts. This area must be greatly reduced, and crops that are already sown suffer severely owing to this deficiency following on drought in previous months. Recent rainfall fair or average only in three northern and two West Coast districts and Nellore. More rain urgently wanted everywhere. Pasture and fodder growing scarcer, and cattle suffering and mortality increasing in affected areas. Prices risen in Ganjam, Godavari, Kistna, Nellore, Cuddapah, Bellary, Kurnool, North Arcot, Tanjore, Madura, and Coimbatore, and fallen slightly or stationary elsewhere. Coolies employed on works—8,218 in Chingleput, 4,807 in Wandiwash, 3,893 in Kalahasti, 3,492 in Coimbatore, 3,507 in Nellore, 520 in Tinnevely, 448 in Madura, and 745 in Royachoti. Numbers fed at kitchens—2,084, including 577 women and 1,209 children, in Chingleput; 1,203, including 212 women and 887 children, in Wandiwash; and 1,844, including 1,334 children, in Kalahasti. Loans granted from commencement of distress—Rs. 2,57,957 in Chingleput, Rs. 72,226 in Wandiwash, Rs. 19,820 in Tinnevely, Rs. 18,050 in Coimbatore, Rs. 14,507 in Cuddapah, and Rs. 1,280 in Nellore. Wells constructed—844 in Chingleput, 34 in Tinnevely, 31 in Coimbatore, 26 in Wandiwash, and 24 in Cuddapah. Wells under construction—1,916 in Chingleput, 738 in Wandiwash, 188 in Cuddapah, 82 in Coimbatore, 71 in Tinnevely, and 4 in Nellore.

Bombay.—For week ending 26th August.—Rain throughout the Presidency proper, except Kathiawar and Baroda; generally slight and deficient and more wanted, especially in East Deccan and Karnatak. Sowing and transplantation of early crops and preparations for late crops progressing in several districts. Standing crops withering in parts of four districts; damaged by locusts or floods in parts of Sind; otherwise good. Fodder scarce in parts of seven districts.

Bengal.—For week ending 25th August.—Rainfall has been general, but in many places light. Transplanting of winter rice still going on, but more rain wanted in parts of Central Bengal and Behar. Prospects of all autumn crops fair. Early rice and jute harvests in progress and indigo manufacture still proceeding. Sugarcane generally reported well. No marked fluctuation in prices of food-grains reported during the week. In several districts cattle are reported to be in good condition and supply of fodder and water plentiful. In Tipperah cattle are deteriorating on account of deficient fodder.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 26th August.—Rain has continued more or less heavily, and with but short breaks, in all districts. The crops are thriving, though in parts of two districts they have been slightly damaged by excessive rain. A break is wanted to admit of weeding and the completing of sowings. Ploughing for the rabi has begun. Cattle are in good condition, but fodder is still scarce in parts of the Benares district. Locusts have done slight damage in one tahsil of Agra. Prices have risen in Cawnpore, Agra, Bareilly, Meerut, and Saharanpur, but are easier in Fyzabad, Lucknow, Partabgarh, and Moradabad.

Punjab.—For week ending 26th August.—Rain has fallen in all but two districts. Prices are rising throughout the Province. Sowings and weedings of kharif crops in progress. Ploughings for rabi commenced in Jullundur. More rain urgently wanted in three districts. Standing crops are said to be in fair condition. Prospects are reported average in Rawalpindi and below average in Lahore. Crops on low lands suffered from flooding in Delhi. Locusts were seen in Hissar, Ferozepore, Lahore, Shahpur, and Dera Ismail Khan; they are reported to have done some damage to crops in the Lahore and Shahpur districts. Fodder generally sufficient.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 26th August.—Rain has recommenced falling, and the prospects of the rice crop continue to be generally excellent. The break has been beneficial for cotton and jowar. Sowings of late sown til and ploughing for the rabi have been taken in hand. The outlook is unchanged. Price of rice rising in Chhattisgarh owing to export to the North-Western Provinces.

Burma.—For week ending 22nd August.—In Lower Burma crops are progressing favourably, except in parts of Thayetmyo, where standing crops are withering away for want of rain. In Toungoo the condition of standing crops is good, but more rain is wanted. In Upper Burma rainfall is everywhere deficient. In Yeu nurseries are withering. Agricultural operations entirely stopped in Yamethin and Meiktila, and almost entirely stopped in Pakokku. Crop prospects gloomy, except in Kyaukse, Magwe, and Pyinmana. Relief works have been started in Meiktila and Yamethin. In both districts food stocks insufficient and people have no means to purchase. Condition of other districts closely watched. Cattle disease prevalent in Lower Chindwin, and considerable mortality has occurred. Price of paddy generally steady in Lower Burma. In Upper Burma, except at Myingyan, there is a rising tendency. Prices have advanced considerably in five districts.

Assam.—For week ending 26th August.—Weather warm. Rainfall still deficient in some districts. Harvesting of early and transplanting of late rice continue. Prospects of tea good.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 26th August.—Rainfall slight and much wanted throughout the State. Crop, and prospects generally good. Fodder diminishing in parts. Prices slightly risen in one district.

Rainfall good in Coorg during the week. Transplanting of rice completed in some parts. Prospects good. Prices stationary.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 26th August.—Average rainfall slight in Berar. Weeding operations still continue. Land under preparation for ensuing rabi crops. Fodder still reported insufficient in the Akola district, where prices are rising.

Rainfall over 2 inches in Hyderabad during the week. Weeding of kharif and abi crops continues. Rainfall of week has benefited kharif crops. Tanks and wells received no water. Owing to scarcity of fodder cattle getting lean and weak. Prices stationary.

Central India.—For week ending 26th August.—Rain throughout the Agency, except in Neemuch and Barwani.

Rajputana.—For week ending 26th August.—Good rain fell in only two States; nil in five; moderate and slight in others; and almost nil at Ajmere. Agricultural operations progressing generally, but unsatisfactory at Ajmere, Jeypore, and Sirohi. Standing crops suffering for want of rain in some States; good in others. Locusts have settled and laid eggs in some places in Ajmere and Merwara, and have damaged grass and crops in these tracts and in Jeypore and Kerowli. Agricultural stock good in five States; poor in others. Cattle mortality continues in Ajmere. Pasturage or fodder still scarce in some States for want of rain; sufficient in others. Prices rising generally. About 2,831 persons employed on relief works, and gratuitous relief given to 114 persons in Ajmere-Merwara. Scarcity in increasing number of villages of Bikanir.

Nepal.—For week ending 20th August.—Weather seasonable. Harvesting of Indian-corn in progress. Outturn good. Prospects of rice crops good. Rates still exorbitantly high.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

By Dr. Geo. WATT, C.I.E.,
Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names; so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 550 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of "O". The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and as such will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The price to subscribers will be in India R30 and in England 2 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set (exclusive of the Index for which a separate charge will be made).

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole sets.

No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately. The price to non-subscribers will be R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England. The period of registration of subscribers' names will expire on the 1st October.

The subscription list of the above work will be closed on the 1st October next, and thereafter, copies will only be obtainable at the rates fixed for non-subscribers.

[54 & 55 VICTORIA, CHAPTER 31.]

An Act to enable Her Majesty in Council to carry into effect Conventions which may be made with Foreign Countries respecting Ships engaged in Postal Service.

[21ST JULY, 1891.]

BE it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1. (1) Where Her Majesty the Queen has made a Convention with a

Application of Act by Order in Council.

Foreign State respecting the postal service between such Foreign State and the United Kingdom, or respecting the privileges of mail ships, that is to say, ships engaged in any postal service of such Foreign State or of any part of Her Majesty's dominions; it shall be lawful for Her Majesty in Council to order that this Act shall, and this Act shall accordingly, subject to any conditions, exceptions and qualifications contained in the Order, apply during the continuance of the Order as regards such Convention and Foreign State and the postal service and mail ships described in the Convention; and where by virtue of any such Order this Act or any section thereof applies as regards any Convention, Foreign State, postal service or mail ship, the same is in this Act referred to as a Convention, Foreign State, postal service or mail ship to which this Act or section applies.

(2) The Order shall recite or embody the terms of the Convention, and may be varied or revoked by Order in Council, but shall not continue in force for any longer period than the Convention.

(3) Every Order in Council under this Act shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament forthwith after it is made, or, if Parliament be not then sitting, after the then next meeting of Parliament, and shall also be notified in the London Gazette, and published under the authority of Her Majesty's Stationery Office.

2. (1) Where this section applies to a Convention with a Foreign State, the master of a British mail ship to which this section applies when carrying mails to or from any port of the Foreign State, and the master of a mail ship of the Foreign State to which this section applies when carrying mails to or from any port of the United Kingdom, shall not, nor shall any person on board the ship, whether a passenger or belonging to the ship or any other person, convey in the ship for delivery to another person in the Foreign State or United Kingdom, as the case may be, any letter, other than the letters contained in mail bags entrusted to the master by a postal officer of the United Kingdom or of any Foreign State, or than the despatches sent by the Government either of the United Kingdom or of any Foreign State.

(2) If a person on board such ship acts in contravention of this section, or refuses or fails on demand to give up to a postal officer, or, if such person is not the master, to the master, any letter so conveyed by him, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding five pounds.

(3) It shall be the duty of the master of the ship to secure the observance of this section by all persons on board the ship, and to inform the proper authorities at the port at which the ship arrives of any breach of this section by any of those persons, and if he wilfully fails to perform that duty, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five pounds.

(4) Provided that a person shall not be liable under this section to a fine for any offence for which he has been punished by the law of the Foreign State.

(5) Nothing in this section shall apply to any letters which, if sent from the United Kingdom, would be exempted from the exclusive privilege of the Postmaster-General under the Act of the session of the seventh year of King William the Fourth and the first of Her present Majesty, chapter thirty-three, intituled "An Act for the management of the Post Office."

Regulation as to giving of security for ships engaged in postal service.

3. (1) Where the owner of any ships, British or foreign, applies to the High Court in England, and

- (a) produces a certificate of a Secretary of State that such owner is subsidised for the execution of any postal service within the meaning of a Convention with a Foreign State to which this Act applies by reason of receiving from the Foreign State or from the Government of the United Kingdom or of a British Possession a bond fide subsidy for the postal service mentioned in the certificate, and
- (b) produces sufficient evidence of the nature of the said service and the number of, and the prescribed particulars respecting, the ships engaged therein, and
- (c) gives notice of the application to the Board of Trade, the High Court, after hearing the owner, and the Board of Trade if they wish to be heard, shall fix the nature and amount of the security which the owner ought to place under the control of the court for the purposes of this Act as respects the ships engaged in that postal service, and fix the maximum number and tonnage of the ships to which the security is to apply.

(2) The security shall be the bond of the owner guaranteed either—

- (a) by the personal security of a surety, accompanied by an adequate real security given by the surety; or
- (b) by the payment or transfer into court of cash or of securities of the Government of the United Kingdom.

(3) If the owner gives such security to the satisfaction of the High Court, then so long as the security is maintained and is sufficient to the satisfaction of the Court, and the number and tonnage of the ships for the time being actually engaged in carrying mails for the postal service in respect of which the security is given does not exceed the number and tonnage of the ships to which the security applies, the ships actually engaged in carrying mails for the said service shall be deemed to be exempted mail ships, and be entitled to the exemptions and privileges given by this Act to exempted mail ships; and the Board of Trade shall give the prescribed notices for informing the arresting authorities that the ships actually engaged in carrying the mails for the said postal service are exempted mail ships.

(4) Notice of every application respecting any security given in pursuance of this section shall be given to the Board of Trade.

(5) If at any time it appears to the Board of Trade that a security given as respects ships engaged in any postal service is from any cause (whether pending claims, variation of the conditions of the service, or otherwise) insufficient, the Board of Trade shall apply to the High Court, and that Court, if satisfied of such insufficiency, shall require the security to be made sufficient to the satisfaction of the Court within a reasonable time, and direct that in default the ships engaged in the postal service shall cease to be exempted mail ships, and that the Board of Trade shall give the prescribed notices for informing the arresting authorities of such ceaser.

(6) The amount and nature of the security may be varied and the whole security may be withdrawn, and the income of the security may be disposed of by order of the High Court from time to time on such application either of the shipowners or of the Board of Trade, or of any person appearing to be interested, and in such manner and after such notice, and upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by rules of court, or, so far as the rules do not extend, as the Court may think just.

(7) Provided that before the security is actually withdrawn, the High Court shall be satisfied—

(a) that the prescribed notice of the order for withdrawal has been given to the arresting authorities; and

(b) that there is no pending claim for the purposes of which the security may be required; and upon the prescribed notice of the order for withdrawal being given to an arresting authority, the ships shall, as respects that authority, cease, after the date specified in the notice, to be exempted ships.

(8) Rules of court may be made for carrying this section into effect, and in particular for regulating the nature, amount and value of the security to be given, and the mode of giving security, and of giving notices to the arresting authorities, and for providing for the evidence of the exemption of ships under this section, and for the information to be given from time to time to the High Court respecting the ships to which the security applies, and for the jurisdiction of the High Court under this Act being exercised in chambers.

4. (1) Where this section applies to a convention with a Foreign State, and an exempted mail ship to which this section applies is in a port in the United Kingdom, no person shall be arrested without warrant on board such ship, and before any process, civil or criminal, authorising the arrest of any person who is on board such ship is executed against that person, the following provisions of this section shall be observed; that is to say,—

(a) written notice of the intention to arrest a person who is, or is suspected to be, on board the ship, stating the hour at which, if necessary, the ship will be searched, shall, if it is a ship of a Foreign State and there is at the port a consulate of that State, be left at the consulate, addressed to the consular officer:

(b) it shall be the duty of the master upon demand, if the said person is on board his ship, to enable the proper officer to arrest him:

(c) if the officer is unable to arrest the said person, he may, but if it is a foreign ship, only after the expiration of such time after notice was left at the consulate as is specified in the Convention search the ship for such person, and if he is found may arrest him.

(2) The ship may be delayed for the purposes of this section for the time specified in the Convention, but not for any longer time.

(3) If the master of a ship refuses to permit a search of the ship in accordance with this section, any officer of customs may detain the ship, and such master shall be liable to a fine of five hundred pounds.

(4) This section shall apply to the arrest of the master in like manner as in the case of any other person.

5. (1) An exempted mail ship to which this section applies shall not, subject as in this Act mentioned, be liable to be arrested or detained by any arresting authority either for the purpose of founding jurisdiction in any Court of Admiralty, or of enforcing the payment of any damages, fine, debt, or other claim or sum, or enforcing any forfeiture, whether arising from the misconduct of the master or any of the crew or otherwise, but every court of the United Kingdom by the process of which the ship could have been under the circumstances arrested or detained shall have the same jurisdiction as if the ship had been so arrested or detained, and any legal proceeding in relation to any such matter as aforesaid may be commenced by such service in the United Kingdom of any writ or process as may be prescribed by rules of court, and the High Court on application shall, in accordance with rules of court, cause the security to be applied in discharge of any such damages, fine, debt, claim, sum or forfeiture.

(2) Provided that nothing in this section shall render invalid the arrest or detention of a ship before the prescribed notice has been given to the arresting authority, but such authority, on proof that the ship is an exempted mail ship, shall release the ship. Where the Commissioners of Customs, in pursuance of any Act or as a condition of waiving any forfeiture, require a deposit to be made by any exempted mail ship to which this section applies, the amount of such deposit shall, on notice from the Commissioners of Customs, and without any further proceeding, be set apart out of the security as money belonging to the said Commissioners, and shall be paid and applied as they direct, and any rules of court relating to such notice, payment or application shall be made with the consent of the Treasury.

6. (1) Where the Convention with a Foreign State provides that any provisions of the Convention similar to those contained in this Act shall in any cases apply to a public ship of a Foreign State when employed as a mail ship, it shall be lawful for Her Majesty the Queen to agree that the like provisions shall apply to a public ship of Her Majesty in the like cases when employed as a mail ship, and to give effect to such agreement.

(2) An Order in Council applying this Act as regards a Convention with a Foreign State.

may, if it seems to Her Majesty in Council to be consistent with the Convention so to do, apply this Act as regards a public ship of that Foreign State when employed as a mail ship in the cases authorised by the Convention, and this Act shall apply accordingly as if such ship were an exempted mail ship belonging to a private owner, and any person may be arrested on board such ship accordingly.

7. (1) Every fine under this Act, if exceeding fifty pounds, may be recovered by action in the High Court in England or Ireland or in the Court of Session in Scotland, and the court in which it is recovered may reduce the amount of such fine, and a fine under this Act not exceeding fifty pounds may be recovered on summary conviction, provided that every offence for which a fine exceeding fifty pounds can be imposed under this Act may be prosecuted on summary conviction, but the fine imposed on such conviction shall not exceed fifty pounds.

(2) In the case of a summary conviction, any person who thinks himself aggrieved by such conviction may appeal to quarter sessions. In Scotland such person may appeal in manner provided by the Summary Prosecutions Appeals (Scotland) Act, 1875.

38 & 39 Vict.,

(3) Service of any summons or other matter in any legal proceeding under this Act shall be good service if made by leaving the summons for the person to be served on board the ship to which he belongs with the person being or appearing to be master of the ship.

(4) If a fine under this Act imposed on the master of a ship is not paid, and cannot be recovered out of any security given in pursuance of this Act, the Court may, in addition to any other power for enforcing payment of the fine, direct the amount to be levied by distress or pouncing and sale of the ship, her tackle, furniture or apparel. An officer of customs in detaining a ship or releasing a ship after detention in pursuance of this Act shall act upon such requisition or authority and under such regulations as the Commissioners of Customs may make with the consent of the Treasury.

8. (1) An Order in Council may for the purpose of a Convention with a Foreign State apply this Act, subject to any exceptions or modifications not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, to any British Possession, and this Act when so applied shall, subject to those exceptions and modifications, and subject as hereinafter mentioned, have effect as if it were re-enacted with the substitution of such British Possession for the United Kingdom:

Provided that before it is applied to any British Possession named in the schedule to this Act, the Government of such Possession shall have adhered to the Convention.

(2) Where this Act applies to a British Possession, it shall not be necessary for the owner of any mail ship to give security in any court in that Possession, and the provisions of this Act with respect to the jurisdiction of any court of the United Kingdom, other than any jurisdiction relating to the application of the security, shall apply as if a court in the British Possession were substituted for a court of the United Kingdom.

(3) It shall be lawful for Her Majesty in Council to make rules for carrying into effect, as respects British Possessions, the provisions of this Act with respect to the security given by mail ships, and in particular with respect to the commencement of a legal proceeding by service of a writ or process in the Possession, and to the notices to be given to arresting authorities in the Possession, and the evidence to be receivable by such authorities of the security having been given or withdrawn, and the application of the security in discharge of any damages, fine, debt, claim, sum or forfeiture, where the same are or is recovered or payable either in the British Possession, or under proceedings pending concurrently in that British Possession and in any other British Possession or the United Kingdom.

(4) If by any law made either before or after the passing of this Act by the Legislature of any British Possession provision is made for carrying into effect within such Possession any Convention to which this Act applies, Her Majesty in Council may suspend the operation within such Possession of this Act or of any part thereof so far as it relates to such Convention, and so long as such law continues in force there, or direct that such law or any part thereof shall have effect in such British Possession with or without modifications and alterations as if it were part of this Act.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Weather Review of India for the week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, August 29th, 1891.

The general weather of the past week has been* of the ordinary monsoon type. Pressure has been highest in the extreme south and relatively high along the foot of the Himalayas and over Burma and Assam. The lowest pressures lay along a trough stretching from the north of the Bay, across Ganjam, Orissa, the Central Provinces, and Rajputana, to Sind and the Punjab. Along this trough the small depressions which have been as numerous in the present as in the past weeks have travelled from south-east to north-west, and this trough has been the seat of the most constant rainfall. The monsoon current on the West Coast has been moderate or light in force, and around the Bay area the wind has at no time exhibited any considerable force, though over the centre and south of the Bay it was probably strong, and squally winds have been experienced. On the 23rd a small depression was shown over the north-west of the Bay, and the monsoon currents were light or moderate. In North-Western India, the head of the Peninsula, and the Carnatic there was practically no rain, but elsewhere there were general showers, which were rather heavy in Burma and Travancore. The chart of the 24th showed that the Bay depression had passed inland; but there was little other change, and the distribution of rainfall was similar to that reported on the previous day, except that the fall was heavier in North Madras. On the 25th the chart showed that the depression referred to above had reached Raipur, and that a new one had appeared over the Bay. The advance of the former storm had been accompanied with an increase in the intensity of the rainfall over Central India, and with an extension of rain into parts of North-Western India. On the West Coast the monsoon continued moderate, and there was no rain in the Punjab, Western Rajputana, Guzerat, Khandeish, or the Bombay Deccan. On the 26th there was little change in the distribution of pressure, but rain had continued to extend north-westward along the Himalayas, and a moderate fall was reported as far west as Rawalpindi. On the West Coast the monsoon was feeble, and the rainfall throughout the Peninsula was light. From the central parts of the country several heavy falls were reported. The chart of the 28th showed apparently that the two depressions recently noticed had coalesced, and the combined storm lay between Sutna and Jubbulpore. Rain was reported from most parts of the country, except Sind, Guzerat, and North Madras, but the amounts were only heavy at some central stations and in Tenasserim. On the 28th the storm had reached Cawnpore, and the rainfall over the North-Western Provinces was heavy. On the 29th the storm (now very slight) was near Cawnpore, and a fresh depression had appeared over the Bay.

Temperature.—Owing to the variations in the distribution and amount of rainfall in different parts of the week, the variations in the temperature from the normal have in some Provinces been considerable. This has more particularly been the case in the Punjab, where during the dry weather in the early part of the week there was an excess of from  $3^{\circ}$  to  $4^{\circ}$ , while on the 28th there was a deficiency of  $4.7^{\circ}$ . These variations have, however, to a great extent counterbalanced each other, and the mean difference at the close of the week was for the whole of India only  $+ 0.4^{\circ}$ .

The following table shows the variations of temperature from the normal average on each day of the week for the principal Provinces of India :

The warmest day was thus the 24th and the coolest the 28th. The coolest region during the week relatively to the normal was the Central Provinces; the warmest, Sind and Rajputana; but Madras was the only Province in which the mean temperature throughout the week was uninterruptedly above the normal. Maxima exceeding  $100^{\circ}$  were reported from the Punjab and Madras on all days.

Rain has fallen during the week under review in all the divisions of India, though in Sind the amount received has been excessively small, and in the Punjab (South and West), in Mysore, in Kattiawar, in Rajputana (West), in Hyderabad, and in Madras (Central and South) only moderate. Of the fifty divisions where a comparison is possible, eighteen have received more and thirty-one less than the normal of the week, while Lower Burma has received exactly the average amount. The region of excessive rain has been roughly the North-West and Central Provinces, the north of the Punjab, Guzerat, Central India, Khandeish, and Ganjam; and the region of deficient fall has been roughly Burma, Assam, Bengal, and the Peninsula. The greatest actual excess was  $3\frac{1}{2}$  inches in the hill districts of the Punjab; the greatest actual deficiency was 4 inches in Arakan.

The state of the monsoon rainfall is practically unaltered by the rainfall of the past week, except that the deficiency over the northern and central parts of the country is somewhat reduced, and that in parts of the Peninsula somewhat increased. The divisions in which there is any excess are Tenasserim, Lower Burma, Madras (South Central), and the Bombay Deccan, while in Central Burma and the Central Punjab the amount received up to date exactly equals the normal. In all the other divisions the rainfall shows a deficiency, which ranges from only 2 per cent. in Arakan to as much as 82 per cent. in Sind. In the majority of cases the deficiency is only slight—less than 30 per cent.; but in Sind, as mentioned above, it equals 80 per cent.; in Hyderabad (South) and Madras (Central) 60 per cent.; and in the Punjab (West), East Coast (South), and Madras (South) equals or exceeds 50 per cent.

The totals for the week show that the heaviest rainfall throughout India was received in the North-Western Provinces, towards which region the depressions noticed in the first part of this summary have been mainly directed. The amounts were not, however, very large in any part of India. The following are the principal falls in the different divisions:

Bombay.—For week ending 2nd September.—Rain slight in Dharwar and parts of Sind; generally good in other districts, being especially opportune and beneficial to crops and fodder in East Deccan and Karnatic, where prospects are much improved. Sowing of early or late crops progressing in several districts. Standing crops withering in parts of Dharwar, and damaged by floods or locusts in parts of Sind; otherwise flourishing.

Bengal.—For week ending 1st September.—Rainfall has been general but light during the week. There was a break in the rains over the greater part of the Province from 28th to 30th August. Transplantation of winter rice is approaching completion, but in parts of North Bengal, East Bengal, and Behar it is retarded for want of sufficient rain. Bhadoi crops also require rain in some places in Behar; but prospects are still generally favourable. Early rice and jute crops are being reaped, and indigo manufacture is nearly over. Sugarcane generally doing well. Fodder supply reported to be sufficient and condition of cattle good, except in Tipperah. In some places in Cuttack cattle are suffering from want of fodder caused by floods. Prices generally stationary.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 2nd September.—In the Eastern districts there has been little rain during the week; in the Central districts the rainfall has been heavy, and crops on low-lying lands have somewhat suffered, but agricultural operations continue, and prospects are generally favourable. Cattle have ample fodder and water. Prices are easier in Benares, Ballia, and Kumaon, but have risen slightly in four other districts.

Punjab.—For week ending 2nd September.—Rain has fallen in all but two districts. Cattle are reported in good condition in all districts except Hissar. Prices unsettled in Delhi; falling in Peshawar; stationary in Sialkote, Mooltan, Rawalpindi, and Shahpur; rising elsewhere. Sowings of kharif crops nearly finished; weeding in progress; ploughings for rabi commenced in Jullundur; kharif sowings are below average for want of rain in Lahore. Water-supply generally sufficient. Crops are generally reported in fair condition and are flourishing. More rain wanted in certain districts. Crops are damaged by floods in parts of Delhi. Locusts appeared in parts of Lahore and Dera Ismail Khan; they have caused some damage in Lahore, and deposited eggs in Dera Ismail Khan, where steps are being taken for their destruction. Fodder scarce in Delhi and Lahore, but sufficient elsewhere.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 2nd September.—Showery with intervals of clear weather. Transplanting of rice and weeding operations are approaching completion. Land being prepared for rabi sowing. Prospects of rice continue excellent, and of jowar, cotton, and other crops moderate. Export to the North-Western Provinces from Chhattisgarh continues.

Burma.—For week ending 29th August.—In Lower Burma the rainfall is everywhere good. Ploughing, sowing, and transplanting still continue. In parts of Pegu, Amherst, and Mergui crops have suffered from inundation, but no serious damage done; otherwise crop prospects are excellent. In Upper Burma, owing to general rainfall, ploughing and sowing have recommenced, and standing crops which have withstood drought have improved. Special advances are being made to cultivators to enable them to purchase seed and to keep their plough cattle. Opening of relief works in Yamethin and Meiktila has provided work and food for all needing relief, and considerable numbers are now engaged.

Assam.—For week ending 2nd September.—Weather seasonable. Rain still wanted in most of the plains districts. Reaping of early rice continues. Transplanting of winter paddy somewhat retarded for want of rain.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 2nd September.—Rain much needed throughout the State. Crops generally in good condition. Harvesting commenced in parts. Fodder supply diminishing. Prices risen in three districts.

Rainfall good in Coorg during the week. Transplanting of rice nearly completed. Prospects good. Prices stationary. Condition of cattle good.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 2nd September.—Average rainfall fair in Berar. Weeding operations continue. Standing crops in good condition. Land under preparation for ensuing rabi crops. Fodder insufficient in one district. Prices rising.

Rainfall moderate in Hyderabad during the week. Weeding of abi and kharif crops continues. Rainfall of week has improved kharif crops. Tanks and wells received no water. Fodder scarce; cattle getting weak and lean. Prices stationary.

Central India.—For week ending 2nd September.—Prospects improved in Neemuch. No other changes of importance since last week.

Rajputana.—For week ending 2nd September.—Heavy rain in two Agencies ; good in four ; moderate in two others and at Abu ; and light elsewhere. Agricultural operations progressing and satisfactory generally, except at Ajmere, Jeypore, and Kishengarh. Standing crops good generally, but withering at Ajmere and poor in five States for want of rain. Damage done to crops and grass by locusts in four States and at Ajmere. Condition of cattle improving generally, but poor still in Marwar, Bikanir, and at Ajmere, where mortality still continues. Pasturage or fodder sufficient generally, but still scarce in six States and failing at Ajmere. Prices steady but high at Ajmere and Jeypore. About 3,469 persons employed on relief works, and gratuitous relief afforded to 83 persons in Ajmere-Merwara. Scarcity throughout Merzawala tehsil and in isolated villages of Bikanir.

* Nepal.—For week ending 27th August.—Rainfall good. Weather seasonable. Prospects good.

Read—

The General Report on the Operations of the Survey of India Department for the year 1889-90.

RESOLUTION.

The Report, which, as usual, is divided into three parts, opens with a summary of the operations of the several field parties and of the work of the headquarters offices, the detailed accounts of which occupy Parts II and III respectively. The appendix contains some interesting extracts from narrative reports of executive officers.

Out of a total number of twenty-four parties and four detachments working during the year, four parties continued to be engaged on scientific surveys connected with the principal triangulations, on astronomical observations for fixing latitudes and longitudes, and lastly on tidal and spirit-levelling operations. Of the remainder, four parties were employed on topographical, four on forest, three on traverse, and seven parties and one detachment on cadastral surveys; while two parties and three detachments carried out geographical surveys and reconnaissances

2. Principal triangulation for Upper Burma was continued on the meridian of  $96^{\circ}30'$ , and a portion of the Trigonometrical party proceeded with the scheme of triangulating the coasts of India and Burma with a view to furnish artificial beacons as well as natural land-marks as a basis for future operations of the Marine Survey Department. Thirty-five points were fixed off the coast of Chittagong, extending to Akyab in Burma.

The electro-telegraphic longitude operations were resumed, and seven arcs of longitude were measured between trigonometrical stations in the Punjab, Baluchistan, and Central India.

3. Observations with the self-registering tide-gauge were taken at seventeen stations in India, Burma, Ceylon, and the Andaman Islands. In the place of three old observatories dismantled at Colombo, Galle, and Madras, arrangements were made for establishing new observatories at Trincomallee, Minicoy, and Diamond Island. It has also been decided to extend the tidal observations to the Persian Gulf.

4. Topographical Surveys were continued in Bombay, Baluchistan, and the Himalayas, and a new party took up the survey of the tin-bearing tracts in the Mergui district of Burma. The importance of developing the tin-mining industry justified the diversion of this party from revenue to topographical work.

In addition to the work of regular Topographical parties, small areas intervening between those surveyed for revenue purposes were topographically surveyed by Cadastral and Forest survey parties in order to obtain complete topographical maps. The areas topographically surveyed amount to 13,652 square miles. The traverse party employed in the plains of the Punjab tested and mapped 1,766 square miles in the Ferozepore district. These maps are compiled on an accurate traverse basis, the topography being obtained by reduction from village maps prepared by the Settlement Department, which are subsequently tested in the field.

5. Forest surveys constituted the regular work of four parties employed respectively in the Central Provinces, Bombay, Madras, and Lower Burma, and were also effected in Jhansi and Kumaun by detachments of the cadastral party working in the North-Western Provinces.

The aggregate area surveyed in all four Provinces was 1,646 square miles, being 9 square miles less than that of the preceding year. This decrease is due to the small outturn in Burma, where the early commencement of the rainy season prostrated many of the surveyors with malarious fever and prevented progress in the field work.

6. Of the seven parties and a detachment employed on cadastral surveys, three parties and the detachment were employed in Bengal, two parties in Burma, one in the North-Western Provinces, and one in Assam. The outturn of aggregate area surveyed, viz., 4,781 square miles, though less than that of the preceding year by 55 square miles, was on the whole satisfactory, considering the embarrassments with which some parties had to contend owing to the difficult nature of the country in which they were employed as well as to its unhealthiness, which rendered desertions among menials, and even of surveyors, not uncommon. In Lower Burma the natives of the country were largely employed, but on an average they were found to turn out only three-sevenths of the work that could be done by Hindustani amins. In view of the heavy cost of conveying the latter to Burma, it is of special importance to encourage the employment of local agency in that Province, and the Government of India are glad to observe that every effort is being made to train the Burmans in survey work.

The second Burma party was reorganized for cadastral work, having previously been engaged on traverse surveys in the Central Provinces, and was employed in the Kyaukse district. The network of small canals, regarding which particulars are given at page xlvii of the appendix, is said to be the most remarkable feature of the district and its chief source of wealth; but inundations were a great hindrance to locomotion and retarded survey work. Mr. Scott, the officer in charge of the party, succeeded, however, in completing the survey of the district notwithstanding these difficulties.

Great credit is due to Colonel Sandeman for effecting a cheap survey in the Jhansi district of the North-Western Provinces. This was executed entirely through the agency of patwaris trained as village surveyors, the cost rate per square mile being only Rs. 54 for the complete operations of traverses, field survey, and record-of-rights. The same system was attempted, but failed, in the Garhwal district owing to the absence of suitable village establishments and other causes, but the system was introduced with more success in the Rampur State. Cadastral surveys were also completed, almost entirely by the patwaris, in the Sub-Himalayan tracts of the Garhwal Bhabar, Kumaun Bhabar, and in the Terai district. The cost of field surveys by local agency in the Kujang and Kanika estates in Orissa was Rs. 16 per square mile, besides Rs. 30 to 40 per square mile for chainmen. The same party started the survey of Pooree and Cuttack, while another commenced operations in Backergunge, and a detachment surveyed a portion of the Burdwan estate.

In Assam the survey of the Sibsagar and Nowgong districts was commenced. Traverse surveys progressed satisfactorily in the Punjab and the Central Provinces, but in Burma, where work of this nature was slow owing to the extremely difficult nature of the country, only 923 square miles were surveyed. This, however, was the first year's work, the party having been transferred to Burma after completing traverse surveys in the Central Provinces.

7. The Government of India have during the year found it necessary to draw the attention of the Surveyor General to the necessity of the officials responsible for the administration of Revenue Surveys maintaining a constant personal communication with Provincial authorities. Under the system of decentralization which now prevails, the Local Governments have become more responsible than was previously the case for the economical execution of Revenue surveys and for the utilization as far as possible of Provincial establishments on the principles laid down in the Survey Resolution of 1882, which, while requiring for topographical purposes that all cadastral maps should be based on an outline or skeleton map professionally prepared, demand that the utmost use should be made of local agency. An intimate relation between the Survey Department and Provincial authorities has thus been established, which necessitates for its successful maintenance continual personal communication between the responsible officers of the Revenue branch of the Department and the local officials. Tours of inspection, however much required under previously existing circumstances, have therefore become more imperatively needed in order to prevent the occurrence of delays, misunderstandings, and the natural friction which must otherwise result from the combined working of separate establishments. The report under review does not indicate with sufficient clearness the tours made with this object by the Surveyor General or the Deputy Surveyor General specially responsible for the superintendence of Revenue surveys. The Government of India have desired, therefore, that in future reports the visits of the responsible officers of the Department to each Province should be described in more complete detail, and the nature of any difficulties which have occurred and the means taken to overcome them more fully set forth.

8. The total areas geographically surveyed in countries on the north-east and north-west borders of India amount to 97,792 square miles. Regular surveys were undertaken in seven districts of Upper Burma by two parties, while detached sections accompanied military and exploring expeditions (1) against the Kachin tribes south of Bhamo and to the Momeit State; (2) to the Shan States of Northern Theinni Thibaw and Taungbaing; (3) to the States of Baw, Yatzaik, &c.; and (4) to the Chinbók hills.

Another detachment accompanied the Burma-Siam Boundary Commission, while two detachments went into the Chin Lushai Hills with military expeditionary forces.

A large addition was made to the geographical survey of Baluchistan; and expeditionary parties surveyed parts of the Zhob Valley, Western Mekran, and the Perso-Baluch frontier. An Assistant Surveyor who was deputed to Persia, in association with the Intelligence Branch of the Quarter Master General's Department, reconnoitred about 25,000 square miles.

9. The work of the head-quarters offices continues to be satisfactory. 166,604 maps, valued at Rs. 1,22,472, were issued during the year, and there was a very large increase in the work of the Photographic and Lithographic Offices. The new steam machinery for printing was set up, though the zinc printing machine could not be worked till late in the year under report. It helped, however, to increase the outturn of work very largely. Mathematical instruments, valued at Rs. 2,70,458, were issued on indent, being Rs. 45,000 more in value than in the preceding year.

10. It remains to notice the work of the Dehra Office, which comprises chiefly the final reduction and publication of operations of the Great Trigonometrical Survey. In this connection it is observed that the chart accompanying the report does not show clearly what portion of the triangulation exhibited on it relates to the field work of the year under report. The tabular statement on page xc of the appendix shows that the value of computations was Rs. 10,015 and the total value of the work of the computing section was Rs. 41,044 as compared with Rs. 15,521 and Rs. 44,604 respectively in the year 1888-89 (page xciv of appendix in the report of that year). These figures require explanation in view of the fact that the computing section was strengthened by the employment of ten extra computers. The Government of India desire that a separate report on the progress of the work may be furnished, and trust that in any case the work of the Dehra Office will be completed by the end of the year 1893-94 as contemplated.

11. The Survey Department has continued to suffer from the heavy strain thrown on an undermanned service by the demand for new surveys in Upper Burma. The recruitment of the Department was to some extent contracted under the orders of the Government of India in view of the desirability of avoiding any sudden diminution of the survey programme which might be entailed by the Department being maintained for any protracted period at its full strength as well as of the contingency now imminent of having to find employment for the surplus officers of the Survey Departments of the Madras and Bombay Presidencies in which the Revenue Surveys are drawing to a close. But the remunerative results which are anticipated from the rapid completion of the Revenue Surveys in Burma and the renewed probability of the survey of Behar have led to a recent decision that the parties now working should at present be maintained at their full strength. The thanks of the Government of India are due to the Surveyor General and the officers of his Department for having during the past year produced such satisfactory results as are shown in the report under review, notwithstanding the difficulties caused by casualties and deficient recruitment.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

By Dr. Geo. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names; so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 550 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of "O". The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and as such will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The price to subscribers will be in India R30 and in England 2 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set (exclusive of the Index for which a separate charge will be made).

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole sets.

No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately. The price to non-subscribers will be R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England. The period of registration of subscribers' names will expire on the 1st October.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Weather Review of India for the week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, September 5th, 1891.

The records of the week under review show that there has been no general change of weather, which has continued steadily of the ordinary monsoon type. Pressure has been highest in the extreme south, relatively high over Bengal, Assam, and along the foot of the Himalayas, and low along a trough which ran from the Punjab and Upper Sind south-eastward to the head of the Bay. The depression which had appeared over the Bay at the close of the previous week crossed the Bay during the first two days and appeared off Gopalpore on the morning of the 31st August. The centre crossed the Orissa Coast between 8 A.M. on the 31st August and 1st September, after which the intensity of the depression apparently decreased, and the disturbance moved very slowly north-westward. By the morning of the 5th a fresh disturbance had appeared over the extreme north of the Bay. Conditions were thus throughout the week of the normal monsoon character, though the barometric differences were at no time very large, nor was the wind at any time very strong. The rainfall, except in the north-west, has, however, been fairly general and at times moderately heavy. On the 30th there was an almost complete cessation of rain over Bengal owing to the action of the disturbance, while, due to the same cause, there was a general fall over Madras. In Burma and on the West Coast rain was also general, and in the central parts of the country and part of Northern India showers were fairly general. On the 31st, when the Bay depression was close to the Orissa Coast, monsoon winds extended into Bengal, and rain became more general there. Elsewhere the distribution of rain was not much changed, but there was a rather heavy burst of rain in the Deccan. On the 1st there was no rain over the greater part of North-Western India and practically none in Madras, but elsewhere the fall was general and in parts of the North-Western Provinces and of the West Coast was heavy. On the 2nd a heavy burst of rain was reported from Bombay and a moderately heavy fall from parts of Burma, but elsewhere the principal characteristic of the weather was its general showeryness, except in the north-west. On the 3rd rain was very general and in some places fairly heavy. On the 4th rain was again general, except in the Punjab, Rajputana, Sind, and Madras, and similar conditions prevailed on the 5th.

Temperature.—Owing to the absence of rain, the mean temperature of North-Western India, including Guzerat, Sind, Rajputana, and the Punjab, and of Madras was above the normal average of the week, while in other Provinces the variations show only small departures from the normal. The greatest excess was in Sind and Rajputana, where the maxima throughout the week were very high.

The following table shows the variations of temperature from the normal average on each day of the week for the principal Provinces of India :

PROVINCE.	AUGUST		SEPTEMBER					Mean variation for week.
	30th.	31st.	1st.	2nd.	3rd.	4th.	5th.
Burma . . . . .	+ 0.2	- 0.7	- 1.6	- 2.0	- 1.6	- 0.6	- 1.5	- 1.1
Bengal and Assam . . . . .	+ 2.9	+ 1.3	+ 0.5	+ 1.3	+ 0.7	+ 0.7	+ 0.5	+ 1.1
North-Western Provinces and Oudh . . . . .	- 2.0	+ 1.8	+ 1.3	+ 0.3	+ 0.8	- 0.6	- 1.4	0
Punjab . . . . .	- 2.1	- 1.5	+ 1.6	+ 3.6	+ 1.4	+ 1.6	+ 2.2	+ 1.0
Bombay . . . . .	+ 1.3	+ 0.4	- 1.2	- 0.6	- 0.5	- 0.7	- 0.2	- 0.2
Berar and Central Provinces . . . . .	+ 0.4	+ 1.0	+ 0.6	+ 1.3	+ 0.8	- 0.5	- 1.6	+ 0.3
Guzerat and Central India . . . . .	+ 1.9	+ 2.3	+ 2.1	+ 2.1	+ 3.0	+ 2.5	+ 2.1	+ 2.3
Sind and Rajputana . . . . .	+ 4.3	+ 4.8	+ 4.8	+ 4.9	+ 5.8	+ 5.3	+ 4.3	+ 4.9
Madras . . . . .	+ 2.6	- 1.1	+ 1.1	+ 2.3	+ 2.4	+ 2.1	+ 2.8	+ 1.7
Mean for whole India . . . . .	+ 1.1	+ 0.9	+ 1.0	+ 1.5	+ 1.4	+ 1.1	+ 0.8	+ 1.1

These figures show that the mean temperature of the whole of India was  $1.1^{\circ}$  above the normal. The warmest days were the 2nd and 3rd, when there was an excess of about  $1\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$ ; the coolest day was the 5th, when there was an excess of only  $0.8^{\circ}$ . The provincial variations showed that the weather has been cooler than usual in Burma, normal in the North-Western Provinces and Bombay, and warmer than usual in the other Provinces. The absolutely highest maxima were reported from the Punjab, but relatively to the normal the highest were reported from Rajputana, where on some days the day temperature was  $15^{\circ}$  higher than usual.

Rain.—The table at the close of the summary shows that rain fell in all divisions of India, except Sind and Rajputana (West), during the week under review. In the south and west of the Punjab however, as well as in South Madras, the total fall of the week was less than 0.1 inch, so that these divisions also must be regarded as not having received effective rain. The heaviest average fall of the week was  $12\frac{1}{2}$  inches in Tenasserim, followed by  $9\frac{1}{2}$  inches in Arakan, by  $7\frac{1}{2}$  inches in the Konkan, and by  $6\frac{1}{2}$  inches in Lower Burma, Assam (Surma), and Oudh (North). Of the fifty divisions for which a comparison is possible, twenty divisions have received more and thirty divisions less than the normal average of the week. The greatest actual excess was  $4\frac{1}{2}$  inches in Oudh (North), followed by  $4\frac{1}{2}$  inches in Tenasserim and over 3 inches in Arakan, Konkan, and Hyderabad. The greatest actual deficiency was  $3\frac{1}{2}$  inches in North Bengal, followed by  $2\frac{1}{2}$  inches in East Bengal.

The rainfall having been deficient within thirty divisions, while only twenty have received any excess, has reduced the general percentage for the whole of India for the whole monsoon period by 3 per cent., so that the general rainfall for the period May 31st to September 5th is only 77 per cent. of the normal, whereas at the close of the previous week 80 per cent. of the average had been received. The only divisions showing an excess are Tenasserim, Lower Burma, Central Burma, Oudh (South), the Bombay Deccan, and Khandeish. All the other divisions exhibit a deficiency. This deficiency is very large in Sind and rather large in North Bengal, the Punjab (South, Submontane, and West), Rajputana (East), Madras (Central), East Coast (Central and South), and Madras (South), but is generally moderate or small in other parts of India.

The rainfall of the week under review was heavier than the rainfall of the preceding week in Burma, Assam, Oudh, and the west and centre of the Peninsula. The following are the principal heavy falls in the different Provinces :

Bombay.—For week ending 9th September.—Rain throughout the Presidency proper; slight in Dharwar and Kathiawar; generally sufficient and beneficial to early crops in other districts. Sowing of late crops progressing in several districts. Standing crops withering in parts of Dharwar; damaged by locusts or suffering from drought in parts of Sind; prospects otherwise good. Fodder insufficient in parts of seven districts.

Bengal.—For week ending 8th September.—Rainfall during the week has been generally light, except in Orissa and the south-western districts. In parts of North Bengal, East Bengal, and Behar cultivation of winter rice is still retarded for want of sufficient rain; elsewhere it is nearly finished. Prospects of bhadoi crops are generally reported well. Early rice and jute harvests are going on and expected to yield a fair outturn. Sugarcane promises to be a good crop. Fodder supply reported to be sufficient in several districts, except Tipperah. No marked fluctuations in prices during the week. In Singbhoon there is some pressure in the Kolhan owing to high prices, but road works have been opened to relieve the people.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 9th September.—Except from the eastern districts, general and in some cases heavy rain is reported, and a break is much wanted. The early kharif crops are being harvested, and prospects are on the whole favourable. Fodder for cattle is plentiful. Prices have risen in five districts, but are easier in Fyzabad, Partabgarh, Banda, Sitapur, and Kumaon. Locusts have again appeared in Banda and Jhansi, and have done slight damage in the latter district.

Punjab.—For week ending 9th September.—Rain has fallen in all but two districts. Condition of cattle is generally good. Prices unsettled in Delhi; stationary in four districts; rising elsewhere. Sowings of kharif crops almost completed. Weeding of kharif and ploughings for rabi are in progress. More rain urgently needed in four districts. Water-supply generally sufficient. Prospects of standing crops are average; they are withering for want of rain in Lahore. Locusts seen in Ferozepore, Lahore, and Dera Ghazi Khan. They have injured some crops in the Lahore district. Eggs are reported to have been deposited in the Dera Ismail Khan district, where measures have been taken for their destruction. Fodder scarce in three districts, but sufficient elsewhere.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 9th September.—Weather rainy with occasional breaks. More rain is required in parts of the Mungeli tahsil of the Bilaspur district, while fine weather is wanted in Jubbulpore. Prospects of rice continue excellent and of jowar, cotton, and other crops moderate. Cattle in good condition. Fodder and water-supply sufficient.

Burma.—For week ending 5th September.—In Lower Burma rainfall is everywhere abundant. Sowing almost completed. Transplanting progressing in parts of the Pegu district. Crops and nurseries locally damaged by floods and insects or have withered for want of rain. In Upper Burma rain has fallen in every district. The situation has improved in Mandalay, Katha, and Shwebo. In Bhamo wet weather crops promise fair, except in the Bhamo and Sinkin townships in the Ruby Mines. Transplanting partly over. Rainfall is still insufficient in Yeu. If rain continues, an eight-anna crop is expected. In Sagaing sowing has recommenced. Food stock insufficient, and relief operations on a small scale have been started in Ava. In Upper Chindwin sowing of wet weather paddy is progressing. In Lower Chindwin, except in the Ayadaw township, where relief operations on a small scale are being started, the condition of crops are fair. Ploughing and sowing going on in Myingyan, Pakokku, Meiktila, Yamethin, and Pyinmana. Relief operations being continued in Meiktila and Yamethin and numbers on works increasing. Food stock somewhat low throughout Upper Burma. Price of paddy steady in Lower Burma, except at Bassein and Amherst, where it has risen. In Upper Burma prices are rising at Bhamo, Shwebo, Sagaing, Lower Chindwin, Myingyan, and Yamethin. Elsewhere they are unchanged.

Assam.—For week ending 9th September.—Weather warm. Rain still wanted in some districts for late rice. Harvesting of early rice continues. Tea doing well.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 9th September.—Rainfall slight throughout the State. Standing crops generally in good condition. Prospects fair, but more rain much required in parts. Fodder becoming generally deficient. Prices risen in one district.

Rainfall good in Coorg during the week. Transplanting of rice almost completed. Prospects continue good. Fodder supply ample. Condition of cattle good.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 9th September.—Average rainfall good in Berar during the week. Weeding operations continue. Kharif crops in good condition. Land under preparation for ensuing rabi crops. Fodder insufficient in two taluks. Prices slightly risen in two districts.

Rainfall good in Hyderabad. Weeding of abi and kharif crops continues. Rainfall of week has much improved kharif crops. Season for cultivation of abi paddy crops has passed, but those that have been sown will be benefitted in some places. Tanks have received sufficient water. Grass is gradually growing. No cattle-disease. Prices of wheat 11½, coarse rice 11, white jowar 18½, yellow jowar 19½, and tur 17 seers per current rupee.

Central India.—For week ending 9th September.—Heavy rain in Gwalior. Crops damaged by locusts at Goona and Neemuch and by drought and insects in Barwani.

Rajputana.—For week ending 9th September.—Good rain fell at Kherwara and Bhurtpore; moderate at Abu; slight in ten States and at Ajmere; no rain elsewhere. Agricultural operations satisfactory where rain has fallen, but rain much needed elsewhere. Standing crops in need of rain generally and withering at Ajmere. Locusts still doing damage to grass and crops in parts of Marwar and Ajmere. Cattle good in some States, poor in others, and still dying in Ajmere. Pasturage or fodder scarce generally. Prices steady in some States; rising in others and at Ajmere; unusually high in Harowti. Emigration with cattle has commenced from Marwar, Malwa, and Sind. About 3,402 persons employed on relief works, and gratuitous relief given to 123 persons in Ajmere-Merwara. Scarcity throughout the Mirzawala tahsils and in certain isolated villages in Bikanir.

Nepal.—For week ending 3rd September.—Weather seasonable. Rice crops in good condition, though partly beaten down by rain. Prospects good.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

By DA. GAO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names; so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 550 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of "O". The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and as such will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The price to subscribers will be in India R30 and in England 2 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set (exclusive of the Index for which a separate charge will be made).

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole sets.

No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately. The price to non-subscribers will be R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England. The period of registration of subscribers' names will expire on the 1st October.

An Act for further promoting the Revision of the Statute Law by repealing Enactments which have ceased to be in force or have become unnecessary.

[5TH AUGUST, 1891.]

WHEREAS it is expedient that certain enactments which may be regarded as spent, or have ceased to be in force otherwise than by express specific repeal by Parliament, or have, by lapse of time or otherwise, become unnecessary, should be expressly and specifically repealed

Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows.

1. Provided as follows:

The repeal of any words or expressions of enactment described in the said schedule shall not affect the binding force, operation or construction of any Statute, or of any part of a statute, whether as respects the past or the future;

the Law of Evidence with respect to Bankers' Books was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our Report.

2. Section 2. —We have amended sub-section (1) so as to include in the definition of "company" the Presidency Banks.

We have omitted from clause (a) of sub-section (2) the reference to a Government Savings Bank. We consider the accounts of such banks, as well as those of the Money Order Department of the Post Office and of Government treasuries, to be "public documents" within the meaning of section 74 of the Evidence Act,* and covered therefore by section 65 of that Act.

* Act I of 1872.

We have added a clause (b) to sub-section (2) so as to include under the term "bank" or "banker" any partnership (not coming under the definition of "company") or individual to whom the Local Government may under section 3 extend the provisions of the Act.

We have also added definitions of the terms "trial" and "certified copy" so as to make the provisions of the Bill compact and readily intelligible.

3. Section 3.—This section is new. It has been brought to our notice that there are in India several large private banks to whom the privileges contemplated by this Bill may safely and fairly be extended. As, however, it is not desirable to extend the privileges to all private banks, we have given power to the Local Government to decide each case on its merits. We consider, however, that these privileges should not be extended to any partnership or individual carrying on the business of bankers which does not keep at least the three account books specified in the section which are absolutely essential to a proper system of accounts.

4. Section 4 (old section 3).—We have amended this section so as to bring the provisions of the Bill into accord with section 34 of the Evidence Act.*

*Act I of 1872.

5. We have omitted sections 4 and 5 of the original Bill altogether. We consider that no copy of any entry should be receivable in evidence in any legal proceeding unless it is a "certified copy" as defined in the revised Bill. That definition, read with section 4 of the Bill, seems to us to meet all the requirements of the case. Certified copies of entries in the accounts of privileged banks will now be on the same footing as certified copies of public documents.

6. Section 5.—We consider that it is inadvisable in the public interests to restrict the power conferred by this section to a Judge of a High Court. Such a restriction might, and probably would, involve in many cases unnecessary expense and delay. We have therefore extended the power to the Court before which the legal proceeding in question is held or taken (section 2 (5)).

7. Section 6.—We have enlarged sub-section (1) so as to allow the Court or a Judge to permit the bank to prepare and produce certified copies of all relevant entries as an alternative to allowing parties to inspect and take copies for themselves. It is probable that in many cases it may, in the interests of the bank or its clients, be highly undesirable to allow an inspection of the bank's books.

We have amended sub-section (2) so as to require that in ordinary cases due notice of any order under section 5 or under section 6, sub-section (1), shall be given to the bank; and we have added a sub-section (3) allowing the bank to show cause against any such order.

8. Section 7.—We have altered this section so as to make it clear that costs awarded to a bank, as well as costs awarded against it, may be enforced as if the bank were a party.

9. We have not thought it necessary to provide special penalties for the fraudulent or dishonest making or using of false certificates, as we consider that the provisions of the Penal Code are sufficient for this purpose.

The Local Government may, from time to time, by notification in the official Gazette, extend the provisions of this Act to the books of any partnership or individual carrying on the business of bankers within the territories under its administration, and keeping a set of not less than three ordinary account books, namely, a cash-book, a day-book or journal and a ledger, and may in like manner rescind any such notification.

4. Subject to the provisions of this Act, a certified copy of any entry in a banker's book shall in all legal proceedings be received as prima facie evidence of the existence of such entry, and shall be admitted as evidence of the matters, transactions and accounts therein recorded in every case where, and to the same extent as, the original entry itself is now by law admissible, but not further or otherwise.

5. No officer of a bank shall in any legal proceeding to which the bank is not a party be compellable to produce any banker's book the contents of which can be proved under this Act, or to appear as a witness to prove the matters, transactions and accounts therein recorded, unless by order of the Court or a Judge made for special cause.

6. (1) On the application of any party to a legal proceeding the Court by order of Court or Judge may order that such party be at liberty to inspect and take copies of any entries in a banker's book for any of the purposes of such proceeding, or may order the bank to prepare and produce, within a time to be specified in the order, certified copies of all such entries, accompanied by a further certificate that no other entries are to be found in the books of the bank relevant to the matters in issue in such proceeding, and such further certificate shall be dated and subscribed in manner hereinbefore directed in reference to certified copies.

(2) An order under this or the preceding section may be made either with or without summoning the bank, and shall be served on the bank three clear days (exclusive of bank holidays) before the same is to be obeyed, unless the Court or Judge shall otherwise direct.

(3) The bank may at any time before the time limited for obedience to any such order as aforesaid either offer to produce their books at the trial or give notice of their intention to show cause against such order, and thereupon the same shall not be enforced without further order.

7. (1) The costs of any application to the Court or a Judge under or for the purposes of this Act and the costs of anything done or to be done under an order of the Court or a Judge made under or for the purposes of this Act shall be in the discretion of the Court or Judge, who may further order such costs or any part thereof to be paid to any party by the bank if they have been incurred in consequence of any fault or improper delay on the part of the bank.

(2) Any order made under this section for the payment of costs to or by a bank may be enforced as if the bank were a party to the proceeding.

(3) Any order under this section awarding costs may, on application to any Court of Civil Judicature designated in the order, be executed by such Court as if the order were a decree for money passed by itself :

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall be construed to derogate from any power which the Court or Judge making the order may possess for the enforcement of its or his directions with respect to the payment of costs.

The Council met at Viceregal Lodge, Simla, on Thursday, the 17th September, 1891.

PRESENT:

The Hon'ble Sir A. E. Miller, Kt., Q.C.

BANKERS' BOOKS EVIDENCE BILL.

The Hon'ble SIR ALEXANDER MILLER presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Law of Evidence with respect to Bankers' Books. He said:—

"The Select Committee have made several considerable changes in detail, but none which, I think, affect the principle of the Bill, or which would require further consideration or republication. The alterations are briefly these. Instead of the elaborate machinery proposed in the Bill, in which it is to be proved by a system of affidavits that the books were examined and the extracts verified, we propose to introduce a system of certified copies, exactly analogous to that in the present law in respect to certified copies of public documents, and we do not propose to permit any evidence to be given otherwise than by the production of the books themselves, or by certified copies. We were asked to extend the Act to all kinds of mercantile concerns, but that was not thought desirable. We have omitted all reference to Government Savings Banks and to the Post Office, because we think that the books of these bodies are 'public documents' within the meaning of the Evidence Act. We have, however, introduced a clause enabling the Local Government in any case to extend the provisions of the Act to the books of any company which keeps a regular set of books analogous to the recognized bankers' books and to which the Local Government may consider it desirable to extend them. We have also introduced provisions enabling the bank, if it thinks fit, to offer to produce certified copies instead of allowing its books to be examined. We thought there might be very good reasons for this course, and that in the interests of the bank or its clients the clause which proposed to enable any party to obtain authority to look through the books of the bank was undesirable without this modification. Instead therefore of this being done, we propose that the bank may offer to give copies of the necessary certificates. There is one point in connection with this matter, which is that we propose, in that case, that the bank should have to certify that it has given all the relevant entries. One of the District Judges has made a note to the effect that it is impossible for a bank to judge what entries are, or are not, relevant. The answer is that the bank is not bound to take advantage of this provision. If for the purpose of concealing its accounts it chooses to take advantage of it and does not insert all relevant entries, it must act on its own responsibility and at its own risk.

" We have inserted no clause with reference to the payment of any fee to a bank for the supply of certified copies, but we have given a discretionary power to the Court, where the matter comes before it, to award costs to or against the bank as it may think just; and the reason is that we think that in most cases it would be more beneficial to the bank to give these certificates free of cost than to have their books produced, and possibly detained for days, or even weeks, for purposes of legal proceedings; but if in any case the bank does not choose to grant these certified copies without payment the party will have it in his own power either to pay what the bank asks, or to go before the Court and get an order. Probably in many cases an agreement with the bank would be come to in preference to going before the Court, but if the matter does go before the Court, then we give the Court complete power to make any order which it thinks proper as to costs for or against the bank.

" The Bill does not contain any express power to the Court to require the production of the books, instead of acting on the certified copies. I think this power is given incidentally, because we say that these certified copies shall be received as prima facie evidence of the existence of the entries, and also that no officer of a bank shall in any proceedings to which the bank is not a party be compelled to produce the books without special order; but I am not quite sure that it may not be desirable to insert a clause to the effect that notwithstanding anything in the Act the Court may order the production of the books themselves whenever it thinks this necessary.

" I do not think there is anything else which calls for remark."

PUNJAB MUNICIPAL BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RATTIGAN moved that the presentation of the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to make better provision for the administration of Municipalities in the Punjab be postponed till the next meeting of Council. He regretted that it had not been found possible to present the Report of the Select Committee at the present meeting. A large number of opinions had been received only very recently, and owing also to the pressure of other business the members of the Select Committee had not been able to meet up to the present time. The Committee would, however, begin its meetings to-morrow, and he thought he could undertake that the Report would be placed upon the table at the next meeting of the Council.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

LOWER BURMA MUNICIPAL ACT, 1884, AMENDMENT BILL.

The Hon'ble SIR PHILIP HUTCHINS moved that the presentation of the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Lower Burma Municipal Act, 1884, be also postponed till the next meeting of Council. He said that when he introduced the Bill he explained that, as far as it went, it had a great deal in common with the Punjab Bill; the two Bills had been referred to the same Committee, and he thought it desirable that they should be dealt with together.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned to Thursday, the 1st October, 1891.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Weather Review of India for the week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, September 12th, 1891.

The principal feature in the weather of the past week, as for several previous weeks, has been the constant succession of cyclonic storms which passed from the Bay of Bengal into Northern India. The first of these storms was shown over the north-west of the Bay and South-West Bengal on the morning of the 6th, the centre lying between Balasore and Cuttack. By the morning of the 7th the depression had advanced north-westward, and the centre lay over the west of Chota Nagpur. The chart of the 8th showed that this progress north-westward had been continued, and the centre was near Sutna, while the chart of the 9th showed that the centre was near Jhansi, and that a second storm lay over the east of the Bay. On the 10th the centre of the first storm lay near Jeypore and that of the second storm over the north of the Bay. By the 11th the first storm had almost disappeared, while the centre of the second lay to the east of False Point. By the morning of the 12th the second storm had crossed the Coast and lay over South-West Bengal. Neither of these storms was very intense, as will be seen by the following barometric abnormals:

		1st storm.		2nd storm.
September	6th, Cuttack	. . —'170"
"	7th, Sutna	. . —'127"
"	8th, Do.	. . —'159"
"	9th, Jhansi	. . —'139"	Akyab	. . —'083".
"	10th, Do.	. . —'065"	Do.	. . —'094".
"	11th, Jeypore	. . —'015"	Saugon Island.	. . —'066".
"	12th,		Cuttack	. . —'043"

Well marked cyclonic circulations of the wind prevailed around both storms, and their influence on the winds was felt throughout a large part of India. At Bombay the wind had an average hourly velocity of 10 miles on the 6th, when the first storm was over South-West Bengal, of 14 miles on the 7th, when the storm was touching the Central Provinces, of 16 miles on the 8th, when the storm was near Sutna, and of 20 miles on the 9th, when it was near Jhansi. Rain has been general, except over parts of North-Western India, which were out of the influence of the depression. On the 6th rain was reported from all parts of the country, except Guzerat, Sind, Rajputana, and the Punjab, but the fall over the central and eastern parts of the Peninsula was light and scattered. In South-West Bengal and in parts of the Central and North-Western Provinces, on the contrary, the fall was heavy. On the 7th there was some extension of rainfall into the north of the Punjab, but in other respects the distribution of rain was similar to that on the 6th. On the 8th there was no rain over Madras or the central parts of the Peninsula, but rain had commenced in Guzerat and Rajputana. The fall in Central India and the west of the North-Western Provinces was heavy. On the 9th rain had extended in Rajputana, but elsewhere the distribution was much the same as that on the 8th. On the 10th heavyish rain had commenced in Orissa, but there was little other change. The chart of the 11th showed no important alteration, but that of the 12th showed that rain had extended into Madras, and that the fall was very heavy in Orissa.

Temperature—The remarks above show that the course of the depressions has been through Orissa and the north of the Central Provinces into the North-Western Provinces, and that in these regions the rainfall has been heaviest, while the east and centre of the Peninsula have been practically without rain until quite the close of the week, and the Punjab and Sind have been practically without rain throughout. In consequence the mean temperature of Madras and the greater part of North-Western India has been above, while that of the Central and North-Western Provinces has been below, the normal average.

The following table shows the variations of temperature from the normal average on each day of the week for the principal Provinces of India :

PROVINCE.	SEPTEMBER *							Mean variation for week.
	6th.	7th.	8th.	9th.	10th.	11th.	12th.

Mean for whole India . . . . .	+ 0·2	+ 0·2	+ 0·3	— 0·1	— 0·1	0	+ 0·4	+ 0·1

These figures show that on the average of the whole of India the mean temperature has been about normal, the variation showing only a daily excess of 0·1° for the whole week. The provincial variations show that there was a mean excess of 2½° in Madras and of 1° in the Punjab and a mean deficiency of 1·8° in the Central Provinces and of 1·1° in the North-Western Provinces ; elsewhere the variations were very small. In the Central Provinces the mean temperature was below the normal throughout the whole week, while in Madras it was above.

Maxima exceeding 100° were reported from the Punjab and from Madras on each day of the week, the highest reading in the former region being 108·5° on the 10th, and in the latter region 101·9° on the 6th and 12th. In Rajputana a very sudden fall of temperature occurred between the 8th and 9th with the setting in of the rains, the following being the maximum readings reported on those two dates :

	8th.	9th
Ajmere . . . . .	97·9°	82·5°	= —15·4°
Sambhar . . . . .	96·5°	82·9°	= —13·6°
Jeypore . . . . .	94·1°	80·0°	= —14·1°

Rain.—The table of district rainfall shows that rain has fallen in all divisions of India except Sind. The average actual rainfall ranges from 10½ inches in Tenasserim, 7 inches in the central division of the Central Provinces, 6½ inches in Orissa, 5½ inches in Lower Burma, and 4¼ inches in the east of the Central Provinces to 1½ of an inch or less in the Punjab (West), Kattiawar, Rajputana (West), Madras (Central and South), and the East Coast (Central and South). In the great majority of divisions the total rainfall of the week has been less than the normal, thirty-five showing a deficiency as compared with fifteen exhibiting an excess. The divisions with an excess of rain lie along the line of advance of the different depressions which have crossed India during the week, and include Tenasserim, Lower and Central Burma, Orissa and Ganjam, the Central Provinces, the centre, west, and submontane parts of the North-Western Provinces, the centre and south of the Punjab, Central India, and the east of Rajputana. In all other parts of India there is a deficiency. The greatest actual excess is 4½ inches in the central division of the Central Provinces, followed by 3½ inches in Orissa and by over 2 inches in Tenasserim, Lower Burma, the west of the North-Western Provinces, the east of the Central Provinces, the west of Central India, and the east of Rajputana. The greatest actual deficiency was 4 inches in Assam (Surma).

The three concluding columns of the table show the state of the monsoon rainfall for the period May 31st to September 12th, 1891. In eight divisions the rainfall of that period is in excess of the normal; in all the others it is in defect. The eight divisions of excess are Tenasserim, Lower Burma, Central Burma, the North-Western Provinces (West and Submontane), the Punjab (Central), the Bombay Deccan, and the central division of the Central Provinces, while the fall in Oudh (South) exactly equals the average. The most important cases of deficiency are North Bengal, the Punjab (South and West), Sind, Hyderabad, Madras (Central and South), and the East Coast (Central and South). The division with the greatest deficiency is Sind.

The following are the principal heavy totals recorded during the week:

Weekly Report on the State of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 12th September.—Rainfall good in Ganjam and South Canara; fair in Vizagapatam, Godavari, and Malabar; little or no rain elsewhere. During last four weeks rainfall good only in the three northern districts and South Canara; moderate in Kistna, Kurnool, Bellary, Cuddapah, Nilgiris, and Malabar; very seriously deficient in all other districts. Sowings reported to end of August in Government villages nearly 2,000,000 acres, or over 26 per cent., deficient on dry lands, and much damaged by drought in several districts. September sowings also greatly retarded for want of rain. Early rain urgently needed throughout the Presidency. Pasturage and fodder continue very scarce over large areas. Prices generally risen, except in Ganjam, Vizagapatam, Tanjore, Nilgiris, and Malabar; rise considerable in South Arcot, Salem, Madura, and Tinnevely. Coolies employed on works—6,531 in Chingleput, 5,020 in Wandiwash, 4,244 in Kalahasti, 8,666 in Coimbatore, 3,093 in Nellore, 345 in Cuddapah, and 416 in Tinnevely. Number fed at kitchens—2,098, including 584 women and 1,190 children, in Chingleput; 1,760, including 349 women and 1,241 children, in Wandiwash; 2,752, including 2,068 children, in Kalahasti; 9, including 6 women and 1 child, in Cuddapah; and 523 in Coimbatore. Loans granted from commencement of distress—Rs. 2,97,679 in Chingleput, Rs. 1,04,138 in Wandiwash, Rs. 19,702 in Cuddapah, Rs. 1,280 in Nellore, Rs. 25,996 in Coimbatore, and Rs. 19,490 in Tinnevely. Wells constructed—1,056 in Chingleput, 26 in Wandiwash, 25 in Cuddapah, 33 in Coimbatore, and 42 in Tinnevely. Wells under construction—2,036 in Chingleput, 1,074 in Wandiwash, 250 in Cuddapah, 114 in Coimbatore, 60 in Tinnevely, and 4 in Nellore.

Bombay.—For week ending 16th September.—Rain good in Konkan and Surat; slight in parts of four districts; and none elsewhere. More rain wanted urgently in several districts. Standing crops damaged by locusts in parts of Sind and withering in parts of three districts; otherwise good. Sowing of late crops progressing, except where retarded for want of rain. Fodder scarce in parts of ten districts.

Bengal.—For week ending 15th September.—Good rain has fallen generally in Orissa, South-West Bengal, and Chota Nagpur, but elsewhere it has been light and scattered. In North and East Bengal and Behar the cultivation of winter rice is not satisfactory, and is still retarded in many places for want of sufficient rain. Prospects of all bhadoi crops are generally favourable. Early rice and jute are being harvested, and yielding a fair outturn. In Behar the harvesting of bhadoi crops has begun. Sugarcane is generally a promising crop. The price of rice is reported to have risen in some districts; elsewhere it was stationary. From many districts reports are received of the good condition of cattle and the plentiful supply of fodder. In Tipperah only the fodder supply is reported to be insufficient.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 16th September.—The western districts report heavy rain during the week; elsewhere the falls were light; more rain is needed in the Benares and Ballia districts.

Harvesting of the early kharif crops continues; the later ones are being weeded, and ploughing for the rabi is progressing. Crops in parts of five districts have been damaged by excessive rain and floods. Indigo prospects in Aligarh are said to be indifferent. Cattle are in good condition and fodder ample. Prices are rising in Agra. Gram and bajra are dearer in Bareilly and wheat in Farukhabad. Locusts revisited the Banda and Jhansi districts, causing slight damage in the latter.

Punjab.—For week ending 16th September.—Rain has fallen in all but four districts. Prices falling in Mooltan; rising in seven districts; stationary elsewhere. Condition of cattle poor in Hissar and Lahore; good in other districts. Kharif sowings almost completed; sowings on barani land have failed more or less for want of rain in Lahore; ploughings for rabi in progress. More rain wanted in five districts. Standing crops are generally in fair condition; they are reported to have been withering for want of rain in the Lahore and Shahpur districts. Water plentiful in all districts, except in parts of Sialkote. Crops on lowlands are said to have been damaged by floods in Delhi. No locusts reported. Fodder scarce in three districts; sufficient elsewhere.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 16th September.—Rain has been generally too heavy and continuous, except in the Nagpur country, Nimar, and part of Bilaspur, and has impeded weeding. Juar and cotton somewhat damaged, but their prospects continue fair and of rice good. Locusts have damaged kodon (small millet) in parts of Saugor. Prices generally steady.

Burma.—For week ending 12th September.—In Lower Burma transplanting in progress everywhere, and completed in several districts. In part of Minhla township, Thayetmyo district, crops have failed for want of rain, and prospects are gloomy; in Amherst plants in nurseries slightly damaged; elsewhere prospects are good. Fodder and water for cattle sufficient, except in Kawa and Pagandaung townships of Pegu, where fodder is scarce owing to floods, and in parts of Thayetmyo, where water is scarce. In Upper Burma crop prospects are very fair in Shwebo, Upper Chindwin, and Kyaukse. In Katha crops are fair on the whole. In Yeu an eight-anna crop is expected if rain continues. In Bhamo prospects are improving. Heavy rain has fallen in Madaya, Mandalay district. Relief works opened; few have resorted to them hitherto, but number now increasing. In Sagaing sufficient rain has fallen in Sagaing township, but more is badly wanted elsewhere. In Sadaung, in Ava sub-division, standing crops still poor, but heavy showers have improved prospects. In Myinmu sub-division great improvement during the week, and prospects begin to look more hopeful. Relief works have greatly assisted poorer classes. In Lower Chindwin rain insufficient in Kani and Kudaw townships; standing crops, including jowari, fair. Relief works have been started in Ayadaw township. In Myingyan prospects poor. Relief works started on small scale in Pagan sub-division; more will be necessary. In Pakokku prospects much improved, but rain still wanted. In Gungaw Yadwin prospects good. In Minbu prospects improved since last week, but bad in parts; relief works required. In Magwe prospects generally fair; poor in Pui and North Magwe townships; relief works required. In Meiktila jowari being sown; more rain required; relief works open; large numbers on them. In Yamethin ploughing and sowing for paddy in progress; relief works open; large numbers on them. Food-supply insufficient in two last districts.

Assam.—For week ending 16th September.—Weather hot. Harvest of early rice continues; transplanting of winter paddy retarded in three districts for want of rain; nearly over in others. Sowing of pulses commenced. Tea doing well.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 16th September.—Rain much needed throughout the State. Crops and prospects generally good. Drinking water and fodder becoming scarce in parts. Prices risen in two districts, and show a tendency to rise in others.

Rainfall slight in Coorg during the week. Crop prospects generally good. Condition of cattle and fodder and water-supply satisfactory. Prices stationary.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 16th September.—Weeding operations in progress. Kharif crops in good condition. Land is being prepared for next rabi crops. Fodder insufficient in Amraoti taluk. Prices stationary.

Rainfall moderate in Hyderabad during the week. Standing kharif and abi crops are in good condition. Lands are being prepared for the sowing of tabi crops. Grass is gradually growing. Prices—wheat  $11\frac{1}{2}$ , coarse rice  $11\frac{1}{4}$ , white jowar  $18\frac{1}{4}$ , yellow jowar  $19\frac{1}{2}$ , and tur 17 seers per current rupee.

Central India.—For week ending 16th September.—Rain general. Jowar crops in parts of Bhopal damaged slightly by locusts and by rain. Prices of food-grains rising in Bhopawar and Neemuch, but falling in Goona.

Rajputana.—For week ending 16th September.—Rain over  $16\frac{1}{4}$  inches in Kerowlee, over 9 inches at Dholepore, over  $4\frac{1}{2}$  inches in Ulwar, nearly 3 inches at Pertabgarh, over  $3\frac{1}{4}$  inches at Jeypore; moderate rain in Jhallawar, Kotah, and Tonk, and slight at Deolie, Shahpur, Ajmere, and Kishengurh; almost nil in Marwar; no rain elsewhere. Agricultural operations satisfactory where rain has fallen; unsatisfactory elsewhere. Standing crops withering for want of rain at Ajmere and in seven States; good or improving elsewhere. Some damage done to crops by locusts in parts of Marwar, Meywar, Jhallawar, and Kotah. Cattle in fair condition generally; mortality continues in Ajmere tehsil. Pasturage or fodder insufficient generally; failing at Ajmere, where scarcity of water for cattle is apprehended. Prices rising in some States and at Ajmere; steady in others. About 3,419 persons employed on relief works in Ajmere-Merwara, and gratuitous relief afforded to 113 persons unable to work. Scarcity throughout some tehsils and isolated villages of Bikanir, where 287 persons are employed on relief works, and food-stocks are low.

Nepal.—For week ending 10th September.—Weather fine and seasonable. Gaiya (early rice) ripening. Prospects of crops generally favourable. Prices still high.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

By DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names; so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 550 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 649 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of "Q". The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and as such will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The price to subscribers will be in India R30 and in England 2 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set (exclusive of the Index for which a separate charge will be made).

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole sets.

No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately. The price to non-subscribers will be R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England. The period of registration of subscribers' names will expire on the 1st October.

ACCOUNTS AND FINANCE.*PAPER CURRENCY.*No. 4024.The 23rd September, 1891.RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Finance and Commerce Department.

Read again the following letters to the Head Commissioner of Paper Currency :

No. 3458, dated the 29th October 1879;

No. 914, dated the 15th February 1882; and

No. 3308, dated the 21st August 1882.

RESOLUTION.—Mismatched currency notes, that is, notes of which the right half of one is joined to the left half of another, when presented to the Currency Office for payment, are dealt with in accordance with the orders contained in the letters read in the preamble. Under these orders no claim for payment of the value of mismatched notes can be admitted by the Currency Office, but all claims are registered, and if the corresponding halves have already been received or should afterwards be received in the form of a mismatched note, the Currency Office, by joining together the proper halves and paying the entire notes, meets the claims as far as possible. Such notes are held in deposit in the Currency Office for three years awaiting the receipt of the corresponding halves, but thereafter the full value of both the halves is credited to revenue.

2. The Governor General in Council is now pleased to decide that in future, instead of crediting the value of both the halves of mismatched notes to Government after they have remained unclaimed for three years, the value of one half should be credited to Government and that of the other half to the depositor of the mismatched note.

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution be communicated to the Head Commissioner of Paper Currency.

Ordered also, that this Resolution be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.
HOME DEPARTMENT.

PUBLIC.

The following papers on the subject of the discontinuance of the practice of granting honorary titles ex officio are published for general information :

No. 2012-I.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Foreign Department,—under date Simla, the 12th May, 1891.

Read—

Foreign Department Resolution No. 3205-I., dated 6th September 1886.

Read also—

Circular No. 25-C. I., dated 23rd November 1887, from the Foreign Department to Local Governments, Administrations, and Agencies, asking for opinions on the question of the grant of ex officio titles to Native officials in the Public Works, Judicial, and Administrative Departments of the State.

RESOLUTION.—After perusal of the replies to the above Circular, and after reconsidering the whole question, especially with regard to the difficulty of extending the principle of ex officio titles to other Departments, the Government of India consider it desirable to cancel the order of 1886 relating to ex officio titles in the Public Works Department.

2. Experience derived from the special recommendations made in behalf of officers of certain branches of the Public Works Department to whom the Resolution of 1886 did not apply, but who were of corresponding rank to those to whom it did apply, shews that it will suffice to leave Local Governments and Administrations to take the initiative in recommending specially deserving officers for the grant of honorific titles when they think it desirable to do so. The Governor General in Council is, therefore, pleased to order the cancellation of Resolution No. 3205-I., dated 6th September 1886, so far as regards the grant of ex officio or other titles under its terms.

3. Those officers and subordinates, however, who have already received titles under its operation will retain them while they remain in the Department.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of the above Resolution be forwarded to * The Governments of Fort St. George, Bombay, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and the Punjab.

The Chief Commissioners of Assam, Central Provinces, Burma, and Ajmere-Merwara.
The Residents at Hyderabad, Nipal, Mysore, and Kashmir.
The Agents to the Governor General in Central India, Rajputana, Baroda, and Baluchistan.
The Political Residents in the Persian Gulf and Turkish Arabia.

the Local Governments, Administrations, and Agencies named in the margin for information.

NO.  $\frac{16 \text{ (Public)}}{1070-1081}$

Read—

Foreign Department Resolution No. 2012-I., dated the 12th May 1891.

Home Department Resolution Nos 17—747-59, dated the 18th May 1882.

Read also the following letters—

To the Government of Bombay, No. 53, dated the 13th January 1883.

To ditto ditto, No. 942, dated 1st June 1885.

To ditto Madras, No. 1013, dated 12th June 1885.

From ditto ditto, No. 1709, dated 21st July 1885.

From ditto ditto, No. 76, dated 19th January 1887.

RESOLUTION.—The orders contained in paragraph 16 of Home Department Resolution of the 18th May 1882 directed that the courtesy title of "Rai (or Rao) Bahadur" or "Khan Bahadur" should be used in all official correspondence with Native Members of all Local Boards during their term of office. These orders were at once objected to by the Government of Bombay, who represented that it was inexpedient "that titles which have hitherto been highly valued, rarely bestowed, and only earned after years of assiduous and successful labour in the service of Government should be scattered broadcast over the land." In reply, the Bombay Government were informed that there was no objection to the Local Government adopting for members of Local Boards any complimentary form of address which seemed to them suitable, and it was eventually decided in Home Department letter No. 53, dated the 13th January 1883, that the honorary titles to be granted in that Presidency to non-official members of District and Taluka Local Fund Committees during their term of office should be—

- (1) in the case of all non-official Presidents and Chairmen of District Local Fund Committees, the title of "Rao Bahadur" or "Khan Bahadur;"
- (2) in the case of all non-official Presidents and Chairmen of Taluka Local Fund Committees, and of all non-official members (not being Presidents and Chairmen) of District Local Fund Committees, the title of "Rao Sahab" or "Khan Sahab;"
- (3) in the case of all non-official members (not being Presidents or Chairmen) of Taluka Local Fund Committees, the title of "Azam."

Again, in the Home Department letter of the 1st June 1885, cited in the preamble the Government of India approved the proposal of the Bombay Government that the titles for non-official Presidents and Vice-Presidents of Municipalities with a population of 18,000 and upwards should be "Rao Bahadur" or "Khan Bahadur;" that the titles for other Municipal Commissioners of such Municipalities and non-official Presidents and Vice-Presidents of minor Municipalities should be "Rao Sahab" or "Khan Sahab;" and that the title for the Commissioners of minor Municipalities should be "Azam."

Later, in letter No. 1152, dated the 18th May 1885, the Government of Madras made the same objection as had previously been raised by the Government of Bombay to the use of courtesy titles for members of Local Boards, and asked if the Government of India would be satisfied if in that Presidency these titles were only conferred on the Vice-Presidents of Local Boards and Municipalities. A copy of the correspondence with the Government of Bombay was forwarded to the Government of Madras, who were informed that the arrangement adopted in the former Presidency, or any other similar scheme which was considered suitable, might be adopted in Madras. That Government accordingly decided that Vice-Presidents of District Boards and Chairmen of Municipalities with over 20,000 inhabitants should have the honorary title of "Khan Bahadur" or "Rao Bahadur," and that members of District Boards, Presidents and Vice-Presidents of Taluk Boards, and members of Municipalities with over 20,000 inhabitants and Chairmen of smaller ones that of "Khan Saheb" or "Rao Saheb" during the continuance of their term of office.

2. The Governor General in Council has recently had under consideration the question whether the present system of granting ex officio titles should be maintained. After consulting all Local Governments and Administrations on the subject, His Excellency in Council has come to the conclusion that it is not desirable, having regard to the identity of these courtesy titles with those which are awarded by Government as a special and highly valued mark of distinction for long and honourable service of the public, that they should any longer be used merely as a mark of official rank, and by the orders of 12th May 1891, read in the preamble, the orders contained in Foreign Department Resolution No. 3205-I., dated the 6th September 1886, under which Native members of the Public Works Department enjoyed the privilege of ex officio titles, have been cancelled. In accordance with this decision, the orders contained in paragraph 16 of the Home Department Resolution, dated 18th May 1882, are also hereby withdrawn. The Governor General in Council desires to suggest to the Governments of Madras and Bombay that the similar orders in force in those Presidencies, which were issued to carry out the decision arrived at by the Government of India in 1882, should also, unless His Excellency the Governor in Council sees strong objection, be recalled.

3. Members of Municipal and Local Boards who, under the operation of orders now cancelled, enjoy the privilege of being addressed by ex officio titles, will continue to be so addressed until they quit office.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to Local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance, and that a copy be forwarded to the Foreign Department for information.

No 2648, dated Bombay Castle, the 25th July 1891

From—T. D. MACKENZIE, Esq., C.S., Chief Secretary to the Government of Bombay, General Department,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department.

I am desired to acknowledge the receipt of the Resolution of the Government of India in the Home Department, in paragraph 2 of which it is announced that the Government of India has come to the conclusion that the honorary titles conferred ex officio on members of District and Taluka Local Boards and Municipal Commissioners by Government of India letter No. 53, dated 13th January 1883, and Government of India letter No. 942, dated 1st June 1885, respectively should, for the reasons assigned by this Government in 1882, now be discontinued. It is further suggested that orders to the above effect should be issued by this Government to give effect in this Presidency to the above decision of the Government of India.

2. In reply, I am to state that His Excellency the Governor in Council is not in favour of doing away with these titles now that they have been once bestowed; but if this Government is directed to discontinue the grant thereof, the orders of the Government of India will be obeyed: otherwise it would, the Governor in Council considers, be wiser to retain what has now become customary. In any case it would be desirable, if the ex officio honorary titles are to be abolished, that this Government should retain the power of granting these distinctions for exceptional zeal and merit on the part of Presidents and Members in municipal work. It seems almost indispensable that Government should retain and use some weapon of influence to get the Municipal Commissioners over the obstructions raised by ignorance and selfishness to any measure of improvement which involves municipal taxation in order to avert the danger of the Municipal Corporations degenerating still further.

3. I am directed to ask whether there will be any objection in publishing the Resolution of the Government of India now under reference as well as their final orders when received.

No. 1499, dated Simla, the 18th September 1891.

From—C. J. LYALL, Esq., C.I.E., Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department,

To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Bombay, General Department.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 2648, dated the 25th July last, representing that His Excellency the Governor in Council is not in favour of the discontinuance of the practice of conferring honorary titles ex officio on members of District and Taluka Local Boards and Municipal Commissioners, and expressing his opinion that it would be the wiser course to maintain them now that they have become customary. If, however, these titles are discontinued, His Excellency in Council considers it desirable that the Government of Bombay should exercise the power of conferring them on Presidents and Members of Municipal Committees for exceptional zeal and merit.

2. In reply, I am to say that the objections now brought to notice by the Bombay Government were fully considered by the Government of India after consultation with Local Governments and Administrations before the issue of the Resolutions marginally noted, and the conclusion arrived at was that it was not advisable to maintain merely as a mark of official or municipal rank titles identical with those which are conferred by Government as a special and highly valued mark of distinction for long and honourable public service. The Governor General in Council is of opinion that so extensive a use of ex officio titles as is involved in the maintenance of the existing orders in Bombay is not desirable on the ground that it seriously detracts from the value which should attach to similar titles when conferred in recognition of special services by His Excellency the Viceroy as representative of Her Majesty the Queen, Empress of India. Members of Local and Municipal Committees who have already accepted office with ex officio titles will retain them in accordance with paragraph 3 of the Resolution of this Department, dated the 17th June last, so long as they hold office; but, in the opinion of the Government of India, no newly appointed or elected member should have such titles conferred on him except as a personal distinction for good service rendered. His Excellency the Viceroy, while from the nature of the case unable to delegate to the Bombay Government the power to confer titles (a power which rests only in the Governor General as the representative of Her Majesty the Queen-Empress) for exceptional zeal and merit in municipal work, will always be prepared to give favourable consideration to any recommendation which a Local Government may see fit to make in favour of individuals for the conferment of a honorific title as a personal distinction in recognition of good work done in municipal or local administration.

Foreign Department Resolution No. 2012-1, dated 12th May 1891.

3. I am to add, however, that His Excellency the Governor General in Council will raise no objection to Presidents and Vice-Presidents of Municipal and Local Committees continuing to enjoy titles as an official distinction if the Government of Bombay desire so to order. These offices are not so numerous: they entail on the holder considerable trouble and responsibility; and appointment to them, whether by election or nomination, is itself a distinction.

4. The Resolutions of the Foreign and Home Departments, dated respectively the 12th May 1891 and 17th June 1891, together with the present correspondence, will be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Weather Review of India for the week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, September 19th, 1891.

The general characteristics of the weather have been the same as those described last week. The monsoon on the West Coast has been light, the wind directions irregular, and the rainfall scattered and generally small in amount. In Madras the weather has been more showery than of late, and, though the rainfall has been generally moderate or light, the area over which rain has fallen has been fairly considerable. Burma, the north of the Bay, Bengal, the North-Western and Central Provinces, and to a less extent Rajputana and the Punjab have, as in previous weeks, been under the influence of cyclonic storms which have passed in a north-westerly or west-north-westerly direction from the Bay into Northern India. At the time of the close of the previous summary a cyclonic storm had passed from the Bay into South-West Bengal, the centre lying near Chybassa. The chart of the 13th showed that this storm had advanced westward or west-north-westward, and that the centre lay over Chota Nagpur. A well defined cyclonic circulation of the winds prevailed around it, the force being fresh at the head of the Bay and at several central and western stations. The westerly advance of the storm had been accompanied with a strengthening of the monsoon current on the West Coast. By the morning of the 14th the centre of the storm had reached Jubbulpore, and the cyclonic circulation had travelled westward with the storm. At several central stations the force was fresh to strong. The chart of the 15th showed the cyclonic storm with its centre near Allahabad. Its influence on the winds was very widespread, and the circulation around the centre continued well defined. On the 16th the storm seems to have broken up, and barometric pressure decreased from a high pressure area in the extreme south-west and south to areas of relatively low pressure one over South-West Bengal, a second over Oudh, and a third over the Punjab. Gradients were moderate, and the wind was generally westerly across the Peninsula and the central parts of the country, southerly to easterly in Bengal, and variable in Upper India. On the 17th a new storm was shown over the Bay, the centre lying a little to the east-south-east of Gopalpore. The winds were generally westerly over the western and central parts of the country, cyclonic around the Bay area and in North-Eastern India, and variable in North-Western India. By the morning of the 18th the depression from the Bay which, though large, did not appear to have a well defined centre had commenced its passage inland, and its western limits were near Nagpur and Jubbulpore. The wind circulated around the disturbance, but the force was nowhere great. The chart of the 19th showed that the depression had moved quickly west-north-westward, and that the centre was near Khandwa. At the same time a fresh depression was appearing over Lower Burma, and northerly winds with a falling barometer were reported from the Burmese stations. The rainfall during the week has been very fairly general. On the 13th rain was reported from all parts of the Indian region, except the Punjab, Sind, Rajputana, the northern parts of the Bombay Presidency, and the southern parts of the Madras Presidency. The amounts were large in parts of the Central Provinces and of Burma. On the 14th a similar distribution of rain prevailed, except that there had been some extension over the north of the Punjab. On the 15th more or less rain was reported from all places, except the Punjab, Rajputana, Sind, and Guzerat. On the 16th heavyish, fairly general rain was reported from Burma, Assam, and North Bengal, but elsewhere there was either no important rain or only scattered showers. On the 17th rain was falling, except in the Punjab, Rajputana, and the south of the Peninsula. On the 18th and 19th a similar distribution was reported, except that on the latter date rain was heavier and more extensive in North Bombay and Guzerat.

Temperature.--The general variation for the whole of India shows a mean daily excess of about  $\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$ , the warmest day relatively to the average being the 19th and the coolest the 16th. The Provincial variations show that in three Provinces, namely, Burma, the North-Western Provinces, and the Central Provinces, there was a deficiency ranging between  $0.2^{\circ}$  and  $2.0^{\circ}$ ; in two Provinces, namely, Bengal and Guzerat and Central India, there was no variation from the normal; and in the remaining three Provinces, namely, Sind and Rajputana, the Punjab, and Madras, there was an excess ranging from  $1\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$  to  $3^{\circ}$ . In all the three Provinces reporting an excess the temperature of each day of the week was above the normal, while in the Central Provinces, on the contrary, each day was cooler than usual.

The following table shows the variations of temperature from the normal average on each day of the week for the principal Provinces of India:

PROVINCE.	SEPTEMBER							Mean variation for week.
	13th.	14th.	15th.	16th.	17th.	18th.	19th.
Burma	- 0.2	+ 0.1	- 0.9	- 3.1	- 1.8	- 0.3	+ 1.3	- 0.7
Bengal and Assam	+ 0.1	0.1	+ 0.2	+ 0.8	- 0.8	- 0.5	+ 0.2	0
North-Western Provinces and Oudh	+ 0.1	+ 0.2	- 0.8	+ 0.1	- 0.6	- 1.6	+ 1.3	- 0.2
Punjab	+ 2.9	+ 2.8	+ 2.8	+ 3.6	+ 4.3	+ 4.6	+ 1.7	+ 3.2
Bombay	+ 1.1	+ 0.9	+ 1.2	+ 0.5	- 0.3	0	+ 0.8	+ 0.6
Berar and Central Provinces	- 1.2	- 3.4	- 2.4	- 2.3	- 1.8	- 0.3	- 1.9	- 1.9
Guzerat and Central India	- 0.7	+ 0.8	+ 0.3	- 0.7	0	- 0.8	+ 1.4	0
Sind and Rajputana	+ 1.7	+ 1.7	+ 1.6	+ 1.4	+ 1.7	+ 1.7	+ 2.0	+ 1.7
Madras	+ 2.5	+ 3.2	+ 3.1	+ 2.5	+ 2.7	+ 1.4	+ 1.5	+ 2.4
Mean for whole India	+ 0.7	+ 0.7	+ 0.6	+ 0.3	+ 0.4	+ 0.5	+ 0.9	+ 0.6

Rain.--The concluding table shows that rain has fallen in all the divisions of India, except Sind and the west of the Punjab; but in Mysore, Rajputana (West), and Madras (Central) the total average fall for the week was less than one-tenth of an inch. The heaviest actual fall was  $7\frac{3}{4}$  inches in the central division of the Central Provinces, followed by  $5\frac{1}{4}$  inches in the eastern division, by  $5\frac{1}{2}$  inches in Tenasserim, and over 4 inches in Lower Burma, Arakan, and Assam (Surma). The third column of the table shows that out of the fifty divisions for which a comparison is possible, seventeen had more rain than usual during the week and thirty-three had less. The divisions which recorded an excess were Lower Burma, Assam (Surma), Chota Nagpur, Behar, all the divisions of the North-Western Provinces, except the Submontane, Punjab (South, Submontane, and the Hill districts), all the divisions of the Central Provinces, and Central India (East). In all the other divisions there was a deficiency. The greatest absolute excess was 6 inches in the Central Provinces (Central), followed by 4 inches in the Central Provinces (East) and by over 2 inches in the hill districts of the Punjab. The greatest absolute deficiency was 2 inches in Tenasserim, Arakan, Coorg, and the Konkan. The three final columns of the table show the state of the seasonal rainfall, i.e., of the monsoon period from May 31st to September 19th. In only eight divisions, viz., Tenasserim, Lower Burma, Central Burma, the North-Western Provinces (West and Submontane), the Punjab (Central), and the Central Provinces (Central and East), has the rainfall of the period been in excess of the normal, and in three of these divisions the excess is less than 10 per cent. In Oudh (South), the North-Western Provinces (Central), and the Bombay Deccan the rainfall exactly equals the normal. In Arakan, Orissa, Coorg, Khandeish, and the Central Provinces (West) the deficiency is less than 10 per cent., so that in these divisions also the fall has been approximately normal. The deficiency is very large in Sind, large in the West Punjab, in Madras (Central and South), and in the East Coast (South), and considerable in North Bengal, the South Punjab, and the East Coast (Central).

The following are the principal large totals recorded during the week :

Weekly Report on the State of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 19th September.—Rainfall good in Ganjam, Malabar, and South Canara, and parts of Vizagapatam, Godavari, Kistna, South Arcot, Tanjore, and Trichinopoly; light or scattered showers only elsewhere; rain very seriously deficient in the central districts, where it is urgently wanted. Prospects slightly improved in parts of South Arcot and Chingleput, but more gloomy in the central districts. Pasture and fodder scarce, and condition of cattle deteriorating in many districts. Prices fallen slightly in Ganjam and Kistna; stationary or rising elsewhere; rise considerable in Bellary, Anantapur, North Arcot, Chingleput, Salem, Coimbatore, Trichinopoly, Madura, and Tinnevelly. Numbers employed on works—7,826 in Chingleput, 5,341 in Wandiwash, 4,614 in Kalahasti, 7,399 in Coimbatore, 2,809 in Nellore, and 1,503 in Cuddapah. Number fed at kitchens—2,152, including 639 women and 1,181 children, in Chingleput; 1,748, including 342 women and 1,234 children, in Wandiwash; 2,782, including 2,121 children, in Kalahasti; 9, including 6 women and 1 child, in Cuddapah; and 707 in Coimbatore. Loans granted from commencement of distress—Rs. 3,09,919 in Chingleput, Rs. 1,08,261 in Wandiwash, Rs. 21,115 in Cuddapah, Rs. 1,280 in Nellore, Rs. 30,600 in Coimbatore, Rs. 19,490 in Tinnevelly, Rs. 2,072 in South Arcot, and Rs. 15,765 in Salem. Wells constructed—1,100 in Chingleput, 32 in Wandiwash, 26 in Cuddapah, 35 in Coimbatore, 42 in Tinnevelly, and 27 in Salem. Wells under construction—2,175 in Chingleput, 1,114 in Wandiwash, 275 in Cuddapah, 120 in Coimbatore, 60 in Tinnevelly, 8 in Nellore, and 97 in Salem.

Bombay.—For week ending 23rd September.—Rain fairly good and opportune throughout Guzerat, Kathiawar, Konkan, Khandeish, and Nasik; slight and urgently required in other parts of the Presidency. Cotton damaged in parts of Broach. Crops injured by locusts or rats in parts of Sind, and withering in parts of three districts; otherwise good. Preparations for late crops progressing. Fodder scarce in parts of eight districts.

Bengal.—For week ending 22nd September.—Rainfall during the week has been general and very beneficial in Behar and North Bengal. Winter rice has somewhat improved, but much more rain is still wanted for the safety of the crop; more rain is also required for winter rice in some other parts. Bhadoi crops are being harvested and are generally reported well. Harvesting of early rice and jute is nearly over. Sugarcane is a good crop. Cultivation for rabi crops has begun in some districts. In Orissa some low-lying tracts are flooded. No marked fluctuation in prices. Fodder and water-supply is sufficient, and cattle are generally in good condition. Concerning the distress in Singbhoon, it is reported that the special road works have been stopped, not being needed.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 23rd September.—Comparatively little rain has fallen during the week, and prospects are generally fair, though more rain is urgently needed for the rice crop. In Benares and in Farukhabad the kharif crop has been injured by floods in some places. Harvesting of the earlier crops continues and ploughing for the rabi in progress. Prices have risen in six districts and have fallen in three others. Locusts appeared in Banda and Meerut, and did slight damage in the latter district.

Punjab.—For week ending 23rd September.—Rain has fallen in all districts except Shahpur. Condition of cattle is good, except in Hissar and Lahore, where it is poor. Prices unsettled in Delhi; stationary in five districts; rising elsewhere. Ploughing for rabi crops commenced. More rain urgently wanted in several districts. Kharif crops are reported to be in good condition and are flourishing. Water-supply generally sufficient. Locusts were seen in Ferozepore, Lahore, and Dera Ismail Khan, but no damage is said to have been done. Grass plentiful in Delhi, but fodder scarce there as well as in three other districts; sufficient elsewhere.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 23rd September.—Rain has continued to fall generally in heavy showers, and the absence of a break is impeding the preparation of land for rabi sowings. In rice districts prospects continue excellent, but other kharif crops, save kodon, are suffering from excess of moisture. This is especially the case with cotton and juar in the Nagpur country. No scarcity of fodder.

Burma.—For week ending 19th September.—In Lower Burma prospects everywhere favourable, except in part of the Minhla township, Thayetmyo district, where crops have failed owing to drought. In Upper Burma rain has been fairly general, but unequal, during the week, and prospects of crops have somewhat improved. In Mandalay sowing of millets and sesamum progressing satisfactorily. In Bhamo prospects fair, except in the Sinkin township, where rain insufficient; in Shwebo favourable, except near Myedu and Kinu, where some rain is required. In Katha crop anticipated poor, but sufficient. In Yeu a half crop expected if rain continues. In Sagaing rain is insufficient in the Sadaung township. Standing crops in Ava thriving and great improvement reported. In Myinmu millet is being largely sown all over the district. In Lower Chindwin more rain is wanted for paddy in the eastern sub-division; other crops fair in western and good in eastern, but more rain still wanted to keep crops alive. Upper Chindwin: Season is normal and crop prospects average. Prospects fair in Pakokku, except in Tilin, where poor owing to lateness of rain. In Myingyan ploughing and sowing of jowari and transplanting of paddy progressing. Steady rain in parts of Minbu and showers all over; agricultural operations proceeding. Prospects in Magwe fair, as rain has fallen generally. Price of paddy very high in interior of district. In Meiktila and Yamethin sowing and transplanting are progressing. In Pyinmana prospects satisfactory. Caterpillars have appeared in Shwebo and Yamethin and damaged paddy in nurseries. The price of paddy has risen considerably in Bhamo, Myingyan, Pakokku, Kyaukse, Prome, and Thongwa, and largely in Rangoon, Pegu, Henzada, Toungoo, and Tavoy. In parts of Upper Burma high prices are being felt by the people. Numbers on relief works—Mandalay 500, Sagaing 2,425, Myingyan 500, Meiktila 15,427, and Yamethin 5,158 ; no reports from Minbu, Lower Chindwin, and Magwe.

Assam.—For week ending 23rd September.—Weather warm. Reaping of early and transplanting of winter rice continue in some districts. Prospects of latter not favourable in two districts. Sowing of pulses progressing. Tea doing well.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 23rd September.—Want of rain felt throughout the State. Corps withering in parts. Prospects generally fair. Fodder insufficient. Prices risen.

Rainfall moderate in Coorg during the week. Crop prospects generally good. Reaping of rugi commenced. Condition of cattle good. Fodder and water sufficient. Prices risen.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 23rd September.—Weeding continues. Kharif crops in good condition. Land under ploughing for ensuing rabi crops. Fodder slightly insufficient in the Amraoti taluk. Prices almost stationary. Rainfall all over the district.

Rainfall moderate in Hyderabad during the week. Sowing of abi crops has been considerably less than last year; whatever has been sown is being weeded. Lands are being prepared for the sowings of tabi crops. Tanks have not received sufficient water. Growth of grass considerably less than last year, though enough for cattle. Prices—wheat 11½, coarse rice 11, white jowar 18½, yellow jowar 19½, and tur 16½ seers per current rupee.

Central India.—For week ending 23rd September.—Rain general. Break wanted in Bhopal. Prices continue high.

Rajputana.—For week ending 23rd September.—Heavy rain fell at Bhurt-pore during the previous week. In the present week the rainfall was moderate in five States and slight in nine others and at Abu. Agricultural operations satisfactory where good rain has fallen, but unsatisfactory elsewhere. Standing crops suffering where good rain has not fallen; withering in four States and at Ajmere. Agriculturists emigrating from Marwar to foreign lands with their cattle. Cattle in fair condition generally; feeble in Marwar and Meywar. Pasturage or fodder scarce generally; improving where rain has fallen. Scarcity of water for cattle apprehended in Ajmere. Prices steady generally; rising in some States; fluctuating in others. About 3,292 persons employed on relief works in Ajmere-Merwara and gratuitous relief given to 113 persons. Scarcity in some districts and isolated villages of Bikanir, in which 850 persons are employed on relief works, and where food-stocks are low.

Nepal.—For week ending 17th September.—Weather seasonable. Early rice is being harvested. Good outturn expected. Late rice doing well.

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names; so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 359 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of "O". The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and as such will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The price to subscribers will be in India R30 and in England 2 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set (exclusive of the Index for which a separate charge will be made).

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole sets.

No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately. The price to non-subscribers will be R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England. The period of registration of subscribers' names will expire on the 1st October.
